Replica of British Coronation Banquet Table Displayed

Home-Made Hat Contest Event At Van Nuys Woman's Club

By ROSE MANN

Tom Breneman's and Hedda Hopper's recently much-publicized hand-made hat contest had nothing on the one sponsored by the Van Nuys Woman's club at the annual May breakfast held Wednesday in the clubhouse on Sylvan st., with more than 200 in attendance.

Every type of hat imaginable was shown. Materials came from the garden, kitchen and living room and several looked like professional millinery. On exhibition were so many amusing creations that it was a difficult time for the judges, who made the following awards:

First in the "most impossible hat" division was Mrs. Robert Ringstrom's "pot" hat which she inverted and decorated with a wide red velvet ribbon and a red all-over veil over her face. The lid to this piece of almost-obsolete crockery was worn by Mrs. Cal Nave. This had its own special knitted cover and a bunch of flowers in the center which she coyly tied under her chin.

Miss Elizabeth Buckle was the second winner. Her masterpiece was a doll comfortably sitting on blankets with several pairs of baby shoes and a rattle dangling from the brim.

In the "possible" class, winner was Mrs. Caroline Weaks, whose hand-made large straw and horsehair hat won first place. Second prize was awarded to Mrs. C. R. Walleck who used Martha Washington geraniums from her own garden artistically arranged in a bed of geranium leaves.

The luncheon hostesses used small baskets with floral arrangements which they wore at a perky angle.

Mrs. Charles Lane was in charge of decorations and corsages which were presented to the new members. Tables were centered with a small replica of a hat.

The club chorus under the direction of Ethel Lytle Boothe presented a hilarious skit entitled "Nuts to You," costumer appropriately.

Women's Chorus in Initial Program Wins Plaudits During Club Session

Accent Put on Thanksgiving to Feature Pre-Holiday Chorale for Van Nuys Group

Songs by the Van Nuys Woman's Club Chorus emphasized the Thanksgiving theme at the club's regular luncheon meeting last Wednesday.

Looking very charming and professional in formal afternoon frocks of delicate pastel tints, the chorus sang a group of numbers including "Thanks be to God," by Stanley Dixon; Cesar Franck's "The Nation's Prayer," and "Music," by Kessler.

Chorus Pleases

Mrs. Margaret Bonner is chairman of the choral group and other members are Mmes. Phyllis Deardorff, June Deethman, Gwendolyn Flanagan, Hazel Kulp, Evalyn Landon, Francine Lane, Ramona McClure, Elizabeth Merwin, Delia Moxness, Floy Reed, Helen Saunders, Cornelia Stratton, Ann Snider, Isabella Vasey, Faye Voris, Loretta Wright and Margaret Wuest. Mrs. Delight Duer is accompanist and Ethel Lytle Boothe, director.

Florence Morrison Ackley presented an interesting and informative discussion on color, explaining the effect of various colors on both mental and physical health. Quoting Sara Teasdale's "Life has Loveliness to Sell," she suggested that women might well make the world more beautiful by the judicious use of color.

Gift to Mission

Taking her decorative theme from the speaker's subject, Mrs. Charles E. Lane, decorations chairman, used fans embodying all the colors of the spectrum in combination with flowers of harmonizing shades.

In response to a call from Mrs. Ross H. Rook, vice-president and federation secretary, reports on their activities were given by Mmes. Charles R. Moore, of community interests; James Wibray, Bible, and James P. Cronin, legislation. Mrs. H. S. Brown reported concerning a conference on international relations which she attended, and Mrs. Teresa Bouttier, California history and landmarks chairman, told of the progress being made in restoring the belfrey at the San Fernando Mission. The club voted to make a contribution of $25 to aid in this restoration program.

New members introduced by Mrs. O. M. Thurber, were Mmes. Ralph B. Crawford, Julia Koster, John Culver, Clara Heimbrod, George Woehrle, A. G. Balls, Sabin B. Sturtevant, Jerry Murphy and Miss Edna M. Keffer.

Mrs. R. J. Zarn, president, presided and Mrs. Samuel G. Price, program chairman, introduced the spe...

INSTALLATION WEDNESDAY AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Russian Concert Ensemble to Play

By EDNA THOMPSON

Mrs. Ross H. Rook, recently elected president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club, will assume the duties of her office at installation ceremonies to be held at the club meeting on June 12, with Mrs. James Wibray, past president and active club worker, serving as installing officer.

Members of the 1946-47 staff to be installed with Mrs. Rook include Mmes. O. M. Thurber, first vice-president; Ralph Jeffries, second vice-president; Milo W. Thompson, recording secretary; Roy W. Kulp, corresponding secretary; Myrtle Bolick, financial secretary; J. Howard Wilson, treasurer; Arthur R. Butterworth, Charles R. Moore, Mac Lewis and Richard J. Zarn, directors.

Preceding the installation, the closing business session of the club year will be conducted by Mrs. Zarn, the retiring president.

As a special feature the club chorus, under the direction of Ethel Lytle Boothe, will sing the invocation, "The Prayer Perfect." Mrs. C. C. Bonner is chairman. Mrs. Wilson will lead the pledge of allegiance and the assembly will join in singing "The Star Spangled Banner," with Mrs. Craig Duer playing the piano accompaniment.

Concert Ensemble

Luncheon, to be served by the Eastern Star under the chairmanship of Mrs. BeBe Webster, is scheduled for 12:30 p.m. and reservations must be made by June 10 with Mrs. Fred Lawrence, STate 5-0349, or Mrs. John A. Schoch, Sepulveda 7-2882.

Mrs. Charles E. Lane is chairman of the committee in charge of floral decorations, while Mrs. J. L. McPherson and Mrs. Clara E. Burke will supervise the table arrangements.

A musical interlude, featuring Yascha Borowsky, well known concert and radio artist, and his Russian concert ensemble, will conclude the afternoon's festivities.

YULE CANTATA PRESENTED BY CLUB CHORUS HERE WEDNESDAY

Van Nuys Women Hear "Story of Christmas" at Luncheon and Program in Clubhouse

By ROSEMARY McLAUGHLIN

Alexander Matthews' "The Story of Christmas" will be featured on Van Nuys Woman's Club holiday program Wednesday when the club chorus under the direction of Ethel Lytle Boothe presents the cantata.

Entering its third season with an exceptional record of fine programs, the chorus has made appearances before clubs and church groups in Los Angeles and throughout the Valley. Mrs. Chester C. Bonner is arranging the program and Mrs. Craigue Duer is accompanist.

Yuletide Decorations

Luncheon will be served at noon with Mrs. Ernest Armor as hostess chairman. Her aides will be Mmes. C. I. Thacker, Frederick Thompson, Ralph B. Crawford, Wiley T. Sprague, Charles Bevis, M. H. Hannas, Roy Johnstone, Alice B. McClelland, Mildred Gardiner, Emily Dickson, Charles H. Whitney and Carl Sartwell. Reservations are to be made with Mrs. Kalman Held State 5-2821 or Mrs. William Rudolph, State 5-3839.

Mrs. Ross H. Rook will conduct a business meeting and Dr. David Farquharson, pastor emeritus of the First Presbyterian Church of Van Nuys, will give the invocation. Yuletide decorations are being arranged by Mrs. George L. Baker, chairman; Mrs. George H. Hupp and Mrs. Mabel Hammaker.

Bible Section

Members of the Bible section will take their favorite verse and Christmas carol to the meeting at 10:30 a.m. in the solarium. Mrs. Bessie Vandermark will give a reading and Mrs. Charles Lane is to be soloist.

Attending the Los Angeles County Council, C.F.W.C. last Monday at the Tuesday Afternoon Club in Glendale were Mmes. Rook, O. M. Thurber, Thacker and Henry Walter Stratton. The president also was present at the Los Angeles district presidents' conference recently.

Kin Assembled for Birthday of Octogenarian

A woman as charming as the flower gardens which were her hobby for so many years, Mrs. Phoebe Hubbell, well known in Valley club and floriculture circles, this week celebrated her 80th birthday with her kin gathered 'round.

The party was held at her home, 8055 Van Nuys Blvd. where she has lived for 35 years and the first house built in that section of the city. Her son, Howard Hubbell and family, make their home with her and there are three grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

A past president of Van Nuys Woman's Club, Mrs. Hubbell was a guiding light there for many years until her fall when she fractured a hip that has never quite healed, confining her mostly to her home. Although her birthday was yesterday, the party was Sunday, assembling family and a few old friends.

Mrs. Hubbell is the widow of Orton Hubbell, early Van nuys banker who passed away in 1932. There home for many years was the gathering place for groups interested in flowers and horticulture.

Halloween Frolic First Social Fete for Membership

Something new and something blue marked the 1950-51 opening this season for Van Nuys Woman's Club.

New were an art crafts section, Spanish and square dancing classes. And blue was the handsome new gold embossed Decor-bound year book. This is the 38th program season for the organization, founded in 1912.

Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey, gracious president, was in the receiving line with her official family to greet an audience which taxed the clubhouse seating capacity. New members introduced by Mrs. Roy Kulp, membership chairman, included Mmes. Henry Bende, Clare Espe, Pat H. Ferguson, Cora L. Schroeder, Kenneth Cameron, Z. B. Weeks, Loretta Thompson, J. Everett Blum, L. C. Schmitz, Douglas Stiles, Stanley Moore, Martha Smiley Bell and Henry Walter Stratton.

In her greeting Mrs. Rainey said that "we are in a changing and challenging world today, and should be willing and able to serve both our community and our country."

Delightful Program

Mrs. Verne Caldwell and Mrs. Ramona McClure provided the vocal prelude to the program, the latter arranged by Mrs. Ferdinand Mendenhall, program chairman for the year. She looked stunning in a champagne beige suit and matching hat, accented with dark feathers, as she presented Don Blanding, the poet, author and traveler.

Blanding diverged from his well known "enchanted island" ramblings to chat extemporaneously on California lore and the spots which have inspired him to his latest writings, among them the great redwoods at Sequoia National Park. He read some of his newer poems which drew appreciative plaudits and some of them chuckles, for his wit is as keen as ever. Later he autographed his new book, "A Grand Time Living."

In the offing on the social side is a Halloween frolic Oct. 28 with dancing, cards and refreshments arranged by Mmes. Clifford Loucks, Tony Wilson, Roy Kulp and Lynn Pettler. This will be open to both members and friends.

Art crafts begin Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the club solarium with knitting, lamp shade making and rugs among the several phases of work to be featured, with Mmes. Myrtle Bolick and O. M. Thurber as cochairmen.

Chorus rehearsals will be held on Fridays at 10 a.m. with Ethel Lytle Booth director and Mrs. Vern Caldwell, chairman. Oct. 24 is set for Mrs. P. K. Schabarum's first class in conversational Spanish, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Talent is also being sought by Mrs. John Parrish and Mrs. Frank Dubsky as they prepare to cast their first drama section play.

CHRISTMAS

"I am come a light into the world, that whosoever believeth on me should not abide in darkness."
JOHN 12:46

to the four seasons which had been composed by Mrs. Edwin H. Slocum.

The program, presented by the music section, consisted of a series of pantomimes depicting the 12 months of the year, supplemented by a musical accompaniment and songs by the chorus.

As a prologue, "I Am the New Year," was recited off-stage by Mrs. Harriet Cooper and the passing of the months was depicted by the lighting of candles, Mrs. Simeon McCullough and Mrs. Pat Shoemaker performed the ritual.

January Typified

Typifying the month of January, the chorus sang, "Ring Out Wild Bells," and on the stage a wreath garlanded with silver bells formed the background for tiny Allen Louise Perkins, who symbolized the new year.

Posed against a huge red heart, Dolores Wuest was a delightful February Valentine as the chorus sang the ever-beautiful "I Love You Truly." For March, Dr. LaTane Park, dressed in green and standing by a wind-swept tree, effectively depicted the bleak north winds, with the illusion heightened by a musical accompaniment.

The April picture, "Reverence," showed a lily-covered cross and a

Busy Season

Scheduled by Club Women

Something new and something blue marked the 1950-51 opening this season for Van Nuys Woman's Club.

New were an art crafts section, Spanish and square dancing classes. And blue was the handsome new gold embossed Decor-bound year book. This is the 38th program season for the organization, founded in 1912.

Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey, gracious president, was in the receiving line with her official family to greet an audience which taxed the clubhouse seating capacity. New members introduced by Mrs. Roy Kulp, membership chairman, included Mmes. Henry Bende, Clare Espe, Pat H. Ferguson, Cora L. Schroeder, Kenneth Cameron, Z. B. Weeks, Loretta Thompson, J. Everett Blum, L. C. Schmitz, Douglas Stiles, Stanley Moore, Martha Smiley Bell and Henry Walter Stratton.

In her greeting Mrs. Rainey said that "we are in a changing and challenging world today, and should be willing and able to serve both our community and our country."

Delightful Program

Mrs. Verne Caldwell and Mrs. Ramona McClure provided the vocal prelude to the program, the latter arranged by Mrs. Ferdinand Mendenhall, program chairman for the year. She looked stunning in a champagne beige suit and matching hat, accented with dark feathers, as she presented Don Blanding, the poet, author and traveler.

Blanding diverged from his well known "enchanted island" ramblings to chat extemporaneously on California lore and the spots which have inspired him to his latest writings, among them the great redwoods at Sequoia National Park. He read some of his newer poems which drew appreciative plaudits and some of them chuckles, for his wit is as keen as ever. Later he autographed his new book, "A Grand Time Living."

In the offing on the social side is a Halloween frolic Oct. 28 with dancing, cards and refreshments arranged by Mmes. Clifford Loucks, Tony Wilson, Roy Kulp and Lynn Pettler. This will be open to both members and friends.

Art crafts begin Wednesday at 10 a.m. in the club solarium with knitting, lamp shade making and rugs among the several phases of work to be featured, with Mmes. Myrtle Bolick and O. M. Thurber as cochairmen.

Chorus rehearsals will be held on Fridays at 10 a.m. with Ethel Lytle Booth director and Mrs. Vern Caldwell, chairman. Oct. 24 is set for Mrs. P. K. Schabarum's first class in conversational Spanish, beginning at 10:30 a.m.

Talent is also being sought by Mrs. John Parrish and Mrs. Frank Dubsky as they prepare to cast their first drama section play.

to the four seasons which had been composed by Mrs. Edwin H. Slocum.

The program, presented by the music section, consisted of a series of pantomimes depicting the 12 months of the year, supplemented by a musical accompaniment and songs by the chorus.

As a prologue, "I Am the Nev Year," was recited off-stage by Mrs Harriet Cooper and the passing of the months was depicted by the lighting of candles, Mrs. Simeon McCullough and Mrs. Pat Shoemaker performed the ritual.

January Typified

Typifying the month of January, the chorus sang, "Ring Out Wild Bells," and on the stage a wreath garlanded with silver bells formed the background for tiny Allen Louise Perkins, who symbolized the new year.

Posed against a huge red heart, Dolores Wuest was a delightful February Valentine as the chorus sang the ever-beautiful "I Love You Truly." For March, Dr. LaTane Park, dressed in green and standing by a wind-swept tree, effectively depicted the bleak north winds, with the illusion heightened by a musical accompaniment.

Sepulveda Woman's Club Will Open Doors for Fall Friday

Seventeen past presidents will be taking bows when Sepulveda Woman's Club opens its 28th program year Friday with a 12:30 p.m. luncheon in the clubrooms at 15236 Parthenia St.

Mrs. Raymond Jensch, starting her second term as presiding officer, will introduce her presidential predecessors, who include Mmes. A. E. Hartman, C. M. Beecher, M. L. Andrews, J. L. Plummer, Ernest Armour, E. J. Powell, B. S. Davis, C. O. Aiton, A. H. Rekow, Frank Lehn, R. C. Larson, Albert Blackman, Max Petermichel, L. S. Gilmer, E. J. Yingling, A. W. Emendorfer and David Katherman.

Mrs. Guy Babcock is in charge of decorations for the event and Mrs. May Goehring the luncheon committee which also includes Mmes. Erna Miller, Elizabeth Abram, Minnie Large and Olive Gilmer.

Starred on a program arranged by Mrs. Fred Lees, will be the Chansonettes, singing ensemble from the Van Nuys Woman's Club under the direction of Ethel Lytle Booth. Delight Duer will be at the piano. Appearing in pastel formals, the ensemble will present selections including "Dawn" by Pearl Curran, "Peace I Leave with You" by Varley Roberts, "Rain" by Curran, "Opera Antics," a musical satire by Jean Sundwick, and "Dry Bones," arranged by Russell Watson.

Members of the ensemble comprise Isabelle Vasey, Ramona McClure, Alice Van Dine, Bea Chudley, Lela Yingling, Mary De Pew, Phyllis Orndorff, Elsa Krater, Myrtle Bolick and Francine Lane.

While the club will center its special activities around fund raising for its nurse's scholarship, it will have varied other interests in several fields. The welfare section will continue work with two wards at Olive View Sanatorium, the Boy Scouts and other civic and cultural activities. Mrs. Jensch has also accepted community chairmanship for the fall Community Chest drive.

FLORAL EXTRAVAGANZA

Annual Spring Flower Show Set by Van Nuys Woman's Club in April

Springtime is flower show-time in San Fernando Valley.

One of the first floral extravaganzas to be scheduled is the annual event sponsored by Van Nuys Woman's Club April 1, plans for which were put in motion at the garden section's meeting over the weekend, with Mrs. Lawrence I. Karlson presiding. She will also serve as flower show chairman.

Others who will direct various phases of the show, to be held through the afternoon and evening, include Mmes. Thomas B. Harrison, secretary; Martin Fritzen, registration; Mable Hammaker, Clara Burke, Fred Lawrence, Miss Elizabeth Buckel, tickets.

Mmes. Margaret Wibray, Myrtle Bolick, F. E. Buerck, William Lloyd, Stanley Durfee, Ora Richardson, Charles Lane, Richard Eckert, C. T. Colfield, tea; Lawrence I. Karlson, Thomas Harrison, coffee bar; George Baker, Miss Fredricka Deming, Mrs. Herman Janetsky, specimens; O. W. Timm, Ralph Jeffries, Mabel Hammaker, Walker Rumsey, George Hupp, Claude Wright, Charles Doughty, Richard Eckert, flower arrangement placement; L. A. Mountford, registration.

Flower arrangement and specimen divisions of the show are open to the public and entries are to be placed by 10:30 a.m. on the morning of the show. The clubhouse will also be open Friday afternoon and evening prior to the show.

Awards will include a sweepstakes trophy for the best flower arrangement in the show with Ferdinand Mendenhall, city editor of The News, as donor; also first, second and third place ribbons in the various classes and a trophy cup for the best specimen in the show.

New features of this year's show include rockery displays, rare potted plants and perennials, pottery, aquarium fish and glassware.

A poster contest with cash and ribbon prizes for winners, will be conducted under the direction of Thomas Harrison, art department head at Van Nuys Junior High School, open to all students.

Trophies To Be Awarded At Flower Show

Classifications open for competition to the general public in the coming Spring Flower Show, sponsored by the Garden Section of the Van Nuys Women's Club, are announced.

They include various classifications of floral arrangements, miniature arrangements, specimen roses, potted plants, sweet peas, perennials, annuals, bulbous flowers, iris, flowering shrubs and others not classified. A sweepstake trophy will be awarded to the best flower arrangement, a trophy for the best specimen of the show, and there will be first, second, and third ribbons in all of the classes where merited.

Those interested in entering the show are requested to have their entries in by 10:30 a.m. on Saturday, April 26, at the Van Nuys Women's Club clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Franklyn Buerck is chairman of the show, assisted by Mrs. George L. Baker. Judges for the arrangements and the specimens are Mmes. Olieta Clark, Winifred Ohmann, and Raymond T. Wilson, and John Tappeiner, Arthur Peacock, and Dudley Hickman.

Further information may be had by calling STate 5-1834 or STate 5-5583.

Party Planning to Occupy Club Garden Group

Mrs. Hugh C. Daugherty, 14209 Hamlin St., has invited the garden section of Van Nuys Woman's Club to hold its Wednesday meeting at her home, where her beautiful garden will form the background.

The business meeting will be called to order by the chairman, Mrs. V. D. Slocum, at 11 a.m. There will be an announcement made of the afternoon card party to be held on Sept. 12, at 12:30 in the Slocum home, 6424 Blucher Ave. The ways and means chairman, Mrs. Franklin Buerck, will be in charge, and her co-chairman, Mrs. William O. Wuest, will assist. Others serving on the committee are Mmes. Lewis Shanks, Charles Brainard, Herbert Fischer, William A. Mallinson and Fred L. Black. Dessert will be served, and the affair is open to the public.

Mrs. Slocum will express a special thank-you to Mrs. Florence H. Bradley and Mrs. Martin Fritzen for their display of table setting entered in the contest at the recent San Fernando Valley First Annual Summer Flower Show, representing the garden section.

Slated to speak is Mrs. Charles E. Lane, who will relate experiences of her recent trip. A door prize will be donated by Mrs. Fred L. Black.

Following the meeting a potluck luncheon will be served, so those attending should bring their own service. Luncheon committee for the day will be Mmes. Ora J. Richardson, C. T. Schofield, Frank R. Philips, William O. Mallinson and O. M. Thurber.

Club Thespians Take Roles in Van Nuys Woman's Club Playlets

Amateur thespians from the ranks of members are scheduled to provide the program following the Wednesday noon luncheon meeting of Van Nuys Woman's Club.

Under the direction of Mrs. John Parrish, chairman of the drama workshop, two one-act plays have been readied for presentation. One, titled "Mushrooms," takes place at a Philippine army post and stars Mmes. Frank Renfro, Parrish, F. A. Dubsky, Earl D. Brown, W. F. Voss and Loyd G. Rainey.

The other, "Down With Mothers," has for its theme the revolt of the younger generation against the unfairness of parents. Appearing in the cast are Mmes. Fred Lawrence, H. E. Millard, Richard Eckert, F. A. Buerck, Andrew E. Berg, O. W. Timm, Roy W. Kulp and Grace Krause.

The Rev. S. D. Disrud will be speaker at the Bible section which will assemble in the solarium at 11 o'clock. His topic will be "Saul of Tarsus," and he will be presented by Mrs. Walter A. Carbinier, chairman.

Election of delegates to the Los Angeles County C.F.W.C. convention to be held March 27 at the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, is on the agenda of the business meeting at which Mrs. Paul Bogendorfer will preside.

In anticipation of local club elections, scheduled for April, the president has announced personnel of the nominating committee. Mrs. Ruth T. Ronk, chairman, will be assisted by Mmes. L. A. Mountford, Margaret Wibray, William W. Lloyd and Renfro.

Included on the luncheon and decorating committees for the day are Mmes. Ora I. Richardson, Florence Bradley, Elmira Praisewater, Gertrude S. Owens, Mary Topper, W. E. Chisholm, William Rudolph, Nina MacRobert, Violet C. Yates, Lillian Shute, Roy Sheeley, L. I. Karlson, Mabel J. Hammaker, N. Lee Blackburn, Hugh C. Daugherty and Ralph Jeffries.

SPANISH OCCUPATION

Spanish occupation began in California in 1769, with the title to all land becoming vested in the King of Spain.

THE FIRST INHABITANTS

The first people to write down what they saw in the San Fernando Valley were a party of 63 white men and Indians who came from Lower California on a trek to find Monterey Bay in the north. They were led by Governor Gaspar de Portolá. Father Junipero Serra was suffering with an ulcerated leg caused by a mosquito bite, so sent Father Juan Crespi in his place. Crespi's diary gives us the facts. Leaving Los Angeles, they followed an old Indian trail which is now Sepulveda Boulevard. Hastening down the other side of the mountain, they veered west on now Ventura Boulevard and suddenly came to a natural springs and lake at Ventura and Balboa. Here the travelers camped and refreshed themselves.

Encino, now occupied by approximately 27,500 population, was the home of 200 Indians who spoke the Shoshone language. They were friendly but shy and were surprised at their first sight of horses.

GRASS TO COTTON AND SILK

Unlike today's residents who wear cotton and silk, the Indians wore skirts and loin cloths made of grass. Warmth came from bear skins, bears being so common, and later the Spanish had bear fights instead of bull fights. Whereas people now live in beautiful ramblings homes, with wide verandas and a profusion of different colored flowers, the Indians lived in mounds covered with mud, reeds and grass called "Wikiups".

People of today buy packaged and canned food from supermarkets, or dine in dimly lit refrigerated restaurants, the Indians ground acorns to make flour, and cooked over open fires with wood from the oak trees of which there were many.

At night under the stars one could hear the Indians playing on crude flutes made of hollow reeds, accompanied by crickets, hoot owls, and coyotes. Now one hears the hum of traffic and an occasional horn. The Indians hunted with bows and arrows; two arrowheads were found a few years ago in a hole dug for a gasoline tank on the corner of Ventura and Hayvenhurst Avenue. Examining them, it can well be seen that propelled at high speed, the flat (like a butcher knife) hard stone heads had a penetrating power.

The Indians, though shy, were mischievous. it is said that tile roofs were first used in California as a defense against the fun-loving Indians, who shot burning arrows on the roofs to watch them burn.

SPRINGS AND LAKE

The lake beside which Portolá and his men camped became the most important spot in the southwest part of the Valley, and is today chain-link fenced and a part of Los Encinos State Historical Monument" at Ventura, La Maida, and Moorepark Avenue. It is fed by several springs from tremendous depths at 90 degrees. It yields about 24,000 gallons a day. The water is non-alkaline, and some say only half the amount of coffee is needed.

Crespi's diary says "on August 5, 1769 we camped at Encino; the next day being Sunday, the first mass was read, blessing the grounds and naming it "El Valle de Santa Catalina de Bononia de Los Encinos." The Valley of St. Catherine of Bononia of the Oaks. Bononia so called for Portola's birthplace in Spain.

On Monday at three in the afternoon the travelers left Encino. From then on the diary reports, the trip was made by horseback, mules and on foot. The farther north they went, the foggier and stormier it got; food became scarce and the men became sick. Many died of scurvy. They placed two crosses, as markers, along the way. They failed to recognize Monterey Bay because of the fog. They returned to Lower California in six months and considered their trip a failure. A few months later they started out again. This time Junipero Serra went with the party, found the markers, and was pleased to see they had discovered Monterey Bay on their first trip after all.

FRANCISCANS

Some years later three Franciscan Padres, Fathers Lasuen, Urio, and Dumetz, were sent to establish another Mission between Santa Buena Ventura and San Gabriel. They chose to make their headquarters at Encino while exploring the Valley.Because of insufficient water here for agricultural purposes, they selected the present location of San Fernando, and built the Mission in 1797.

Dom Francisco Reyes (Alcalde) or Mayor of Los Angeles asked Governor Pico for 4,600 acres, a part of the 160,000 acre Mission land. This was granted him. He kept his livestock, as well as that of Avala, Labory and others on this acreage until the Padres objected, claiming the Indians were being deprived of their rights. So Governor Pico gave the Mayor another piece of land in exchange, and the 4,460 acres was given to three Indians, Ramon, Roque, and Francisco.

It is said the little stone hut west of the adobe was built to shelter the men who tended the cattle.

In 1822 Mexico revolted against Spain, taking all the Spanish possessions,including the San Fernando Valley. Vincente de la Ossa, a Spanish soldier, met with Michaeltoreno to talk war conditions.This talk lasted three days.

In 1848 California was ceded from Mexico to the United States by the treaty of Guadallupe Hildalgo. The next year, dealing without a broker, the three Indians sold out to Vincente de la Ossa for $100 or 2.2 cents an acre, Ossa getting the first United States patent to the property.

THE OLD ADOBE

Vincente de la Ossa built an adobe in 1849, the first house in the southwest portion of the Valley. He married Rita Gullion, who had been keeper of the keys at San Gabriel Mission. They raised fourteen children. The house is a mission type building, with walls two feet thick. There are nine rooms, connecting with outside doors. The fourth room from the north was used as a Chapel for visiting Padres who might be passing that way. The Spanish people were very hospitable. A traveler was always welcome to spend the night, be he rich or poor. A plate was placed on a night stand beside the bed with a few coins. he could take them if he liked, or leave a few which would be most acceptable. One of Ossa's daughters was married in the adobe to James Thompson. This called for a Fiesta. There was feasting, singing and dancing to to the strumming of guitars. The Fiestas usually lasted three days and nights. They baked their bread in an outdoor oven just north of the lake. They washed their clothes in an open, running ditch, water coming from the lake. They made their own wine and candles which were used for lighting, using iron braziers in each room for heat. Rita had Indian help in the house, as Vincente had on the rancho.

FRENCH INFLUENCE

The next owner of El Encino Rancho was Eugene Garnier, a Frenchman. He built the existing two-story Limestone house in 1872. The limestone used was brought from a natural limestone quarry in the hills on Woodley Avenue, this being part of the original 4,460 acres. Garnier also lined the springs and lake of the same material. Upon close inspection, one will see fossils imbedded on the flat surface of flagstone surrounding the lake. Garnier improved the Adobe by putting in wooden floors, tongue and groove wainscoting, and hanging kerosene lamp fixtures in the center of each room. As the was the first stopping off place on El Camino Real, and the main road from Los Angeles to Ventura and Santa Barbara, and the stage coach station, Garnier built an Inn across the road in the cove. The Stage Coach line's blacksmith shop is still there, 100 feet west of the Adobe. (Formerly the stone hut for cattlemen.) There was a sign above the watering trough which read "Water your horse, but don't forget yourself". One taste was enough to induce many to cross the road and drink something besides water. Cattlemen taking their stock to the Los Angeles market always stopped at El Encino for meals, and a place to sleep, an opportunity to corral the cattle and feed the saddle horse. Later the Inn was closed.

Garnier went into debt for about $18,000 and the property was sold at a Sheriff's sale.

The buyer at the Sheriff's sale was a Basque named Gaston Oxarart from South America. He had as many as 32,000 head of sheep. At one time he sold as much as 150,000 pounds of wool. Upon his death he willed th Rancho to his nephew, Simon Gless. Simon married Juanita Amestoy and they raised three children, Constant, Domingo, and Noeline. The Glesses planted the existing silk oak tree, and grape vines at every third post of the porch facing the lake, a vineyard in the rear of the milk and smoke house, and built a bird aviary between the house and the lake. They had to drive to Hollywood in horse and wagon for a piece of ice. Noeline and Domingo have both passed away, but Constant is living in the Valley today. He has a son Dennis and a daughter Juanita Bauer, the last of the Glesses.

Because there were no schools in those days, Simon and Juanita moved to Los Angeles, and Juanita's father, Domingo Amestoy, took title to the Ranch. It was then called Amestoy Ranch.

WHEAT FIELD

Domingo Amestoy put his son John in charge as foreman, and because the climate was so similar to Australia, John planted Australian white wheat, barley and beets, and at one time sold and shipped 48,000 sacks of wheat to Belgium. There was a large red barn west of the blacksmith shop near some olive trees, which housed 35 horses and mules. Years later it took fire and burned to the ground, as did the Inn across the road.

John married Francoise Huret, a French girl from Bordeaux. He brought her to the ranch as a bride. They planted a citrus orchard just west of the Adobe consisting of 24 trees. John's wife is living today on Highland Avenue in Hollywood with her daughter.

Domingo Amestoy passed away in 1900 and the ranch went to his eight heirs, Juanita Gless, Michael B.

Amestoy, Antonio Amestoy, Joseph B. Amestoy, John B. Amestoy, Elizabeth Wells, Peter B. Amestoy, and Mrs. Louis Senteuse. While in their possession, they leased the ranch to some people who established a restaurant there.

WATER FOR THE VALLEY

By incorporating with the City of Los Angeles, the whole Valley acquired a right to aqueduct water from the Owens River. This made it possible to subdivide the Valley. On June 15, 1915, a full page history and pictures appeared in the Los Angeles Times. The Ranch had been taken over from the Amestoy Estates Co. by W. H. Hay, a Los Angeles realtor and subdivider. Mr. Hay secured the property under a sales agreement and had an option to sell the land in five, ten, and twenty-five acre parcels.

In 1916 Hay subdivided the 4,460 acres all but 100 acres, which the Amestoy family retained surrounding and including the buildings, the lake and springs.

A spectacular real estate boom was staged by Hay, inviting everyone to attend a free barbeque. They served 15 tons of beef. Ventura Boulevard was lined with electroliers to light the way. They called it "The Great White Way"; there was Spanish music, and a lot of fun. A good time was had by all. The town of Encino was born. Lest we forget, some of the streets were named after the early families, Amestoy Avenue, Louise, Noeline, etc.

LANDMARK IS RECOGNIZED

In 1937, the Native Daughters of the Golden West placed a plaque on the Adobe, recognizing it as a California Landmark, but did nothing more. There it remained, neglected and forlorn, for many years.

During the late twenties, thirties, and early forties many actors, producers, writers, radio announcers, as well as other folk seeking privacy and rural living among the oaks.

LANDMARK TO BE DESTROYED

In 1945, the Amestoy family sold the ranch to Clarence Brown, a motion picture producer, and shortly thereafter he sold it to a syndicate. A sign was posted stating this historic property was to be subdivided. It was then the Encino Historical Committee Inc. organized, to preserve and restore our town's heritage.

At a mass meeting held in Horton's barn, Marie Stewart was voted as permanent President.

Assemblyman Everett Burkhalter had a Bill passed of $25,000 on a matching basis, to extend over a period of two years, because the Historical Committee were only able to raise $2,700. They asked for an extension on this Bill.

So, Walter Hinton, who was the next Assemblyman, had a new Bill passed for another two years. So then the Historical Committee went to the County and then to the City for help, and finally the State of California and the City of Los Angeles purchased approximately five acres for $50,000, with an understanding that the State control and maintain it.

Assemblyman Pat McGee had a Bill passed for $30,000. We understand this money is to be used to purchase more Ventura Boulevard frontage, which takes in a small corner of the lake that the State does not own.

The $3,078.05 raised by public subscription by the Historical Committee will be used for restoration when the time is right.

In 1958, the State re-shingled the roofs of the two main buildings as a protection against the weather; We understand this is not a part of the restoration, nevertheless, it is quite an improvement.

PLANS

In 1951, the Division of Beaches and Parks for the State of California asked the Historical Committee to submit an overall plan of what they think should be done at Los Encinos. The Committee attended to this at once, as we had formulated a plan from the very beginning. For example; beautify the grounds with native trees and shrubs, plant shrubs along the chain-linked fence as a camoufalge, an arched adobe wall or entrance trimmed with tile on Ventura Blvd., either as a stationary wall or an entrance, perhaps with figures of Portolá, Crespi and some Indians. And, of course, a plaque telling the history. The Native Daughters of the Golden West (Placerita Parlor) are waiting for the time to come to place it there.

The Adobe is to be restored as a Museum, starting with an Indian and Portolá Room. The Padre Room, perhaps restore the Chapel for them, next de la Ossa room in strictly Spanish style, Garnier with a French influence, Oxarart the Basque Room, Gless Family Room, Victorian Period, and the Amestoy the same period.

Each room is to be restored authentically according to the period.

The two-story limestone house has a nice four room apartment upstairs, and could be used for the Curator. The lower rooms might be furnished and used as a meeting place for Historical groups.

The double stone house behind could be used as rest-rooms, and the blacksmith shop preserved.

Perhaps an entrance on La Maida would give the best access to the grounds.

We sincerely hope the State will use some of these ideas, as we feel this could be the most beautiful and most interesting Historical Monument in Southern California. Today as you drive over Sepulveda Blvd., turning west on Ventura, continuing about one mile and a half, you will see on your right the old Adobe built by Vincente de la Ossa. The same springs and lake, at the same spot where Portola and his men camped and satisfied their thirst.

THE OLD ADOBE

The old adobe, these many years it stands
Waiting the touch of loving hands.
The time has come to rebuild and restore
Just as it was in the days of yore.

Many stories this house could tell,
Many fiestas held here as well
They gathered here from far and wide,
They came in carretas o'er the countryside.

The de la Ossa family and the Garniers, too,
Lived and enjoyed the Adobe when new.
Then Oxarart, Gless and Amestoy
Within its walls found contentment and joy.

From the mineral warm springs under a bower
Indians claimed the water had curative power.
Father Crespi and Portolá camped here, too,
Refreshed themselves their journey to renew.

The Franciscan Padres led by Laseun
Traveled this way to build a Mission.
Because of the Indian Tribe and waters,
They made this place their headquarters.

The old adobe looks, oh! so forlorn!
With just a few dollars it can be reborn.
The old adobe, the springs and the lake,
How much money do you think it will take?

To be destroyed it was never meant,
It will make a State Historical Monument
Where folk may come from near and far
Enjoy its beauty, even from a car.

The old adobe will awake from its siesta
To find that folk are having a fiesta.
They'll sing and dance and have music galore
Just as they did in the days of yore.

VALLEY MUNICIPAL BUILDING DEDICATION MOMENTOUS CIVIC EVENT

Magnificent Structure Complete in Every Detail Will Be Officially Accepted With Ceremony Wednesday

Moving of the city offices into the new Valley Municipal Building will be practically completed tonight as Van Nuys and Valley civic organizations, prominent citizens and public officials of Los Angeles and this district, make final arrangements for the dedication of the building.

The official acceptance of this most excellent structure by the city and its dedication as a public building, to serve citizens in all communities in the annexed territory of the city, will be the most momentous civic event in the history of this district.

Its magnificence, excellence in construction, design and serviceableness more than compensates Valley citizens and public officials who worked for more than five years to devise ways and means to build it.

Spirit of Dedication

Complete in every detail of modern workmanship, it will be dedicated in the spirit of the inscriptions that are engraved in the sculptored plaque over the main entrance:

"The Public Officers Are the Servants and Agents of the People."

"To Execute the Laws That the People Have Made."

When this ceremony is held Wednesday the public officers of the city of Los Angeles and the people of the San Fernando Valley will join in celebrating an event that will mark another epoch in the development and progress of a great city and a great district in that city.

Committee Workers Named

Numerous committees will function at this dedication, the members of which represent every town and community in the Valley area.

They have all been proud to serve and their service assures success to an important public event.

Following are the names of those composing these committees:

Executive committee—H. V. Platt, chairman; Harry Chandler, Los Angeles; Hugo Carlson, Canoga Park; Frank Donald, Reseda; M. L. Ullensvang, North Los Angeles; J. M. Tucker, Pacoima; J. P. Butler, Chatsworth; Edgar Rice Burroughs and Dr. Maynard Rosenberger, Tarzana; L. A. Julius, San Fernando; David Maxwell, Studio City; C. R. Hedges, Roscoe; Hal Rathbun, Clarence Kennedy, Elmer Walter and Guy Weddington, North Hollywood; A. M. Reed, Sepulveda; E. J. Jackson, Burbank; E. W. Morgan, Sunland; Frank C. Stevens, Tujunga; B. M. Hansen, Sherman Oaks; J. L. Butler, Granada; Jerry Olmsted, Encino; Chief H. F. McCarren, Universal City; C. M. Ball, secretary; and G. W. Dickey, M. C. Sutton and N. R. Messerly, original city hall committee.

Committee on arrangements—H. V. Platt, chairman; Victor Obeid, vice-chairman; Noah Beery, Lewis Stone, Major M. J. Herbert, Capt. C. A. Hodson, Herbert Wood, Walter Mendenhall, Norb F. Hargrove, Chief W. B. Seekins, Cecil Wilcox, Lincoln Hart, Fred Weddington, Mack Sennett, Victor D. Voyda, Dr. Cliff D. Carpenter, Harley L. Fiscus, L. O. Turner, John Bonny, Walter Hall, Albert Morris, David Coates, W. P. Whitsett, Claude Sandifur, Walter Monroe, Harry Gross, LeRoy Johnston, Mrs. C. H. Steere, Mrs. Alex Jeffrey, Mrs. Sarah E. Kellogg, Mrs. Earl Bever, Miss Lucille Stensby.

Committee on finance, decoration and testimonials: Charles N. Bell, chairman; Russell La Vale, Bruce F. Allington, George W. Bunton, C. C. Bowerman, Walter Mendenhall, Gus E. Heiman, Sam Woody, Dan Wray, L. A. Phipps, Alonzo D. Hitchcock, C. M. Ball, secretary.

This Copy Is Yours

Several thousand extra copies of this dedicatory number of The Van Nuys News are being printed and these will be distributed among visitors and guests at the dedication program of the new Valley Municipal Building Wednesday afternoon.

This copy is yours. We hope you will find much of interest in its pages. In addition to feature articles reciting the progressive stages of development that led up to the dedication of the fine branch city hall, there is news of general interest throughout the edition.

Extra copies of this issue can be obtained at The News office or any Van Nuys newsstand.

BRANCH CITY HALL IMPOSING EDIFICE DEDICATED TO PUBLIC SERVICE

Erected on a site purchased and deeded to the city of Los Angeles by Van Nuys citizens, the new $275,000 Valley municipal building shown in the above photograph, today stands as a monument to twenty-two years of unparalleled progress and development in the San Fernando Valley. The dedication of the structure Wednesday will mark an epoch in the history of this district unequalled by any group of communities in the west.

THREE OFFICIALS CONTRIBUTE MUCH

Councilman, Works Board Head and Aid, Assist City Hall Project

Earnest and sustained efforts on the part of two public officials representing the Valley area were among the most potent factors in the district's long fight to obtain funds for the erection of a new municipal building.

Charles Randall

Councilman Charles H. Randall, veteran representative of the First District, advocated and worked for the project when the expenditure of such a sum of money so far from the metropolitan area found little favor among the legislators from more populated sections of the city.

His patience and legislative experience surmounted many adverse situations that developed when the proposed improvement was in the preliminary stages.

He studiously and tactfully guided the project to a successful con-

Kind Attention

The above photo depicts the quiet and inviting entrance to the branch receiving hospital. When fully equipped and in operation, this modern emergency aid station will be one of the finest in the city's service.

Newest Station House in Service

Van Nuys' police station, today the newest in the city's service, takes the palm away from Lincoln Heights, Hollywood, Venice and West Los Angeles. These four are all recent structures.

Central and Boyle Heights stations still remain the oldest.

ORNATE LOBBY CHANDELIER

A beautiful and ornate ornamental chandelier has been suspended from the circular dome in the city hall lobby.

Somebody's Always Taking Joy Out of Life's Good Work

Charley Brittain, city construction superintendent, walked into the main entrance of the new city hall early Saturday morning beaming with pride and satisfaction.

The building was completed. It was staunch, stately and beautiful to behold. It was just as he dreamed and planned it would be.

As he tripped lightly up the broad concrete steps, he stopped momentarily to gaze at the sculptored plaque. He had set the forms for the art work himself and it turned out marvelously.

Workmen carrying desks and equipment from the old offices across the street passed him and he followed them into the beautiful lobby.

On the stairway leading to the second floor the heavens fell and the air was blue with expletives that Noah Webster never heard of.

Careless furniture and equipment movers had bumped into the stairway walls and made long ugly scratches.

"Did I see Charley Brittain go in there," a casual visitor inquired.

"You no doubt did, but stay away from him; I never saw that man so mad in my life," a city employee replied.

Night Jailer is Veteran Officer

When the Valley division settles down in the fine new police headquarters in the municipal building tonight, Officer H. P. Dale, oldest member of the command in point of service, will assume the duties of night jailer. Dale became a member of the department in 1914.

New Headquarters Calls for Hodson

When the Georgia street police station was opened in 1926 Captain C. A. Hodson was the first commander. Wednesday the Valley's new municipal building will be dedicated and he and his division will be the first to occupy the new police headquarters here.

To those city officials and all Valley citizens whose united efforts secured this fine municipal building, today's edition of The News is dedicated

ARCHITECTURAL REFINEMENT

For excellence in design, refinement in harmonious ornamentation and appropriateness, the main entrance to the new municipal building is on a par with any similar structure owned by any city or community in California.

District Engineers' Map Exhibition Is Dedication Feature

One of the most interesting features in connection with the opening and dedication of the Valley's new municipal building Wednesday will be an exhibition of maps in the district engineer's office.

Maps of all conceivable types showing sewer systems, water mains, highways, storm drains, lighting conduits, land elevations and improvements of all description will be displayed for the benefit of visitors.

Official Guests

Heading the list of official guests who will take part in the Valley branch municipal building dedication ceremonies Wednesday, will be Mayor John C. Porter and the members and heads of the various city and county departments.

The city council has been invited as a body and the membership includes Charles H. Randall, president; James M. Hyde, James S. McKnight, Robert L. Burns, Roy L. Donley, J. G. McAllister, Howard W. Davis, Evan Lewis, George W. C. Baker, E. Snapper Ingram, Clarence E. Coe, Carl I. Jacobson, Edward L. Thrasher, Thomas F. Ford, A. E. Henning.

The board of public works will be represented by Edgar A. Elkins, president; Hugh J. McGuire, Arthur Eldridge, George J. Major and City Engineer John J. Jessup.

Others who are expected to attend are Erwin P. Werner, city attorney; Dr. Charles Decker, health officer; Roy E. Steckel, chief of police; R. J. Scott, chief engineer fire department; Charles Brittain, construction superintendent; Roy Knox, budget director; Roger Jessup, supervisor from the Fifth area, and J. J. Barkus, chief of the department of building and safety.

PUBLIC REST ROOMS

Public rest rooms for both men and women can be found on the first and second floors of the new municipal building.

History of Valley's Effort for New Public Structure Replete with Many Acts

By NEWS STAFF WRITER

In 1923 during the administration of Mayor George Cryer, the growing need of a new and larger municipal building for the Valley was voiced by Van Nuys citizens and favorably commented upon by public officials.

Before Mayor Cryer retired he recommended the construction of a new building in a budget message while Mayor to the council which passed a resolution favoring the project.

Mayor Porter

The change of administration delayed advancement of the city hall proposal for several months while John C. Porter, and a new council familiarized themselves with routine matters.

Issue Kept Alive

Constant pressure from the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce and other Valley civic organizations, through its original city hall committee, G. W. Dickey, Mark C. Sutton and N. R. Messerly, kept the issue alive and in April of 1929 citizens of this community materially advanced the city hall program by selecting a site for the building at the corner of Sylvan street and Sylmar avenue by postcard ballots.

Bonds in the sum of $40,000 to purchase the property were voted shortly after and the site was formally deeded to the city.

With this much accomplished, local civic leaders supported by leading citizens in all sections of the district, launched a new campaign to obtain formal appropriation of funds to erect a building.

This effort culminated with a great civic banquet held at the Van Nuys Woman's club house on October 30, 1931, when city officials from the Mayor down promised to work for an appropriation.

Council Votes Funds

Less than two months later, on December 17, the city council voted an appropriation of $275,000.

Excavation work on the site commenced on May 31, 1932, and actual construction of the building was soon under way.

The next incident was the laying of the cornerstone which took place on October 6 last. A monster parade, appropriate

VALLEY BRANCH COURT DEVELOPS

Small Tribunal Outgrows Experimental Stage of Development Here

Established on March 1, 1927, the Valley branch of the municipal court, soon outgrew the experimental stage of development and within less than three years became an asset and a necessity to thousands of residents of the district.

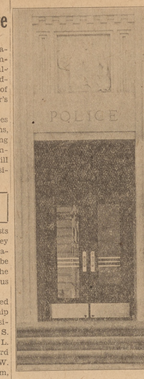
Most every judge now on the municipal bench has served short assignments in the local court during the past six years including Clarence Kincaid, former presiding judge.

The new home of the tribunal on the second floor of the new city hall is a replica of the modern municipal courts in the Hall of Justice at Los Angeles.

The court room provides space for the public, judge's chambers, jury room, anti-room for prisoners and rest rooms.

Thomas H. Thorpe is the court clerk and he is assisted by J. C. Blackmon, bailiff, and Robert E. Marley, deputy marshal.

Law Enforcement



All the trials, woes and tribulations of the citizenry are eventually heard behind the grim portals of a police station. Modern architectural skill eliminates that aspect when one views the new entrance to Valley police headquarters.

Our Appreciation

Publishers of The Van Nuys News, in presenting this anniversary and dedicatory number to its readers, acknowledge with appreciation the assistance of the following contributors:

M. Les Rowley, photographer of 6463 Van Nuys boulevard, for the fine views of the new Valley Municipal building.

C. A. Kilwinski, 3316 Tobias avenue, for originating the design of the new heading, which will be a permanent feature of this newspaper.

W. R. Earl, seven years a member of our news staff, who prepared most of the municipal feature articles for this issue.

True friendship is a plant of slow growth.
--- Washington

To the Workers Belongs Lion's Share of Credit

Since the beginning of civilization the men and women who have had their shoulders to the wheel of progress have paved the way for our onward march. Underlying the whole structure of our lives is the tireless energy and application of trained minds and skilled fingers, weaving a community into being. Practically none of our day's activities could be carried on without the aid of men and women behind the scenes. Their efforts form the pulse-beat of our careers and to that army we owe a part of our advancement.

So this week we pay homage to a wide circle of friends, tireless workers, the men in private and public life, taxpayers who will see and enjoy the Valley Municipal Building—for by their efforts we are able to add life and strength, motivate our transportation, make productive our fields and extract wealth from the interior of the earth.

While we try to preserve a certain humility about our possessions, we are bound to have pride, too—pride in our standing, in our acquisitions, pride in the growth and development of our community. As we take stock of our assets we form a new determination to help make more creditable history.

And in making plans we look forward to cooperating with, and having the cooperation of, our neighbors and our associates toward the common advancement of our citizenry and community.

Let us pause to think of those men and women, who silent and unobtrusive, are forever busy clearing the path ahead of us, strengthening foundations beneath us to create the noble structure of our lives.

Van Nuys has a rich heritage. The San Fernando Valley is basking in the sun of certain achievements never to be erased from the pages of historic and progressive growth. The dedication of the new Municipal Building brings to the surface the warmth of heart as the souls of pioneers and their posterity reach out in unison to celebrate a milestone of human and praiseworthy accomplishment.

ROADS ARE SELF-SUPPORTING

It isn't all outgo when the motorist pays his license fee and gasoline tax.

Authoritative statements from various state highway departments say that the motorist comes out on the long end of the deal. The building of improved roads, it is shown, reduces car operating costs and from that one point alone the motorist gets back more than he pays out.

The state highway commission of Missouri fathers the statement that the average motorist in that state is saved $30 a year over and above his license fee and gas tax payments.

Although California is humorously thought of as a state of somewhat extravagant claims, there is no exaggeration in the state's announcement that her good highways, up to the middle of 1930, saved $54,000,000 to motorists.

Frank T. Sheets, chief engineer of the Illinois State Highway Department, relates that Illinois' state highway system, nearly all concrete paved, reduces car operating costs $73,000,000 a year. This is $25,000,000 more than motor car users pay out in taxes.

Such facts as these compose irrefutable evidence that highways are self-supporting, road authorities claim. The large savings due to good roads lift highways out of the class of most government activities.—South Dakota Highway Magazine.

A metropolitan newspaper has attributed the recent overthrow of Mayor Jimmie Walker largely to the fact that the people having less work and more time, read the newspaper more than usual, thought more about what they read and acted accordingly.

There can be no doubt that this is a characteristic of dull times. It is seen almost everywhere and in many ways. People do read more than usual and what they read means more to them.

This has a real significance to advertisers. Readers are giving more time and attention to the advertising columns of the newspapers, as well as the news and features. They read the advertising all the more, perhaps, when they are temporarily unable to buy as much. And such reading is certain to reap permanent results for the advertiser as well.

Just a Little of This and That
By W. E. W.

ONE PIN $1125 —

Many a sword swallower has worked by the week at $25, but a woman recently swallowed a pin while eating bread produced by a baking company and the court awarded her $1125. A pin inside brought eleven hundred, instead of a stitch in time saving nine.

JUST ONCE A WEEK—

Marshall Breeden, editor of the Tujunga Free Press put forth such effort to get the water rates there reduced that he finally succeeded and it developed yesterday why he put so much effort into the campaign.

Editor Breeden announced that owing to the fact that water rates had been reduced he was going home and take a bath. Goodbye "BO."

INTRODUCTIONS—

It is generally understood in newspaper circles that an after-dinner speaker who talks more than twenty-five minutes is a pest to be dealt with accordingly, but some of the introductions given speakers gets them off to a poor start.

The best introduction wouldn't compare with the following. "This man is the first cousin of the man who had a friend whose brother shook hands with John L. Sullivan and he's also a descendant of the man who lived on the street just west of the street down which Paul Revere dashed when he warned the people from Lexington to Concord of the coming of the British."

WHILE THE CAT WAS AWAY—

After twenty years of being a successful mayor of San Francisco, James Rolph, Jr., takes on the governorship of the state with every indication that he will go out of office under suspicion.

Buying sites for state institutions has been a racket in this state long before the term was in general use. Supposedly intelligent men and women have been making land purchases for this dear old state of ours and in many instances the land not only lacked fertility of soil but a water supply. Some of the commissions delegated to select a site would have carried on until the entire appropriation for site, building and equipment had been used in payment of expenses for acquiring the site, if some loyal citizen hadn't stepped in and exposed their operations.

The voters have only themselves to blame and if they are not ready to clean house at the coming state election, they never will be.

With the receipt of a charter this week, the Van Nuys Finance corporation takes its place among the financial institutions of the city and will engage in the handling of bonds and mortgages, and other lines of financing. C. T. Wardlaw is president; W. E. Bierkamp, vice-president and manager; Rollin C. Smith, treasurer; W. E. Chisholm, secretary; Mark Grimes and Bert R. Holloway, directors.

A handsome silver mounted gavel was presented to the Van Nuys Kiwanis club Monday by the Lankershim club in a joint luncheon meeting of the two organizations.

February 22, Washington's birthday, is a date that has special significance for Van Nuys people, for on that day, twelve years ago, the foundation was laid in a barley field for what was promised to be the pivotal city of the San Fernando Valley.

The new Hotel Sylvan will be ready for opening April 1. James Downes of Long Beach has taken a lease on the building.

Acreage of baby lima beans in the Valley this year is estimated at between 15,000 and 20,00 acres. The many subdivisions have cut into bean farming, but new acreage will be planted that has not in the past devoted to this crop.

The mercury climbed to 88 on Saturday and Sunday, an "unusual" hot spell for this season of the year.

Fidel LaBarba, ex-featherweight boxing champion, now a student in Stanford University, was ordered to appear in Van Nuys Municipal Court to answer to a charge of doing fifty miles an hour on Ventura boulevard.

Installation will begin tomorrow of a new Goss Comet perfecting press in The Van Nuys News plant. This is the fastest and most efficient printing machine to be installed in the San Fernando Valley, having a capacity of 3,500 eight-page papers per hour. A new addition is being made to The News building which will not only accommodate this large press, but will also provide storage space for a car load of paper.

"Hell's Angels" the biggest war picture ever attempted, will be filmed near Van Nuys soon by the Caddo Film company.

The board of education has finally granted a change in the name of the Lankershim high school to the North Hollywood high school.

Van Nuys DeMolay basketball team secured a throttle hold on the Southern California championship Saturday night, when the Van Nuys hoopsters defeated San Diego. Dave Gardner was the star of the game, making 26 of Van Nuys' 41 points. The best San Diego could do was 26, just equalling the Van Nuys star's performance.

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Knudson, 89, who passed away at her home yesterday, will be held tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock and the body will be shipped to the old family home at New Sharon, Iowa.

URBAN CHATTER
By Ethel M. Taylor

George Washington, the "do it now" man, the great statesman, hunter, planter, loved children. He had none of his own, but he had deep affection for those who were about him. He remembered their names and kept his pockets full of gifts for them.

Not a charming person, Washington, but a pleasant, agreeable man with a love of physical adventure. His practical, unimaginative nature was reflected in his limited choice of books which ran to agriculture, husbandry and animals. He liked arithmetic, wrote a good, bold hand, kept a diary and had a taste for poetry.

Washington was not an idea man, but a thing man, as one author expresses it. He was a man of hands; not without brains, but with hands and brain moving together.

He moved through this world like a thinking hand.

While we celebrate on Wednesday the anniversary of this eminent historical figure, we also observe other events of minor historical significance, but at the same time of primary importance to our immediate realm. This date marks the founding of our city of Van Nuys and will go down on record as the official day of the Valley branch city hall dedication which occurs this week.

Then back to history, we find these other outstanding events linked with February 22:

James Russell Lowell, 1819-1891, poet, essayist, teacher, editor and diplomat. "Washington and Lowell, the Cavalier and the Puritan."

Sir Robt. Baden-Powell, 1857, British general, founder of the Boy Scouts in England, 1908.

Florida ceded to the United States by purchase and treaty with Spain, 1819. Ratified by Spain, October 20, 1820.

THE ART OF BEE-ING

Robert Buchanan of Glendale is a honey man. That is, he is a bee connoisseur. Mr. Buchanan has "bee villages" everywhere, situated in selected locations near orange groves and mountain sage. The producer obtains honey from his own bees and has built his own extraction plant at an apiary in Ventura county. One of his largest bee colonies is located at Newhall north-west of here, where more than five hundred little bee houses are nestled in the sage-covered foothills just a few miles from west-end orange groves. The major portion of Mr. Buchanan's orange honey, however, comes from the orange groves near Covina. A bottling and shipping plant is located at 242 North Orange street, Glendale.

ALL OVER THE WORLD

No matter to what part of the globe you go, you'll run into a California university student, declared Dr. David P. Barrows, political science professor and former University of California president.

The cultural advantages of living in California and attending a university here are unlimited, according to the professor who is a war officer and has traveled widely.

In remote spots on foreign soil, in the largest cities abroad, Dr. Barrows has encountered these unlike students. He stopped at a Berber rancho in the mountains of Algeria a corral of beautiful horses and the man who came to the door in caballero regalia flashed a winning Castilian smile at the visitor and in the course of conversation, disclosed his former affiliation with the California university. Another former student was found in a soldier's uniform at the gate of a city in the Orient. Still another was a resplendently attired Cossack army officer. Finally Dr. Barrows ceased to be surprised at these revelations and began to accept them as a matter of course, evidence of the great scope of our educational institutions in the modern era.

City Employment Bureau Organized

Organization of a city employment bureau for registration of jobless citizens of Los Angeles this week was authorized by the city council.

On recommendation of its finance committee, the council appropriated $2650 to carry on the work of the bureau until the end of the fiscal year, June 30.

According to Councilman George W. C. Baker, chairman of the committee, the city agency will be established in the Klinker building at the corner of First and Broadway and will act as a clearing house for citizens seeking work with the Metropolitan Water district, the water and power department, other city departments, contractors in charge of public improvement work and to departments of the county, which may have jobs.

The bureau also will refer applicants to private companies and individuals which have indicated that positions are available, he said.

Stanislaus county farm bureau went on record as favoring the veto of the present Philippine independence bill.

News Flashes From The State Capitol
By United Press

Sacramento, (UP) — While the state may be in financial difficulties, there will be enough to pay state employees and it will not be necessary to register warrants at least before next September, according to State Controller Ray L. Riley.

Incidentally, Riley pointed out that only 40 per cent of the state workers are paid out of the general fund, the remainder receiving their pay from special funds which are in good shape.

Speaking of finances, Senator J. M. Inman, Sacramento, chairman of the senate investigation committee, said recently he couldn't understand the inquiry into state bond transactions because "when you get to talking about amounts over $1.50 you're 'way over my head". He found many sympathizers among the newspapermen.

Crime was less prevalent last month than in January, 1932, according to a report compiled by Clarence S. Morrill, chief of the state bureau of criminal identification. Felonies reported to the bureau from throughout the state totaled 4,017 as compared to 4,-291 in the month of 1932. The most marked decrease was in burglaries.

The San Francisco-Oakland bay bridge was nearer reality this week after Governor Rolph signed two bills covering enabling legislation. One permits the continuation of toll charges after bonds are retired to permit the repayment of state funds appropriated to build the approaches. The other appropriates $50,000 from the northern district highway maintenance fund to provide a revolving fund for the Toll Bridge Authority.

The governor also signed a bill establishing the new agricultural code, comprising a simplified and logical arrangement of farm laws, enabling "every farmer to be his own lawyer."

A move to gain passage of changes designed to stop the practice of "rebating" on wages has been started by Frank C. MacDonald, new state labor commissioner. MacDonald proposes to make it a felony for an employer to demand a rebate from his laborers as a means of dodging the law providing for a "prevailing wage scale" on all public works.

Spring can't be very far away—Capitol park is getting its annual bath. This particular bath is a chemical one given by the state department of agriculture to control the citrus white fly.

Juniors Aid As City Hostesses at Dedication

Van Nuys Junior club women are joining with the senior club this week in acting as unofficial hostesses to visitors coming here for the Valley branch city hall dedication Wednesday.

The Junior Woman's club was founded in March, 1928, and the city has, on every anniversary since then, pointed with pride to this coterie of young society women who have worked industriously on their many philanthropic, social and educational activities.

The Juniors, advised by senior club women, have an interesting program which they follow annually, the year always culminating in a month of charitable gestures in December, concluding with the yearly children's Christmas tree party when more than a hundred under-privileged kiddies are entertained and given gifts.

Officers of the club are Miss Dorothy Reed, president; Mrs. Kay Hunter, vice-president; Mrs. W. G. Scollard, recording secretary; Mrs. John D. Praiswater, treasurer; Miss Pauline Fry, corresponding secretary. Advisers are Mrs. John W. Praiswater, Mrs. Charles H. Steere and Mrs. C. Hamilton Smith.

Chicago Visitors Feted at Dinner—

A coterie of friends from Chicago, who are wintering in the south'and, was complimented by Mrs. Christian B. Wallach, Jr., at a dining when she entertained at dinner in her home at 6370 Havelline avenue.

Gold and green appointed the table covered with golden damask and centered with narcissi and fern. Seated were Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lurie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuhn, Mr. and Mrs. William Wallock, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wallock, and Mrs. Morris Strauss.

DeMolay Banquet Thursday Night—

Annual banquet and ton banquet of Van Nuys chapter, Order of DeMolay will be an outstanding event on the junior fraternal calendar Thursday evening at 7 o'clock in the Van Nuys Woman's club house which will include all members, former members, past masters councilors and mothers. There will be a special entertainment program. Reservations will be accepted by Vance Cooper at 1022-M.

Carnival Planned By Emblem Club—

The Emblem club, women's organization of Elk affiliation, headed by Mrs. Calvin William Carpenter of Van Nuys, is planning a carnival to be held in the Elk Temple at San Fernando February 25 which will be open without admission fee, to all friends of the group. There will be dancing and entertainment. Twelve of the seventy-eight members are residents of Van Nuys.

THREE PROMINENT SOCIAL AND CIVIC LEADERS

This trio of active club women will represent three phases of social and civic activity relative to Van Nuys at the dedication ceremonies for the Valley branch city hall here Wednesday when Van Nuys also observes its twenty-second birthday and the anniversary of our first mayor, Mrs. Samuel R. Strickler (left) is a member of the State Department of Social Welfare and chairman of the jail committee which works in coordination with the City Health department. She is also president of the Van Nuys Relief association, manager of the Commissary, community service chairman of the Van Nuys Woman's club, past chairman of the State Republican committee and past president of the San Fernando Valley Republican Woman's club. Mrs. Calvin William Carpenter (center) is president of the Emblem club, Valley-wide organization for women of Elk affiliation, and is active in Junior Woman's club circles. Miss Dorothy Reel (right) is president of the Van Nuys Junior Woman's club.

Wild Flower Fete Opens on Easter Sunday This Year

At the home of Mrs. William Warren Orcutt on Mariposa avenue, Los Angeles, preliminary plans for the second annual wild flower fete of the San Fernando Valley, honor of this great American festival, sponsored by the Canoga Park Woman's club, were outlined by a representative coterie of social and club leaders from this section.

April 16-22 inclusive is the date marked for this event of outstanding significance which, last year, carried the Olympiad, brought hundreds of visitors from all parts of the world to the west-end of the Valley.

"To beautify the landscape by restoring the native flora; to revive the customs and to recall the romance and glamour of old California; to make known the charms of the San Fernando Valley, and to increase "joy in living" for ourselves and our visitors" is the incorporated purpose and theme of the annual wild flower fiesta, inaugerated in 1922.

The tentative program, opening on Easter Sunday, has been outlined as follows:

Sunday, April 16, Easter sunrise service at the Greek Theatre, Canoga Park.

April 17 to 22, viewing of wild flowers and the mile-long avenue of blooming Catalpa trees along Topanga Canyon boulevard.

Saturday, April 22, "Fiesta Day," parade—cavalcade of horsemen, ancient vehicles and historic floats and flower-bordered streets. Spanish luncheon under pergolas of Canoga Park club house. Afternoon Spanish Garden fete at Rancho de Sombra del Roble, country estate of the W. W. Orcutts. Program featuring early songs and dances, Spanish music. In the evening, a floral ball at the American Legion hall.

Hostesses, including as last year some of Van Nuys' prominent club women and residents, will be Native Sons and Daughters and San Fernando Valley's most prominent citizens.

Washington Is Circle Motif—

Mrs. Kate Reas of Valerio street will carry out a Washington motif tomorrow when she extends her hospitality to Mrs. L. A. Woodford's circle of the Presbyterian Woman's Aid for an afternoon of sewing and sociability.

Afternoon Event Hazeltine P.-T. A.—

Friday at the Oscar Biegen home, 14009 Gilmore street, a bridge, 500 and Cootie party, under the auspices of the Hazeltine avenue P.-T. A., will be open to the public. There will be prizes and refreshments. A silver offering will be taken.

PERSONAL MENTION

Mrs. A. Steffen of 6163 Vesper avenue is leaving March 1 for Detroit, Michigan.

Mrs. Byron Daley of Erwin street has been very ill the past week. She is reported well on the road to recovery today.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Dufel of this city had as dinner guests last evening Mr. and Mrs. Erwin P. Luttermoser and daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Sutton and Mrs. Ken Sutton of Reseda were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Penman of Valerio street Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford E. Hubach from Burbank boulevard to Flower home on Burbank boulevard and the Flowers have gone to Santa Monica.

Mrs. Alfred C. Abbe, wife of the pastor of Sherman Oaks Community church, is reported critically ill with an operation pending. She was to be removed to a hospital today.

* * * *

Studio City post, American Legion, will sponsor a Washington Birthday dance Wednesday at Cy Toonie's Farm on Ventura boulevard. Emelan Pat Casey's orchestra will furnish music and special entertainment will be put on by Mr. Toonie.

"The colonials had a color which I recommend with passion. They pointed, everything they could by their hands and feet. Their carriages were yellow, green, red, or blue. In Philadelphia brown was favored—with shiny wheels."

WOMAN'S CLUB ABANDONS USUAL WASHINGTON CELEBRATION PLANS TO AID CITY HALL DEDICATION

While the Van Nuys Woman's club made elaborate plans in 1932 for the celebration of the George Washington Bicentennial and in honor of this great American festivities planned a tree during the special ceremonies at Elysian Park, they have abandoned such festivities this year to cooperate with the city in the Valley branch city hall dedication Wednesday.

Today the women are completing plans for a luncheon which they will prepare and serve distinguished visitors and prominent Valley residents who will assemble here Wednesday for the important function. Later they will attend the dedicatory ceremony en masse, headed by the president, Mrs. Earl R. Bever.

The Van Nuys Woman's club was founded on April 3, 1912, with a charter membership of 32. Those early meetings were held in the home of the women who had formerly called themselves "The Mission Study Class."

Displaying their civic-mindedness the club has since to widen their scope of activities to include community service, the club undertook many of the first projects for the establishment of a Van Nuys branch library with temporary headquarters at the elementary school, members of the club acting as librarians until there was sufficient patronage to warrant a paid librarian.

In July, 1912, three months following the founding of the club, the Van Nuys group was accepted in the California Federation. A few years later Mrs. Ida Bailey, charter member, gave the club as site on Sylvan street where construction was immediately begun on the organization's new home which was received since then enlargements and improvements to exceed $1400.

Founders Are Honored—

Mrs. Phoebe Hearst and Mrs. Theodore Birney, who started the P.-T. A. movement in 1897, will be honored at a Founders' Day program tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Dickens Sirpet P.-T. A.

Mrs. Jean Boecker is in charge of the program and Mrs. Irene G. Miller, the new president, will preside. Guests of honor will be past presidents of the organization.

Visit Old Ironsides Ship—

The U. S. S. Constitution at San Pedro harbor was the incentive Saturday for a pilgrimmage of auxiliary women from Van Nuys unit who attended a special program on board the ship. Members of the drill team from this city were Mrs. Ollie Slocum, Mrs. Bee Parker, Mrs. Helen Crippen, Mrs. Lola Potter, Mrs. Vira Barrett, Mrs. Ethel McChesney, Mrs. Marie St. Clair, Mrs. Cleta Edgell, Mrs. Anne McDonald, Mrs. Pauline Johnson and Mrs. Kathleen May. They were accompanied by Mrs. Lee Mortin, Mrs. Olla Bailey, Miss Marguerite May, Miss Edna Crippen, Joseph Mc-Donald and Jack Barrett.

There will be no auxiliary meeting on February 22, it was announced today.

Perennials Garden Subject Thursday—

"Perennials for the Garden" will be the topic for discussion at the P.-T. A. meeting in 1937, 937 San Fernando Valley Horticultural society February 23 in the lecture room of the Van Nuys library. William Mollett of Van Nuys will be the speaker.

Charles Read, the president, will conduct a short business meeting and Robert French will give his usual helpful advice on current garden tasks.

The interest and enthusiasm of the members is growing steadily. All gardeners, amature or professionals are cordially invited to attend the meetings.

As usual, members will bring flowers from their gardens for the informal show which is such a delightful part of the meetings.

Trio Assists Charity Program—

The trio of Van Nuys musicians will aid San Fernando in a charitable project Thursday and Friday evening when a benefit play, "The Thirteenth Chair," with musicale prologue, will be given in that city's high school auditorium. A. E. Nordvold, 'cello; Bertram Kronman, clarinet; Perry Thomas, violin, with Professor Gross directing the orchestra, will participate.

Colonial Bridge Wednesday Night—

Among the most interesting affairs on the evening of George Washington's birthday anniversary —Wednesday—will be a colonial bridge party in Masonic Hall at 8 o'clock, sponsored by Van Nuys chapter, Order of the Eastern Star with the five Star points acting as hostesses for the evening.

This will be a prettily appointed event with many charming features. Spring flowers will decorate the Blue Room and table tallies will carry the period motif. Many attractive prizes will be given winners and delicious refreshments are to be served.

Reservations for the affair may be made with Mrs. W. F. Rudolph at Van Nuys 959-W or tickets will be available at very nominal prices at the door. The public is cordially invited.

Surprise Night School Teacher—

Ten members of the lip reading class at Van Nuys evening high school sprang a surprise on their teacher, Mrs. Emma V. Berger, last Wednesday night. The class conspiracy, during the intermission, a mysterious note summoned the teacher to the office. When she returned, the formal aspect of the class room had been transformed into that of a festive hall. And a birthday "cake" on the blackboard brought hearty greetings to Mrs. Berger and to those members of the class who had their birthdays during the Lincoln's birth month for their own.

Delicious ice cream, made by the domestic science students and Miss Peterson, was served with three mountainous birthday cakes, baked and decorated by the culinary artists, Mrs. Eula Poe, Mrs. Pearl Gorman and Mrs. Dorothy Suppe.

An impromptu program included games and an exciting lip reading contest on the order of an old fashioned spelling bee.

The 1933 semester has brought several new students to the lip reading course, increasing the enrollment to twenty-seven, largest in the history of the course. This is good time for any other men or women who are hard of hearing to join the class, as the new group is just starting beginner's work in lip reading. The class meets every Monday and Wednesday evening at 7 o'clock. There is no charge for tuition.

Winner Coached By Club Woman—

Miss Corinne Hudson, who was the winner of preliminary tryouts for the choral contest, sponsored by the music department of the Los Angeles district, California Federated Women's clubs, held at the Van Nuys high school, was coached by Mrs. Charls Guy Tingle, prominent club woman and former grand opera singer. Miss Hudson, who will sing the finals here, was requested to appear on a number of local programs.

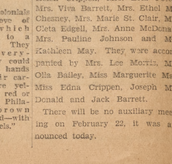
Gifted young vocal artists who were highly complimented on their performances during the preliminaries at the Woman's club were Miss Ruth Beals, Miss Florence French and Miss Loretta Winkler. Miss Dorothy Scott, who was too young to participate, also contributed to the program.

Card Party Followed Meeting—

A contract and auction bridge with Valentine tallies and a charming appointed supper on red linen covered tables with dainty heart moulds followed the Tuesday evening meeting of the Van Nuys Junior Woman's club at the home of Mrs. Stanley Norris Peik on Sherman Oaks avenue.

Miss Mildred Martin and Mrs. Ralph Chilton were scored high in auction and contract, respectively. Miss Dorothy Reel, Junior president, conducted the short business session when a board meeting was announced for February 27 at Miss Reel's home, the regular meeting to be held in the club house on the 28th. There will be an early March social fete.

Miss Olive Hume, daughter of Mrs. G. E. Hume returned home this week-end from Redlands University, where she is a sophomore.



"Celonial women were enormous puffy gowns of bright satin as the colors. Well-dressed men usually appeared in blue coats with gold or silver buttons engraved with the wearer's monogram. Knee-britches were of blue or tan velvet or of gleaming white satin."

12th Anniversary Lutheran Ladies' Aid Is Celebrated

Celebrating the twelfth anniversary of the First Evangelical Lutheran church Ladies Aid, a banquet was held in the church dining hall and attended by one hundred and twenty-five church goers Friday evening in Van Nuys.

The cycle of the year was represented in the appointments of twelve pretty dinner tables, one suggestive of each month with holiday and seasonal themes carried out. The December table was perhaps the most unique with a centerpiece depicting a winter snow scene, a tiny house built all of marshmallows with additional features made of colored candies.

Introduction of two charter members of the Aid, Mrs. Anna Engle of Oxnard and Mrs. Joseph Bruno of Van Nuys was made and they were presented with corsages of freezias and sweet peas. Mrs. Herbert Augerson, Aid president, presided over the affair with Mrs. Irving Russell acting as toastmistress.

Musical features were numbers by a double quartet of Sunday School students and a vocal quartet composed of Mrs. Arnold Leveen, Mrs. Ralph Leveen, Mrs. Alexander Leveen and Mrs. Irving Russell, with Mrs. A. B. Nord acting acting as accompanist. Interesting songs were sung, the March group being voted the best. Rev. Armand Mueller, pastor of the church, made a brief talk and there were several selections.

Members of the banquet committee were Mrs. Rudolph Baumann, Mrs. Erving Rumel and Mrs. Arnold Leveen.

Style-Gazing with CHARLEEN

By Parisda

In George Washington's day, only the wealthy possessed new silk stockings. Now everyone wears them, despite their social or financial standing. Even the most radical revolutions or something that time has brought upon us. And my dear, the men's stockings were usually STRIPED! With breeches, they must have been quite striking. Now days that idea would be quite lost, or you might say, hidden.

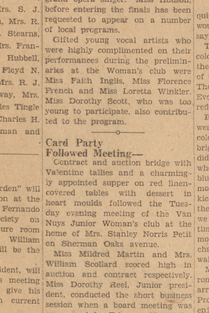
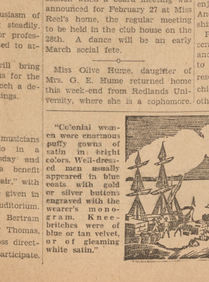
They say the colonials loved gay colors—that they painted everything they could lay their hands on. None of these DAINTY pastels for them. Their's must be SHARP and HOT. Even their carriages were yellow, red, blue or green.

It must have been ELEGANT to wear a shoulder veil of bright satin with a huge, puffy gown of bright satin as the colonial dames did. And then there were the men who chose for their best attire, the coats with silver buttons, monogrammed as we do our handkies. In those days, "the bigger the better" was the slogan. While we pay exhuberant prices for tiny timepieces, the colonials hung enormous watches to their great-tinbed chains, suspended over yellow waistcoats, cut low in front.

My dear, can't you JUST imagine romping around with some gallant in knee breeches and ruffled shirt? Probably the modern man would enjoy a good game of golf in them. But those LACE ruffles on the shirt fronts!

Pity the poor, who had to wear scratchy old woolens 'n linen shirts and shifts. Even they were partial to the loud colors, and as a last resort, would wear a gay neckerchief or scarf, brightening up otherwise dull apparel.





Wide Interest Is Shown In Annual Legion Post Fete

Of major significance in the fourth area, American Legion, was the annual banquet of Van Nuys post, No. 193 at the Van Nuys Woman's club house Friday evening where approximately one hundred and thirty comrades and visitors were entertained.

Indicative of the wide-spread interest in this event was the presence of guests from posts in other cities and the return of several former members.

The appointments in the Legion colors—blue and gold—transformed the place into a charming setting. Each table was adorned by a large bouquet of mixed sweet peas in ladies' maids with blue cellophane handles tied with gold. Golden yellow tapers burned at each side. On the central table was a patriotic bouquet of deep red stocks, anemones, larkspur, cornflowers and snapdragons. Corsages of pastel sweet peas marked places for the honored guests and entertainers.

Comrade Commander Earl C. Beach extended official welcome and called attention to the fact that this was Van Nuys Post's thirteenth annual banquet. He presented Capt. Jim P. Inglis, district commander of Van Nuys post and principal of Fremont high school, as master of ceremonies for the evening. The entire program took on a lighter vein through the evening as Capt. Inglis wove into the introductions brief sketches of the war difficulties in lot of "sugar and spice" as it were.

Presentations included Judge and Mrs. Clarence Ridgely Capt. Edgar A. Elkins, president of the Board of Public Work, distinguished visitors and past commanders and their wives.

Featuring the unusually entertaining program were light operas selections by the charming Miss Barbara Dozic, recent winner of a state vocal competition, who is the niece of Commander Beach. Miss Dozic was accompanied by Eugene Lamb, professional pianist and post member. An interesting contribution was made by Mrs. E. D. Gibson, well known reader, and a clever black-face monologue on post comrades was offered by Charlie Childs, impersonator and post artist.

Informal dancing with Don McClinty's orchestra furnishing music, was the concluding diversion of the evening.

Two-Year-Old Tot Celebrates—

Greta Dorene Luttermoser, young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Erwin F. Luttermoser of 6437 Ventura Canyon avenue celebrated her second birthday at a Valentine party, given by her mother recently. Little Greta Dorene wore a cute pink frock of mousselin with a polk and tiny ruffles and was delighted with her gifts.

The cake was lighted with two red candles on the Valentine table and iced with hearts. Supper was served for Ruth Breuer, Glenna Dufel, Henry Kringle, Ronald Kringle and their mothers.

Fortitude and Vision of Pioneers Priceless Heritage

Here's to our wide fertile Valley
The home of the Bean and the Hen;
Where Pioneers transformed a Desert,
Into cities that beckon to Men.

* * * *

By NEWS STAFF WRITER

Early in 1911 five pioneer land owners and stock raisers, who controlled practically all of the fertile acreage in the San Fernando Valley, decided to pool their interests and establish a townsite in the central part of their vast domain.

Van Nuys was born on February 22 of that year and christened in honor of I. N. Van Nuys who, with

W. P. Whitsett

Harrison Gray Otis, General M H. Sherman and O. F. Brant, launched one of the largest and most comprehensive real estate developments ever conceived in California.

To W. P. Whitsett, chairman of the Metropolitan Water District, then a successful young developer, fell the task of actually founding the town.

In the midst of a vast expanse of barley fields and virgin soil he built a small office on the old Owensmouth road, now known by the Security-First National Bank.

Thousands Saw Prospects

Agriculturists and business men-investors interested in dry farming came here by the thousands from all parts of the country to hear plans set forth by the developers to reclaim a desert and build a city.

Thrilled and intrigued by such possibilities, hundreds purchased lots and farms and became pioneers of a new era.

This influx was followed by a period of staple commodity stores and business houses sprang up. A postoffice was established as well as a school and churches.

While Van Nuys was still an infant a great aqueduct was being built to bring water from the High Sierras. This stupendous engineering task was completed in 1913 and two years later the little town of Van Nuys was annexed to the city of Los Angeles.

Water From Aqueduct

Connections to the huge aqueduct pipe line, which was brought through the San Fernando Valley, were soon made.

When the first cascade of water rushed from the mouths of irrigation pipes and seeped over the dry surface of Mr. Brant's land, the rich land, sugar beets and the hen were selected to lay the foundation for one of the most prosperous agricultural districts in the west.

In the years to follow the production of alfalfa beans and kindred products brought millions of dollars to Van Nuys and the Valley area. Other millions were made in the raising of poultry and to-day this industry stands at the forefront of ranching activity.

The Magic Wand

Pioneers remember the best traditions in American life effected the transformation of a desert into thriving communities.

The magic wand of opportunity beckoned men from all sections of the country and today, with their families, they live in the Valley of romance and confidence that nothing can retard or destroy a score of united and progressive communities that have grown up in the area and grew so great and self-sustaining.

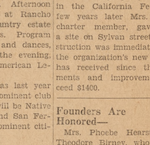
clusion, finally winning support from those who had previously opposed the plan.

When the funds for the building were voted by the council the board of public works took charge of the improvement.

As vice-president of the board, Edgar A. Elkins and Charles Bentzin, city construction superintendent, were responsible for practically all matters dealing with the preparation of plans, the selection of responsible contractors and the proper construction of the building.



E. A. Elkins

The finished product is a testimonial of their exceptional ability and efficiency in the performance of a difficult task.

Los Angeles and other cities have erected many fine public buildings, but there are none that exceed this in excellence of design, workmanship or serviceableness.

PROSECUTOR HAS ENVIABLE RECORD

Member of Pioneer Valley Family Succeeds in Official Position

Valley citizens having business with the deputy city prosecutor from now on will find this official located in the first two rooms to the right of the main entrance on the first floor of the new branch municipal building.

Victor Obegi, deputy city prosecutor might well be classed as one of the young pioneers of the Valley. He is a member of one of the pioneer families, a graduate of Van Nuys high school and the law school of the University of Southern California.

He received his appointment as deputy city prosecutor on February 1, 1933. Prior to his appointment he was engaged in the practice of law.

During his five years as deputy prosecutor in the local municipal court, he handled approximately 15,000 cases and has one of the highest records for successful prosecutions in the department.

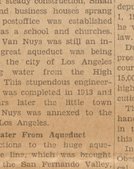
The deputy prosecutor also handles the failure to provide cases in the district and his success in this field has been worthy of note.

In addition to official duties, Mr. Obegi has been very active in local civic and fraternal affairs. He is a past president of the Van Nuys Rotary club, past president of the Van Nuys Recreation Parks association, a member of the Los Angeles County Bar association, a member of the Elks lodge and numerous other organizations.

LOCAL CIVIC ORGANIZATIONS PRACTICED BEST PRECEPTS OF PUBLIC DUTY IN AIDING PROJECT

Three local civic organizations, the Kiwanis club and the Rotary club, have always been at the forefront in support of every community improvement, and the branch city hall project was no exception.

Each organization has practiced the best precepts of its creed and the memberships have ever been



H. V. Platt

Van Nuys Rotarians with Dr. Cliff Carpenter as president working side by side with Kiwanians and Legionaires, observing the traditions of their universal order in promoting unity of purpose and efficiency in preparation.

These, or course, are only three of the many Van Nuys and Valley civic groups that are securing suitable quarters for city departments serving a large district.

H. H. A. Hastings, Jr., president of the Kiwanis club and the membership of this organization with the city hall dedication ceremonies, will be staged Wednesday. Many affiliated with the club are serving on program committees.

The Van Nuys Legion Post, headed by Commander Earl Beach, can view their accomplishments in connection with this fine municipal asset with pardonable pride.

There were many others and scores of individuals who contributed time and effort towards the erection of a new municipal structure that will serve every community that it will serve.

HOSPITAL HAS RUNWAY

Receiving hospital cases will be taken into the new emergency station in the Valley municipal building on an inclined concrete runway leading from the alley in the rear to a side door.

OAK DOORS FEATURED

Two beautiful oak doors are on either side of the grand hall lobby. One leads to the office of the deputy city clerk. The other is the entrance to the deputy city prosecutor's office.

Program Chairman Merits Success in Dedication Plans

The success of any undertaking, particularly of a civic nature, largely rests with the ability of those selected to arrange the program and bring it to a successful conclusion.

Van Nuys is fortunate in having at the head of its chamber of commerce an outstanding citizen on whose shoulders rests the burden of being chairman of the entire committees of the various committee members and chairmen gives the Valley one of the finest groups of civic workers ever assembled for a function of this sort.

Pioneer Picture Producer Assists Dedication Event

Wherever motion pictures are shown the name of Mack Sennett is a byword.

This pioneer of the silver screen commenced his career as one of the first custard pie comedians in the history of motion pictures.

Sennett is one of the

As years passed he leading producers of the Hollywood film colony. A few years ago he found it necessary to erect a new plant and selected the Valley as the most logical site in Southern California.

Within a short time Studio City was built and the Sennett plant today is classed as one of the finest in the industry.

Mack Sennett is a member of the committee on arrangements for the city hall dedication program.

MUST KEEP CLEAN

Locker, cloak and wash rooms for the women and men added convenience of showers for department heads are features in the construction of the new city hall.

Squad to Division Is Evolution of Police Protection in Valley

Police protection in an area comprising more than 240 square miles, in which there are six large communities and more than a score of small towns, is quite a problem geographically, socially and economically.

At the new city hall dedicatory ceremonies this week the Valley division of the Los Angeles police department figures prominently as one of the largest units to be officially housed in the new structure.

The space that the division will occupy from now on includes most all of the space on the main floor of the west wing of the building, and a large assembly room and offices on the second floor directly above the hall.

Capt. Hodson

Captain C. A. Hodson, division commander, is assisted by Captain L. O. N. Canto, head of the detective bureau. The total personnel of the division is ninety-three officers, including clerks, telegraphers, telephone operators and secretaries.

The size and strength of the division today and the new municipal structure which will be its home, aptly illustrates the progress and development of the Valley since 1916 when proud citizens dedicated a new city hall costing $24,000 and entrusted the protection of life, limb and property to a squad of five patrolmen.

Capt. Canto

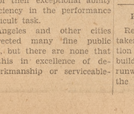
Fifteen years ago the old Van Nuys branch city hall was a brand new building and considered one of the best of the small city buildings in Los Angeles county. To-day it sits under the shadows of a newer and more modern municipal structure erected across the street at a cost of $275,000.

Dist. Engineer's Office Important Unit Here

By NEWS STAFF WRITER

Next to the police department in size and in personnel, but second to none in importance among the various divisions assigned to the new city hall is the district engineer's office.

Things have to be planned, designed and produced on paper before they become concrete realities.



L. O. Turner

Hence the district engineer's office has been closely linked with the development of the Valley since 1915 when the large area of this district was annexed to the city of Los Angeles.

Every public improvement of any consequence since that year has been designed and mapped in the district engineer's office.

These projects include streets, boulevards, sewers, storm drains and bridges. The Valley area is today in a class by itself with respect to the excellence of such improvements and much credit is due District Engineer L. O. Turner and his staff for the efficiency and dispatch in handling numerous difficult problems.

Allotted Choice Office

Working conditions for this bureau will be considerably better henceforth because it is quartered on the first floor and most desirable sections of the new municipal building.

Located on the second floor in the east wing, the engineers, draftsmen and office heads will have all the conveniences that make for healthy working conditions.

The drafting room is spacious and specially tinted and arranged so as to obtain the best possible natural and artificial light.

Large Public Counter

The public reception room and counter is large enough to serve the needs of many years. Separate offices are provided for the district engineer and his assistant, John P. Harding. Other smaller offices provide quarters for checks, stenographers and field foremen.

The personnel of the division is as follows:

L. O. Turner, district engineer.
J. P. Harding, assistant district engineer.
A. M. Marsden, stenographer.

IN THE SHADOW OF PROGRESS

Past and Present Kiwanians Join in Reunion Anniversary and Enjoy Many Reminiscences

With former members attending from all sections of Southern California, the Van Nuys Kiwanis club Thursday staged an anniversary event that was generally conceded to be the most outstanding luncheon meeting in the history of the club, and community builders. The churches held regular Sunday services. During the week they had bazaars, food sales and entertainment of various kinds. The churches cooperated, worked together. There developed an acquaintanceship, fellowship and community spirit.

"The Woman's club was a large and active organization. The majority of the women were members. The dues were small and the meetings well attended. The club was deeply interested in community development and displayed a high type of fellowship and civic spirit. The annual 'Husband's Dinner' was an event always welcomed by the men and long-remembered. The club was the only organization in town interested in social service work.

"Fraternal orders had been formed for both men and women, these orders taking part in all civic functions. The Parent-Teachers association looked after the underprivileged children and covered this work thoroughly. The chamber of commerce was a lively organization. Dues, one dollar; all belonged. The members were without a paid secretary but when called upon. Our newspaper never failed to give us a boost and played an important part in bringing newcomers into the Valley.

"Our annual picnic saw the entire town out. Shops and stores declared a holiday. We departed to a shady grove where we unpacked our baskets and enjoyed entertainment and games; then home again a tired but happy group of people.

"As I look back, I can see the old pioneers. Some have passed along, but those who remain are still active and working to make this town a better place in which to live."

J. W. Praiswater, a resident of Van Nuys since 1920, reviewed conditions as they were ten years ago and was followed by Bruce F. Allington, pioneer automobile dealer, who spoke on conditions five years ago. Both gave some very interesting information on conditions as they existed at those periods.

Erskine Edwards, now of Los Angeles, dwelt upon his experiences as president of the club and commended very highly the excellent spirit and cooperation evidenced by members of the organization during that time, and since.

Floyd N. High, now manager of a Montrose Bank, recited briefly some of the highlights of his year as president and said that his Kiwanis association had been one of the most pleasant of his life.

The attendance prize, contributed by George Clarke, was awarded to H. H. Dunn, a charter member of the club. Musical numbers were furnished by an orchestra composed of Mrs. O. H. Weinstein, club pianist; Mrs. Ralph Hamilton, Mrs. Ford Wilcox, Clifford Loucks and Betram Kronman.

The Van Nuys Kiwanis club was organized in March, 1922, with sixty-four charter members. It was sponsored by the Lankershim club, which had been organized a few days previously. The club received its charter April 9, 1923, in a joint meeting with the San Fernando club.

So pleased were all members with the reunion plan of anniversary that another is already being planned for next year.

Sponsor Wednesday Luncheon

Wednesday the Van Nuys Kiwanis and Rotary clubs will sponsor a luncheon to be held at the Van Nuys Woman's club house at which time city and county officials will be guests of honor.

The luncheon will start promptly at 12 o'clock with H. H. A. Hastings, Jr., president of the Kiwanis club; Dr. Cliff D. Carpenter, president of the Rotary club, and Walter Mendenhall, representing the Valley dedication committee, presiding.

This luncheon will precede the official dedication ceremonies to be held at the new Valley branch municipal building later in the afternoon.

An Anniversary Celebration We All Can Be Proud Of

History of Valley's City Hall Effort

On February 22, 1911, twenty-two years ago, the townsite of Van Nuys was created and christened.

Nine months later the residential holdings of a population of approximately 140 people consisted of about thirty-five homes.

This week the community celebrates its twenty-second birthday, honors the memory of George Washington and joins with all Valley citizens in the dedication of a handsome new municipal building erected at a cost of $275,000.

In the short period of twenty-two years Van Nuys has become a city within a city with a population of approximately 12,000, enjoying all the modern conveniences of the city dweller, and at the same time maintaining its identity as a speeches and fitting ceremonies featured the event which was witnessed by the largest crowd in the history of the Valley.

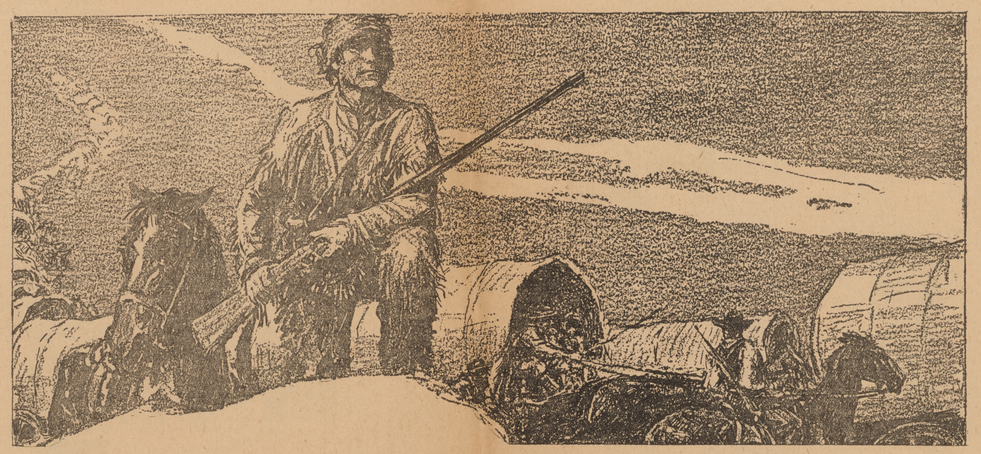
The completed structure today stands as a monument to civic progress, community spirit and resourcefulness seldom equaled in a district so young in years.

Its youth, however, is more than offset by the will to do and the cooperative spirit of a united citizenry that is as broad and understanding as the Valley is long.

The personnel of the bureau includes Jerry Cullen, chief clerk; J. B. Johnstone and George A. Kelly, building inspectors; F. W. Dutcher and St



PIONEERS YESTERDAY

And Still in the Vanguard Today!

SEVENTEEN years ago today the Fernando Valley Milling and Supply Company was little more than a name and an ideal. Today—on this anniversary occasion—this firm, after blazing the pioneer's trail and passing through successive and successful stages of intense development has become a real factor in the commercial and industrial life of Southern California. The Roger Clarks and the Daniel Boones of that far-off day are fond memories of history, but the spirit of those pioneers are reflected in the progress of this institution.

G. G. STEERE
President and General Manager

IN COMMEMORATION of this notable event—the Twenty-second Birthday Anniversary of Van Nuys—this firm is steadfast in its policy of progress. True to its ideals, it will continue to serve its patrons with the very best quality products. As Van Nuys and the San Fernando Valley progresses, so progresses this institution. And it is a combination of reverence for a glorious tradition, plus a spirit of modernty, and a determination to "carry on" year after year that keeps the Pioneers of Yesterday still in the Vanguard Today.

Letters on Auto License Plates Have Meanings

Letters on automobile license plates have the following meanings, according to the Automobile Club of Southern California:

All letters on privately-owned passenger cars, with the exception of E, are used only to eliminate a seventh bumeral and have no special meaning.

E designates official cars, state owned if enclosed in a diamond, city owned when inside a square and county owned when in an oval.

PS means public service cars, or those operated as stage or busses between given points under authority of the state.

PC is carried, by commercial trucks with pneumatic tires.

SC is carried by commercial trucks with solid tires.

US is for cars operated by representatives of the federal government or foreign consuls.

DLR is seen on automobile dealers' cars.

THE SECRET OF LEADERSHIP

"By faith Moses refused to be called the Son of Pharoah's daughter . . . By faith he endured as seeing Him who is invisible."—Hebrews 11:24-27.

Self renunciation and self surrender to the guidance of the invisible hand—that is the two-fold secret of true leadership. Moses renounced selfishness, ease and riches and the glory of world's mightiest throne for poverty and persecution as the leader of an enslaved people. He also endured, persisted in his thankless task, because he saw the invisible hand of the Ruler of Nations guiding him, upholding and delivering him, and the people whom he loved. These were and are the tests of all true leadership. Today, as in the days of Moses, such tests are ever applied. What have you remembered and what have you endured? By these tests your leadership will ultimately stand or fall, whether that leadership be in humble walks of life or in the white light that beats upon statutes and parliaments and the council halls of human government.

This week we are remembering the birthday of a modern Moses —George Washington—the father of the United States. Two hundred and one years ago he was born. One hundred and thirty-four years ago he died. But his work lives and his words still stir our hearts.

The Van Nuys city hall is being dedicated on the two hundred and first anniversary of his birth. Essentially that building is there because a man called George Washington lived. Because a man two hundred years ago, bravely renounced all personal ease and honor and riches; because he was willing to endure defeat and criticism and suffering, sure that the heavenly hand was upholding and guiding him; because of that we enjoy the blessings of liberty and progress and peace today.

Just as in the case of Moses the life and Washington's leadership had a two-fold root.

1. He renounced himself. Stand with me before his monument at Mount Vernon and read in the lines among others: "Who, when he had won all, renounced all."

Yes, and before he had won all he renounced all. That self-renunciation was the secret of his influence and the power that shaped his life.

2. Read with me a sentence from his first inaugural address, delivered in New York April 30, 1789, one hundred and forty-four years ago: "No people can be bound to acknowledge and adore the invisible hand which conducts the affairs of men, more than the people of the United States. Every step by which they have advanced to the character of an independent nation seems to have been distinguished by some token of providential agency."

Washington stood in awe of that invisible hand. "Beneath whose awful hand we hold dominion over palm and pine." That vision was the secret of his endurance, his patience, and ultimate triumph.

Lord Byron, in one of his great poems, called Washington a "tyrant tamer." It is a true and striking epithet: "And Washington, the tyrant tamer, wats to bid us blush for these old claims, or break."

But he can be called such because he had first of all subdued himself, resigned himself and humbled himself under the mighty hand of God. God grant us such leaders and the grace to follow them to our god-determined goal.

Rubber Company Spends Large Sums for Raw Materials

B. F. Goodrich Rubber company, Akron, Ohio, manufacturers of over 23,000 diversified rubber products, including the Silvertown tire, spent $1,071,137 in the purchase of raw and manufactured materials from various industries and producers in California during 1932, according to a survey recently completed.

The amount does not include total expenditures of Goodrich in California, the report shows, for Goodrich payrolls in the state are not included in the tabulation.

Modern Jail Facilities Feature New City Hall

By NEWS STAFF WRITER

Those who may deem it fortunate or unfortunate to be arrested in Valley precincts from now on can fruitfully tell their friends that they were incarcerated in one of the best jails they have ever been in or read about.

The jail section of the new city hall is a "hoogow de luxe," according to truculent vagrants who have compared this modern bastile to the many that have housed them for short periods during their technocratic jaunts about the country.

Sanitation, efficiency, the utmost in security and a certain amount of artistry in arrangements feature the housing and care of prisoners in this unit which police officials declare is the best for its size in Southern California.

Prisoners will be received at a side entrance on the west end of the building.

Booking Office Routine

The desk sergeant and his staff greets and receives them at the booking office on the left of the door.

After the usual formalities they are classified and segregated according to the seriousness of the charge. Minor offending adult males are conducted to the "bull pen," a large barred cell with a capacity of twenty-one inmates.

This cell is equipped with beds, dining tables and benches, rest room and showers.

If the customer happens to be a bandit or burglary suspect he is given a small compact apartment with a heavier door and other exclusive features which provide space and sleeping accommodations for four.

There are two cells of this type.

Special Drunk Tank

Whether prohibition remains or not, jail building experts have taken human weakness into consideration and designed a special steel and concrete suite for the inebriate.

This darkened recess is similar in design to the felony tank and is protected against the invasion of pink elephants, snakes and other inimicalrollies that assail ordinarily good citizens after an extended session with John Barleycorn.

Should a woman be brought in, the desk sergeant immediately calls the jail matron whose domain is separated from the main jail by a large steel door.

She conducts the prisoner into the women's section where she is searched and later placed in a separate cell apart from all male inmates.

Juveniles of tender years are likewise sequestered in another cell in another part of the jail.

Swanky Jail Kitchen

Now let us look at the jail kitchen. Men and women must eat even though they may be having difficulties with the law.

The culinary department compares favorably with those operated by many of the swanky cafes. All cooking will be done on a large gas range. A cooling system will handle perishable foods.

There is ample space for the storing of provisions, kitchen utensils and dining room equipment. The jail menu calls for plain but wholesome food and the kitchen will be able to provide for all prisoners including twenty or more

Funds for Roscoe Relief Home Voted

Appropriation of $1500 to be used by the Minnie Barton home in Roscoe for relief of destitute women and children this week was authorized by the water and power board.

The money will provide food and shelter for some 50 indigment mothers and their children during the next three months, it was stated.

State Lion Hunter Tells Trade Tricks

Kingsburg, (UP)—Want to know how to catch a mountain lion?

Jay Bruce, state lion hunter, claims it's easy and gives the following instructions:

"First, with the aid of the dogs and after walking many weary miles, you get the lion up a tree. A long pole is then cut (the longer the better) which is used to slip a noose over its head.

"After about the third attempt the noose is slipped over its head. Then the dogs have to be tied and the animal lowered to the ground, being careful not to strangle the captive. Then its hind feet are securely tied to a tree with a second rope holding its head, after which a sack is slipped over the entire body with a hole cut for the head. Then the lion can be tied to a pole and brought home.

Necessity the Inventive Genius Dominated Valley Activities

Traditionary Yardstick Discarded As Sturdy Pioneers Grappled With Nature in the Raw

Los Angeles and its annexed communities for years have amazed contemporary metropolitan centers with audacious contempt for the traditionary yardstick in matters of development, progress and expansion.

These sister cities gasped in awe when the surprising Angeleno dug a huge ditch 250 miles in length and constructed an aqueduct to assure a continuous water supply.

They were equally nonplused when he found himself without an adequate harbor and built one with dredges, concrete and boulders that soon captured the lion's share of coastal and Oriental shipping.

Then in one fellswoop, hundreds of square miles of flat and rolling land in the San Fernando Valley were annexed overnight, great valves on the aqueduct were opened to connect irrigation pipes. Sister cities sighed again and sat back to await further developments.

Never Too Close

The developments were inevitable. Don Angeleno and his lusty brood of growing towns were never too close to the trees to see the forest of opportunity.

Dry farmers in the Valley's wide open spaces became modern agriculturists and ranchers. Immense crops of beans, garden produce, fruits and grains covered great tracts of land like a great spreading green blanket.

Towns became thriving communities with churches, schools, business districts and residential sections. Dairymen and poultrymen finding these conditions ideal invested great sums of money for land and buildings and added the two new industries to the agricultural category.

Populations in all communities increased by leaps and bounds and the citizenry soon began to think of civic development.

Broad paved highways and boulevards connecting all sections of the Valley were needed. Comprehensive plans were made and within a short time a highway system became a reality.

First City Hall

When Van Nuys was annexed in 1915 the administrative center for this vast area was established here. A year later an adequate city hall costing about $24,000 was built to house city departments serving the district.

More than thirteen years of surprising development and progress followed and in 1928 citizens of the district commenced to realize that the little municipal building was totally inadequate.

"We need a bigger and better city hall," they said to father Angeleno.

"Well now do you really need one?"

"You see I'm figuring on building another aqueduct from the Colorado river and I haven't been out your way very much," the good Don replied.

"However, if you need it, you know how to do the missionary work and I'll see you in the council chambers some day."

The citizens did the missionary work, the busy Don returned to his new aqueduct blue prints and two years later the citizens called again.

"It will cost you about $275,000, papa," they said.

"Bless me; but that's a tidy sum," Don Angeleno exclaimed.

"However, you say you need it and we must maintain our reputation. I'll see you through, but don't forget to vote bonds for my new aqueduct."

Now the citizens of the Valley know the history of this project as well as all the others that preceded it, but the sister cities and the casual visitor gazing at the imposing structure for the first time remarks, "How did you do it?"

Necessity is the driving force for any worthwhile objective.

Necessity built the Los Angeles river aqueduct and turned 200 square miles of stubble-fields into productive agricultural land.

Necessity and the urge for better living conditions, some measure of prosperity, security and contentment, brought thousands of families here from all sections of the United States.

Necessity has been the empire builder since the beginning of time.

Citizens of the Valley dedicate a new municipal structure here this week as a formal gesture.

They got it because they needed it.

EVEN TEMPERATURE ASSURED

A steam heating plant to provide warmth for every room in the building and a ventilating system for cooling in summer is housed in the southeast corner of the city hall basement.

Club President

MRS. EARL R. BEVER

The Van Nuys Woman's club, like every other Valley civic organization, has been unswerving in its support to provide this district with a suitable municipal building. This organization is represented on the committee of arrangements for the dedication program by Mrs. Earl Bever, president.

High School Head

HERBERT WOOD

One of the youngest and most energetic members of the committee on arrangements for the city hall dedication program is a comparative stranger in the Valley. Herbert Wood, principal at the Van Nuys high school, became identified with civic affairs here last fall when he was transferred to his present position from the Torrance high school.

Active Sponsor

MRS SARAH E. KELLOGG

There are few women in the San Fernando Valley who have taken a more active interest in civic and public affairs than Mrs. Sarah E. Kellogg, former member of the state assembly. Mrs. Kellogg has been a consistent supporter of the new city hall project since its inception. She is one of the active members of the committee on arrangements for the dedication program this week.

Telephone Service in New City Hall

Telephone service for the new Valley municipal building was cut into operation early this morning through the local exchange of the Southern California Telephone company. The number, 441 is retained for the police department. All other offices in the building can be reached by calling Van Nuys 123.

Garage space for all city-owned trucks and automobiles including police department machines is provided in the new city hall basement.

CITY ARCHITECTS PREPARED PLANS

Branch Municipal Structure Erected By One of Best Firms in State

Plans and specifications for the Valley branch city hall were prepared by architects of the city construction division under the direction of Charles Brittain, superintendent.

The building was erected by the H. M. Baruch Corp., Ltd., which firm received the general contract award from the board of Public Works.

The Baruch concern constructed the new city hall at Beverly Hills, the Biltmore Hotel in Los Angeles and several of the newer height limit buildings in the metropolitan area.

Social Leader

MRS. ALEX JEFFERY

The San Fernando Valley Woman's Republican club is well represented on the arrangements committee for the city hall dedication by Mrs. Alex Jeffery, president. In addition to her club duties, Mrs. Jeffery takes an active part in social and civic affairs.

City Attorney

ERWIN P. WERNER

Under an amendment to the city charter adopted by the people at the last general election, the city prosecutor's office has been made a division of the city attorney's office. City Attorney Erwin P. Werner has completed the merger of the two offices, including the deputy city prosecutor's office at Van Nuys, now located in the new branch city hall.

Civic Worker

MRS. JESSE G. STEERE

One of the outstanding workers of the city hall dedication committee on arrangements is Mrs. Jesse G. Steere, club woman, civic leader and active member of the Republican County Central committee.

SPORTS

MISSIONARY QUINTET MEETS INSTITUTE FIVE HERE

A team of basketball tossers from the Young Men's class of the Missionary church here, undefeated this season in all contests against league champions, will meet the Los Angeles Bible Institute quintet tonight in the Van Nuys high school gym.

The Van Nuys five, an independent team, is one of the smoothest and fastest cage aggregations ever assembled in the Valley.

The Institute's team ranks among the best in Los Angeles and recently defeated the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A. loop artists.

The starting line-up for the visitors will include Walt Lyons, Al Brown, L. Brown, Captain George Pearson, L. Pearson and P. Raynor.

Van Nuys will start with Francis Beatty, Glen Gardner, "Blondie" Wendt, Gene Imbach, Ralph Kooy and "Spike" Waldrip.

Van Nuys Splits With Trainmen

Van Nuys split a double-header with the Southern Pacific baseball team here yesterday afternoon winning the first game, 3 to 0 and dropping a sizzling eleven inning joust in the second canto by the score of 10 to 7.

Jim Smith worked on the mound for the local club in the first game and gave one of the best exhibitions of twirling ever witnessed on the local lot.

Smith, Bob Schmidt and "Lefty" Fish alternated as heavers in the second contest which turned out to be one of the wild and wooly affairs that kept the fans on edge from the first inning to the last.

The visitors collected a total of six runs in the first frame and held the edge until the ninth when the Merchants tied the score.

Timely hitting and a little luck enabled the trainmen to nab three extra runs to put them over the hump in the eleventh.

George Ley, Jack Kesler and Fred Davis led the batting attack for the home team, each hitting doubles. Roy Yunker hit a triple and the S. P. shortstop was credited with the only home run of the game.

Eagle Rock Track Team Winners

Eagle Rock high school's varsity track team, one of the leading contenders for the Valley League title this year, beat the Franklin high trackmen Friday afternoon, 57 to 42, in a practice contest staged on the winner's field.

Spencer of Eagle Rock won both hurdle races to cop high-scoring honors. Murdock of Franklin showed promise in the shot put, by winning the event with a put of 45 feet 10½ inches.

Auto Race Bill at Legion Track

Another brilliant field of cars and drivers will be entered in the classic 100-lap race which will feature the program of auto races at the Legion Ascot Speedway Sunday afternoon, February 26.

The race held on February 12 drew a great deal of favorable comment because of the brilliant field of the country's best pilots and the high-class and beautiful cars competing. This same field will be ready again Sunday.

Van Nuys Clubwoman Wins Award for Poem on Easter

Prizewinners had received awards today for their entries in the poem and essay contest sponsored jointly by the Bible Division and Division of Literature of the Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Woman's Club.

Presentation was made at the annual convention held Friday in Beverly Hills Hotel.

Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp of Sherman Oaks, member of Van Nuys Woman's Club, received an award for herself, and a special award for her club, with her inspirational poem on Easter. Her prize-winning writing follows:

ARISE!

Arise all creeds around the troubled Earth
And take the hand of God in a rebirth
Of faith. Proclaim the blessings of eternal love,
And share respect for all beliefs that rise above
The curse of hate. Arise in peace all creeds! Unite Abroad the Earth and manifest God's might.

Arise great men and give the World new hope
Of virtuous things to come. Enlarge the scope
Of scientific sight. Reveal the need of finite skill Embraced within the knowledge of the Master's Will.
Then, satellite, ballistic bombs, nor stark dismay,
Can ne'er destroy an abiding faith in Easter Day.

BIRTHDAY LUNCHEON

Ken Peters Billed by Van Nuys Women

Eager to begin the new year members of the Van Nuys Woman's Club will assemble in the clubrooms, 14836 Sylvan St., on Wednesday for the annual Birthday Luncheon hostessed by new members.

Mrs. James T. Dresser, chairman of registration, will be in charge of arrangements.

Preceding the noonday luncheon the Bible section will meet in the solarium at 11 a.m. with Mrs. M. M. Amunson in charge of the program.

Pastor Speaks

She will present the Rev. Paul Thompson, recently appointed pastor of Central Christian Church, who will speak on the topic of "A Challenge for the New Year."

Also appearing will be Mrs. William O. Wuest, vocalist, accompanied by Mrs. Florence Von Nostrand.

Mrs. J. Howard Wilson, president, will conduct the business meeting. Members will place contributions in the pocket of miniature aprons to be left with Mrs. Franklyn Buerck for ways and means.

Mrs. Paul T. Murray, program chairman, will present Ken Peters, humorist, who will entertain with a program of sparkling literary gems.

Truly a versatile artist, Mr. Peters has appeared in "Mayor of the Town," "Gunsmoke," "One Man's Family," "Dragnet," and is now serving his fifth year on television in the "Success Story."

Luncheon Committee

Serving on the luncheon committee will be Mmes. M. P. Bauditz and Milton Morley, cochairmen; Frank Vitale and W. W. Wagoner, decorations; Jack Q. Emmerich, and B. Scott Miller, hospitality.

Hostesses at each table will be new members Mmes. Paul S. Carlsted and Millie Mitcheltree, reinstatements; Donald D. Foss, Emil W. Gallaher, Frank A. Artrip, W. W. Lemons, Ben Wolk, Max E. Wilson, Bertha W. Ink, Kyme Meade, Harry C. Newman, Bryce McLeod, Joe Holt and Madeline Wright.

Drama Section Talent To Present Program

A delightful melodrama titled "And the Lamp Went Out" by Jessie Malone Pierce and directed by Mrs. Robert Kreighoff will be presented Wednesday by Van Nuys Woman's Club Drama Section at the noonday luncheon meeting in the club auditorium, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Jake O. Moxness, section chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Johnson, cochairman, will be in charge and club members included in the cast of characters are Mmes. Jack Klein, reader; Frank Vitale, Mareah McNasser, Iva Spates and Norman Kramer.

Surprise decor which will carry out the theme of the play will be supervised by Mmes. William F. Manns and Dwight Collins.

The Bible section in charge of Mrs. M. M. Amunson will meet in the solarium at 11 a.m. to hear the Rev. Eugene Buhr of Our Lady of Peace Church.

Also appearing on the program will be Mrs. Francis J. Tyler, vocalist.

Presiding at the business meeting, Mrs. J. Howard Wilson will announce appointment of Mmes. R. S. Fuller, education chairman; Verne Patten and Porter A. Marshall to take charge of the $250 scholarship award to a qualified girl graduate of Van Nuys High School, to be made in June.

A special ways and means luncheon will be in charge of Mmes. William T. Voss and Paul H. Dosa, assisted by Mmes. Reba Schatzmeyer, Edward Traurig, David Whitlow, Walt Keeshan, Herman J. Freier, C. H. Cecil, Oscar Bouey, F. Robert Hill and William Waud.

Annual Fete of Van Nuys Club Has Gay 90s Theme

All the charm and color of the gay nineties will be recalled Thursday evening at the Annual Candlelight Supper staged by Van Nuys Woman's Club in the clubrooms at 14836 Sylvan St.

A motif carrying out the colorful theme will prevail throughout the clubhouse with Mmes. Lloyd Rainey, Edward Johnson and Charles Lane planning table decor for that era.

Especially groomed for the occasion and serving as expert waiters, husbands will be in charge of the prepared chuck wagon dinner at 7:30 o'clock.

Included in the list will be Franklyn Buerck, V. D. Slocum, Milton Morley, Alvin Hotz, Dale Teachenor, Howell C. McDaniel and Anthony Panza.

Serving as ways and means chairmen Mmes. Franklyn Buerck, V. D. Slocum and Milton Morley have arranged an especially appropriate program of entertainment for the evening.

Featured on the program will be "The Sailmen," well-known barber shop quartette, with Bud Peterson, Robert Mathews, Harold Remier and Robert Vest singing a group of harmonizing songs popular during the gay nineties.

A special feature of the program will be an unusual style show presented by the Good Will Industries displaying original costumes from 1890.

Mrs. Barbara M. Schultz will narrate the show and models will include Mmes. Roy Heathington, Anthony Panza, Dale Teachenor, Robert Case, Alvin Hotz, Edward Johnson.

Also Mmes. Paul Murray, Fred Gaber, Harold Stone, Verne Patten, Russell Allen, George Chapman, Eugene Cotter, Walter Reynolds, Charles Rivers, Lloyd Rainey, Charles Doughty, Howard Wilson, Norman Kramer, Rex Koury, Walter Rumsey, Warren Sears, George Baker and Ferdinand Mendenhall.

Soloist for the group singing will be Mrs. William Wuest and the accompanist will be Mrs. Lewis M. Reed.

WHEN YOU WORE A TULIP

When you wore a tulip, a sweet yellow tulip,
And I wore a big red rose,---
When you caressed me, 'twas then Heaven blessed me,
What a blessing, no one knows.
You made life cheerie, when you called me dearie,
'Twas down where the blue grass grows.
Your lips were sweeter than julep, when you wore that tulip---and I wore a Big Red Rose.

DAISY

Daisy, Daisy, Give me your answer do.
I'm half crazy, All for the love of you.
It won't be a stylish marriage
I can't afford a carriage.
But you'll look sweet upon the seat of a bicycle built for two.

THE BAND PLAYED ON

Casey would waltz with a strawberry blonde,
And the band played on.
He'd glide cross the floor with the girl he adored
And the band played on.
But his brain was so loaded, it nearly exploded,
The poor girl would shake with alarm,
He'd ne'er ~~girl~~ leave the girl with the strawberry curl
And the band played on.....

Painting Is Their Hobby

Husband-Wife Show to Open

Something different in the way of a husband and wife show is scheduled during the month of April in Van Nuys Woman's Club Auditorium when the works of Mable S. and Claude Allen Fox will be hung in the first exhibit of its kind.

Mr. Fox, pioneer business man and community civic leader, always has shared his wife's enthusiasm for art, but it was not until about two years ago that he began painting as a hobby.

He started his studies with Edward Silvey and became almost immediately seriously interested in his work.

He is at present studying with Grace Harvey and his progress in oils, especially landscapes, is especially noteworthy.

Mrs. Fox, now serving her second year as art chairman of the club, is first of all a housewife.

However, her love of art has won her enviable recognition for her excellent color harmony and sincere pictorial perspective in seascapes, landscapes and flowers.

She has exhibited at numerous one-man shows during the past ten years and has won special awards for her seascapes and flower originals in oils.

Her previous experience includes teaching and grade school supervision. She has studied with such noted California artists as Sam Hyde, Harris Arla Franklin, Edward Silvey and Grace Harvey.

She is affiliated with the San Fernando Valley Art Club and the Burbank Art Club.

Non-members of the Woman's Club are being invited to view the exhibit by appointment, according to Mrs. J. Howard Wilson, club president.

MEET THE DAUGHERTYS

San Fernando Valley Has Three Generation 'Scouting' Family

San Fernando Valley can now lay claim to one of the very few three generation Girl Scout families in the farflung Greater Los Angeles area.

Mrs. Hugh Daugherty of 14209 Hamlin St., Van Nuys, registered in Scouting in 1931 as her older daughter Mrs. Arthur Becker, now of Albuquerque, N.M., became a Girl Scout.

Today her younger daughter, Mrs. Don Larson of Reseda, is a troop leader and Mrs. Daugherty's granddaughter Cathy Larson 11, is a troop member.

Earlier in the fall Helen Daugherty received a special citation for her years of Scouting service at a recognition luncheon sponsored by Arbor Vitae Girl Scout Neighborhood.

Mrs. Daugherty was an assistant leader in 1933 for a Brownie group then classed as a pack rather a troop. Later it became a Girl Scout troop and when they disbanded in 1943 all but one of the original girls were still members.

In 1937 a mounted patrol was formed with instructions given by a former cavalry officer. The girls participated in parades, horse shows and many civic events.

In October 1938 a newspaper story refers to the "growing" San Fernando Valley Girl Scout troops—there were 360 members then. Now, the current membership is more than 14,000.

Mrs. Daugherty is still a regular visitor to neighborhood meetings and Scouting events in the Valley, and is a committee member of her daughter's troop. In other fields she is a past matron of Van Nuys Eastern Star Chapter, secretary of Southern California Garden Club and member of the Van Nuys Woman's Club and Daughters of the American Revolution.

In her busy life, Mrs. Daugherty also managed to find time to work as a reporter on the old "Van Nuys Tribune," five years with the former Sherman Oaks News, and had two summers of editing the Valley edition of the Hollywood Citizen-News.

Mr. Daugherty also has maintained his interest and support in Scouting over the years. He has been in the insurance business for 37 years and is officially retired but still active with the Connecticut General Life Co.

HONORS AND INSIGNIAS are inspected by three generation Girl Scouting family of San Fernando Valley—one of a very few to claim this distinction in Greater Los Angeles area. Mrs. Hugh Daugherty of Van Nuys, right, has been active since 1931. Daughter Mrs. Don Larson, left, of Reseda, is troop leader and granddaughter Cathy Larson 11, is troop member.

Traditional Opening Tea Marks Van Nuys Club's 46th Season

One of San Fernando Valley's most venerable and esteemed civic-cultural groups will herald its 46th program year Oct. 8 when Van Nuys Woman's Club members gather at 1 p.m. in their clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St. for the traditional Opening Tea, announces Mrs. George L. Baker, president.

Carrying forward a time-honored custom, the past presidents will hostess the occasion, headed by Mrs. Howard Wilson as chairman with Mrs. Howell C. McDaniel as cochairman, joined by members of the executive board.

The versatile young American violinist Rima Rudina who has already won popularity in previous Valley appearances, will entertain with her "Holiday With Strings" program to prove that she is equally at home with 18th century Bach on the concert stage as with 20th century popular music in theaters and clubs.

Miss Rudina, born in New York of European artist parents, has just returned from a successful tour of continental capitals. In America, she has had a busy career on symphony programs and on radio, television and the stage with renowned orchestras, as well as being featured in a Hollywood-produced color film "The World Dances."

Presentation of new members, always an opening tea feature, is under direction of membership chairman Mrs. Lewis M. Reed who will introduce Miss Dorothy Livingston and Mmes. Harvey Leuckel, Joseph Benoit, Edward Davidson, James Ryan, B. Maude Sample, Edith Macey, William Goldwater and Warren Carpenter.

Carrying out the day's entertainment theme, the clubhouse will be decorated in a musical motif under chairmanship of Mrs. Charles Lane with Mrs. William Vasey as cochairman.

Reservations chairman is Mrs. Clara E. Burke, with Mrs. Walter H. Crippen as cochairman.

EXHIBIT

One-Man Show in October

The Van Nuys Woman's Club 1958-59 calendar has arranged a most comprehensive list of hangings of fine art for the season, according to Mrs. George L. Baker, president.

According to Mrs. Stuart M. Stevens, club art chairman, the new season's fine arts program offers works from many of the Southland's most prominent artists including such names as Millard Sheets, Dan Lutz, Richard Haines and Rubin, the acclaimed artist of Palestine paintings.

Several Media

Most every taste of the art-lover will be covered in showings of landscapes, still life, seascapes, portraiture and design, rendered in oils, watercolor and drawings.

The works of each artist will hang in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St. for one month, thus giving the members and their friends an opportunity to view the showings at their convenience.

The schedule of showings and artists is as follows: October, Marion N. Taylor, watercolors; November, Jack F. Hannah, oils; December, a mixed showing through the courtesy of the Dalzell Hatfield Galleries, including the works of three noted artists—Millard Sheets, Dan Lutz, Richard Haines.

One Man Show

January, a Hatfield Galleries, a one-man show of the paintings of Palestine by Rubin.

February, Catherine Jackson, watercolors and oils; March, Hilda Garrett Bristow, oils.

April, Maria Berger Smeraldi, watercolors; May-June, Immaculate Heart College, Los Angeles, presents works in watercolors, oils and drawings by the school's advanced students.

Mrs. Milo W. Thompson Rites Scheduled This Afternoon

Nearly a quarter century of community service will culminate today with funeral services for Edna N. (Mrs. Milo W.) Thompson who died Saturday at her home, 4733 Sunnyslope Ave., Van Nuys, following more than a year's illness.

EDNA N. THOMPSON
Death Takes Civic Leader

The services at 2 p.m. at Elmer H. Meyer Funeral Home with Rev. Royal Blue officiating will be followed by interment at Rosedale Cemetery.

Mrs. Thompson is survived by her husband who owns Milo Thompson's Sports and Marine Shop; a son Milo Lorn of Woodland Hills, and a grandson Armand D. Thompson 14.

Served as Officer

The Thompsons as a family have been active in patriotic circles and civic life of the community since the early 1930's.

Mrs. Thompson, who served five years as assistant secretary to the Board of Park Commissioners, was a past president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club and active in Van Nuys Unit 193, American Legion Auxiliary, League of Women Voters and Republican Women.

Assisted in USO

She served with the Coast Guard Temporary Reserve during the war years of 1943-45 an did public relations work for the cancer drive and other major fund campaigns.

Mrs. Thompson was credited with over 2000 hours of volunteeer work with USO, was a member of the Model Legislature Committee of the YMCA, and active in youth work over a period of years.

From 1932 to 1934 Mr. and Mrs. Thompson managed the Valley Park Country Club (now Glen-Aire) in Sherman Oaks, with Mr. Thompson serving at the same time as golf pro there.

Headed Legion Post

The golf links later were absorbed by the sale of land as home sites.

Mr. Thompson is a past commander of Van Nuys Legion Post 193 and active in San Fernando Valley Sportsmen's Club, among many other affiliations.

Woman's Club Will Present Works of Renowned Artists

Van Nuys Woman's Club, through special arrangement with the Dalzell Hatfield Galleries of Los Angeles, will present an exhibit of the works of three of the Southland's most famous painters: Richard Haines, Dan Lutz and Millard Sheets, during the month of December.

According to Mrs. Stuart Stevens, club art chairman, the exhibit will be open to members, friends and the public starting with an "open house" on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m., and continuing through remainder of the month.

Maintains Fine Feeling

This exhibit of both oils and watercolors will afford Valley residents an unusual opportunity to view the works of three renowned artists at a single showing.

An exhibit of Richard Haines' works has just been completed at the Dalzell Hatfield Galleries where critics gave high praise to his outstanding technique and composition which reflects simplification—yet maintains a fine feeling for harmonious and luminous color.

The recent spring showing "Dan Lutz — Paintings 1958" also brought much favorable comment from the critics. Mr. Lutz has won numerous honors and awards, and his works grace the walls of many discerning collectors and museums.

Reaches New Mastery

Millard Sheets has more than 30 years' background in the pursuit of interpreting the emotional expressions found throughout his global travels. Although currently busy with special commercial assignments of design, his watercolors are prized possessions of collectors and museums throughout the country.

According to Malcolm Vaughn, New York American writer-critic, upon the occasion of Mr. Sheet's first New York exhibition in 1935, "he proves himself worthy of a place among the peers of American watercolor painting."

As of today, Sheets has carried the medium of watercolor to new heights of artistic expression and is well on his way to a degree of mastery few American artists have attained.

Public Is Invited

The awards, credits and public acclaim of these artists reads as a truly impressive background of "who's who" in the annals of American contemporary art.

Although the opening of this mixed showing is sponsored by Van Nuys Woman's Club for its members, the exhibit is open to the public throughout December.

Autumn Fete Set Oct. 23 at Sportsmen

Plans are in final stages of completion for Van Nuys Woman's Club "Champagne Fantasy" fashion luncheon, to be presented Thursday, Oct. 23, at Sportsmen's Lodge, 12833 Ventura Blvd.

Mrs. George L. Baker, club president, will head the receiving line with Mmes. Donald D. Foss and George O. Chapman as cochairmen of arrangements.

Fashions and Furs

Luncheon will be served at 12 noon, combined with a showing of milady's fall favorites for all occasions in fashions and furs to be presented by Emeson's of Studio City.

Mrs. Paul T. Murray is models chairman, and under her direction apparel will be modeled by Mmes. Marcia Thompson, Jack Q. Emmerick, William Goldwater, Joe Holt, Russell Allen, J. Howard Wilson, James L. Neel, William J. Healy and Charles A. Herman.

"Champagne Fantasy" will set its own theme in exciting decorations featuring favorite autumnal hues of pink, bronze and gold.

Pink Champagne

Pink champagne and bronze magnolia leaves will prevail on each table with a champagne bucket as centerpiece, holding a split of champagne, and banked with leaves, while favors will adorn each setting.

The stage will be resplendent with a champagne and gold backdrop, and with floating bubbles to complete the effect.

Music will be provided through courtesy of Barker Bros., with Robert S. Fischer at the organ.

Plan Special Decor

Mrs. Emil W. Gallaher is in charge of decorations, assisted by Mmes. Joseph Benoit and James T. Dresser.

Mae Williams, well known commentator in fashions, will announce the models and describe the presentations.

Chairman for prizes is Mrs. Franklyn Buerck, with Mrs. Milton Morley as cochairman, with an interesting list promised.

In charge of reservations is chairman Mrs. Lewis M. Reed at POplar 6-2752, and cochairman Mrs. J. Howard Wilson STate 4-8043.

Van Nuys Club Luncheon to Honor Past Presidents

Past presidents and charter members of Van Nuys Woman's Club will be honored at the Wednesday, Oct. 22, meeting in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St., announces Mrs. George L. Baker, president.

Luncheon will be served at 12 noon, hosted by that committee with Mrs. Milton Morley as chairman, assisted by Mrs. James Johnson, cochairman, and Mmes. Robert Case, Jack J. Klein, W. H. Lemmons, R. W. Mingins and Frank Vitale.

Program will offer Virginia Scott with her "Dramatization of Folk Songs," presented by Mrs. William O. Wuest, chairman. Business session will follow, conducted by Mrs. Baker.

Halloween will feature decorations, being arranged by chairman Mrs. William F. Manns and cochairman Mrs. Dwight Collins.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Clara E. Burke, chairman, at STate 5-3566, and cochairman Mrs. Walter H. Crippen, STate 5-0138.

Legislation Section will convene in the clubhouse solarium at 11 a. m., prior to the luncheon, with the program "Propositions on the Ballot." Mrs. Howell C. McDaniel is chairman, joined by Mrs. Thomas Blackwood as cochairman.

Artist of the month is Marion N. Taylor, with her watercolors being featured, presented under direction of Mrs. Stuart Stevens, art chairman.

Anne Reher to Appear at Club

Members of Van Nuys Woman's Club are looking forward to one of the most interesting programs of the season when lecturer and book reviewer Anne Reher presents "Sugar and Spice" at the Nov. 26 luncheon meeting in the Sylvan St. clubhouse.

"Mrs. Reher, who in private life is Mrs. Sven Reher, wife of the noted violinist and mother of five children, will present a light-hearted look at today's women," announces Mrs. William O. Wuest, program chairman.

ANNE REHER
"Sugar and Spice"

Qualified Speaker

She earned a bachelor's degree in history and philosophy at Loretto Heights College in Denver, and a master's degree from Mount Saint Mary's College in Los Angeles.

During the past lecture season, Mrs. Reher made some 60 appearances before community, civic, professional and women's groups. To each of these groups she brought programs tailored to their special interests.

On Committee

In charge of the 12 noon luncheon preceding the program and business meeting will be Mrs. William Voss, with Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey as cochairman. Mrs. Frank Vitale will handle decorations, assisted by Mrs. Herman Freier.

Reservations now are available by calling Mrs. Clara E. Burke at STate 5-3566, or Mrs. Walter H. Crippen at STate 5-0138.

Legislation Section of the club will meet in the solarium at 11 a.m. when Mrs. James M. Looney will review J. Edgar Hoover's book "Masters of Deceit."

The section is under direction of Mrs. Howell C. McDaniel, past president, with Mrs. Thomas Blackwood as cochairman.

Art Exhibit Lauded

"Artist of the month" at the clubhouse is Jack F. Hannah of Pasadena, whose oils are on display both in the hall and solarium.

Mr. Hannah uses Laguna Beach seascapes for many of his studies, and his marine (which dominate the hanging) are receiving continual commendation from viewers, according to Mrs. Stuart M. Stevens, art chairman.

Van Nuys Club Hails Its 47th Anniversary

Van Nuys Woman's Club will celebrate its 47th founding date and salute individual birthday anniversaries of each member on Wednesday when the auditorium doors on Sylvan St. are opened to both members and guests, a traditional observance each year for the January birthday luncheon.

General chairman of the gala 12 noon event which enlists the services of new members who affiliated during 1958, is Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, second vice president.

Mrs. George L. Baker will preside at the long president's table which is being appointed in the March theme to honor her birth date.

Other tables will borrow Zodiac or seasonal themes for their centerpieces, this phase of the day in charge of Mrs. Donald Foss. Her aides include Mmes. Ben Wolk, Max Wilson, Paul Carlsted, Kyme Mead, Bryce McLeod, Madelyn Wright and Lee Sawyer.

On Mrs. Reed's general committee are Mmes. Franklyn Buerck, William Healy, Walt Reynolds and Dane Patterson.

Mrs. Emil Gallaher's luncheon contingent includes Mmes. Bertha Ink, Frank Gould, Ralph Upham, Millie Mitcheltree, Reynolds and Patterson.

The day starts off at 11 a.m. with a Bible hour over which Mrs. William Voss presides. She has planned a message by a local pastor and vocal duet by Mmes. Freeman Beal and Verne Patten.

Mrs. William O. Wuest, program chairman, will present as afternoon fare the sparkling dramatist Sue Morrow of little theater fame. Miss Morrow, who is well known on the reviewers platform and for her specialized interpretations, will review a Broadway "hit of the year."

The January art exhibit which is garnering considerable favorable comment, features desert oils by Southland painter Naomi Evans.

Luncheon reservations, which close tomorrow for both members and guests, are being handled by Mrs. Clara E. Burke at STate 5-3566 and Mrs. Walter H. Crippen, STate 5-0138.

WOMEN LEADERS ATTEND preopening luncheon of new Gales Coffee Shop at Sherman Way and Sepulveda Blvd., Van Nuys. Mrs. Kay Bogendorfer, president of Los Angeles Civil Service Commission, left, and Mrs. James L. Neel, president-elect, are served by host of day, Scott J. Dow, vice president of Gales chain.

A special pre-opening luncheon, to be attended Tuesday noon by 60 representative club women and civic leaders in the Van Nuys area, will introduce the new Gales Coffee Shop at Sherman Way and Sepulveda Blvd., according to Scott J. Dow, vice president of the Gales operation.

Greetings will be extended by Mrs. James L. Neel, president-elect of the Van Nuys Woman's Club and chairman of the Van Nuys Beautiful Committee. She is also a former chairman of Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce Women's Division.

Disc Jockey Attends

Also appearing will be Johnny Grant, popular KMPC disc jockey.

The new Gales Coffee Shop is the third Southern California unit in the rapidly expanding ultra-modern chain.

A SONG

I will make a song for you,
A song of gold and ivory,
Of tall candles on a hill-top,
Of music coming and going over water . . .
I will weave it of bright colors,
And polish it with flaming gems;

I will toss it through a star,
And drench it in the fragrance
Of a thousand flowers—
All this I will do — for you;

But you will never know,
For I shall keep it hidden away
In the silent corner of my heart — forever . . .

Speaker Set for Club's Luncheon

Heenan Elliott Shares Gems of His Profession

Heenan Elliott, humorist-philosopher of wide note and a resident of Sherman Oaks, will bring his wealth of anecdotes and observations to members of Van Nuys Woman's Club on the program of Wednesday's meeting in the Sylvan St. clubhouse.

Mr. Elliott's achievements in the theater include appearances in motion pictures, radio and television.

He has presented programs with great success throughout the country where his wit and humor and engaging personality have kept him in great demand as speaker and entertainer for all types of audiences.

Widely Known

Mr. Elliott and his wife Frieda long have been active in local Kiwanis Club, Chamber of Commerce and Board of Realtors programs and projects, as well, and their Valley friends and "neighbors" are countless in number, so he comes to the Woman's Club as no stranger to his audience.

Luncheon at 12 noon will open Wednesday's meeting, with Mrs. James L. Neel as chairman, assisted by Mmes. C. W. Manfull, T. P. Foster, Dale Teachenor, Marcia Thompson, Paul Bogendorfer, Paul Champion and Harvey N. Leuckel.

Mrs. George L. Baker, who will conduct the meeting, also announces that decorations are being arranged by Mrs. A. E. W. Greaves, chairman, with Mrs. Mel Wharton as co-chairman.

Ask Reservations

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Clara E. Burke at STate 5-3566, and Mrs. Walter H. Crippen, STate 5-0138.

Bible section will meet at 11 a.m., preceding the luncheon, with chairman Mrs. William Voss in charge. The Rev. Charles E. Withrow will bring the message, and Mrs. Eugene Cotter will provide the musical program.

Work Recognized

Club Women Win at State Conclave

When San Fernando Valley delegations returned from Fresno sessions of the 63rd annual convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs, they brought home a generous share of awards meted out during Recognition Night ceremonies.

MRS. FRED WILSON
District Honors

Mrs. Fred C. B. Wilson of Van Nuys, Sierra-Cahuenga District president, accepted a special award given to the Federation extension department of her district for the most new clubs federated during the year and also one for health and welfare chairman Mrs. Hobert Nair for outstanding work in that field.

Others Accepted

Two other outstanding achievement awards on the district level were claimed by Mrs. Adenia Keans, chairman of Indian affairs, and Mrs. Gladys Sanford for veterans' affairs.

Mrs. George L. Baker, president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club who also is district chairman of legislation and government, accepted an award for the Van Nuys club for its outstanding record in the field of legislation.

Plans Presentation

She will officially turn it over to local departmental club chairman Mrs. Howell C. McDaniel, at that organization's May 13 meeting.

David Novros, a Van Nuys High School senior whose painting "The Minute Men" was sponsored in the Hallmark Contest by the Van Nuys Woman's Club, was awarded first honorable mention in the state-wide competition.

Sierra-Cahuenga District was represented at the conclave by delegates from 30 clubs from San Fernando and Antelope Valleys and the fringe of Hollywood.

MRS. GEORGE BAKER
In Limelight

A SALUTE TO MAY.

It is May again--
And the Earth is gay again
Wearing a gorgeous display of bloom;
Speeding joy in the air
And delight everywhere.
Dispelling all vestige of gloom.

There is a lilt in the breeze
As it romps through the trees
Whistling tunes with melodious zest,
Where leafy shadows conceal
The sweet,hungry appeal
Of baby larks,fed in their nest.

There is a fragrance that blows
From the blush of the rose,
Gently kissed in the sun's warm embrace;
And gracious lilacs employ
That quaint scent we enjoy,
Subtly spent,with elegant grace.

The lush meadow,and field,
Hold a picturesque yield
Of wild flowers,now full-blown;
Where year,after year,
Tiny seeds bearing cheer
Keep faith with the great Unknown.

The cold music that spills
Down the snow-melted hills
Is played by the rushing streams;
While high mountains vie,
With the blue of the sky,
To inspire the poet's dreams.

O,it is May again--
And the Earth is gay again;
All Nature is having its fling!
And beauty,unfurled,
Possesses the World
When May boldly announces,"It is Spring!"

Sincerely,
Martha Burkamp.

Van Nuys Club Will Present Scholarships

Presentation of scholarship awards and annual business meeting will feature the Van Nuys Woman's Club luncheon and program Wednesday in the Sylvan St. clubhouse, announces president Mrs. George L. Baker.

Mrs. Robert S. Fuller, chairman of the scholarship committee, will host guests for the occasion.

From the Van Nuys High School faculty will be Mrs. Annina Price, head of the English Dept., and Mrs. Fred C. Munscher who is in charge of scholarship ratings and activities.

Present as guests and receiving awards will be Jackie Suess, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Suess of Van Nuys, who will gain the nursing scholarship.

Luncheon at 12 noon is under direction of chairman Mrs. Donald Foss, aided by cochairman Mrs. Emil Gallaher and by Mmes. Walt Keeshen, Jack Q. Emmerich, Paul Merritt, Fred Gabler, A. E. W. Greaves and Charles E. Sowle.

Mrs. Stuart Stevens is arranging decorations for the luncheon, assisted by cochairman Mrs. Olga Westley Cooper.

Reservations are available by calling Mrs. Clara E. Burke at STate 5-3566, or Mrs. Walter H. Crippen, STate 5-0138.

Legislative Section will meet preceding the luncheon, convening at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse solarium. Mrs. Howell C. McDaniel, section chairman, will conduct the session assisted by cochairman Mrs. Thomas Blackwood.

3,000 Delegates to Attend GFWC Convention Here

Chloe Gifford of Lexington, Ky., and Washington, D.C., arrives tomorrow to supervise last minute details of the convention opening here June 1 of the General Federation of Women's Club.

Miss Gifford, GFWC president, will preside at the meetings, which will be held at the Shrine Auditorium.

Some three thousand clubwomen will converge on Los Angeles for the five-day, 68th annual convention, at which delegates will represent 11 million members in the United States and 50 other countries.

The special events lead off the evening of June 1 with a "California Night" banquet at the Palladium, followed by a program arranged by California clubwomen. Gov. Brown and Mayor Poulson are scheduled to speak and welcome the assembled clubwomen.

Mrs. A. F. Benton of Merced, state president, will extend greetings at the formal opening June 2. Lawrence Welk and his Music Makers will present the program that evening at the Shrine.

June 3 has been designated International Day. Guest speakers will be authors and lecturers Lydia Van Zandt and Col. Serge Obolensky. Walter Coombs, executive director of the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, will speak at the luncheon that day at the Palladium.

Gen. C. V. Schuyler, chief of staff of the SHAPE headquarters in Paris, will address the evening session at the Shrine.

The evening of June 4, labor leader Walter Reuther, and Charles Sligh Jr., executive vice president of the National Association of Manufacturers, will speak.

The concluding morning, Cartha DeLoach, assistant director of the FBI, will speak, as will Frank Tetzloff of the U.S. Public Health Service, and officials of the Forest Service and American Water Works Assn.

Awards to the motion picture, television and radio industries will be presented at the luncheon that day, again at the Palladium. Leading motion picture stars will appear in the final session that evening.

Other awards to be made will include a "Teacher of the Year," plus those to club members in various divisions.

Winners of the sewing contest—Mmes. Fred Dellone Jr. of Monohens, Texas; Philip McInnis of Concord, N.H.; and Robert Wise of Lincoln, Neb.—will model their outfits. Mrs. Dellone's prize was a three-week tour of European fashion spots.

Women's Federation Assails Pornography

The General Federation of Women's Clubs began an active campaign today against "pornography by mail."

"Something must be done and now is the time," Miss Chloe Gifford, of Lexington, Ky., president of the federation, told the 68th annual convention of the group yesterday.

Miss Gifford said "teenagers and even grade school youngsters are becoming the targets of these racketeers" and that "the postal department estimates that these merchants of filth" will double their operations during the next four years.

The president of the federation which represents 11 million women in this country and abroad said the the pressures which helped wipe out crime comic books will be applied.

The federation, which will meet in Los Angeles through friday, broke up today into a series of seminars and study sessions.

Another speechmaker, Walter P. Coombs, executive director of the Los Angeles World Affairs Council, said the attitude of the average American student toward the United States' economic system is "shocking."

"In a survey of 86 high schools, members of the senior classes were asked to indicate their preference for various statements descriptive of economic systems, Coombs said. "Fifty-five per cent selected the old socialistic slogan, 'from each according to his abilities and to each according to his need.' "

Coombs said U.S. students should be taught to understand the workings of communism as well as American history.

"What I am saying is that we must be trained to be at home in the world in which we live. In the mid-20th Century this means the entire globe. This involves not only an understanding of the other people's language but also of his sense of values."

In action yesterday, Reino M. Takala, 50, a school teacher in suburban Chicago and a part time mail carrier, was named as the federation's teacher of the year.

Takala, whose work in special courses for gifted students has won national recognition, joined Hinsdale High School in 1947 and is now head of its math department. He delivers mail on Saturdays and during the summer.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

ALWAYS REMEMBER

That every kind word spoken,
Some life with joy will bless
That every trust unbroken
Means one more happiness
That hearts for love are spacious
As are the skies, the sea;
That every day is gracious
With good for you and me.
Author Unknown

Sharing this favorite poem of my Mother's and mine is my only way of saying thank-you to all of you who have been so kind during this past year. So many of you have spoken that kind word, have brought me that happiness, and have made this a truly lovely year.

Sincerely, Beulah Baker (Mrs. George L.)

Northridge Station Closes; Ends 47 Years of Service

By HAIG KEROPIAN

Northridge's "movie" Southern Pacific station—a proud West Valley landmark once geared to the needs of the horse and buggy days—has closed its doors for good and its closing ends one of the most colorful eras in the area's history, a period dating back to days when the community was known as Zelzah.

Featured in numerous movie settings through the years, the station and its surrounding property now are available for commercial developments, an SP spokesman told The News yesterday.

Services which included freight and sale of passenger tickets to those boarding trains in Glendale or Los Angeles, have been transferred to Southern Pacific's Van Nuys station.

Railway Express Agency Inc. also has moved its services from the station to its own facility in Van Nuys. However, it has extended its vehicle service to the Northridge area.

Some 18 months ago, Northridge residents requested Southern Pacific to conduct a survey to see if passenger service could be resumed at the station.

SUMMER OF 1959

In Van Nuys 36 Years

Long-Time Resident Hails 80th Birthday

Fred Maeder Lawrence, who came to Van Nuys in 1923 long before the city fathers even dreamed of freeways or monorail, celebrated his 80th birthday over the week end at the same address he has lived for 36 years.

The picnic, given by Mrs. Lawrence for family and friends, was held at 14834 Friar St. where the neat frame dwelling stands as a well preserved landmark of those earlier community days.

Heads for Chicago

Born in Dubuque, Ia., June 11, 1879, and educated in Cedar Valley Seminary at Osage, Ia., the octogenarian as a young man traveled to Chicago on a stock car pass.

Later he had an art store there and did much of the display work in the Chinese section of the Art Institute, subsequently operating a picture frame factory in Chicago.

When he came to Van Nuys in 1923 Chamber of Commerce and real estate men tried to interest him in putting up a picture frame factory in the south part of Van Nuys. But, due to transportation problems it was necessary to choose a Los Angeles location instead.

Baseball His Hobby

Mr. Lawrence finds a pleasant hobby in baseball which is enthusiastically shared by his grandchildren.

families—Mrs. Ralph H. Markham, Mr. Markham, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Deatherage (Marilyn Markham), William and Lawrence; Mrs. Lois Lawrence Holloway and sons Richard, Gary, Robert, Frederick, Edward and Bert.

Also, brothers William Maeder and Mrs. Maeder of Hollywood and Clarence Wasley, Van Nuys.

Old friends from Chicago, now California residents, included Mr. and Mrs. James Randack, North Hollywood; Mr. and Mrs. Morris Beall, Los Angeles; Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Maeder and sons Gary and Dale, Hollywood.

Los Angeles: a changing face

Old buildings are sandwiched between City Hall, rushing auto

Maurice Ehrlich photographs

Can you isolate a segment of this wonderful, sprawling hodgepodge and say "This is Los Angeles?" No. Because each entity makes the whole and the whole, like the parts, is a highly individualistic, vibrant, thriving, thrashing, restless machine.

One of these parts, one of these beautiful wrinkles, is the area known as Bunker Hill. From here you can look out and view the new skyscrapers that are changing the face of our city. From here you can see the massive concrete freeways. From here you can sense the past and contrast it with the future.

You can feel the life ebbing from the old as new blood pumps into the new. For where there is life there is change. And Los Angeles is a changing face.

Still remaining are a few houses reminiscent of an elegant past

LOS ANGELES is a changing face. It is a sleepy Indian village, a sun-baked pueblo, a bustling community, a thriving metropolis. A giant. Los Angeles is all these. It wears dark glasses and pastel clothes. It moves on wheels. It is the essence of today and the product of yesterday. Yes, Los Angeles is a changing face. And while it is essentially young in spirit and in appearance, it also shows signs of aging. There are lines and wrinkles. These are marks of character, rather than decay—the character of work, of time, of wisdom, of maturity. These are marks of our heritage, a heritage steeped in a rich lore.

How do you describe such a giant? Where do you begin? In its past, its present, its future?

Do you talk of its people, its places, its industry?

DONNA HUBBARD, FORMER PRINCIPAL, PASSES AWAY

Read Last Rites Today for Highly-Esteemed Educator Who Headed Senior High School

"And that is why I pray—old times may be made new,
For I would trade today—for yesterdays with you . . ."

Miss Donna H. Hubbard, for more than 15 years principal of Van Nuys Senior High School, succumbed Tuesday morning at Good Samaritan Hospital following several weeks' illness.

For 35 years the halls and the campus of the venerable school had been the scenes of Miss Hubbard's work: first as a teacher, then as girls' vice principal and, finally, as head of the high school's tremendously growing activities in the center of a vastly-growing community.

DONNA H. HUBBARD
•Beloved by Students

Excelled in University

Donna Hubbard was born Oct. 9, 1886 in Bangor, Maine. Her family moved to Los Angeles when she was only four years old. From elementary school days she was an eager student, ambitious to learn all she could.

She was one of the graduates of Los Angeles High School when that famous old school was located in the Fort Moore neighborhood, on a hill now leveled, a few blocks west of the Civic Center.

Entering University of California at Berkeley, she was one of her class leaders throughout the course, graduating with bachelor's and master's degrees with highest honors. She was outstanding in languages, studying Spanish, Latin and Greek.

Miss Hubbard's first assignment in the Los Angeles school system was at Logan St. Elementary School where, she said later, she learned first how to rule, instead of being ruled by her pupils.

Came Here in 1914

One year later she was offered and accepted the position of teacher of Spanish at the newly-formed high school in the little town of Van Nuys.

The year was 1914. Van Nuys was just three years old. There were many more orange trees than houses.

High school sessions were opened in three rooms of the small elementary school; less than 100 pupils attended. That was the beginning of the educational institution that grew later, under Miss Hubbard's guidance, to a yearly attendance of more than 3500.

After only one year as teacher of Spanish, Miss Hubbard was appointed girls' vice principal, and she remained in that position for 12 years.

Consecration to Work

With the marching years the school campus grew with the town, and the girls' vice principal took part in all programs for student group organizations. She was a leader in organization of the ROTC, and helped in bringing it up to present high standards.

In 1934 Miss Hubbard was appointed principal, and her deep devotion and consecration to her work was demonstrated by the outstanding success of Van Nuys High. She achieved the position of being of the best-loved principals in California schools with her own teachers, as well as by students and parents.

Auditorium Bears Name

Hundreds of Valley residents prominent in professional and business activities remember the friendliness of her attitude toward them as teenage students.

When the handsome new auditorium was opened, it was dedicated as the Donna Hubbard Auditorium, and a bronze plaque in the hall today recites the story of the dedication.

Honored by Officials

Retirement came for Miss Hubbard in 1949. And at a banquet and following program, held at the Los Angeles Police Academy, she was honored by public officials, School Board and administrative leaders.

A touching incident of the continuing esteem and affection her old students had for Miss Hubbard occurred when two young doctors at the Good Samaritan Hospital entered her room, and, while each held a hand, told her of how they had appreciated her thoughtfulness for them during school days.

And her last act was one of kindliness of heart. A nurse had told her that her mother was having a difficult time.

"See if I haven't got a five-dollar bill in my purse," she told the nurse. The bill was there.

"Give it to your mother," said Miss Hubbard.

Miss Hubbard lived for many years at 2211 Moreno Drive, in the Silver Lake District. With her lived her brother, Philip W. Hubbard, a teacher recently retired from Belmont High School.

Their many friends recognized and appreciated the long devotion of this sister and brother for each other.

Private services will be held this afternoon at the Little Church of the Flowers, Forest Lawn — Memorial Park in Glendale, and committal will be in the family plot at Forest Lawn.

A TRIBUTE TO Miss Donna H. Hubbard

(Miss Donna H. Hubbard, principal of Van Nuys High School from 1935 until her retirement in 1949, had been with the Van Nuys Junior and Senior High Schools for nearly forty years, coming here when a young woman as instructor, and advancing through girls' vice principalship to become head of the venerable high school, guiding it through years of depression, war and post-war problems. One of the most beloved by students of all educators, anywhere, she was the inspiration for the following poem which appeared in the 1949 Crimson and Gray yearbook. Miss Hubbard passed away Tuesday, and will be laid to rest today.)

As architects create from brick and stone
A worthy shrine of symmetry and grace,
And build from earth a shining tower grand,
That makes the world around, a richer place;
So have you built for us a monument
Of lasting splendor, which you sanctify
A silver tower, reaching to the sky.
As, from the chords of muted songs unsung,
Composers weave soft, shadowed melodies,
And from the unborn rhythms of the world
Create and shape majestic symphonies,
So you have made your life a lyric thing
Of beauty and of harmony so sweet
That through your actions, you awake our dreams,
Enrich and guide the hearts of all you meet.
And, so may we, from your example, fill
Our lives with loveliness and ideals won,
And lead with wise and gentle thought, and make
The world a better thing, as you have done.

Edgar A. Guest, Poet Dies

DETROIT, Aug. 5 (UPI)— Edgar A. Guest, poet-laureate of the plain people, died in his sleep at his home today.

He was 77. His physician said he suffered a cerebral hemorrhage, climaxing a long illness.

In a career that spanned nearly 60 years, Eddie Guest was the epitome of the poems he wrote . . . simple . . . folksy . . . homespun . . . deeply dedicated to the fireside and the simple virtues.

30,000 VERSES

He wrote more than 30,000 verses and was famous throughout the world for them because he struck a chord that motivated the goodness of the common people. Perhaps the most famous lines he ever wrote were these:

"It takes a heap o' livin' to make a house a home.

"A heap of sun an' shadder, and ye sometimes have t' roam.

"Afore ye really 'preciate the things ye lef' behind,

"And hunger for 'em somehow with 'em allus on your mind."

Guest, the son of a poor English immigrant whose first job in this country was in a Detroit brewery, worked for the Detroit Free Press for 64 years and for more than 50 of them, his poems were printed daily. At one time, Guest's poetry was syndicated and appeared in as many as 300 newspapers throughout the country.

NO TIME FOR REGRETTING

I will spend my time in talking.
And I'll spend my time in joking.
I will spend a few hours walking
And a few hours idly smoking.
I will spend my time in playing
When I might be money getting,
But I'm very frank in saying
That I'll spend no time regretting.

I will spend my time debating,
And I'll spend some time in fishing;
For a bite I don't mind waiting,
And I'll spend some time in wishing.
I will spend some time in gazing—
When the summer sun is setting—
At the western skies a-blazing,
But I'll spend no time regretting.

When a thing is done, that ends it;
I am through with it for good.
Since regretting never mends it,
I go right on sawing wood.
I will waste my time in doing Things that give me pleasure keen,
Not regretting and reviewing
Anything that might have been.

Mrs. Fred P. Segner Rites Pending; Victim of Illness

Last rites are pending today for Mrs. Emma Lou Segner, prominent in Van Nuys and San Fernando Valley fraternal and student circles, who succumbed suddenly to heart illness Friday evening at the family home, 6448 Peach Ave., Van Nuys.

As Emma Lou Brenner, she was married to San Fernando Valley businessman Fred P. Segner in a Santa Barbara wedding 31 years ago, and thus had resided in the Valley since 1928.

EMMA LOU SEGNER

Mrs. Segner's many interests included prominent offices in Drove 37, Benevolent and Patriotic Order of the Does; Van Nuys Woman's Club, wearer of the Eagle Scout Mothers pin, high school PTA activities, and former president and continuously active in the Alpha Sigma Phi Mothers Club of UCLA.

In addition to her husband Fred, survivors include son and daughter-in-law Robert E. and Jacquelin Segner and their children Beverly and James, of Northridge, and son and daughter-in-law Richard P. and Kathleen Segner and their son Mark, of Lafayette, Cal.

Also, brothers E. A. Brenner of Allegan, John of Dighton, and William of Grand Rapids, and her sister Mrs. Clara Flagg of Muskegon, all in Michigan.

Mrs. Segner will be in slumber at the Utter-McKinley Mortuaries, 5530 Lankershim Blvd., North Hollywood, starting today. Arrangements for services are pending arrival of family members and are to be announced in Tuesday's issue of The News.

RESPONDING TO MALICE

When bitterness begins to speak
Of people that I know,
I turn away and gently say:
"I haven't found them so."

When envy lifts its angry head
To snarl at friends of mine,
I never let myself forget
That I have found them fine

I won't believe a man is base
Or false, who'er he be,
Until the day that I may say
That he's been false to me.

Announcement

THE NEWS, founded in 1911, for nearly a half-century has served Central and West Valley readers and business and professional patrons with a publication which in editorial and advertising content has been consistently progressive, factual, and a profitable medium for the merchant.

Starting as a weekly, The News progressed to semi-weekly, then to a very healthy tri-weekly several years ago—each advance in number of issues paced to better serve its readers.

Consistent with this policy, this newspaper is going to become a four-times-a-week publication when the first "No. 4" is issued on the morning of Friday, Oct. 9. Thus, The News will be delivered to its readers on Sunday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday mornings.

There will be no cutback in any phase of the operation, in adding this issue. The same total coverage, the same quality of news and advertising will prevail which has been instrumental in building The News and Green Sheet to its current stature as the largest newspaper of its type in the country. And the present 113,000-plus circulation of every issue not only will be maintained, but is projected to increase by thousands in the coming period.

As insurance of its ability to maintain quality, quick service and volume in this new stride forward to serve the public, The News also discloses completion of its program for a "million-dollar" expansion of equipment and plant facilities.

Heading this project is purchase of a new 96-page Goss "Headliner" printing press—equipped for full color reproduction—most widely used and popular of any major press around the globe today. This titan, to be erected in The News' extensively remodeled and enlarged press and circulation building, is the most advanced and fastest newspaper press presently in full-scale commercial operation. Weighing over 200 tons—or 400,000 pounds—completely equipped, and covering 90 feet in length by two stories in height, the pride of The Goss Printing Press Co. will turn out 60,000 complete, folded copies per hour—that's 1000 a minute!

With this changeover is included revised and improved plant facilities, to add to this newspaper's greatest-yet investment program to insure continuance of its policy of supplying San Fernando Valley residents with the best in journalistic and advertising endeavor.

The News takes great pride in thus being in position to add the forthcoming "No. 4" on Friday mornings for deservedly-increased service to its readers in 15 cities and communities of the Valley.

We trust that our thousands of readers and patrons, legion in number, will welcome the new issue—and the physical expansion which will make even better service possible—with the same allegiance and enthusiasm which have greeted every forward stride down through the always-progressive years.

HONORED BY FRIENDS

Tim Shafers Observe Golden Anniversary

More than 150 friends and relatives were on hand to help celebrate the golden wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Timothy E. Shafer of 14500 Plummer St., Van Nuys.

The open house hosted by their son Ned W. Shafer of Los Angeles and foster daughter Marion (Mrs. Bud) Whitehead of Van Nuys, and their families.

Tim and his "bride" Alice were married in Los Angeles June 30, 1909. They had attended 30th St. Grammar School together in Los Angeles and lived in that area until 15 years ago when they moved to Van Nuys.

The Shafers will leave early next week for their annual salmon fishing trip on the Rogue River at Gold Beach, Ore., where they'll be making their headquarters until October.

A retired highway contractor, Mr. Shafer joined the U.S. Navy in 1903 serving aboard the Tacoma which was the first man of war propelled by steam to go around the horn.

A shipmate C. Jack Pember, now of Plummer St. here, and his wife (who also have celebrated 50 years of wedded life) were on hand to help observe the anniversary.

Other long time friends attending were Mr. and Mrs. Timothy A. Stephens of Bishop and the honorees' brother and sister-in-law Mr. and Mrs. James H. Shafer of Van Nuys, both couples also already having passed the golden milestone of married life.

Plus grandson Timothy Charles Shafer 5, Mrs. E. W. French of Beverly Hills and Mrs. Vance Hunter of Los Angeles.

The Stephenses, Pembers, Hunters, Frenches and Jim Shafers were all schoolmates of the honorees in the Los Angeles area.

Mrs. Shafer is an active member of White Shrine of Jerusalem, Southern California Garden Club and Van Nuys Woman's Club. Son Ned is with the Los Angeles Fire Dept.

Fall Fashions on Parade for Van Nuys Women

Gilded cornucopias pouring forth autumn leaves and sparkling musical notes will set a "Symphony of Moods" theme Thursday at 12 noon when Van Nuys Woman's Club holds its gala fall fashion luncheon at Sportsmen's Lodge on Ventura Blvd.

Mrs. Paul T. Murray, fashion chairman, announces fall styles selected to pique the fashion sense of members and guests will be shown by Polly's of Van Nuys.

Models will be club members Mmes. R. H. Zastrow, R. L. Bennett, John Bradshaw, R. E. Dean, Ferdinand Mendenhall, Jack Emmerich and Norman Kramer.

Lavish door prizes and table favors are highlighted by a special vacation at Apple Valley Inn, two week ends in Ensenada, Mexico, and topped off with a grand prize sojourn at the Hacienda Hotel, Las Vegas.

Mmes. Kramer, Stuart Stevens and Richard Roe are keeping a silent note on additional surprises.

Music to spark the mood will be provided by Jensen's Piano and Organ Co. of Van Nuys with Pierre DuVal presiding.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president, will welcome guests.

The event will support the many philanthropic activities of the club throughout the year.

Mrs. Milton Morley is general chairman assisted by Mrs. A. E. W. Greaves, cochairman. Reservations are being taken by Mmes. Harvey N. Leuckel and Walter Crippen.

Creating decorations are Mrs. Helen Hungerman and her committee comprising Mmes. James Johnson, William Barrett, Emil Gallaher, William Lloyd and J. H. Wilson.

The nimble fingers of Mrs. Frank Vitale are stitching aprons for the occasion and invitations are through the courtesy of Mrs. Mendenhall.

Breakfast In Store for Van Nuys Section

A Pancake Breakfast will be enjoyed by members and guests of Van Nuys Woman's Club Garden Section tomorrow at 11 a.m., at the clubhouse.

Aunt Jemima herself promises to attend in person with jovial surprises.

A ways and means plant sale will be in progress throughout the affair and members are invited to bring slips, potted plants and bulbs for this purpose.

Mrs. William O. Wuest accompanied by Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey at the piano, will present a musical comedy skit and cards and a social hour will fill the remainder of the afternoon.

Mrs. Ora Richardson is chairman of the breakfast committee assisted by Mmes. Max Kaufman, Claude Fox, Mel Wharton and Miss Fredrika Deming.

Mr. Case, through the medium of the film, will show the building, launching and sailing of this modern day 17th century galleon and members will thrill to the dangers and final welcome at the end of the epic making voyage.

List Hostesses

Luncheon chairman is Mrs. Sarah Belle Bever, cochairman Mrs. S. L. Vaughan assisted by Mmes. H. S. Brown, Horace A. Johnson, A. H. Bierkamp and Daniel Fleming.

Decorations will be arranged by Mrs. Martin Fritzen and Mrs. Edward Johnson.

The Van Nuys club will hold an evening card party on Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 8 p'clock at the clubhouse.

Plan Prizes

Mrs. Edward Armstrong, chairman, announces this will be the first in a series of three parties to be held during the season. Exciting prizes are planned and at the end of the season a top prize will be awarded to the two persons holding the highest accumulated score.

Dessert and coffee will be served by Mmes. Gus Wolff, George Cole, William Manns, William Barrett and Emilie Kingdon.

Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. Armstrong or her cochairman, Mrs. Manns.

Van Nuys, California

TWENTIETH JUBILEE of a group which has been gathering every November since 1939 to fete long time resident Mrs. Nella Plummer on her birthday anniversary, assembled the same eight women over the week end for luncheon and cards. After the women dined at the Patio Restaurant in Van Nuys they adjourned to Mrs. Vinton D. Slocum's new Hazeltine Ave. apartment for an afternoon of bridge. Included in the double foursome are, from left, Mrs. Plummer, Mrs. Slocum, Mmes. Clara Burke, Walter H. Crippen, H. S. Brown, Edward Armstrong and Charles Cecil. Most of the women have been active at one time, or still are, in Van Nuys Woman's Club and American Legion Auxiliary here as well as other organizations. The News photo

Van Nuys Club Lists Activities Of Days Ahead

Wednesday is a busy day at the Van Nuys Women's Club where members and guests will view a film on the voyage of Mayflower II at their noon luncheon program.

That morning, Congressman Joe Holt will address the club's legislative section on accomplishments of the last session of Congress. He also will present a flag which had flown over the Capitol.

Sarah Belle Bever is chairman of the luncheon, and is being assisted by Mmes. S. L. Vaughan, H. S. Brown, Horace A. Johnson, A. H. Bierkamp and Daniel Fleming.

Looking to the future, an evening card party is scheduled for Dec. 1 at the clubhouse. Mrs. Edward Armstrong, chairman, says that this is the first of three planned parties.

Dessert and coffee will be served by Mmes. Gus Wolff, George Cole, William Manns, William Barrett and Emilie Kingdon. Mrs. Manns is co-chairman of the fete.

At the clubs' noon luncheon program Dec. 9, Carol Lane, travel director for an oil company, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Dale Teachnor is chairman of the day.

The Bible section will meet that morning to hear Dr. Douglas Tiffany of the Sherman Oaks Presbyterian Church. Frances Tyler will sing.

Club Hears Joe Holt; View Rossman Art

Congressman Joe Holt will address the Legislative Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club on Wednesday at 11 a.m., in the solarium at the clubhouse on Sylvan St.

Congressman Holt will discuss the accomplishments of the last session of Congress where the American people proved they are still boss.

He will also present a flag to the club which has flown over the capitol in Washington, D.C.

A question and answer period will follow his talk.

Ruth Rossman is featured as "artist of the month" through November at the Van Nuys Woman's Club, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Rossman, whose works have received wide acclaim, graduated from the Cleveland Institute of Art and the Western Reserve University and has studied with such famous artists as Suis Serisaiva and Rico Le Brun.

She is of the school of impressionism and abstract. Her exhibit includes figures, still life, and non-objectives.

Her paintings have been exhibited at many of the foremost art exhibitions including; Los Angeles Art Museum Annual, Orange Show, Laguna Beach Invitational, Denver Art Museum, and the Sacramento State Fair.

Van Nuys Club Will See Film

The film "Voyage of Mayflower II" narrated by Robert J. Case, will bring the thrilling events of the historic voyage of the replica of the "Mayflower of the Pilgrims" to members and guests of Van Nuys Woman's Club tomorrow at 12 noon at the clubhouse on Sylvan St.

Mr. Case, through the medium of the film, will show the building, launching and sailing of this modern day 17th century galleon and members will thrill to the dangers and final welcome at the end of the epic making voyage.

List Hostesses

Luncheon chairman is Mrs. Sarah Belle Bever, co-chairman Mrs. S. L. Vaughan assisted by Mmes. H. S. Brown, Horace A. Johnson, A. H. Bierkamp and Daniel Fleming.

Decorations will be arranged by Mrs. Martin Fritzen and Mrs. Edward Johnson.

The Van Nuys club will hold an evening card party on Tuesday, Dec. 1, at 8 p'clock at the clubhouse.

Plan Prizes

Mrs. Edward Armstrong, chairman, announces this will be the first in a series of three parties to be held during the season. Exciting prizes are planned and at the end of the season a top prize will be awarded to the two persons holding the highest accumulated score.

Dessert and coffee will be served by Mmes. Gus Wolff, George Cole, William Manns, William Barrett and Emilie Kingdon.

Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs. Armstrong or her cochairman, Mrs. Manns.

PIONEER RESIDENT PASSES

Conduct Last Rites Today for Howell C. McDaniel

Last rites will be read today for Howell C. McDaniel, retired veteran Dept. of Water and Power employe and pioneer resident of Van Nuys who succumbed to illness earlier this week.

Services are announced for 2 p.m. in Praiswater Funeral Home chapel at 5849 Van Nuys Blvd. Dr. Walter H. Staves, pastor of Congregational Church of the Chimes will be officiant, and Masonic ritual will be conferred by officers of Van Nuys Lodge 450, F & AM.

HOWELL C. McDANIEL
Veteran of Water Dept.

Committal will follow in Oakwood Cemetery, Chatsworth.

Helped Open Cascades

Pallbearers are long standing friends and Masonic associates of Mr. McDaniel—S. T. Stiverson, Stanley N. Petit, Hugh C. Daugerty, John E. Bragg, Robert F. Ward and William W. Dickson. Athol Laity will be organist for the rites.

Mr. McDaniel was born in Tallapoosa, Ga., on Dec. 2, 1890. He moved to Los Angeles in 1907 and started work as a chainman on the Owens River Aqueduct on Aug. 13, 1911.

The last of the original aqueduct "stiffs," his retirement on Dec. 2, 1955, after 42½ years of public service brought to a close an eventful chapter in Los Angeles history.

Soon after starting work on the aqueduct under supervision of H. L. Jacques, he was placed in charge of a cement crew and when the aqueduct was completed he had the opportunity of assisting the gate operation at the Cascades in the northwest hills of San Fernando Valley prior to public ceremonies on Nov. 5, 1913.

Joined Business Section

His colorful career included work on the San Fernando and Franklin Canyon reservoirs; he assisted Jacques in construction of a dam for the city of San Jose and was employed on the Maclay and Chatsworth high lines.

In 1917, with beginning of heavy irrigation in the San Fernando Valley, he took on the work of a "Zanjero" and in 1924 was chosen chief zanjero, in charge of all Zanjeros and their activities.

The growth of a city and increasing demands for water brought greater expansion of the Water System and on Nov. 1, 1948, Mr. McDaniel was transferred to the new business section where his knowledge of water problems proved invaluable through that seven-year period until his retirement.

Mr. and Mrs. McDaniel had made their home here for many years, living at 14217 Gilmore St. Besides his widow Adeline, other survivors are a daughter Mrs. Helen Jo McPherson of Sunnyvale, and son Atty. Howell C. McDaniel Jr. of Casper, Wyo. Grandchildren are Jayne McPherson, and John, Jim and Robert McDaniel. Helen Jo and Howell Jr. both are graduates of Van Nuys High School.

Mr. McDaniel was a member of Congregational Church of the Chimes, Colorado River Association, American Water Works Association, and San Fernando Valley Board of Realtors, having entered the latter field following retirement from the Water System.

He also was a Mason, Shriner, and Knight Templar of York Rite Masons.

The family has suggested that friends who would make permanent gifts in Mr. McDaniel's memory, direct same to the Church of the Chimes permanent fund.

Travel Fare on Wednesday at Van Nuys

"Keys to Family Fun by Car" will be subject of a talk by Carol Lane, women's travel director for Shell Oil Co., on Wednesday at a 12 noon luncheon for Van Nuys Woman's Club.

Miss Lane will elaborate on some of the touring tips she has developed on various research trips.

Her topic refers to the many conveniences and pleasures available to the American motoring family embarking on a week end or two week vacation.

Highlight of her presentation is a short bag-packing demonstration during which a 26-inch suitcase is used for packing a complete two-week wardrobe.

In addition to appearing before women's groups, Miss Lane has been featured on television and is the author of a weekly newspaper column "Tips on Touring."

Mrs. Dale Teachenor is luncheon chairman assisted by Mmes. Harold G. Stone, Edward Armstrong, Harold W. Wuest, C. H. Cecil, W. D. Welton, Eugene C. McConn and Mona B. Willis.

Decorations for the occasion are by Mrs. Walker Rumsey and Mrs. Bertha Ink.

The Bible Section will meet at 11 a.m. in the Solarium where Dr. Douglas Tiffany of Sherman Oaks Presbyterian Church will be guest speaker. Mrs. Frances J. Tyler will be soloist, according to Mrs. William T. Voss, chairman.

Woman's Club Board, Husbands Invited to Holiday Open House

A special holiday-inspired meeting has been called by Mrs. and Mrs. James L. Neel for members of the executive board of Van Nuys Woman's Club and their husbands today from 4 to 6 p.m. at their residence, 15733 Hart St.

Decor for the festive occasion will be sparkling Christmas trees which have been a ways and means project of the club.

Mrs. Neel, club president, will announce results of the club's annual Christmas shipment to Father Caron Vollner of Saint Joseph's Navajo Indian Mission in Pinon, Ariz.

Toy Filled Stockings

Mrs. Charles Wells, Indian affairs chairman, reports that the shipment contains 800 pounds of new and used clothing and toys. Also Christmas candies, 33 toy filled stockings and 22 dolls which have been dressed by Mrs. Wells and Mrs. Robert L. Ellis.

Those attending the Yuletide gathering will be Messrs. and Mmes. Lewis Reed, Norman Kramer, Eugene Cotter, Milton Morley, Paul T. Murray, William O. Wuest, Harold E. Shillock.

Surprise Shower

Also Messrs. and Mmes. George Cole, Anthony Panza, George Baker, J. Howard Wilson, Robert Ellis, Dr. and Mrs. James T. Dresser and Miss Dorothy Livingston.

A surprise baby shower was given for Mrs. Shillock by board members at a previous meeting in the home of Mrs. Neel.

The honoree was presented with a large white stork bearing a sparkling Christmas ornament in his beak and perched atop an overflowing basket of gifts.

The group later adjourned to Pucci's Restaurant for a Christmas luncheon and social afternoon.

SERPENTINE, BALLOONS and noisemakers will add the touch of frivolity which is always attendant upon New Year's Eve celebrations, as Van Nuys Woman's Club stages its annual dinner-dance Thursday evening in the Sylvan St. clubrooms. Clockwatchers here are Mmes. Walt Keeshen, party chairman; Lewis M. Reed, vice president; George L. Baker, cochairman, and James L. Neel, club president. The News photo

JOE HOLT ANNOUNCES:

Kay Bogendorfer Appointed Postmaster for Van Nuys

Congressman Joe Holt today announced the appointment of Mrs. Kay Bogendorfer, president of the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission and a Valley civic leader since 1944, as acting postmaster of Van Nuys, effective this date.

Mrs. Bogendorfer said she would immediately resign from her commission post, which she has held since 1953, to undertake her new assignment.

She will succeed Ernest D. Gibson, who is retiring today after 40 years' service in the Post Office Department.

By coincidence, she was notified of her appointment on the 32nd anniversary date of her marriage to Paul Bogendorfer, president of the Valley Vegetable Shippers of Ventura County.

The Bogendorfers have made their home at 5329 Sylmar Ave. in Van Nuys since 1944.

Born in Presque Isle, Maine, Mrs. Bogendorfer attended Maine State Teachers College and came to Los Angeles in 1928 shortly after her marriage.

Her record of civic work over the years includes:

President of Van Nuys Woman's Club, legislative chairman of Los Angeles District Federation of Women's Clubs,

TAKING OATH today as acting Van Nuys postmaster is Mrs. Kay Bogendorfer, appointee of Congressman Joe Holt.

TAKES OATH AS POSTMASTER

Mrs. Kay Bogendorfer is sworn in as acting postmaster for Van Nuys Post Office by S. H. Jensen, postal inspector for Valley District. Ernest D. Gibson (center), retiring postmaster and veteran in postal service, stands ready to congratulate his successor. Appointed by Congressman Joe Holt, Mrs. Bogendorfer took oath on last day of year while friends and well-wishers crowded office for event. The News photo

GAY NINETIES TO REIGN ON CLUB FAMILY NIGHT

A "Gay Nineties Revue" presented by Alpha Junior Woman's Club will spark the annual Family Night Dinner for Van Nuys Woman's Club next Wednesday at 7 p.m. in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

The revue will feature such old time favorites as "Buffalo Gal," "Hello My Baby," "Oh, You Beautiful Doll" and "Show Me the Way to Go Home."

Gay costumes for the pantomime performance are originals designed and adapted by the cast.

In keeping with the family theme, George Boggs, husband of a cast member, will act as master of ceremonies.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president of the senior club, will present the junior group with a gift for their philanthropy fund.

Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, general chairman, and Mrs. Paul Bogendorfer, co-chairman, have asked the Rev. Dennis Bennett of St. Mark's Episcopal Church to give the invocation.

Decorations of the Lillian Russell era, with old fashioned globe lamps, bottles of flowers, fans and opera glasses, are planned by Mrs. D. R. Goodridge and Mrs. Van McWhirter.

Federated Clubs to Stage Annual Show

Fashion Luncheon Will Be Held February 15 at Lodge

Spring's rash of fashion parties always has an important headliner with the early billing of Sierra-Cahuenga District Federation's annual luncheon event at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Involving federated women's clubs in Antelope and San Fernando Valleys plus some "over the hill" this year's gala has been set for Feb. 15 at 12 noon, expected to attract a capacity attendance.

CHAIRMAN of Sierra-Cahuenga District CFWC annual spring fashion luncheon Feb. 15 at Sportsmen's Lodge is Mrs. Jerry Rusch of Sherman Oaks, district first vice president.

District officers in charge of arrangements are headed by Mrs. Jerry Rusch of Sherman Oaks, first vice president; Mmes. Neil J. Stiver, second vice president, and Thomas N. Neff, third vice president.

Other district officers handling details include Mmes. Austin L. David, decor; G. Ray Sherwood, special gifts, and Harold Trexler, reservations and tickets.

According to Mrs. Fred C. B. Wilson of Van Nuys, district president, the gala event, replete with many valuable prizes plus the fashion-and-lunch package, is open to members of all CFWC clubs and their guests.

Due to limited seating capacity, she is advising early reservations.

Van Nuys Club Views Flower Film

"Keep America Beautiful," a color film displaying the beauties of Southland deserts and field wild flowers presented by Richfield Oil Co. will be the program Wednesday at 11 a.m. for the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club, in the clubrooms on Sylvan St.

Dessert and coffee will be served by Mmes. Edward L. Johnson, Dan Baker, cochairmen; Richard Roe, Harold Lindstrom, R. E. Dean and Martha Baldwin.

Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman, will conduct a short business meeting following the program when final plans will be formulated for a ways and means "Leap Year" dessert card party to be held Feb. 29 at 1 p.m. at the clubhouse.

Shillocks Are Greeting Son

Welcoming their first child are Mr. and Mrs. Harold E. Shillock Jr. of 15443 Keswick Ave., Van Nuys. Tracy Eugene weighed eleven pounds when he arrived Tuesday, Jan. 26, at St. Joseph Hospital.

Kay's mother Mrs. John Barnes of Fremont, Ohio, was here for the arrival of her first grandchild. She plans to visit for another month before returning home.

Other proud grandparents are Fredrick V. Litteer of San Gabriel and Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Shillock Sr. of West Los Angeles.

Kay is press chairman for Van Nuys Woman's Club.

Federation-Sponsored Workshop to Develop Feminine Leadership

Mrs. A. F. Benton of Merced, president, and Mrs. E. T. Goerz of Los Angeles, community improvement chairman for California Federation of Women's Clubs, announce a leadership training conference to be held Jan. 28 at 1851 S. Westmoreland Ave., downtown.

It will be open to members of senior and junior clubs in the six federated districts of Los Angeles County.

Advance reservations indicate a capacity registration.

Director Named

Cooperating in providing workshop facilities and resource specialists is the county's Communities Service Dept. under direction of B. Paul Gruendyke.

Training director for this project will be Dr. Katharine Lackey, national judge in the 1956-58 community achievement contest.

Dr. Lackey has had extensive experience in community consultant work. Mrs. Meyer Price Stern, vice president on leadership training, and Mrs. Roy E. Slater, membership vice president, on Federation of Community Coordinating Councils, will act as resource specialists.

Also assisting will be F. Burton Powell, Dwight Ramage and Jules Gordon, consultants, Dept. of Community Services, Los Angeles County.

"CHARM Inventory" is scheduled by Margaret Rodolo, director of John Robert Powers School in Sherman Oaks, tomorrow for Girls' League assembly at Van Nuys Junior High School.

First in Series

This workshop is to be the first in a series to be conducted throughout the state to stimulate leadership interest in community problems among clubwomen.

It will help them to define community needs, to give insight in identification and use of resources to meet the needs, to increase skills in human relations and methods of organization and to promote confidence that a community can be improved by democratic action of its residents, according to Mrs. Goerz, workshop organizer.

Alpha Delta Pi

Members of San Fernando Alumnae of Alpha Delta Pi will hold a bake sale this evening at 7:30 o'clock at the Sherman Oaks home of Mrs. Harry Wammack. Cohostesses will be Mrs. Robert C. Lynch and Mrs. Robb Satterlee.

Van Nuys Women Give English Award

Winner of the annual English award at Van Nuys High School this semester is Dorothy Martin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John V. Martin, 6954 Cedros Ave.

This award to the outstanding senior in English has been given by the Van Nuys Woman's Club each semester for over 35 years, and is the oldest non-athletic award on that campus.

Other Honors

Dorothy is also a semi-finalist for the National Merit Scholarship, and has tied for the Mendenhall Scholarship Award.

She has been accepted at Redlands University for the term opening Feb. 1, where she plans to major in English and sociology.

The award was presented by Mrs. Verne W. Patten, scholarship chairman, when Dorothy and her mother were recent luncheon guests at the club.

Hilda Bristow is featured as artist of the month at the club.

Current Art Exhibit

Mrs. Bristow has been painting exclusively with French painting knives for the past ten years. She has had many one woman shows exhibiting at Laguna Beach Art Gallery, Havenstrite Building, Ebell Club, Hollywood Woman's Club and other clubs and banks.

She has studied with Sam Hyde Harris, Jennie Crawford, Loren Barton and Paul Puziness.

As well as teaching eight art classes a week, she is a member of the Mid-Valley Art League, Desert Art Center, life member of Laguna Beach Art Club and past president of Las Artistas.

HOW DO I KNOW

How do I know that my youth has been spent
Because my get up and go has got up and went
But in spite of it all I am able to grin
When I think where my get up and go has been.

Old age is golden so 'tis said,
But sometimes I wonder when I go to bed
With my ears in a drawer and my teeth in a cup
And my eyes on the table until I get up.

E'er sleep dims my eyes I say to myself
Is there anything else I should lay on the shelf
But I'm happy to say as I close the door
My friends are the same as in days of Yore.

When I was young my slippers were red
I could kick my heels clear over my head,
When I was older my slippers were blue
Still I could dance the whole night through.

Now I am old my slippers are black
I walk to the corner and puff my way back.
Since I have retired from Life's competition,
I busy myself with complete repetition.

I get up each morning and dust off my wits,
Pick up the paper and read the "Obits".
If my name is not there I know I'm not dead
So I eat a good breakfast and go back to bed.

THE PROMISED MORN

Oh lily of the Eastertide,
We pause in strife for gain,
To catch thy fragrance, newly blown,
As smiles an April rain.

In purity and favor blessed,
You toil not through the day.
And yet who knows the strife you had
When trod beneath the clay.

You speak a day by man desired,
A morrow without night.
A home from care forever free,
Where all is glorious light.

That day gives strength to every arm,
Relieves heart's weary throb,
Plants flowers upon the wayside grave,
And gently stills the sob.

Oh lily of the whiteness fair,
You speak our hope and quest
Thy incense bids us upward look,
And in that promise rest.

Women's 1959 Achievements Highlighted

SAN FERNANDO VALLEY
Living
ETHEL M. TAYLOR, Editor

LAST YEAR, brightened by scores of births and birthdays, saw the centennial celebration of Encino's beloved "First Lady" Isabella Horton, mother of actor Edward Everett Horton. Trees were planted in city park to commemorate occasion.

1959 IN RETROSPECT was symbolically spotlighted by Assistance League Hilltoppers annual "Woman of the Year" Hourglass award. Receiving emblem here from Mrs. John Talbot is Mrs. Roy Slater, North Hollywood civic leader. Others are emcee Byron Palmer, left; Mrs. Ralph Head, chairman, and Robert S. Fuller, judge.

Woman of the Year
Expect 600 Guests to Witness Award

Hilltoppers of the Assistance League of Southern California have plans virtually complete for their Fourth Annual Hourglass Award party which will take place on Tuesday, Jan. 26, at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Presentation of the Hourglass Award will be made to the woman chosen by judges from among 15 candidates nominated by 26 organizations.

Selection is based on services rendered in fields of civic activity, culture and philanthropies.

The featured all-designer collection of spring fashions to be presented at the brunch by mannequins of the Assistance League will be narrated by Kay Christopher.

Mrs. J. Roy Hoffman, president of the Assistance League of Southern California, will be among honored guests.

Byron Palmer, actor-singer of television, motion pictures and Broadway, will act as master of ceremonies.

The George Poole orchestra will play.

Chairman of the benefit, Mrs. William R. Rogers announced that reservations being taken by Mrs. Robert J. Munro will be closed at 600.

Proceeds from the event will provide for a staff worker at Valley Volunteer Bureau, a Community Chest Agency in Van Nuys.

Hospital Unit Will Present Its Nominees

When Hollywood Auxiliary to Childrens Hospital convenes on Thursday at the Beverly Hills Hotel Mrs. Earl Netzow will conduct a board meeting preceding the luncheon.

A slate of officers will be presented by the nominating committee consisting of Mrs. Harold McGee chairman, and Mmes. Peter Akmadzich, James Liebenguth, Carrol Sagar and F. Ashton Wilder.

Luncheon hostesses for the day are Mmes. Harold Dillon and James Stoker.

In Sherman Oaks
'World of Space Age' Club Topic

"Blueprint for Tomorrow" is program fare for the Literature section of Sherman Oaks Woman's Club tomorrow in the Dickens St. clubhouse.

Mrs. Orlin Sorensen, section chairman, will present Mrs. Hobert Nair, a fellow club member, who will speak on "The World of the Space Age."

Emphasis will be placed on learning to live under conditions necessitated by the exploding population and increased pressures.

Mrs. Nair is health, education and gerontology chairman of Sierra-Cahuenga District CFWC and received the state award in health and welfare at the convention last spring in Fresno.

Hostesses for the 12:30 luncheon will be Mrs. Calvin Carpenter and Mrs. Homer Thomas. Mrs. Wallace Hutchinson will be in charge of the floral decorations.

Preceding the luncheon the writing group, under the direction of Mrs. Merritt Davidson, will meet at 11 a.m. The topic will be "Boundaries Stimulate Ideas." The group is open to all club members and their guests either to sit and listen or to take part in discussion.

Schedule Tea

George K. Porter Junior High School Girls' Athletic Club will hold its first semi-annual Mother-Daughter Tea today at 7 p.m. in the school multi-purpose room.

Awards for the semester will be presented and officers for the coming semester installed.

COVETED PRICE WATERHOUSE Award for her work as government administrative analyst was won in 1959 by Van Nuys resident Anita P. Loeber in statewide competition. It also brought special achievement citation from Supervisor Warren Dorn, above.

A REAL "SWEETHEARTS HOBBY" on St. Valentine's Day and every other day of the year is the camellia lath house of Mary and Andrew Surina of Sepulveda. Surinas started with 200 plants while Mary was still a dress designer. Now, it's big business on husband-wife partnership basis.

HUSBAND-WIFE PROJECT

Camellia Raising Hobby Becomes 'Big Business'

By HELEN CARSWELL

Camellias go with this Valentine season of hearts and flowers, just like peaches go with cream, according to Mary and Andrew Surina of 16054 Parthenia St., Sepulveda.

It was love at first sight with Andrew when, years ago, he stopped on the way home from the studio to see a friend's plants.

Being a man of action, he rented a trailer and bought the entire collection of 200 camellias.

A lath house was the first step in caring for these treasures, and with it the collection grew. Coming home from a busy day as a fashion designer, Mary found the yard getting smaller and the lath house getting bigger, and even trees missing around the garden.

By the time all the trees were gone and there was no more space for the lath house to grow, she loved camellias so much that she was thrilled to move to a larger place and knew by then that camellias had to be their full-time business together.

Now their thousands of plants include over 600 varieties of not only the better known Japonicas but also the Sasanquas, or wild-rose type of camellia, and the fascinating iridescent Reticulatas of more recent introduction, from China.

Days are not long enough for their great love, for the Surinas not only grow fine plants but display blooms at schools, speak at garden clubs and entertain many groups. Their poolside parties are a favorite of the San Fernando Valley Horticultural Society and they host frequent garden tours during blooming season.

Of the recent camellia introductions, the 1959 All-America Award Winner "Sweetheart" is one of the Surinas' favorites. It is a double, soft pink beauty, four inches wide, desirable for its long blooming season.

Often it will start to bloom in the fall and continue throughout the entire winter.

It is easy to understand why they love it, for Mary and Andrew have been sweethearts — at home and in the garden—for 28 years now.

BEAUTIFUL TABLECLOTH which is one of many made during a lifetime hobby is displayed by Mrs. Nora A. Schwimley of Van Nuys as she celebrates 90th birthday at home of son and daughter-in-law Mr. and Mrs. Max Schwimley. Mrs. Schwimley sews, reads Bible daily without use of eyeglasses.

BIRTHDAY THIS WEEK

Mrs. Nora Schwimley Celebrates 90th Year

If Mrs. Nora A. Schwimley could unravel all of the tablecloths, bedspreads and fancy edgings she has crocheted in her lifetime, she would have a "line" that would probably span the distance between her present home in Van Nuys and her birthplace in Lime Creek, Ia.

The nonagenarian, who still crochets and reads her Bible daily without glasses, celebrated her 90th birthday this week at two parties.

One assembled the family at the Pasadena home of her brother Dr. Leslie Carr and the other was given yesterday by her Azalea Circle from Congregational Church of the Chimes.

Mrs. Schwimley makes her home with the eldest of three sons—Max—at 14812 Gilmore St. Max and his late father the Rev. Alvin Schwimley, operated the Schwimley Mortuary here in the 1930s after the elder man's retirement as a Congregational minister.

She has two other sons Leslie of Reno and Don of La Canada plus five grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Schwimley Sr. at one time was active in the Van Nuys Woman's Club but confines her interests now largely to the church.

CFWC Districts Will Plan for Convention

Clubwomen of the six Federated districts of Los Angeles County including Valley's Sierra-Cahuenga are combining their efforts to make the 57th annual convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs an outstanding event.

Scheduled for May 9 to 12 in Los Angeles with headquarters at Biltmore Hotel, the conclave will honor the 22 charter clubs who pioneered the California Federation 60 years ago.

Name Chairmen

Mrs. Glenn Barkhurst of San Gabriel, local board convention chairman, has the task of coordinating the many facets of activities under Mrs. Grant Putnam of Inglewood, official hostess and general chairman.

Mrs. O. S. Larabee of Pacific Palisades will head committee for presidents' reception.

Mrs. Monaca Jones of Los Angeles is chairman of the motion picture luncheon and Mrs. Fred S. Teasley of Montrose, will plan radio and television events.

More Participate

Chairman of the emeritus dinner to which all past state board members are invited is Mrs. James H. Fulcher of North Hollywood.

Mrs. Fred C. B. Wilson of Van Nuys and Mrs. Bromnell Lieber of Reseda are busy making signs. Mrs. Tom L. Wagenbach of Glendora is credential chairman and Mrs. Eser Wikholm of Los Angeles will present resolutions.

The Epsilon Sigma Omicron breakfast arrangements are under supervision of Mrs. A. C. Bertelsen of El Monte.

SIERRA-CAHUENGA CLUBWOMEN

District Awards Are Announced

Busy laying the groundwork for an accelerated new season which will begin in June is Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood of Burbank, who was elected president of Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Women's Clubs during the annual convention held at Sportsmen's Lodge.

She succeeds Mrs. Fred C. B. Wilson to the post which the latter held for a two-year term.

With a number of new ideas in mind, including a probable two-day conclave next spring to replace the present overly crowded one-day plan, the new board is prepared to take many anticipated forward strides in keeping with the mushrooming growth of the area which it serves.

20-Year Background

Mrs. Sherwood brings a 20-year background of organizational experience with her presidential election, having served on the local, district and council level in federation work plus devoting many years to other groups such as PTA, Red Cross and lodges.

Victors in two contested posts during the spring ballot were Mmes. Leo B. Murphy, first vice president, and Hayden B. Minier, treasurer.

Other electees are Mmes. Thomas Neff and Bramwell Lieber, second and third vice presidents; Farel Wykoff, vice president - at - large; Earl G. Schultz, Harold Trexler, secretaries, and Bonnie Burton, auditor.

Appointive officers include Mmes. Neil J. Stiver, corresponding secretary; George Baker, parliamentarian, and Jerry B. Rusch, coordinating director.

Two Women Honored

Two clubs cashed in on the much-sought-after $500 check awards offered by American Savings & Loan in the annual community service competitions.

Winners are Palmdale Club in Antelope Valley and Pacoima Club in San Fernando Valley.

In the awards category one of the most significant was in the status of women classification based on community service and won by Mrs. Kay Bogendorfer, acting postmaster of Van Nuys, and Mrs. Grace E. Ammon, leader in the North Valley.

MRS. G. RAY SHERWOOD, New President
Sierra-Cahuenga District Federated Women

Mrs. Bogendorfer won her recognition for service in multiple fields, and for her work on the Los Angeles Civil Service Commission which she served several terms as president.

She also was organizer of women's guilds for Valley Presbyterian Hospital and has been active in women's organizations both locally and in Los Angeles for many years.

Mrs. Ammon was chosen in the field of real estate and development, particularly in the fast expanding Sepulveda-Mission Hills area as the Valley grows northward.

Other departmental award winners are listed as follows:

Youth — Wilshire - Riviera, Sherman Oaks, Burbank. Art —Kagel Canyon, North Hollywood, Van Nuys, Sherman Oaks, (honorable mention), Woodland Hills, (honorable mention).

Education—Burbank. American citizenship and legislation — Lancaster, Granada Hills, Valley Vista, Sun Valley, (honorable mention).

Bible—Sherman Oaks.

Awards Distributed

California history and landmarks — North Hollywood, Burbank, Las Lomas del Norte, San Fernando, (honorable mention), Reseda, (honorable mention).

PUBLISHER WILL ADDRESS CLUB

"Subversive Infiltration vs Freedom" will be topic of publisher Ferdinand Mendenhall when he speaks to the Van Nuys Woman's Club during a legislative program tomorrow at 12 noon in the clubhouse on Sylvan St.

He will be introduced by Mrs. H. C. McDaniel, legislative section chairman.

Mr. Mendenhall, copublisher of "The News" and a commander in the U. S. Naval Reserve, attended the first National Strategy Seminar under Chiefs of Staff sanction, held last summer in Washington. This high-level military session provided the basis for his subject.

The preceding year, Commander Mendenhall was called back to Washington for the inter-service nuclear warfare conference, and in the fall was sent as Eleventh Naval District observer on a flight which covered the North Africa area, southern and central Europe, and north into Scandinavia.

Permissible observations and knowledge gained from both conferences and from the most recent trip abroad, will be fused into his talk.

Sgt. Victor Jones of the Narcotics Division of Los Angeles Police Dept. will give a brief luncheon talk.

Tomorrow is also election day for the club.

On the suggested slate are Mmes. James L. Neel, incumbent, president; Lewis M. Reed, Paul T. Murray, also incumbents, vice presidents; Harvey Leuckel, recording secretary; Miss Dorothy K. Livingston, incumbent, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Robert L. Ellis, incumbent, financial secretary, and Mrs. George Weaver, treasurer.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president, will introduce flower show student poster winners and their parents.

They are Barbara George, first place, and her aunt Mrs. S. S. George; Gary Burford, second, and Mrs. W. R. Burford, Nila Campbell, special award, third, and Mrs. S. N. Steele, Gary Granell and Mrs. J. W. Granell; Carol Coleman, honorable mention, and Mrs. E. A. Coleman. The show is May 21.

Mrs. Elizabeth O'Brien is the student art teacher at Robert Fulton Junior High School.

Luncheon chairman is Mrs. William T. Voss, co-chairman, Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey, assisted by Mmes. William Waud, Eugene Cotter, Bruce Allington, Sarah Belle Bever, Ruth Ronk and Dwight Collins.

MRS. FREDERIC SPENCER
New CFWC "Veep"

Mrs. Spencer Elected by State FWC

When Sierra - Cahuenga District clubwomen came home from state federation sessions they brought with them the vice presidency and a number of other distinctions.

Mrs. Frederic W. Spencer of North Hollywood who served as charter president of Sierra-Cahuenga when it organized, was successful in her contested bid for the "veep" post, her election a possible stepping stone to the future presidency.

Awards garnered within the local district included fourth place for legislation and government with Mrs. George L. Baker of Van Nuys as chairman. Mrs. Baker was also named to the state by-laws revision committee.

Sierra - Cahuenga also took second in health and public welfare while North Hollywood club claimed third in California history and landmarks. Woman's Club of Burbank claimed international hostess honors.

Honors for the club with greatest percentage membership gain went to Sun Valley.

May Calendar Busy for Van Nuys Clubwomen

May will arrive in all its splendor during the coming week at Van Nuys Woman's Club as members and guests don spring bonnets to attend a full calendar of activities.

"Spring Fever" will begin the busy week as a theme for the annual May Morning Breakfast Monday at 11 o'clock.

Barbara Novak, Scandinavian Airlines System representative, will present the Don Loper designed "Viking III" coordinated wardrobe fashioned expressly for the traveling woman.

One feature is a shorty-jacket which, by zipping on additional panels, becomes a full length coat. The costumes have been designed for a minimum of weight and a maximum of glamour, it is pointed out.

Mrs. Jack Q. Emmerich will model.

Wide Background

Miss Novak was previously associated with Charm Magazine and has traveled extensively in Mexico, Denmark, Italy and France.

Mrs. Anthony Panza is general chairman, Mrs. J. Howard Wilson, cochairman.

Brunch will be served by Mmes. Donald Foss, Edward Armstrong, Eugene Cotter, Jack Emmerich, Alvin Hotz, William J. Healey and Verne Patten.

Decorations of Maypoles and nosegays are being planned by Mrs. A. E. W. Greaves and Mrs. Walker Rumsey.

A report on ways and means will head the agenda at the May Morning Breakfast and state convention nominees will be discussed.

A report from Mrs. Eugene Cotter concerning the redecoration of the clubhouse and final plans for the spring dinner dance will be given.

Garden Group Event

Jehiel Davis, world traveler and lecturer, will show pictures of Japan to members and guests of the Garden Section of the club on Wednesday at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse.

Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, chairman, will call for a report from the nominating committee.

Coffee and dessert will be served by Mrs. L. A. Brewer, chairman, assisted by Mmes. H. S. Brown, W. D. Welton and Mona Willis.

Social hour and cards will follow the meeting.

Board to Meet

Mrs. James L. Neel, club president, will convene the board of directors meeting in her home, 15733 Hart St., on Friday, May 6, at 10 a.m.

MR. AND MRS. WALTER H. CRIPPEN
They Were Married in 1910

Celebrate Tomorrow

CRIPPENS WED FIFTY YEARS

Mr. and Mrs. Walter H. Crippen who have celebrated 46 wedding anniversaries since moving to San Fernando Valley in 1914, arrived this week at the golden milestone of their marriage.

The Crippens, whose family roots are deep in the soil of their chosen home, have lived at the same address—14633 Gilmore St.—for the past 37 years, and their friends here are legion.

Daughter Entertains

Their daughter Edna (Mrs. Henry J.) Matthews and her husband will open their La Crescenta home at 3504 Prospect Ave., tomorrow from 2 to 5 o'clock for a party honoring the celebrants.

Edna and her husband will be assisted tomorrow by their children Christine 12, Marilyn 10, and Mrs. William Barry and daughter Billie.

The three-tier wedding cake will be focal point, placed on gold taffeta with a net overlay and flanked by golden service used by Mrs. Crippen's uncle and aunt Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Monroe of Pittsburgh.

Felicitations already are pouring in from friends in New York, Michigan, Indiana, Florida, Texas and Pennsylvania from those unable to make the trip and some special long distance phone calls are expected tomorrow during the celebration.

Childhood Sweethearts

On May 1 the Crippens will depart on a "second honeymoon" to Hawaii via Pan American jet.

Helen and Walter Crippen were childhood sweethearts whose romance culminated in marriage on April 10, 1910, in Ypsilanti, Mich. They came to California the same year and to the Valley four years later.

Mrs. Crippen has been active in social, club and fraternal circles serving as worthy matron of Eastern Star, president of American Legion Auxiliary, first guardian of Bethel 80, Job's Daughters and is a life member of the Van Nuys Woman's Club.

Mr. Crippen, a charter member of Van Nuys American Legion Post and affiliated with Van Nuys Masonic Lodge, recently retired from his Union Oil dealership after over 30 years in business here.

Van Nuys Club

MRS. VAN ENDEN TO GIVE REVIEW

Mrs. Paul T. Murray, second vice president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club will preside at the club meeting and luncheon tomorrow at 12 noon, while Mrs. James L. Neel, president, and Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, vice president, are attending the State Convention at the Biltmore Hotel downtown.

"The Mountain is Young" by Han Suyin, author of "Love is a Many Splendored Thing," will be reviewed by Olga Van Enden.

Mrs. Van Enden is a well known reviewer and former newspaper writer. She has worked with various dramatic groups and clubs. The book is a love story told against the background of Nepal.

Mrs. Bertha Ink is luncheon chairman assisted by Mrs. Raymond Henry cochairman, and Mmes. Robert J. Chase, V. D. Slocum, Dane Patterson, D. Wendell

Just for TODAY

MIRIAM FETHEROLF

May is building her house. With apple blooms
She is roofing over the glimmering rooms.
Richard Le Gallienne

Let all thy be as the month of May;
And all thy days be as a marriage day;
Let sorrow, sickness, and a troubled mind
Be stranger to thee, let them never find
Francis Quarles

A Garden is a lovesome thing, God wot!
Rose plot,
Fringed pool,
Fern'd grot—
The veriest school
Of peace; and yet the fool
Contends that God is not—
Not God! in gardens! when the eve is cool?
Nay, but I have a sign;
'Tis very sure God walks in mine.
Thomas Edward Brown

And what is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever, come perfect days;
Then heaven tries the earth if it be in tune,
And over it softly her warm ear lays;
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten;
Every clod feels a stir of might,
An instinct within it that reaches and towers,
And, groping blindly above it for light,
Climbs to a soul in grass and flowers;
The flush of life may well be seen
Thrilling back over hills and valleys;
The cowslip startles in meadows green,
The buttercup catches the sun in its chalice,
And there's never a leaf nor blade too mean
To be some happy creature's palace;
The little bird sits at his door in the sun,
Atilt like a blossom among the leaves,
And lets his illumined being o'er run
With the deluge of summer it receives;
His mate feels the eggs beneath her wings,
And the heart in her dumb breast flutters and sings
He sings to the wide world and she to her nest—
In the nice ear of nature, which song is the best?

Van Nuys Club Will Install on Wednesday

"Golden Key of Knowledge Opens Many Doors" will be the installation and new club year theme for Van Nuys Woman's Club.

Mrs. Frederic A. Spencer, new vice president of California Federation of Woman's Clubs, will be officiating officer at next Wednesday's installation luncheon set for 12 noon in the Sylvan St. clubrooms.

Mrs. Spencer will seat Mrs. James L. Neel for a second term as president.

Other officers are Mmes. Lewis M. Reed and Paul T. Murray, vice presidents; Robert L. Ellis, financial secretary; James T. Dresser, section curator; Anthony Panza, hospitality; Eugene Cotter, house and rentals; George L. Baker, advisor, and Miss Dorothy Livingston, corresponding secretary.

Newly elected board members are Mmes. Harvey Leuckel, recording secretary; George Weaver, treasurer; Norman Kramer, programs; Fred Smith, ways and means, and Richard Roe, press.

Mrs. Charles Lane is creating decorations of yellow carnations arranged with golden keys and white caspia.

Miniature golden keys dangling from friendship bows will form wristletts for the executive board.

Focal point will be a decorative open door with an intricate gold key in the lock.

Barbara Young, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Young of television and movie fame and granddaughter of Mrs. Maud Harden, a member of the club, will play piano selections.

Miss Young is a June graduate of the USC Conservatory of Music.

At Van Nuys Club

Consultant Guest of Garden Section

Joe Turner, garden consultant, will give an informal "Revising Your Landscape" and general gardening talk when he speaks before the Garden Section of the Van Nuys Woman's Club on Wednesday, Sept. 7, at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mr. Turner, who specializes in landscaping, will illustrate his talk with swatches and samples.

Luncheon will be served by Mmes. Ruth Carson, Mabel Hammaker, Mona Willis, Lois David, Bertha Ink, Daniel Fleming and Miss Dorothy Livingston.

The ways and means committee headed by Mrs. Henry Stratton and assisted by Mrs. William Vasey and Bertha Ink will have cards available for those members and guests who will participate in bridge and canasta games.

Handling reservations for this event are Mrs. Stratton at STate 4-0314 and Mrs. Vasey, STate 4-2274.

Joe Littlefield to Be Speaker at July 6 Event

"Color in Your Garden" will be topic of Joe Littlefield when he is guest speaker Wednesday, July 6, during the session of the Garden Section for Van Nuys Woman's Club at the home of Mrs. Charles H. Rivers, 13935 Gilmore St.

The spacious grounds will be set with tables for members to enjoy an 11 o'clock "bring a sandwich" luncheon.

Mmes. William W. Lloyd, chairman; William Barrett, cochairman, and their committee will serve dessert and coffee.

Mr. Littlefield, columnist and well known radio and television horticulturist, will preside over installation of new officers headed by Mrs. Henry W. Stratton as section chairman.

Others on the staff are Mmes. A. H. Bierkamp, cochairman; Claude A. Fox, secretary, and A. J. Hotz, treasurer.

In addition to the installation luncheon, Mrs. Stratton has planned a surprise for members whose achievements in behalf of the Garden Section have included planting new trees at a home for handicapped children and participation in the movement for preservation of California's Redwoods, as well as other philanthropic programs.

A social hour and cards will complete the afternoon.

Van Nuys

Club Garden Section Will Meet Here

"Summer Bloom Until Fall" will be topic of Mrs. C. E. Brown when the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club meets Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Anthony Panza, 6474 Langdon Ave.

The tree-shaded grounds will be set with tables for members to enjoy an 11 a.m. "bring a sandwich" luncheon.

Dessert and coffee will be served by Mmes. Ruth Carlson, Bert B. Doyle, Elizabeth R. Boettcher, Raymond T. Henry, C. W. Lenox, Helen M. Slocum, Leonard E. Daly, Misses Ella Baxter and Norma Schmidt.

A review of proposed programs for the coming year will be submitted by Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman.

Cards and conversation will fill the remainder of the afternoon.

Daughertys

TWO CAKES—this one and also an elaborate four-tier colonnade cake made by friend—were cut by Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Daugherty of Van Nuys as they celebrated golden wedding date with 200 guests assembled. Both active in civic life, they have lived here since 1916.

Golden Anniversary

Friends Salute 50-Year Pair

Something more than a personal celebration took place over the week end as Helen and Hugh Daugherty of Van Nuys celebrated the golden milestone of their marriage.

It was actually an anniversary of services rendered, for the couple have been engaged in a career of community endeavor, both collectively and as individuals, since they settled in San Fernando Valley in 1916.

Residents of Hamlin St. where they were felicitated by 200 relatives and friends on Saturday, the Daughertys were married in Santa Ana in 1910 and have been permanent Southlanders since.

Live Rich Life

Although Masonic lodge affiliations and youth work seem to have written the predominant note in their 50-year wedded span, there has been much else including a rich family life to round out the chapters of their memory book.

Their daughters, Mmes. A. E. Becker of Albuquerque and Donald C. Larson of Reseda, arranged the celebration, assisted by the celebrants' six grandchildren Mikell 14, Sue Ann 12, and Jackie Lynn 8, the Becker children, and the Larsons' Jerry 19, Catherine Janice 13, and Shelley Ann 5.

Close friends also had a hand in the party with Mrs. Eddie L. Clark designing special decorations and the ornamented colonnade cake by Mrs. Richard Read.

The table, arranged in the garden, was done in white and gold with doves flowers and the cake.

Gold Coin Tree

On another table a money tree designed by Mrs. George Essayian, bore a shower of gold coins for the couple.

Mrs. Daugherty received guests in gray lace with a gold orchid corsage flown in from Hawaii for the occasion.

The oldest granddaughters Cathy Larson and Sue Ann Becker presided at the punch bowl assisted by their brothers Jerry Larson and Mike Becker. Jackie Lynn Becker and Shelley Larson had charge of the guest book.

Tables about the gardens were centered with white candles and gold centerpieces.

In Masonic Groups

Both Mr. and Mrs. Daugherty have held the top offices in Van Nuys Chapter 338, Order of the Eastern Star, and Mr. Daugherty is a charter member and past high priest of Van Nuys Royal Arch Masons.

Continuing his Masonic interests he helped organize Van Nuys Chapter, Order of DeMolay in 1923 and was later to receive their Cross of Honor and become their official "Chapter Dad."

Prior to this in 1921 he served as worshipful master of San Fernando Lodge

F&AM and is still active in Van Nuys blue lodge.

In the insurance business, Mr. Daugherty is also a member of Van Nuys Toastmasters Club which he served as president.

Mrs. Daugherty, whose fraternal interests paralleled those of her husband, organized the OES Social Club in 1924 and served as president in 1926.

Invested into Girl Scouting by then national leader Mrs. Herbert Hoover, wife of the President, Mrs. Daugherty branched out into youth and organizational work and recently was presented with an achievement award in this field by Arbor Vitae Girl Scout area leaders.

A long time member of Van Nuys Woman's Club and Southern California Garden Club, she received an honorary life membership in the latter and still remains active.

The Daughertys' romance, which began on the campus of Los Angeles Polytechnic High School, was culminated in marriage with wedding rites at Episcopal Church of the Messiah, Santa Ana, which was then Gretna Green Chapel.

Club in Aura of Gold

Van Nuys Women Redecorate for Fall Opening

Gold seems to be synonymous this year with the Van Nuys Woman's Club, for it will theme the annual fall fashion show "Golden Inspirations" and also prevails in the newly renovated interior of the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

And this trend is quite apropos of the organization's approaching 50th anniversary to be celebrated in 1962.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president; Mrs. Eugene F. Cotter, rentals chairman, and Mrs. George O. Chapman, chose brown and gold floor covering for the kitchen.

The gold color scheme is continued in the main auditorium with a lighter antique gold on the walls.

Sounds from the club's public address system will be clarified by the new off-white accoustical tile ceiling. Club husband Robert Ellis, an electronics engineer, will keep the system in top working condition.

The Art Section with Mrs. Frank Vitale as chairman, will have a new collection of paintings at the clubhouse monthly featuring various artists.

Two of the first fall shows will spotlight the work of Alice Watkins and Mary Elliott.

Alice Watkins, daughter of member Mrs. W. W. Wagoner, studied in Hawaii under Akajai and Mary Elliott studied at Monmouth College in Illinois.

Club to Focus on New Year

Plans for the annual fall fashion benefit next October were previewed when the initial summer meeting of the Van Nuys Woman's Club board of directors was held in the home of Mrs. Anthony Panza, 6474 Langdon Ave.

New members of the board were welcomed by Mrs. James L. Neel, president, and Mmes. Lewis M. Reed, J. Howard Wilson and George L. Baker.

Danish pastry and coffee were served.

Mrs. Fred Smith Jr., ways and means chairman, and Mrs. George O. Chapman, party will be in charge of the style event.

This major fund raising affair will be held at Sportsmen's Lodge.

'MODERN GREECE' TOPIC

Van Nuys Club Tea to Feature Guest Speaker

"Modern Greece" will be topic of Dr. Wallace Graves on Oct. 20 when he speaks to the Literature Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club during a 2 to 4 o'clock tea to be held at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

DR. WALLACE GRAVES
Tea Speaker

This is the first session of this section, according to Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, chairman.

Dr. Graves is a graduate of University of Washington and is also the author of many articles. His most recent work "Journalism in the First Democracy" was published at the University of Minnesota in "The Journalism Quarterly."

Professor Graves spent two years teaching in Greece on a Fulbright grant.

Dr. Graves is now assistant professor of English at San Fernando Valley State College.

A question and answer period will follow the lecture.

Presiding at the lace covered tea table appointed with silver and crystal and centered with fall flowers of every hue will be Mmes. Howell C. McDaniel, Walter Crippen, Dan Fleming, A.E.W. Greaves, William Barrett, Frank Gould and H. R. Zastrow.

Reservations for the occasion may be made by calling section chairman Mrs. Bierkamp at STate 6-8465.

Only one charter member Mrs. G. W. Dickey will be present to take bows with past presidents on charter day.

Luncheon hostesses for the day, chairmaned by Mrs. William Voss comprise Mmes. Lloyd Rainey, William Waud, Leonard E. Daly, Roy C. Heathington and Max J. Kaufman.

In charge of decor are Mrs. W. W. Wagoner and Mrs. Charles A. Herman.

CLUB GARDEN SECTION

'Violets' Fare for Van Nuys

"Indoor Gardening with African Violets" will be topic of Violet Hutchens when she speaks to the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club on Wednesday at an 11 a.m. potluck luncheon in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Hutchens, an authority on the growth, culture and history of African violets, maintains gardeners can have indoor year-round color from these plants.

Having received many honors for her blooms, she will explain how velvet green foliage is obtained for African violets, which range in colors of white, pink and various shades of purple.

Recognized Authority

She is a charter member of the Valley African Violet Society and also serves on the Southern California Council for African Violets.

The latter organization provides help in culture and programs on African violets to interested groups.

The ways and means committee headed by Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp will have a plant and bulb sale to help balance the budget.

Mrs. Florence Bradley will judge the specimen table and the exchange table will be chairmaned by Mrs. Frank Gould.

An inspirational will be given by Mrs. Charles E. Lane and timely topics will be discussed by Mrs. Daniel Fleming. The door prize will be presented by Dorothy Livingston.

A social hour and cards conducted by Mrs. Edward Armstrong and Mrs. Francis Tyler are also on the agenda.

Plan Annual Fete

The luncheon committee headed by Mrs. Ruth Carson will be assisted by Mmes. William W. Lloyd, Ben Wolk, Mabel J. Hammaker and Dorothy Livingston.

Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, garden section chairman, will preside at a short business meeting following the program when final plans will be formed for the annual "White Breakfast" to be held Dec. 7 at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse.

Proceeds from the gala, as in the past, will be used for scholarships and club philanthropies.

Mrs. Paul T. Murray took bows for her participation in work in Olive View Sanatorium men's ward. Mrs. Murray will continue for her sixth year to represent the Van Nuys Woman's Club in this important therapy activity.

A review of the proposed entertainment calendar for the coming year was also given by Mrs. Norman Kramer.

Gold Key Theme

Luncheon Style Parade Is Slated by Van Nuys Women

Glittering gold keys suspended from miniature button chrysanthemums in red, orange and gold will adorn tables at Sportsmen's Lodge Oct. 27 when Van Nuys Woman's Club stages its luncheon and fall fashion show "Golden Inspirations."

Polly's of Van Nuys will have professional models headed by Arlyne Jenson, showing around-the-clock fashions of dresses, suits, sportswear and accessories, according to Joe Beard of Polly's.

Miss Jenson is formerly of New York City and does high fashion modeling on leading television shows.

Mrs. George O. Chapman is chairman of the fashion show committee.

Serving with her are Mmes. Paul T. Murray, Lewis M. Reed, Fred Smith, Jack Q. Emmerich, F. Earle Britton and K. Ross Smith.

Mrs. J. Howard Wilson is taking calls for reservations at STate 4-8043.

Mrs. Fred Smith, ways and means chairman, will present several door prizes during the luncheon and style parade.

Assisting are Mrs. Paul T. Murray and Mrs. Horace Way.

Piano interpretations for the stylecade will be presented by Mrs. Lewis M. Reed.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president, will have members Mmes. Paul T. Murray, Lewis M. Reed and Jack Q. Emmerich helping her put the club theme "Golden Key of Knowledge Opens Doors" in full swing for the oncoming year.

Funds raised from such events as "Golden Inspirations" will be used to open doors that lead to knowledge, by granting student scholarships, nurse's scholarship and English awards.

The club also will contribute to the building fund of Mid-Valley YMCA, along with other civic and community philanthropies.

PORTIA COLTON PLANS TO WED IN DECEMBER

A romance that blossomed on the shores of romantic Tahiti will culminate in wedding bells as Portia Young Colton of Van Nuys and Harry Campbell of Belmont in the San Francisco suburbs say "I do" — probably in early December.

Mrs. Colton advised friends and piano students this week of her plans which also will include the closing of her studios here and a new address in Belmont overlooking the peninsula. They will probably be married informally in Las Vegas, the couple disclosed.

The couple first met on shipboard as they departed on a mid-summer travel junket and Mr. Campbell "popped the question" while they were in Tahiti.

An electrical contractor in Northern California Mr. Campbell like Mrs. Colton shares an interest in music and the arts as well as being active in GOP and other circles.

Mrs. Colton, a past president of Van Nuys Woman's Club, has been active in Eastern Star, PEO, GOP and other club and music circles for a number of years in San Fernando Valley.

IN MUSIC CIRCLES

Young Artists Make Bow at Fall Tea

Two delightful young artists who will be heard frequently on the club program circuit this season were introduced to San Fernando Valley audiences at the Van Nuys Woman's Club opening fall tea.

PHIL HARVEY
Northridge Artist

Rewarded with several curtain calls following a brilliant performance were the handsome Northridge operatic star Phil Harvey and his singing partner pretty Judith Lynn Cogan of Pacific Palisades, coloratura soprano.

Contract Player

Mr. Harvey who recently changed his address to San Fernando Valley, was a contract player with Universal International Pictures until 1958 when he moved into the television orbit with appearances on Gun Smoke, Death Valley Days, Tombstone Territory, Elfego Baca and Operation Space, among others.

He also has been associated with Los Angeles Opera Guild and Opera Foundation and has sung in numerous productions for Civic Light Opera.

The Northridge resident has sung baritone leads in many productions and more recently teamed up with Miss Cogan for programs of both classical and semi-classical repertoire.

Colorful Career

Miss Cogan was semi-finalist in the Metropolitan Auditions of the Air and a winner in the contest sponsored by Matinee Musical Club, winning the 1960 Ebell of Los Angeles $1000 scholarship award over 23 men and women contestants.

Her career has included many appearances in opera and concert circles similar to those of Mr. Harvey, usually in lead or feature roles.

to launch the Van Nuys Woman's Club season at its opening tea on Oct. 12 in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Miss Edwards, dramatist, accompanied by Miss Carr, pianist, will be presented to members at the 1 p.m. program by Mrs. Norman Kramer.

Charlotte Edwards is known to readers across the country, having published some hundred stories and novels in top magazines, along with two books "Heaven on the Doorstep" and "Heaven in the Home."

Miss Carr possesses a brilliant piano interpretation gained under the direction of Henry Purmont Eames. She received her master's degree in music from Claremont Graduate School under the tutelage of the noted composer-teacher Lee Pattison of Scripps.

Mrs. James L. Neel will preside. Hostesses of the day are past presidents Mmes. George L. Baker, J. Howard Wilson, Howell McDaniel, George O. Chapman, Raymond Post, Lloyd G. Rainey, Paul Bogendorfer, Ross Rook, Garnett Zarn Tingle.

Also Mmes. H. S. Brown, James Wibray, Portia Y. Colton, Belle Bever, B. R. Holloway and Carl Barkla. Decorations are being created by Mrs. Charles L. Lane and committee.

"Golden Inspirations," the club's fall fashion luncheon, will be held at Sportsmen's Lodge on Oct. 27. Arlyne Jenson, president of the Mannequins, will be commentator.

Mrs. Chapman, general chairman of the stylecade, announces that reservations for this fund raising event will close on Oct. 20.

RENA AND STANLEY WAXMAN
They'll Do "Two for the Show"

In Van Nuys

Waxmans Entertain for Club

By KAY ROE

The Waxmans, two delightful artists heard and seen frequently via motion pictures, radio, television and the theater have added club programs as another medium.

When members and guests of Van Nuys Woman's Club convene on Nov. 9 for a 7 p.m. family night dinner in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St., they will be entertained by Rena and Stanley Waxman in "Two for the Show."

Rena Waxman, whose theater appearances began on the stage with the renown Katherine Cornell, has appeared in radio network programs emanating from New York with such stars as Orson Welles, Helen Hayes and Ida Lupino.

Versatility Lauded

Stanley Waxman, one of the finest dramatic actors on the air, has appeared in such distinguished network radio shows as "Columbia Workshop" and "The NBC Playhouse," which originated from New York. After four years in the Army, Mr. Waxman resumed his acting career in Hollywood.

At MGM, he had many roles in feature films and presently stars in many live and film television series.

According to Mrs. Norman Kramer, program chairman, and Mrs. James L. Neel, president, this drama-duo creates a host of characters, an illusion of setting and a totality of impressions that add up to true theatrical impact.

Head Other Details

The Rev. David Imbach, of Van Nuys Missionary Church, will give the invocation. Mrs. Lewis M. Reed is hostess for the evening.

Table decor arranged by Mmes. George L. Baker and Robert L. Ellis, features miniature fall flowers in shades of gold, russet and reds with contrasting greens.

Van Nuys Woman's Club

Artist Honored with Reception

An exhibit of "Medico-Genic" paintings by Dr. Charles R. Golthamer in oils and pastels will be displayed at the Van Nuys Woman's Club house, 14836 Sylvan St., during the month of December.

A reception and tea will be held there for Dr. Golthamer on Sunday from 2 to 5 p.m., according to club art chairman Mrs. Frank Vitale.

Dr. Golthamer, a member of San Fernando Valley District, Los Angeles County Medical Association, is a naturalized citizen. One of the survivors of the concentration camp in Dachau, he arrived in this country 22 years ago.

A former member of the medical faculty of University in Vienna, Austria, he emphasizes that "a doctor has his hobbies like any other person."

The medic enhanced his art appreciation, studying at the Fox and Flemisch art schools, and also holds membership in Valley Artists Guild.

His paintings have won numerous local and national awards in exhibitions. Awarded prizes were his "Insomnia," "Night Call," "Doctor's Hands," "X-Ray Pioneer," "After Surgery," "X-Ray Anatomy," "Convalescence" and "Tranquilizer."

Among his luminous black light paintings are "Allergen," "Skin Injury," "Teaching Anatomy," "Milltown," "Depression - Blues" and "Spring."

Hostesses for the event are Mmes. Robert Green, Richard Olsen, Charles Gould and Miss Helene Conrad.

Presiding at the lace-covered tea table appointed with silver and crystal and centered with holly and red berries and contrasting greens will be Mmes. F. Earle Britton, Charles B. Lay, Charles E. Lane and Vitale.

Members and guest who plan to attend include Messrs. and Mmes. James L. Neel, A. H. Bierkamp, Paul T. Murray, Anthony Panza, George Cole, Walter Crippen.

BILL AND PEGGY COBURN, Guest Artists
Entertain at Pre-Holiday Program

The widely known talents of composer-pianist Bill Coburn and rich contralto voice of his artist wife Peggy of "Coburns in Concert" will provide program fare for the Van Nuys Woman's Club Wednesday luncheon meeting at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Every performance of this husband-and-wife concert team is a focal point of musical inspiration, according to Mrs. Norman Kramer, program chairman.

Bill's piano accompaniments are masterpieces of artistic support, his solos enjoyable interludes and his compositions are highlights of every program. He has written string quartets, violin and piano duos, a symphonic overture and many others.

Two of his anthems have become standards in the repertoire of Hollywood Congregational Church choirs.

Began with "Army"

Peggy Coburn, whose family was in Salvation Army work (and still is) began her career by singing with this group on street corners.

After receiving an artist's diploma from the Juilliard School in New York City, she still continued her voice training.

While under the tutelage of Belle Julie Soudant of New York City, Peggy appeared on radio and television. Some of the outstanding coast to coast series on which she appeared were "Show of Shows," Telephone Hour, Perry Como and the Arthur Godfrey shows, all emanating from New York City. She has appeared in Carnegie Hall and as soloist with Buffalo Philharmonic Symphony, the Cleveland Symphony and the National Symphony in Constitution Hall, Washington, D.C.

Husband Arranges

An interesting feature of the "Coburns in Concert" is that many of Peggy's songs have been either composed or arranged by her husband Bill.

Mrs. James L. Neel will preside at the noon luncheon meeting. Mrs. C. W. Lennox, chairman of the luncheon committee, is assisted by Mmes. Celia McMakin, Porter Marshall, Guy Rader, Stuart Stevens and Emile Kingdon.

Decor depicting the Christmas season will adorn the luncheon tables, arranged by Mmes. Henry W. Stratton and Vernon Janney and their committee.

The Bible Section will meet at 11 a.m. before the luncheon in the solarium, according to section curator Mrs. James T. Dresser.

The Rev. E. A. Gjelten, Central Lutheran Church of Van Nuys, will speak. Soloist for the section will be Mrs. William Smith.

GARDEN SECTION SPONSORED

White Breakfast Tops Van Nuys Club Agenda

"Christmas Spirit" will be theme for the Van Nuys Woman's Club Garden Section's 11 o'clock "White Breakfast" Wednesday at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

A program will be presented by members of First Presbyterian Church of Encino, the pageant titled "Christmas for Joey."

Written by Eleanor Anderson it will have Mrs. Joseph Spencer as narrator and will be directed by Mrs. James Smith.

Accompanist Mrs. Donald Shaw and young Bryce Hampton as Joey, are also in the church group. One of the carolers Mrs. Martin Fritzen serves as garden news chairman.

In "Christmas for Joey" the choral group tells the story of a poor boy and his experiences during Christmas. Mrs. Francis J. Tyler will lead the carolers and also serve as program chairman for the club.

Aiding will be Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, Mrs. Edward Davidson and Miss Fredricka Deming.

Hostesses for "White Breakfast," chairmaned by Mrs. Robert F. Hill, comprise Mmes. Opal Henry, Lois M. David, William J. Healy, Ethel Wolff, John E. Osborn, William McFarland, C. H. Cecil, Edward Armstrong, Charles Doughty and Olga Westley Cooper.

The program is apropos of this section, since near the tall lighted Christmas Tree is a group of packages for Saturday shipment to the Navajo Indian Mission. These packages contain clothing, shoes, candies and toys. Among the toys are dolls whose tiny dresses were made by Mrs. C. W. Lennox. They were assembled by Mrs. T. P. Foster.

Christmas stockings for the mission were filled with the toys and candies by Miss Dorothy Livingston and Mrs. Mabel Hammaker, according to chairmen, Mrs. Charles Wells and Mrs. Robert L. Ellis.

Another project finalized is the 100 bean bags made for Community Chest distribution at Childrens Hospital. These bags were filled by Mmes. William Vasey, Margaret Wibray, Martin Fritzen, Bertha Ink, Claude Fox, Mabel Hammaker, Charles Wells, Robert L. Ellis, Henry W. Stratton and Miss Dorothy Livingston.

Reservations for the ways and means party can be made by calling Mrs. Walter H. Crippen at STate 5-0138.

A short business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman, following the program.

PRE-HOLIDAY FARE

Coburn Artist Duo Billed for Van Nuys Woman's Club

TO A SPECIAL GAL.

Some folks are loved because they are wise--
Some are loved because they are fun--
But we all know a "special gal"
Who is loved by everyone.

Her smile is as warm as the friendly sky
That greets the rising sun,
And her faith is a bold unfaltering step
In a march she has once begun.

Her leadership is but an easy task
Where service seeks to give
An extra bit of graciousness
Where smaller pleasures live.

Her interests are both great and small
And country,friends,or foe,
Respect her wealth of evidence
Where secret treasures grow.

Her patience is a silent creed
That waits to prove the chase
Is often won by they who choose
To run a slower pace.

Her charm is easy to define
It is excellence--all her own--
And the total is accomplishment
Where kindness first was shown.

Yet,she has dared to laugh and sing,
And,no doubt,could dance the "Hula".
O ladies,how we all shall miss
Our "Special gal",our Beulah!

Martha Bierkamp.

George Bakers Leaving

Farewells for Departing Pair

By KAY ROE

Arizona-bound soon after 22 years in San Fernando Valley will be Mr. and Mrs. George L. Baker of Van Nuys.

The Bakers, residents of the Valley since 1938, recently sold their home on Buffalo Ave., in view of Mr. Baker's retirement as chief surveyor of the Shell Oil Co., Western Division covering 11 states.

Mr. Baker ends his 34 years and one month with the company on Jan. 1.

A party, attended by 100 employes, was held at Eagle Rock Lanes honoring Mr. Baker.

A huge album of maroon and gold was presented to him by J. L. Seright, head of survey and drafting, who acted as master of ceremonies.

This thick album contains many mementoes for the retiring Mr. Baker, 12 of the pages signed by employees from the 11 western states and Alaska which were included in his territory.

Other pages contained early day photos together with a brief history of his activities with the company.

Many of Mr. Baker's associates who have since moved from the Los Angeles area attended.

Mrs. Baker is a past president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club and holds the office as parliamentarian in Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Women's Clubs.

She also is regent of Fernanda Maria Chapter, DAR and active in GOP affairs.

Mrs. Baker will relinquish her duties in these clubs to others in January, after which the Bakers will reside in Tucson.

Miss Kendall's Oils on Display in Van Nuys

Artist Viona Ann Kendall will exhibit her paintings in oil for the Van Nuys Woman's Club at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St. The one-woman show is for the entire month of January.

Known to her neighbors as Mrs. Giles Arthur of Costello Ave., she maintains a studio in North Hollywood.

A native Californian, Miss Kendall studied at Occidental College, Otis Art Institute and Lukits Academy of Fine Arts. Her studies were furthered with Joe Mugnaini, Sergi Bongart, Leon Franks, Sam Hyde Harris and T. N. Lukits.

She has participated in many exhibitions. Some are Professional Artist's League New York show, Professional Artist's League traveling show, Greek Theatre, Ebell of Los Angeles, National Orange Show, California Art Club, Burbank Art Association, Valley Artist's Guild, Laguna Beach Art Association, Los Angeles Museum and California State Fair.

This young artist, born in 1925, has received many awards and prizes for her work. She is a member of International Institute of Arts and Letters, from which she holds an honor as a fellow. Other memberships include Los Angeles Art Association, Laguna Beach Art Association, Professional Artist's League, Artists of the Southwest, California Art Club, Valley Artist's Guild and Ebell of Los Angeles.

She has appeared on television giving lectures and demonstrations in art.

She also has worked for the Los Angeles County Art Institute as an instructor. Miss Kendall, F.I.A.L. is listed in "Who's Who" in American Art, American Women, The West and California.

According to Mrs. James L. Neel, club president, these artists who exhibit for the Van Nuys Club reside in California. They are from different schools of art, including abstract, conservative, still-life etc. Paintings in oils are often done with palette knife as well as the conventional brush. Others use water color, while sketches are done in charcoal and ink.

These monthly exhibitions are arranged by art chairman Mrs. Frank Vitale. She personally supervises the hanging and proper lighting of these paintings, so that members may enjoy their full beauty.

Traveler and Slides Spark Section Event

Africa, the continent of world wide interest and concern, will be the subject covered in Mrs. John Christersson's travelogue, via slides, to be presented for the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club Wednesday at 11 a.m., in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Christersson, a partner of the Davis Travel Agency, accepted an invitation from the Belgian and other governments to travel in that area last fall.

Her trip of 30,000 air miles and 22,000 miles by boat, auto, jeep and foot, took her to many interesting and out of the way places.

Slides show her trip up the rapids of the Congo River, in a native dug-out canoe, and the beautiful Tree Top Hotel in the Congo where Queen Elizabeth and Phillip were staying when she was notified of her father's death.

The films taken in Capetown show Mrs. Christersson being received by representatives of various governments who entertained her in Africa. She will conclude the travelogue by showing jungle territory with the local tribes performing native dances.

Mrs. Paul T. Murray will chairman the luncheon hostesses. Helping are Mmes. Walter H. Crippen, Raymond T. Henry, Edward L. Johnson, Bertha Ink, Charles H. Rivers, Edward Davidson and Miss Fredricka Deming.

Following the luncheon and program a short business meeting will be conducted by Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman. A social hour and cards will complete the afternoon, according to Mrs. Martin Fritzen, garden news chairman.

Lectures on Indians

TRAVELER TO SPEAK

'Indians' Is Topic at Van Nuys Club

"Our First Americans," via slides, rare color photographs and a sizeable amount of relics will be presented by Mrs. Earl Muehlenbach, for the Literature Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club on Thursday, from 2 to 4 p.m., at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St., according to Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, section chairman.

Mrs. Muehlenbach's interest in the American Indian, gained through research, travel and association with historians has produced a vast collection of pottery artifacts, prehistoric implements, baskets, arrowheads and Kachina dolls.

Some of this craft dates back to 1000 years ago. Practically all of these relics were acquired in Indian country at the "four-corners region" of Colorado, Arizona, New Mexico and Utah.

Her visits to Indian Reservations, shown via slides, and narrated by the speaker, are a study of primitive living, ancient ruins, and tribal beliefs. Tribes such as Zuni, Lauguna, Hopi and Havasupai are included.

One of the interesting tribes living in primitive surroundings is the Havasupia, located on one of the tributaries of the Colorado River near Grand Canyon, Mrs. Muehlenbach says. Reservations must be made for visitation to this remote Indian village.

The only entrance into this 200 inhabitant reservation, is by horseback or foot and tourists must carry in their own food.

Photographs of the reservation show Mrs. Muehlenbach participating in one of the dances of the Havasupai tribe.

This informative historical review by Mrs. Muehlenbach, was arranged for the Literature Section by Mrs. Bierkamp.

Table decor depicts a touch of spring with tall silver tapers, centered with miniature yellow jonquils and contrasting greens.

The lace covered tea table is appointed with silver and crystal. Serving will be Mmes. Walter H. Crippen, Porter A. Marshall, Tim Shafer, William J. Healy, Emily Kingdom and A. E. W. Greaves.

Other hostesses of the day are Mmes. William Barrett, R. H. Zastrow, Daniel Fleming and Frank Gould.

Comedy Star to Appear at Club

Nina Varela, comedy star of two continents, heads the program for Van Nuys Woman's Club at its annual birthday luncheon Wednesday at 12 noon in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Miss Varela, in her serious moments, is a "Will Rogers in skirts . . ." a comedienne who "runs for office" with her own inimitable farcical-factual discussion of problems of the day, under the intriguing title of "If I Am Elected."

She is a pretty brunette, stylish stout appearance, (200 pounds to be exact,) "ambassadress-at-large," and very large she adds.

Needs Strength

She opens her campaign on a strong platform (it has to be, she admits.) This important chair, she proclaims, is one she can fill, since the scarcity of men leaves nothing left for a woman to run for but a bus or public office.

Laughingly, she concludes this portrayal of a female politician, with a "Please Vote for Me."

According to program chairman Mrs. Norman Kramer this versatile actress, singer and speaker is a most convincing entertainer. Her every performance brings spontaneous applause and gales of laughter.

Be it a portrayal of the owner of a saloon, landlady, hausfrau or just one of her many club acts she belongs in the bluebook of entertainment.

Salutes Birthdays

This annual event, started in 1938, salutes members' birthdays. Those whose anniversaries fall in the same month, sit together.

These tables appointed with seasonal decorations are centered with candles which complement the decor. Mrs. C. Edward Brown and Mrs. Clifford Giles are in charge of the table arrangements.

New members of 1959-60 will be presented by Mrs. Paul T. Murray who also serves as general chairman for this event. Luncheon will be under the supervision of Mrs. Fred Anderson and Mrs. L. A. Brewer.

The committee consists of Mmes. Harry Eckes, Edward Lavery, Kyme Meade, Arthur Wells, Ethel Wolff, William MacFarland, Horace Johnson Jr.

Also Mmes. Walter Matt, Horace Way, Herbert P. Bonesteel, F. Earle Britton, K. Ross Smith, Lois M. David, Elsie Thompson, Hazel A. Boverman and Charles B. Lay.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president, will conclude the luncheon with a short discussion on "Challenge in 1961 for Civic and Club Minded Women."

MR. AND MRS. HAROLD G. STONE
They Will Explore Far-Flung Corners

AROUND THE WORLD

Retired Couple Plan Spring Global Jaunt

By KAY ROE

Friends are learning, and with a bit envy, of the Harold G. Stones' around the world trip, planned for early spring.

The Stones will fly to Japan and a boat trip out of Greece will permit them to visit Greece's many islands.

Other highlights of their journey include days in Hong Kong, Africa, Turkey and Egypt. While in Egypt they will go on a safari, traveling by camelback.

Also on their itinerary is a tour of the Holy Land, with a visit to the twin cities Nazareth and Jordan and a tour of the caves where Christ was born.

On their way back they will vacation in Spain and Portugal. A visit to the Shrine of Our Lady of Fatima, will be enjoyed in this locale, and complete relaxation before returning home by air.

Travel abroad is not without embarrassing moments, however, according to the Stones, who visited Europe less than two years ago.

For instance, when you order something in German or French and it turns out to be a savory mess of suet pudding . . . or when you put your shoes out in the hall at night and are unable to find them the next morning . . . moments like this are all par for the trip, according to the globe trotters.

Mrs. Stone is active in Van Nuys Woman's Club and other community and civic affairs while Mr. Stone retired from the General Electric Co. several years ago.

Select King and Queen for Ball

A Mardi Gras Ball is scheduled for the Van Nuys Woman's Club and its friends at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St., Feb. 10 with dinner from 7:30 p.m. and dancing music provided by the George Poole Combo.

According to Mrs. John T. Bradshaw, general chairman, an authentic New Orleans atmosphere will prevail.

Couples (or stags), with attire optional, are being invited to participate in the 7:30 p.m. "Spotlight Dance," where a king and queen will be selected to reign during the evening.

After enjoying a full seven-course dinner, merrymakers will really be tripping the light fantastic in a "Paul Jones" dance.

A prize also will go to the person displaying the most original mask.

Not only will balloons be affixed to merry-makers' ankles during one of the dances, but an array of balloons will also provide temptation on tables for non-dancers.

The beautiful poster, displayed in the clubhouse corridor, designed by Mrs. A. E. W. Greaves, will depict others that adorn streets in New Orleans at Mardi Gras time.

Dance committee chairmaned by Mrs. John T. Bradshaw, comprises Mmes. Harold E. Shillock, Paul T. Murray, F. Earl Britton, Milton Morley, Greaves, Herbert Bonesteel and Gladys Smith.

★ How Van Nuys Got Its Start ★

1961 marks the Golden Anniversary year of the founding of Van Nuys. It is fitting then that we relate the dramatic early history of how the townsite of Van Nuys got its start. Two Pioneers, J. B. Lankershim and I. N. Van Nuys acquired a large sheep and cattle ranch covering the approximate south half of the San Fernando Valley. Later they divided their holdings and Isaac Newton Van Nuys decided that instead of raising sheep he would plant wheat. This was the beginning of the first extensive and successful wheat farming in the Valley. Harry Chandler, a New Englander (later a famed L.A. Times publisher) came here and in 1909 headed a Land Company which bought out the holdings of I. N. Van Nuys. Of three early landsites laid out... Mr. Chandler named one Van Nuys in honor of his good friend. It was early in 1911 that W. P. Whitsett bought into the new Van Nuys townsite.

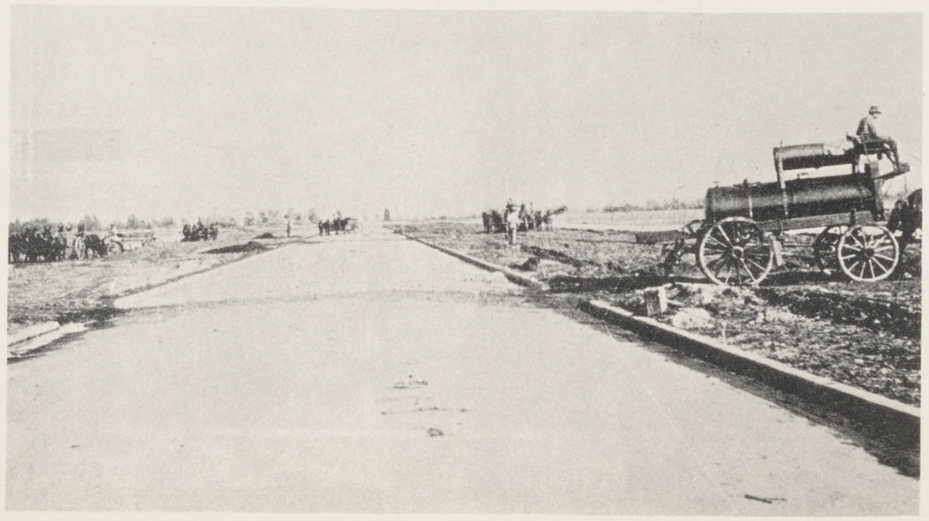
For the first water in Van Nuys the Land Company, under Mr. Whitsett's direction, drilled wells for the town's water supply. Through many difficulties, the Land Company managed to satisfy all interested persons until the City of Los Angeles took over and solved all local water problems. Annexation to Los Angeles came in 1915. Early plans called for Van Nuys to be the center of a community of urban homes to be located on 5 acre plots. Time and people have changed the plan.

W. P. Whitsett in those early months of 1911, employed many new and original sales ideas... ideas which sold land and homes, and helped build a solid community foundation. The railroads of the time provided all new incoming arrivals to L.A. with metal bound tags on their luggage. On presentation of these tags to the Whitsett office on Hill St., visitors were assigned seats in sight-seeing automobiles maintained by Mr. Whitsett and were then shown around Hollywood and the new Van Nuys townsite.

Mr. Whitsett and his Land Company wanted a good school. It took quite some doing, but eventually bonds were voted and the town's first beautiful school built according to plan.

Aging, even gracefully, changes many things, but the name of Van Nuys... and the townsite itself have grown ever sturdier and finer since those fateful times of 1911.

Van Nuys Boulevard under Construction — 1911.



"How we brought them in."

Early Day Salesmanship!

Roy V. Milner, secretary of the Land Company which originally sold the acreage to become known as the town of Van Nuys, was a sage and witty historian of those early, colorful days. Mr. Milner's comments appeared in past issues of the Valley Federal Pioneer, and the following paragraphs are reprinted for your reading pleasure. They are indeed pertinent on the eve of the Golden Anniversary celebration of Van Nuys.

Free Public Barbecues were a frequently used and prominent part of the advertisements in the selling of the 47,500 acres, now known as Van Nuys, by the Land Company, W. P. Whitsett and Janss Company. "Public" because the advertisements, which were often full page in all Los Angeles daily newspapers, invited everyone to a Free Barbecue without condition. All such public invitations contained the notice, "No Property Sold or Offered for Sale On That Date."

Attendance ranged, according to the occasion and the amount of advertising, from a thousand or so, up to as many as eight or ten thousand. Jose Romero was always our caterer. He was a masterhand at the business. Whether serving selected viands to a few or a more modest menu to thousands, his offerings were invariably relished. For barbecues such as he served us, Jose cooked the meat all night and the next forenoon in covered earthen pits.

Spanish beans were cooked in metal washtubs over open fires for the same period of time. Similar washtubs were also used to mix the salad and brew the coffee which was served in tin cups.

The rule, "No Property Sold or Offered for Sale" was strictly enforced. Salesmen were permitted to drive guests over the adjacent lands and to wild flower fields, if in season; they were prohibited however from having a map, price list or receipt book on their person.

Select King and Queen for Ball

A Mardi Gras Ball is scheduled for the Van Nuys Woman's Club and its friends at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St., Feb. 10 with dinner from 7:30 p.m. and dancing music provided by the George Poole Combo.

According to Mrs. John T. Bradshaw, general chairman, an authentic New Orleans atmosphere will prevail.

Couples (or stags), with attire optional, are being invited to participate in the 7:30 p.m. "Spotlight Dance," where a king and queen will be selected to reign during the evening.

After enjoying a full seven-course dinner, merrymakers will really be tripping the light fantastic in a "Paul Jones" dance.

A prize also will go to the person displaying the most original mask.

Not only will balloons be affixed to merry-makers' ankles during one of the dances, but an array of balloons will also provide temptation on tables for non-dancers.

The beautiful poster, displayed in the clubhouse corridor, designed by Mrs. A. E. W. Greaves, will depict others that adorn streets in New Orleans at Mardi Gras time.

Dance committee chairmaned by Mrs. John T. Bradshaw, comprises Mmes. Harold E. Shillock, Paul T. Murray, F. Earl Britton, Milton Morley, Greaves, Herbert Bonesteel and Gladys Smith.

PRESIDENT'S STATEMENT OF POLICY

It was with good reason that the founder-directors decided to name the new independent bank in Van Nuys, LINCOLN BANK. The old-fashioned virtues of thrift and integrity form the main cornerstone of our policy... a policy designed to help bring back to a pleasurable degree, some of the home-spun friendliness and helpfulness inherent in independent banking.

It will be our insistent endeavor to continue to assume the role of leadership in civic affairs that are becoming and worthwhile to the community, that we may discharge our full civic responsibility as a modern bank, and as citizens of Van Nuys.

As an independent bank we sincerely hope and expect to be modestly successful, and we intend to use this success for the benefit of the economic life of Van Nuys... and you, our customers.

WHY AN INDEPENDENT BANK IN VAN NUYS

It has been 34 years since the last independent bank in Van Nuys closed its doors . . . absorbed by a chain bank.

Since that time (1926), the population of Van Nuys proper has increased by 1145%; by nose count, 104,500 people; by business and industry establishments well over 1000. The photographs below tell only partially the fabulous growth of Van Nuys, and furnish a self-evident fact that proves the need for a new independent banking facility in Van Nuys.

This growth factor added to the many banking services that are particularly suited to an independent bank, provides one of the reasons why Martin Pollard and his long-time associates determined that it was high time to bring back to Van Nuys the type of banking service and benefits the LINCOLN BANK can and will so uniquely provide.

FUTURE

TODAY

Van Nuys, with its imposing branch City Hall structure as a focal point, stretches out to an ever growing vista of homes and business and industry establishments. Ground has already been broken for the new Van Nuys administrative center. Valley-wide, population has gone from 55,000 in 1926 to over 819,000 today in 1960! And . . . over 20,000 businesses have roots in the Valley, with more coming every day!

Lincoln Program on Clubwomen's Docket

Mr. Peters is well-known to video viewers as emcee of the award winning show "Success Story" and as "Dan" on radio's "One Man's Family."

KEN PETERS
In Lincoln Tribute

Ken Peters, one of Hollywood's outstanding radio and television personalities and also the friendly host on the current "Crusader Rabbit" series, has added club programs as another medium.

When members and guests of Van Nuys Woman's Club convene on Wednesday, at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St., for a 12 noon luncheon, they will be entertained by Mr. Peters in his portrayal of "Abraham Lincoln Today."

This most unusual and exciting Lincoln tribute, reveals many facets of the Lincoln character, such as Lincoln the story-teller, the unwilling bridegroom, the indulging father . . . and Lincoln the Commander-in-Chief.

This theatrical reinsman, who has a keen appreciation of the Lincoln humor and a reverence for the Lincoln greatness, treats his subject with tremendous dramatic impact, that draws his character with the sure showmanship of a master story-teller, right down to his presentation of the issues of that day.

Decorations apropos of this program will be arranged by Mmes. William O. Wuest, Edward Armstrong, V. D. Slocum and Charles E. Lane. A huge picture of our 12th Commander-in-Chief will be placed in the clubhouse corridor, while small flags made of flora will center luncheon tables along with miniature Lincoln hats.

Luncheon committee chairmaned by Mrs. Francis Tyler includes Mmes. Marie Nehls, John E. Osborn, Harold Kreutzinger, George Harding and Carolyn Durfee.

The Bible section will meet before the luncheon in the Solarium. This 11 a.m. session will have as guest speaker the Rev. Peter Beaman of St. Jane Frances Church. Soloist will be club member Mrs. Evelyn Landon.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president, will conclude the program with a last call for "Mardi Gras Ball" reservations for Feb. 10, to be held in the clubhouse.

This 7:30 p.m. to 1:30 a.m. event will recreate the gaiety of ancient festivities that prevail at Mardi Gras time in New Orleans, says ball chairman Mrs. John T. Bradshaw and her committee. The George Poole Combo will provide music for merry-makers.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. Herbert Bonesteel, STate 2-6869.

FRANCES HALL, Musician with a Flair
Van Nuys Woman's Club Guest Artist

Autoharpist Guest of Van Nuys Women

A new dimension in folk songs will be presented when autoharpist Frances Hall appears for the Van Nuys Woman's Club next Wednesday at a 12 noon luncheon to be held in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

According to Mrs. James L. Neel, president, and Mrs. Norman Kramer, program chairman, Miss Hall is a musician with a flair for comedy, her original folk songs are hilarious but she also has some serious contributions in music.

Included in the latter are arrangements for some of Shakespeare's poems, also compositions for the autoharp and zither, which she did in a series of concerts sponsored by G. Schirmer, well known publisher of sheet music.

Most of the soprano's original works are published by the G. Shirmer and Boston Music Co.

Luncheon committee chairmaned by Mrs. Daniel Fleming includes Mmes. A. H. Bierkamp, William Healy, Mona Brown Willis, Tim Shafer and William O. Wuest.

Decor will honor the first president of the United States, George Washington. Flowering pink shrubbery simulating miniature cherry trees in blossom, will center luncheon tables. Decorations will be constructed by Mrs. George O. Chapman and Mrs. J. Howard Wilson.

The Legislative Section will meet before the program of the day, in the solarium.

This 11 a.m. session, arranged by Mrs. E. J. Turner, legislation chairman, will hear a discussion on the proposed new Van Nuys Civic Center as well as a talk on the Van Nuys Airport and its future.

Van Nuys Returns Clock to 1911 Era

VAN NUYS — This community is turning the clock back this weekend to 1911 and merchants are going along with the observance — they're turning back their prices to those of 50 years ago.

Reason for the big community-wide observance is the 50th anniversary of the founding of Van Nuys.

"Golden Jubilee Days" will be celebrated througout Van Nuys beginning Thursday and continuing through Saturday, according to Max Curtis, retail division chairman of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce.

During the cut-back in prices, entertainment, including five barbershop quartet groups of the San Fernando Valley Chapter, Society for the Preservation and Encouragement of Barbershop Quartet Singing in America, will be provided along the streets of Van Nuys business district all day Saturday.

Vintage cars will chug along the streets and the Los Angeles City Fire Department will cruise the streets in a colorful '29 American La France Pumper, manned by firemen in Gay Nineties uniforms.

Salespeople, merchants and businessmen will sport costumes of the 1911 period during the weekend with prizes being offered by the Chamber's retail division to the most original costumes worn by employes.

Curtis said there has been excellent response from the Valley public offering personal momentoes and articles of the 1911 period to be displayed in store window.

Prizes will be given to owners of those articles which best depict the era (1911-1914), Curtis said.

Also during this month's observance, on Feb. 22, more than 600 guests will look back on the 50 years of Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce.

A salute to the "Golden Years Ahead" has been included in the program. It is the topic of Ernest J. Loebbecke, president of Title Insurance and Trust Co., principal speaker.

Nelson LaVally, Chamber secretary-manager, said members, their guests and the general public is invited to attend the dinner in Sportsman's Lodge. Reservations can be made by telephoning ST-5-6571. Tickets are $6 each.

Among invited guests will be past presidents of the Chamber and officials from the city, county and state, LaVally said.

Van Nuys Clubwomen Tour Garden

Camellias, azaleas and cymbidium orchids in every color of the rainbow at the Surina Gardens, 16054 Parthenia St., Sepulveda, will offer a beautiful setting for Wednesday's 11 o'clock luncheon of Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club.

Club members and their friends will be greeted by nursery owner Mrs. Andrew Surina who will take them on a tour of the two and one-half acres of acid-loving plants.

This will be followed by an armchair journey into a land of floral enchantment via color slides.

Included will be pictures of blooming azaleas, orchids and magnolias which were taken on the premises. Other slides will show exotic rare ferns, many of which are grown in protected areas in the San Fernando Valley.

At the conclusion of the program Mrs. Surina will be hostess for dessert and coffee.

Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, garden section chairman, will conduct a short business meeting after which members and their friends may participate in discussion groups on the growth of acid-loving plants.

Painter, Sculptor Exhibit in March

The light antique gold walls of Van Nuys Woman's Club house, 14836 Sylvan St., will provide a rich background for the paintings of Rose Anne Rice and the sculpture of Martha Dashew, during the month of March.

This exhibition by these two Valley artists may be viewed on club days or by appointment with Rose Anne Rice, according to Mrs. James L. Neel, president, and Mrs. Frank Vitale, art chairman, who selected these "Artists of the Month" for the club.

Rose Anne's (Mrs. Ashley W. Rice of Van Nuys) paintings are of subtle water colors and oils that reflect a certain mystical quality. She is a versatile artist.

Her studio at 15740 Hart St., embraces practically all phases of art, including religious, advertising, satirical drawings and an array of cards in the "humorous new awareness," popular today.

Mrs. Rice, a graduate of the University of Washington, has exhibited at the National Gallery, Washington, D. C.; Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco; Los Angeles County Museum, Henry Gallery and Frye Museum, Seattle, and is represented in many private collections.

Aside from her art she is program chairman of the Los Angeles District Delphian Assembly and holds membership in the Van Nuys Woman's Club and the 64th District Republican Assembly.

Martha Dashew, best known locally for founding the Valley Center of Arts, attended Pratt Institute in New York. Her sculpture presents a realistic study. She also does paintings in oil and water color.

Miss Dashew also retains membership in the 64th District Republican Assembly. In the latter she is past vice president.

lecturer on "World Literature and Great Books." His latest book "David of Sassoun," soon to be published by Brockham Associates of New York, is an Armenian folk epic.

Authoritative Writer

According to Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, literature section chairman, Dr. Tolegian travels abroad in search of authentic material for the special subjects he writes about. This year a trip to Turkey will permit this authoritative writer to do a research translation of a Turkish folk epic.

Mr. Beyz who will be introduced by Dr. Tolegian, is a local poet and author. His most recent book "The Feast" gained considerable recognition. Some of his religious and epic poetry has appeared in "Science of Mind," monthly magazine founded by the late Dr. Ernest Holmes.

The luncheon committee chairmaned by Mrs. Dale Teachenor comprises Mmes. Martin Fritzen, George Weaver, George Cole and Ora J. Richardson.

Table decorations arranged by Mrs. James T. Dresser and Mrs. Anthony Panza will consist of flora centered on tables in a shamrock pattern.

Mrs. James L. Neel, president, will conduct a brief business meeting.

Flower Show Date

Information concerning the club's annual spring flower show April 15 will also be given, this year's theme to be "Around the World." Mrs. Milton Morley is show chairman.

Doors will be open to the public from 2 to 5 and 7 to 9 p.m., according to Mrs. C. Edward Brown of the committee.

The public is also being invited to exhibit in the many classifications which will be available upon registration. There will be cash awards and the sweepstakes trophy given annually by The Van Nuys News for the best arrangement in the show.

Mrs. Brown is handling calls at STate 8-0122.

Plan Valley Committee On Over-all Beautifying

VAN NUYS — As a result of the parks and beautification session at the Community Goals Workshop, a committee is being formed to be known as the Valley Beautification Committee, Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce had announced today.

A chamber spokesman said the purpose of the committee is to coordinate beautification efforts and assist Valley Chambers of Commerce in developing beautification committees in their own communities.

Projects Suggested

Mrs. James L. Neel is serving as temporary president of the committee and Mrs. E. J. Turner as temporary secretary.

Suggested areas of interest for the Valley Beautification Committee are:

Cleanup, tree program (planting and preservation), general beautification (business districts, residential and industrial), public relations, legislation, education (school program) and awards.

Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce has extended invitations to Valley Chambers of Commerce to send a representative as a member of the committee to a meeting on Monday, March 20, at 10 a.m. in the Van Nuys board room, 6622 Van Nuys Blvd.

Confirm Attendance

The suggested program will be discussed and subcommittees organized for the areas of interest decided upon.

Chambers are asked to confirm attendance of representatives by telephoning STate 6-5019.

German "Title"

German audiences hailed Miss McCann as the "sexiest opera singer ever to grace their stage" during one of her 70 performances for them.

Mrs. Howell C. McDaniel heads the luncheon committee which consists of Mmes. J. Howard Wilson, Thomas C. Blackwood, Verne Patten, Dane Patterson and T. P. Foster.

The Legislation Section will meet before the luncheon at 11 a.m. in the solarium.

According to Mrs. E. J. Turner, chairman, a capacity crowd is expected to view the film "Communism on the Map."

Mrs. Turner said that this film reveals startling information about the red ideology, a threatening menace to the U.S. way of life.

Important Business

Mrs. James L. Neel will conclude the business meeting which includes a proposal to install a hand rail adjacent to steps at the clubhouse entrance.

According to Mrs. Eugene Cotter, house rental chairman, this recommendation follows the success of a similar railing recently installed from the main auditorium to the solarium.

Other business includes a discussion on the club's upcoming Flower Show April 15, to be held at the clubhouse from 2 to 9 p.m.

This event encourages students and persons interested in flora to enter displays.

Prizes are awarded by the club and local business people for outstanding and unusual flower arrangements as well as posters.

College Coed New 'Artist of Month'

Commercial artist Barbara Schiefer, a student at Valley College, will exhibit her artistic drawings through the month of April at the Van Nuys Woman's Club, 14836 Sylvan St.

This exhibit may be seen on club days or by special appointment with Miss Schiefer, according to Mrs. Frank Vitale, art chairman, who selected this versatile young woman as "Artist of the Month" for the club.

Miss Schiefer plans additional study at Chouinard Art Institute next fall. This study will include design and life drawing, clothed figure drawing and portrait painting.

Barbara's early training (inspired by her father, an artist himself) in this medium began in junior high school and continued through her years at Van Nuys High School.

Under the direction of Miss June P. Blatt, she applied for a scholarship at the Academy of Art, San Francisco. This scholarship was completed last summer.

Aside from her art, she participates in piano composition. She is also active in sports, especially swimming and tennis.

Annual Flower Show Poster Winners Told

VAN NUYS—As a prelude to the annual flower show—"Around the World" — the Van Nuys Woman's Club had as guests at a luncheon, winners of the poster contest sponsored through Van Nuys Junior High School.

The first prize poster was designed and executed by Leslie Senton. It depicted spring flowers with lettering in white and a bit of modern art in red.

Second prize went to Gary Hatswell who used a blue background for his poster, which depicted sheep jumping over the moon and a large daisy depicting "O" letters in the words "Flower Show."

He also used inlaid paper cut-outs to further carry out the spring flower theme.

Roy McEntire won third prize for his poster of spring flowers and honorable mention went to Mark Frank for design.

Guests of the club were the mothers of the winners, Mrs. Daniel M. Senton, Mrs. Joseph Hatswell, Mrs. Betty Stevens and Mrs. Jack Frank, together with Joseph Fuselier, art director of the school.

Mrs. Milton Morley, general chairman of the flower show, with Mrs. Frank Vitale and Mrs. R. H. Zastrow, judged the entries.

Unusual Plant Life Abounds in Yard of Charles E. Lanes

The Sylvan St. cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Lane is surrounded with old and unusual plant life including a 42-year-old rose, a 40-year-old pyracantha, a large white poinsettia, gopher weeds and wild carrots.

According to Mrs. Lane, a former florist, she grows the strange wild carrots for their lacy foliage and white tufted flowers, similar to Queen Anne's lace in appearance.

The gopher weed she originally bought for 35 cents. It is one plant gophers detest. Not only is it grown to discourage these burrowing little animals, but it also produces a large seed pod.

Old Fashion Roses

She often uses the yellow pods for flower arrangements, with large canna leaves, occasionally spraying them gold to enhance their appearance.

The huge Mannon rose, a climber that is white with a tinge of pink near the edge of its petals, she started from a cutting 42-years-ago in Van Nuys. It was transplanted to Long Beach for five years and then transplanted back to its present location on the south side of her cottage, where it still flourishes.

Another huge red rose, which she also started from a cutting, is a Hadley.

Both the old white Mannon and the 15-year-old red Hadley rose are often used in floral arrangements by Mrs. Lane.

White Poinsettias

The white poinsettia, although long after the traditional holiday blooming season, is still seen in profusion alongside a huge double rose colored hibiscus shrub.

Gardening as a hobby for Mrs. Lane has often benefited the Van Nuys Woman's Club, especially when a special occasion flower arrangement is needed. Mrs. Lane is the club's historian and is also one of the honorary life members.

VISION

A WORD ABOUT THE PRESENT . . .

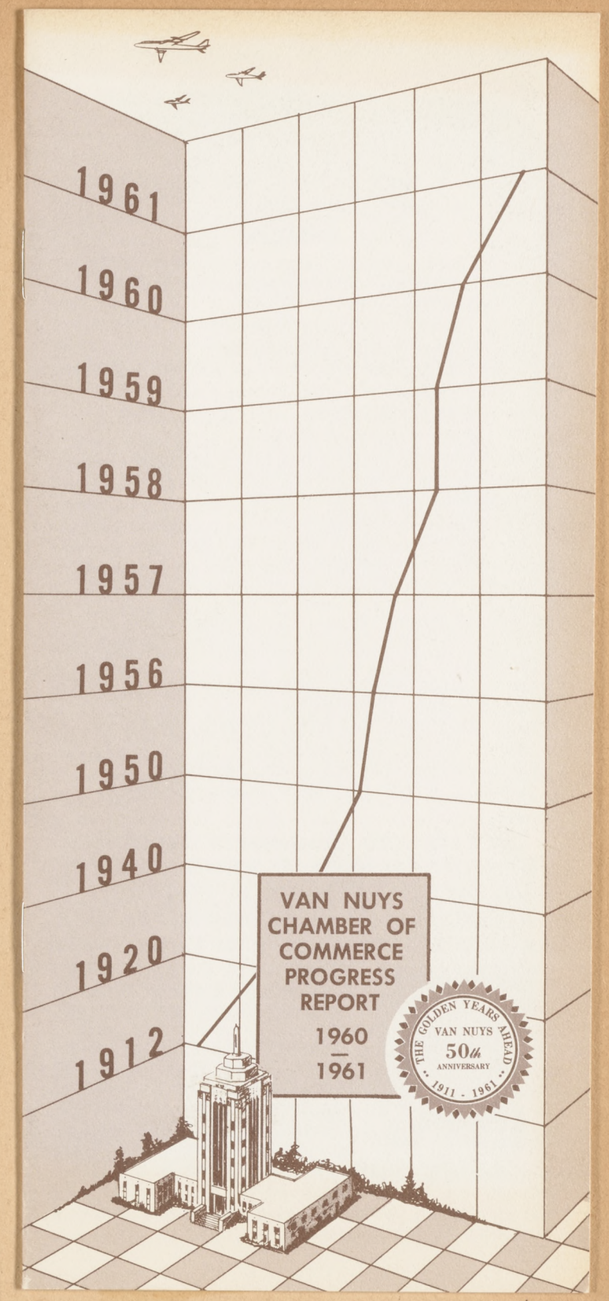
THOMAS E. LANNAN
1960 Chamber President

"From the first years of the founding of Van Nuys—a strong community spirit and a strong Chamber of Commerce have been the twin earmarks that have served so well the growth, progress, and development of this unique area. Generation after generation, our leaders have met the challenge of their times—have not hesitated to pioneer a long line of firsts in business service, services to encourage industrial growth and payrolls, services by public schools and colleges, and by government at all levels. These various services have not only contributed visibly to the growth and prosperity which we presently enjoy but also have established new service patterns which have been copied elsewhere. If we are to have the advantages of a great urban community—a most vital and central area of our outstanding San Fernando Valley—we shall need to work together in continuing our emphasis on a strong community spirit and a strong Chamber of Commerce."

THE GOLDEN YEARS AHEAD . . .

FERDINAND MENDENHALL
1961 Chamber President

"The city of Van Nuys today can look back with pride on its two score and ten years of exemplary growth and progress since founding by William Paul Whitsett on February 22, 1911. A dominant factor in this bourgeoning development is found in the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce as represented by its business and professional firms and civic-minded residents who comprise its membership. As we reach the significant 50-year marker in this city's pages of history, we find that the first half-century of accomplishment but serves as a firm foundation and challenge on which to accelerate Van Nuys' advance in the future. In a highly competitive society, this advance will be forthcoming only through the continued unremitting collective and individual efforts of these firms and citizens who comprise the fiber of Van Nuys and its Chamber of Commerce. With pride in the past, and confidence in the future, let us get on with the job!"



VISION

Salute to Van Nuys 50th anniversary

PRESIDENT KENNEDY

"The barley field which was Van Nuys in 1911, contrasted with the large community in the San Fernando Valley which is the Van Nuys of today, gives splendid testimony to the enterprise and vitality of the citizens of this community.

"It is a privilege to extend congratulations and best wishes to all who are participating in this historic event."

GOVERNOR BROWN

"As Governor, I congratulate the City of Van Nuys on the 50th Anniversary of its founding.

"I also wish to commend the citizens of Van Nuys for their many accomplishments and for their contributions to the strength and well being of our State.

"I am confident that Van Nuys will lead the great San Fernando Valley to truly Golden Years Ahead."

MAYOR POULSON

"Every citizen of Los Angeles joins me in the great pride I feel about the 50th Anniversary of the founding of Van Nuys. This progressive, fast-growing community has been an inspiration not only to every section of Los Angeles, but also to our nation. The Valley is now the headquarters for some of our country's leading industries, as well as the home site choice of hundreds of thousands of residents here and people elsewhere who wish to move here.

"Every individual who has participated in the development of this dynamic community of Van Nuys can look with pleasure at the achievements of this advancing population center."

CONGRESSMAN CORMAN

"Seldom is a community blessed with such happy prospects after so many years of phenomenal growth. But, thanks to inspired and far-sighted leadership, Van Nuys at the close of its first half-century, can look to the 'Golden Years Ahead' with confidence in its future and pride in its past."

SUPERVISOR DORN

"Salutations to the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce on completing five decades of progressive and dynamic service to the San Fernando Valley.

"Programs leading to the development of the Valley as an outstanding area in which we live and work bear eloquent testimony to the initiative, vision and dedication of the men and women who built the Chamber's strong foundations and guiding principles.

"May I take this means of wishing the directors, officers, staff and members of the Chamber continued success in their undertakings."

PRES. THOMAS E. LANNAN

VAN NUYS CHAMBER OF COMMERCE PROGRESS AND CONTINUING ACTIVITIES

In observance of the 50th Anniversary of the founding of Van Nuys and the Golden Years Ahead, Van Nuys Chamber sponsored the Community Goals Workshop in late January, attended by 50 top officials of Los Angeles City, County and School administration and 225 Van Nuys and Valley businessmen, for the purpose of discussing over-all community problems of business climate, culture, growth.

The incoming chamber president served as general chairman, with the assistance of the president of the Welfare Planning Council and the principal of the local adult school. Sessions were held in Van Nuys High School and opened on a morning with a local author as keynote speaker. Twelve simultaneous workshops were held with active Chamber members knowledgeable in that particular field as chairman-moderator. The sessions were concluded with luncheon, at which the president of the Los Angeles City Council spoke. The sessions were praised highly by participants and press.

Workshops covered business climate, culture, charitable donations, economic research, education, government services, health and safety, military affairs, parks and beautification, sports and recreation, taxes, and transportation. Findings will serve as a guide for the Chamber program.

ORGANIZATION STRENGTHENED

Steps were taken during 1960 to make the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce more capable of meeting the challenges faced by Van Nuys and the San Fernando Valley in maintaining economic growth, high living standards, developing well-balanced community facilities and favorable relations with city and county government.

The size of the Board was increased to 32 directors with the adoption of completely new by-laws the latter part of the previous year.

At mid-year, the Chamber offices, which had been on the second floor of 6410 Van Nuys Boulevard for the past decade, were moved to a first-floor location at 6622 Van Nuys Boulevard. The new quarters, with 50% more space, are conveniently and efficiently arranged for service to visitors and staff operations and include an attractive Board room for Board and committee meetings.

An additional Chamber Bulletin, "Business Trends in Van Nuys," was instituted as a service to members on a bi-weekly schedule. Chamber and committee activities continue to be reported in a separate newsletter.

An advertising agency was employed starting in December to develop plans for the observance of the 50th anniversary of the founding of Van Nuys throughout 1961 and to publicize the Chamber's activities in developing economic growth and progress and favorable community attributes.

Eighty-five new members were received into the Chamber during the calendar year.

These specific steps to strengthen the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce were undertaken in addition to the normal activities of the officers, directors, and committees and in addition to the handling of 40,000 incoming telephone calls, 15,000 pieces of incoming mail, 50,000 pieces of outgoing mail, and nearly 9000 visitors in person at the Chamber office.

The Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce has a reputation throughout Southern California as one of the best informed sources of information, not only on Van Nuys, but also on the San Fernando Valley as a whole.

RETAIL DIVISION

Retail stores of Van Nuys became a closer part of the Chamber with the change from a separate association to the Retail Division of the Chamber, headed by Max Curtis of Laity's, as chairman.

Larry Stevenson of Butler Brothers served as chairman of the promotion committee, which held numerous retail promotions during the year and set a new record in funds raised for cooperative advertising.

Father's Day promotion included sponsorship of Van Nuys Night at the Dodgers-Giants baseball game in the Coliseum on July 6.

Bad check losses have been reduced through the Chamber's Warn-O-Gram system of telephone alerts.

Requests for donations from retailers are controlled through the registration of such requests at the Chamber office. If approved by the solicitations committee, a specific date for requesting donations is scheduled with a report back to the Chamber of the donations received.

Courses for adults seeking full or part-time work as sales clerks have been sponsored by the Van Nuys Chamber's Retail Division in cooperation with the Van Nuys Adult School and the State Dept. of Employment.

OFF-STREET PARKING

Following 11 years of effort, the Off-Street Parking committee of the Chamber, headed by Chairman Van McWhirter, is nearing its goal of having revenue bonds sold to complete its off-street parking program.

During the past year, formation of the Van Nuys parking district was formalized and negotiations completed for the acquisition of parcels needed to complete the program.

Sales of revenue bonds will be the next step and will provide for 240 metered spaces for off-street parking.

EDUCATION

The Education committee coordinates some 450 courses for upgrading industrial employees at the junior and college level. UCLA, which had four courses offered in the Valley four years ago, had 78 courses this past year outlined in a special Valley brochure.

Meetings between the Education committee and representatives of the Los Angeles city schools and the State Dept. of Education led to the establishment of a joint advisory committee of industry and school representatives to discuss trade and technical courses in the Valley, and this in turn led to the decision for a full-scale manpower survey in the technical and trade field.

The purpose of the survey was to determine the exact skills to be required by industries, large and small, in the next five years, the depth of skills, academic background needed and responsibilities of schools and industries for training.

To cover costs of employing a full-time director for the survey and other expenses, the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce signed a contract with the Los Angeles Board of Education agreeing to contribute $8600 as agent for local industries, the Board agreed to contribute $6000 in direct costs and the State of California agreed to match the two contributions with an additional $14,600.

The survey began in July, and a report will be published in late spring. Preliminary results have already proven of interest to educators at the state and local level and it is believed the survey will have an effect on future school curriculum, even in the elementary grades.

A majority of the courses to be developed in detail by the schools are expected to be given at the junior college level, and $450,000 was provided in the school bond issue, approved in November, to begin courses at Pierce and Valley junior colleges as soon as the survey data can be interpreted in terms of class rooms and shop equipment.

PROFESSIONAL PLACEMENT — EMPLOYMENT

The Chamber's Manpower committee chairman also serves as chairman of the Advisory committee of the Professional and Scientific Placement Service, established in Van Nuys two years ago by the State Department of Employment at the suggestion of the Chamber's Industrial Division. The service has greatly reduced the recruiting costs of local industry and has performed an important community service in maintaining full employment of local residents.

In its efforts to stabilize employment in the Valley and assure placement of individuals in positions utilizing their maximum potential and skills, the Van Nuys Chamber has cooperated closely with the State Department of Employment in encouraging greater use of aptitude testing and the State Department's resources by local business and industry.

The Youth Employment Service, which registers teenagers for summer employment, also receives the cooperation of Van Nuys Chamber in promoting its services.

BOARD MAKES PLANT VISITS

In order to understand Valley industries better and their importance to the community, President Lannan began a policy of holding meetings of the Chamber's Board of Directors in connection with plant visits. Dr. Simon Ramo and excutives of Thompson-Ramo-Wooldridge Corporation were hosts to the Chamber Board in September, with a luncheon and plant tour. At a luncheon and plant tour of Chevrolet in October, with Director Harry Prentice, Chevrolet plant manager, as host, directors learned that the local plant had had its best year and was planning an expansion in 1961. Director John McLendon and other Anheuser-Busch executives were hosts to the Chamber Board in December.

Chamber directors, in a meeting open to the general membership, heard from David Crowther of Lockheed Aircraft about industry's change over the years in the San Fernando Valley to modern and future trends in missile and space exploration.

VALLEY ADMINISTRATIVE CENTER

Successful relations with city and county government were observed during the year in the progress made toward actual construction of buildings to house government services in the Valley Administrative Center in Van Nuys. Early efforts to get the project under way were spearheaded by a Chamber committee, with assistance of the City Planning office. This past year efforts have become valleywide, with coordination by the Mayor's office.

The Valley Health building is under construction. Working drawings are being prepared for the $5,000,000 Valley Police headquarters; preliminary drawings are in the process of being approved for the new Van Nuys branch library on a site secured for the Library Commission by the Van Nuys Chamber, with assistance of Councilman James Corman. Plans have been approved for the County Probation building, and it is expected that funds for the construction will be included in the next county budget so that construction may start about August 1961. Land has been secured for a Superior Courts building. Altogether, two entire city blocks, bounded by Sylvan, Tyrone, Delano, and Sylmar have been acquired this past year.

Nearly $7,000,000 worth of construction should be under way in the Administrative Center this year.

OPENINGS FOR NEW INDUSTRIES

President Thomas Lannan and other Chamber officials participated in dedication ceremonies at many new Van Nuys and Valley industries during the year: Rose Marie Reid, Tasker Instruments, Spec-Tronics, RCA West Coast Missile and Surface Radar facility, and Litton Industries. As evidence of the Valley's important role in the missile and space field, Lockheed Missiles and Space Division opened an "Avenue of Missiles" during the year, with a permanent display of current missile types placed outdoors along Woodley Avenue. Chamber officials also participated in openings for a score or more of retail and commercial establishments in Van Nuys, including new banks and savings and loan offices.

The Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce cooperates with the San Fernando Valley Small Plants Association, formerly an affiliate of the Chamber and an outgrowth of its Business Promotion committee for small plants. The Association, with Chamber assistance, sponsored two get-acquainted conferences this past year—one for procurement representatives of large defense industries, and one for representatives of commercial manufacturers.

A 10-week marketing course for owners of small plants was sponsored by the Van Nuys Chamber, Van Nuys Adult School, and Small Plants Association.

Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce paid tribute to the growth of the San Fernando Valley at two meetings of its Board of Directors, with Van Nuys Chamber President Thomas E. Lannan and Secretary-Manager LaVally attending as guests.

PROVIDING COMMUNITY SERVICES

Clean-up campaigns for business areas, alleys, and neighborhood "good housekeeping" had the joint support of the Women's Division of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce and the members of the Van Nuys Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Store front modernization, repainting, and new awnings were instituted by many businesses along Van Nuys Boulevard during the year, adding to the results of the revitalization program announced by the Van Nuys Chamber the previous year.

The Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce received many letters of appreciation and calls from residents for the attractiveness of its main business area during the Christmas holiday season. Christmas decorations related to a religious rather than commercial theme, with large plastic lighted Bethlehem Star angels, designed and copyrighted by the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, being connected by golden garlands and white stars for a length of one mile on Van Nuys Boulevard.

The colorfully decorated Van Nuys Boulevard was the setting of the Bethlehem Star Parade on December 3, in which 41 floats built by Valley churches of all denominations, Catholic and Protestant, illustrated scenes from the life and teachings of Jesus Christ, with living models and animals. This project was initiated by the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce 11 years ago. It is now presented by the Bethlehem Star Parade Association with the assistance of several Chamber leaders.

Research by the Van Nuys Chamber in March pointed out the fact that assessed valuation of the San Fernando Valley exceeds that of every county in California except Los Angeles, and that personal income in the Valley totals $2,250,000 which exceeds the personal income of each of 17 states and is double that of Orange County.

The Van Nuys Chamber was one of the first organizations to contact the new State Economic Development Agency and to request that its commissioner make a study of the San Fernando Valley, pointed toward potential industrial and commercial growth. This study was completed in August, and the commissioner took part in a press conference with the Chamber president at the Chamber's "Open House" August 17. That evening a report on the Valley was presented at Sportsmen's Lodge to several hundred Valley leaders which disclosed that the Valley is growing at more than twice the national rate. It was predicted that defense work would level off in coming years and be replaced by growth in commercial electronics, metal working, instruments, and automation systems.

Van Nuys Chamber also cooperated with the staff of the Research department of Security First National Bank in supplying information about the Valley for a 112-page study published by the bank in September.

The Van Nuys Chamber's all-out effort to publicize the growth and progress in Van Nuys during the past 50 years augurs well for the continued prosperity and development in the Golden Years Ahead.

AT WOMAN'S CLUB

Garden Section Will View Color Slides

Breath-taking fall foliage and exciting scenes of the Atlantic States is picture fare for the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club on Wednesday at an 11 a.m. luncheon in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

These exceptional slides will be presented by Mrs. J. Earl Stewart, according to Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman.

Mrs. Stewart, president of the Encino Historical Society, is especially interested in American culture, art and native plant life. She takes seriously the fact that landmarks do not just "continue to exist" without something being done about it.

She says the same applies to home gardens. The slides will show fall garden scenes in Washington, D.C., New York and other Atlantic Coast cities. Also included are natural waterfalls and historical landmarks of this area.

The inspirational will be presented by Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp. A garden poem will be read by Mrs. Charles E. Lane and garden hints will be given by Mrs. Daniel Fleming.

A sandwich luncheon will be enjoyed by members and guests. Dessert and coffee will be served by Mmes. Francis J. Tyler, Carolyn Durfee, Oscar Bouey, Marie Nehls and Maud Harden.

The business meeting, presided over by Mrs. Stratton, will follow the luncheon. Business of the day includes the appointment of a nominating committee for election of section officers.

A social hour and cards conducted by Mrs. Edward Armstrong will complete the afternoon.

CHAIRMAN of Weanesday's Garden Section program at Van Nuys Woman's Club is Mrs. Henry Walter Stratton. She has arranged for Mrs. J. Earl Stewart of Encino to show color slides from Atlantic Seaboard.

Clubwomen to Converge Here on April 14

Delegates, members and friends will converge for the fifth annual convention of Sierra-Cahuenga District 15, California Federation of Women's Clubs, on Friday April 14, at 9:30 a.m. at Sportsmen's Lodge, 12833 Ventura Blvd.

Registration and credentials committees under the chairmenship of Mrs. Floyd McGowan, Burbank and Mrs. Fred J. Wehren, Northridge, will be on duty at 8:30 a.m.

33 Clubs Take Part

Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood, president, announces that since the year's administration theme is "Light One Little Candle," the convention will be centered on "So Bright the Light" spotlighting accomplishments of the 33 clubs that comprise the district.

Awards will be given in all departments by district chairmen under the supervision of Mrs. Bramwell Lieber of Reseda, convention awards chairman.

Elwood N. Chapman, lecturer and human relations consultant and author of the nationally distributed film "Your Attitude is Showing," will address the luncheon assembly.

Luncheon Speaker

Mr. Chapman, a professor at Chaffey College in Ontario where he teaches subjects in human relations, salesmanship and merchandising, also is a member of the summer staff at Claremont Graduate School and of the faculty of the American Institute of Banking.

He received his bachelor of arts degree from University of California at Berkeley and his masters at Claremont College.

He spent five years in industry and five years in the United States Army, three which were spent overseas where he received the Legion of Merit and held the rank of major.

MRS. JERRY RUSCH
Convention Chairman

Head Arrangements

Other convention chairmen in charge of details are Mmes. Jerry B. Rusch, Sherman Oaks, convention and program; George Baker, formerly of Van Nuys, rules and regulations; George O. Chapman, by-laws revisions.

Also Mmes. Herbert E. Horn, Burbank, press; Dale Pinkerton, Chatsworth, Frank McDonnell, Burbank, hospitality and platform; E. R. Butterfield, Burbank, amenities; Austin L. Davis, decorations.

Reservations to the luncheon close Saturday with Mrs. Royce Hooper, 6927 Orion Ave., Van Nuys.

Annual Show on Saturday

Floral Extravaganza Is Due at Van Nuys Club

By MARY FOSTER

Annual floral extravaganza "Around the World" will be presented by the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club on Saturday from 2 to 5 p.m. and from 7 to 9 o'clock in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Milton Morley is general chairman.

As members and guests begin this fascinating tour through the land of flowers, they will view an arrangement done in the Japanese manner, the New York skyline which will feature a modern composition suggesting tall buildings; the Leaning Tower of Pisa which will be an interpretation of balance.

MRS. MILTON MORLEY
Flower Show Chairman

Polar Entries

The coolness of ice and snow executed in materials similar in appearance will depict the polar regions. All entries in this classification must have won three or more blue ribbons.

The Novice Division will display its talents in an arrangement in a cart suggesting the flower markets of France. India, the United Nations and Canada will be represented in this class.

The beautiful Isle of Hawaii, South America, Tahiti and Africa will be featured, too.

The student division of Van Nuys High School will create replicas of London Tea Time, the Parthenon, an arrangement suggesting the gay fiesta of Spain as well as miniature displays.

Shade Lovers

Surina's Camellia Gardens at 16034 Parthenia St. will recreate on the stage the shade garden so popular in the Valley with the use of ferns, camellias, azaleas and other shade loving plants.

There will be the usual display of roses, perennials, annuals, bulbous flowers, flowering shrubs and other flowers in season representing the best of gardens in San Fernando Valley.

This enchanting tour "Around the World" in the land of plants and flowers will end with refreshments served from the lace covered, flower bedecked tea table with Mmes. Harvey Leuckel, chairman, Emilie Kingdon, Mogens Bauditz and A. H. Bierkamp presiding.

Awards Listed

Mrs. Morley announces there will be cash awards in some divisions with ribbon awards going to the lower point winners. A sweepstakes trophy will be awarded by The Van Nuys News for the best arrangement of the show, and a trophy for the best rose and best specimen.

Assisting Mrs. Morley are Mmes. Daniel Fleming, advertising; C. Edward Brown, schedule and ribbons; Lloyd G. Rainey, Horace Way, James Neel and Henry Stratton, judges.

Registration is under the direction of Mrs. Martin Fritzen, tickets, Mrs. Fred Smith and Miss Dorothy Livingston, specimen, Mrs. William Lloyd, chairman; posters, Mmes. R. H. Zastrow, Frank Vitale and Morley.

The awarding of gifts from local merchants will be under the direction of Mrs. Helen Hungerman; with Mrs. A. E. W. Greaves and Mrs. Claude Fox in charge of signs. Publicity is being handled by Mrs. T. P. Foster.

Flower Show

Division Winners Revealed

By MARY FOSTER

The annual Spring Flower Show staged by the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club with its "Around the World" theme provided the many talented arrangers and novices with an opportunity to compete for awards during the most successful and widely attended event since its inception several seasons ago.

The sweepstakes award given by The Van Nuys News went to Mrs. J. M. Coppage for a Japanese black lacquered base supporting a white porcelain vase and arrangement of pine branches, chrysanthemums and liriope.

The award was presented by Mrs. James L. Neel, president of the club, for the donors.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy was won by Lynn Wagner 13, for her arrangement in the Spanish mood. She used an oblong shaped basket and spring flowers. Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, Garden Section chairman, presented the award for the donor.

The best rose award went to Mrs. Henry Wood and Mrs. G. D. Dames' entry of a potted orchid took best speciman award. These were made by Mrs. Milton Morley, show general chairman.

Sierra-Cahuenga

District Clubs Claim Rewards

A convention that grew like Topsy this year, took steps for 1962 expansion as Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Women's Clubs voted to schedule the next conclave for two days instead of one.

Locale may be Antelope Valley, it was indicated during the week end session held at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood who conducted the first board meeting Monday of her second phase presidency (she is in for two year term), said the board has gone on record as actively backing General Federation's upcoming Cancer Crusade and also will participate with other county clubs in next fall's All Nations Festival sponsored by the Dept. of Parks and Recreation.

Awards highlighted the day-long conference which intermittently punctuated proceedings with presentation of citations and scrolls.

Art winners announced during luncheon were Jewel Cooper, North Hollywood, first; Mary Hocking, Burbank, second, and Hazel Runschild, North Hollywood, third.

District Clubs Claim Rewards

A convention that grew like Topsy this year, took steps for 1962 expansion as Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Women's Clubs voted to schedule the next conclave for two days instead of one.

Locale may be Antelope Valley, it was indicated during the week end session held at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood who conducted the first board meeting Monday of her second phase presidency (she is in for two year term), said the board has gone on record as actively backing General Federation's upcoming Cancer Crusade and also will participate with other county clubs in next fall's All Nations Festival sponsored by the Dept. of Parks and Recreation.

Awards highlighted the day-long conference which intermittently punctuated proceedings with presentation of citations and scrolls.

Art winners announced during luncheon were Jewel Cooper, North Hollywood, first; Mary Hocking, Burbank, second, and Hazel Runschild, North Hollywood, third.

Poetry winners were Mmes. Harry Loud, Sherman Oaks, first; William S. Harkness, North Hollywood, second; Bess Darnell McKain, San Fernando, third.

Flower Show

Division Winners Revealed

By MARY FOSTER

The annual Spring Flower Show staged by the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club with its "Around the World" theme provided the many talented arrangers and novices with an opportunity to compete for awards during the most successful and widely attended event since its inception several seasons ago.

The sweepstakes award given by The Van Nuys News went to Mrs. J. M. Coppage for a Japanese black lacquered base supporting a white porcelain vase and arrangement of pine branches, chrysanthemums and liriope.

The award was presented by Mrs. James L. Neel, president of the club, for the donors.

The Junior Chamber of Commerce trophy was won by Lynn Wagner 13, for her arrangement in the Spanish mood. She used an oblong shaped basket and spring flowers. Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, Garden Section chairman, presented the award for the donor.

The best rose award went to Mrs. Henry Wood and Mrs. G. D. Dames' entry of a potted orchid took best speciman award. These were made by Mrs. Milton Morley, show general chairman.

Sierra-Cahuenga

District Clubs Claim Rewards

A convention that grew like Topsy this year, took steps for 1962 expansion as Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Women's Clubs voted to schedule the next conclave for two days instead of one.

Locale may be Antelope Valley, it was indicated during the week end session held at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood who conducted the first board meeting Monday of her second phase presidency (she is in for two year term), said the board has gone on record as actively backing General Federation's upcoming Cancer Crusade and also will participate with other county clubs in next fall's All Nations Festival sponsored by the Dept. of Parks and Recreation.

Awards highlighted the day-long conference which intermittently punctuated proceedings with presentation of citations and scrolls.

Art winners announced during luncheon were Jewel Cooper, North Hollywood, first; Mary Hocking, Burbank, second, and Hazel Runschild, North Hollywood, third.

District Clubs Claim Rewards

A convention that grew like Topsy this year, took steps for 1962 expansion as Sierra-Cahuenga District, California Federation of Women's Clubs voted to schedule the next conclave for two days instead of one.

Locale may be Antelope Valley, it was indicated during the week end session held at Sportsmen's Lodge.

Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood who conducted the first board meeting Monday of her second phase presidency (she is in for two year term), said the board has gone on record as actively backing General Federation's upcoming Cancer Crusade and also will participate with other county clubs in next fall's All Nations Festival sponsored by the Dept. of Parks and Recreation.

Awards highlighted the day-long conference which intermittently punctuated proceedings with presentation of citations and scrolls.

Art winners announced during luncheon were Jewel Cooper, North Hollywood, first; Mary Hocking, Burbank, second, and Hazel Runschild, North Hollywood, third.

An exchange student panel will highlight the American Field Services, presentation for Legislation Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club, when it meets at April 26 at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. E. J. Turner, legislation chairman, arranged for the exchange student question and answer program through Dr. Walter H. Staves, Valley president of American Field Service, and Mrs. H. D. Gritzner, area director.

Dr. Staves, who will be narrator of the program, was instrumental in establishing the Valley Division of the American Field Service.

According to Mrs. Gritzner, who will conduct the panel discussion, these young people studying in schools of different lands, must have a knowledge of the country's customs, as well as an understanding of the language spoken in the locale where they attend studies.

One of the students invited to discuss his country is Kiat Bounthong from Laos, a senior at John Burroughs High School, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. George Stoica in Burbank.

Armchair Tour Set for Van Nuys

The Schuchplatter, a traditional dance of Tirol in Innsbuck is just one of the spectacular events captured in the European travelogue to be presented by Mrs. Robert L. Ellis for the Garden section of Van Nuys Woman's Club in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

According to Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman, the slides will include Austria, Italy, Germany and England.

Picture fare of Austria covers the capitol of Tirol, Innsbuck. This Alpine locale, the site of the next Winter Olympics, is located midway between Vorarlberg and Salzburg. Traveling via film, 35 miles southward is historic Brenner Pass and the Italian Tirol.

Extraordinary Color

Films of Italy show Rome's beautiful statues and fountains as well as the ancient ruins of the Roman Empire.

According to Mrs. Ellis, in this locale many pictures were taken at dusk because of the extraordinary color reflected in the sunset.

Photographs of Germany include castles along the Rhine, vineyards from which the grapes that produce Rhine wine are grown and the famous Black Forest.

Mrs. Ellis will conclude this narrated armchair journey in her former homeland England. These slides will show the changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace, the celebration of Queen Elizabeth's birthday, a trip along the Thames and the showing of her own family-reunion, an event when four generations were represented.

Luncheon hostesses for the day include Mmes. Ora Wagoner and Florence Bradley.

Plant Exchange

The plant exchange table will be chairmaned by Mrs. Mabel Hammaker and the social hour and card session will be headed by Mrs. Edward Armstrong.

Mrs. Stratton will conclude the luncheon program and conduct a short business meeting when she will announce June 7 "Chicken in the Basket" luncheon plans.

Photographer-Lecturer Is Program Fare for Van Nuys

"My Search for the Disciples," an illustrated talk, will be presented by Sune Richards, nationally known artist-photographer-lecturer, at tomorrow's 12 noon luncheon meeting of Van Nuys Woman's Club in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Richards, a dedicated artist, does intensive research prior to photographing and painting of her subjects. She uses real life models who resemble Biblical people, to make these portraits as accurate as possible.

In her inspirational illustrated lecture, Mrs. Richards presents a touch of personal humor as well as humility.

She received a special citation from the Professional Photographers of America for her art reproductions of the disciples of Jesus, which are being circulated throughout the world. One of her life size portraits of one of the disciples hangs in the foyer of a church in Washington, D.C.

Brahmas, Monarchs Face Busy Week End

Pierce and Valley College tracksters, marking time while waiting for their respective conference meets next week, are faced with a busy week end of activity. The Brahmas travel to Mt. San Antonio College today to compete in the 113-event Mt. SAC Relays while the Monarchs are concluding their Metropolitan Conference dual meet season at Harbor against the seventh-place Seahawks.

Valley, now sharing the Metropolitan Conference lead with Long Beach and Bakersfield, is heavily favored over Harbor.

The Seahawks have won only one of six meets this season.

Coach George Ker has predicted his athletes will win seven events against Harbor—the mile, 880, relay, two-mile, shot put, broad jump and discus.

Steve Matthews will enter both the mile and two-mile for the Lions, but both Brad Bechtol and Lou Fasano will miss the meet due to injuries.

With the exception of Lew Barnett and Jack White, both of whom are shelved with in-

Deadline for 1961 Softball Tourney Near

Today is deadline for entries for this season's municipal preseason softball tournament, scheduled to start the week of May 8, according to Tom Peterson, director of municipal sports.

The tourney is open to all teams in the San Fernando Valley area which intend to participate in this season's municipal softball program, he said.

"Purpose of the tournament is to assist officials in the classification of teams for league play. Teams desiring the best possible placement in a well-balanced league are advised to enter the tournament," he said.

In order that participating teams may have the opportunity to play a large number of games, a consolation-type tourney will be conducted.

In this type of competition losers of their first games are placed in a consolation bracket, while winners of their first games remain in the championship bracket.

Games will be played on Los Angeles playgrounds throughout the Valley area, Peterson said.

Further information may be obtained by contacting the Valley District Municipal Sports Office between 1:30 and 4:30 p.m. on week days at either POplar 2-6895 or POplar 3-7783.

Armchair Tour Set for Van Nuys

The Schuchplatter, a traditional dance of Tirol in Innsbuck is just one of the spectacular events captured in the European travelogue to be presented by Mrs. Robert L. Ellis for the Garden section of Van Nuys Woman's Club in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

According to Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman, the slides will include Austria, Italy, Germany and England.

Picture fare of Austria covers the capitol of Tirol, Innsbuck. This Alpine locale, the site of the next Winter Olympics, is located midway between Vorarlberg and Salzburg. Traveling via film, 35 miles southward is historic Brenner Pass and the Italian Tirol.

MRS. ROBERT L. ELLIS
To Conduct 'Tour'

Extraordinary Color

Films of Italy show Rome's beautiful statues and fountains as well as the ancient ruins of the Roman Empire.

According to Mrs. Ellis, in this locale many pictures were taken at dusk because of the extraordinary color reflected in the sunset.

Photographs of Germany include castles along the Rhine, vineyards from which the grapes that produce Rhine wine are grown and the famous Black Forest.

Mrs. Ellis will conclude this narrated armchair journey in her former homeland England. These slides will show the changing of the guards at Buckingham Palace, the celebration of Queen Elizabeth's birthday, a trip along the Thames and the showing of her own family-reunion, an event when four generations were represented.

Luncheon hostesses for the day include Mmes. Ora Daly, William Healy, W. W. Richardson, Emilie Kingdon, Tim Shafer, Leonard Wagoner and Florence Bradley.

Plant Exchange

The plant exchange table will be chairmaned by Mrs. Mabel Hammaker and the social hour and card session will be headed by Mrs. Edward Armstrong.

Mrs. Stratton will conclude the luncheon program and conduct a short business meeting when she will announce June 7 "Chicken in the Basket" luncheon plans.

MRS. E. J. TURNER
Arranges Program

An exchange student panel will highlight the American Field Services, presentation for Legislation Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club, when it meets at April 26 at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. E. J. Turner, legislation chairman, arranged for the exchange student question and answer program through Dr. Walter H. Staves, Valley president of American Field Service, and Mrs. H. D. Gritzner, area director.

Dr. Staves, who will be narrator of the program, was instrumental in establishing the Valley Division of the American Field Service.

According to Mrs. Gritzner, who will conduct the panel discussion, these young people studying in schools of different lands, must have a knowledge of the country's customs, as well as an understanding of the language spoken in the locale where they attend studies.

One of the students invited to discuss his country is Kiat Bounthong from Laos, a senior at John Burroughs High School, who resides with Mr. and Mrs. George Stoica in Burbank.

DR. WALTER H. STAVES
AFS President

The program will be concluded at 12 noon by Mrs. Turner to be followed by Van Nuys Woman's club's general meeting. Mrs. Turner also is secretary of Sherman Oaks Chamber of Commerce.

BIBLICAL SUBJECT

Photographer-Lecturer Is Program Fare for Van Nuys

"My Search for the Disciples," an illustrated talk, will be presented by Sune Richards, nationally known artist-photographer-lecturer, at tomorrow's 12 noon luncheon meeting of Van Nuys Woman's Club in the clubhouse at 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. Richards, a dedicated artist, does intensive research prior to photographing and painting of her subjects. She uses real life models who resemble Biblical people, to make these portraits as accurate as possible.

In her inspirational illustrated lecture, Mrs. Richards presents a touch of personal humor as well as humility.

She received a special citation from the Professional Photographers of America for her art reproductions of the disciples of Jesus, which are being circulated throughout the world. One of her life size portraits of one of the disciples hangs in the foyer of a church in Washington, D. C.

Luncheon hostesses for the day chairmaned by Mr Belle Bever comprise Mme H. S. Brown, V. D. Slocum Norman Thatcher Berth

State Conclave for Clubwomen

The 58th annual convention of California Federation of Women's Clubs will be held in Sacramento May 8 to 11 with headquarters at the Senator Hotel. Business sessions will be held in the Masonic Temple auditorium.

Dedicated to the "Club Presidents — the most important women in federation," the entire convention is being planned around the theme of the role of women as "responsive and responsible citizens in public affairs." Speakers are from departments of the state government that correspond closely with the departments of the federation.

Distinguished Guests

Opening ceremonies on Monday evening will feature a welcome by Hon. James B. McKinney, mayor of Sacramento, with Dr. Edward L. Peet, chaplain of the Senate giving the invocation.

Mrs. Earl Hazelton, president, and Mrs. Jerry Seale, director of junior membership, will give their annual reports, following reports of officers and the presentation of honored guests.

Helen Ewing Nelson, Consumer Counsel, State of California, will be the featured speaker on Tuesday afternoon. Her address will be "The Consumer in the Spotlight." Since the legislature will be in session Mrs. Nelson will comment on current bills of interest to the consumer.

Panel discussions designed to give practical suggestions to the delegates as an aid in implementing the program of federation will be presented by district presidents.

Keynote Address

Dr. Daniel Lieberman, deputy director of the Dept. of Mental Hygiene, State of California, will address the convention Wednesday afternoon, May 10.

The annual banquet in the Empire Room of the Senator Hotel will feature an address by William E. Warne, director of the Dept. of Water Resources, State of California.

Presentation of Richfield Conservation Awards will be made by Kenneth Newerf, director of conservation for Richfield.

The banquet will be the high point of the convention, with the theme "Sacramento—Heart of Our State" carried out in unique decorations.

Set "Club Clinic"

Mrs. George Alexander, convention chairman, and her hostess committee have planned surprises of historical interest and delegates will have an opportunity to visit the legislature.

"The Club Clinic" will be a unique presentation featuring a question box with diagnoses and prescriptions

LITERATURE SECTION

Interpreter Ruth Fuller to Be Speaker for Van Nuys Club

Ruth Cornell Fuller, distinguished literature interpreter, will appear in costume to present her program for the Literature Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club on Thursday at a 12 noon luncheon, to be held in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

According to Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, section chairman, the renowned Mrs. Fuller will review "The Agony and the Ecstasy" by Irving Stone, a biography of Michelangelo, which deals with the world of art of that century. She will portray this era 1475-1564, in colorful costume. Some of her portrayals will depict Michelangelo the painter, the sculptor, the architect and the poet.

This recognized artist, honored for her service in interpreting the East to the West, in the realm of philosophy, art and music, is the founder of Ruth Cornell Fuller Literary Salons, 245 S. Wilton Place, downtown.

Monthly programs of art, music, literature and philosophy are presented by her at the salon. These programs are attended by some of the world's most distinguished people.

In private life Mrs. Fuller is the wife of internationally known vocal educator Sidney L. Eastman. They reside in Los Angeles and both husband and wife are listed in "Who's Who in California."

A salad luncheon is planned, according to Mrs. Daniel Fleming, chairman. She will be assisted by Mmes. Howell C. McDaniel, Walter Crippen, A.E.W. Greaves, William Barrett, Frank Gould, R. H. Zastrow, Franklyn Buerck and Dale Teachenor.

LABOR SECRETARY SAYS 3,000,000 JOBS WILL OPEN

U.S. Secretary of Labor Arthur J. Goldberg predicted there will be almost 3,000,000 more jobs by the end of the year.

Speaking at a Beverly Hilton Hotel press conference, Goldberg said the nation needs at least 6,800,000 more jobs to make headway in the unemployment problem.

He stated the unemployed total 4,900,000—6.8% of the available work force.

Goldberg added President Kennedy has "some very imaginative and unique proposals to offer Congress" to cope with unemployment.

He said the Labor Management Advisory Council has called the present unemployment rate "intolerable" and "we will do something about

In announcing his preliminary operating budget in April, Supt. Jarvis noted that the $268,961,778 figure made allowances for an increase of 23,000 students, 1000 more teachers and the opening of 13 additional schools during the 1961-62 year.

The committee did some cutting at yesterday's session. However, only $261,000 was eliminated from Jarvis' preliminary budget, while more than $6,000,000 was added.

With the addition to the school budget, taxpayers now face a combined tax rate increase of around 30 cents, of which nearly all is for schools.

The other four principal taxing authorities are moving along these lines:

City, up 5½ cents; county, down .05 cents; flood control, down .96 cents, and Metropolitan Water District, down 1 cent.

The tentative budget would give the city's 20,000 teachers a 2.8% salary hike during the coming fiscal year.

Big items in the amount added yesterday are $5,400,000 for possible certified salary adjustments, $575,000 for possible non-teaching salaries (janitorial and others), $600,000 for additional child care facilities and $36,100 for an experimental foreign language program in 44 elementary schools to be conducted after school hours.

The county manager recommended no raises for another 3050 employes, including janitors and elevator operators, whom he said already were getting prevailing wages.

Representatives of 4200 county firemen and deputy sheriffs have asked for a 11% increase similar to the one granted city police and firemen.

Supervisors were reported willing to consider the extra raise for firemen and deputies —although the second 5.5% boost may be deferred until January.

This compromise would boost payroll costs only $850,000 in the 1961-62 budget while it would cost $1,700,000 more to finance the full 11% boost.

Hollinger's full proposal would give raises to 37,218 general county and special district employes at a total cost of $15,438,159 for extra salaries and retirement in the coming year.

The committee recommendations of yesterday set up the figures from which the tentative budget will be compiled. The tentative budget itself will be prepared for presentation to the board on June 22.

The Agony and the Ecstasy ...

Irving Stone's latest work, a biographical novel of the Italian genius, Michelangelo-(Doubleday, $5.95); has already in a brief few weeks since its publication climbed to first place on the nation's best-seller-lists.

In 1475 Florence, Italy was the intellectual and artistic center of the Italian Renaissance. This beautful city-state was ruled by the patron of arts and letters, Lorenzo de' Medici, who gathered around him the finest scholars and poets of the period; they were known as the Plato Four. De' Medici's Academy undertook to educate the young Michelangelo in Latin and Greek; poetry and philosophy. In the gardens of the Medici palace he learned more about marble and sculpture from the master Bertoldo, he experienced the deep joy he found only in sculpture in releasing the forms and the beauty imprisoned in pure white marble.

Michelangelo Buonarroti, was one of the greatest geniuses the world has ever produced-sculptor-painter-poet-architect-and engineer, he was a perfectionist and completely dedicated to his creations. He was apprenticed at the age of thirteen to the painter Ghirlandaio, much against his family's wishes. A short time later he moved into the fabulous palace of Il Magnifico (Lorenzo de' Medici) as his protege. "Lorenzo also pushed his education. One Sunday morning he asked Michelangelo to accompany the Medici family to the church of San Gallo where they would hear Fra Mariano, to whose cloister Lorenzo went when he wanted a serious discussion theology. " 'Fra Mariano is my ideal,' " said Lorenzo, " 'he has graceful austerity, elegant asceticism, and the liberal religion of enlightened common sense.' "

Irving Stone spent several years in Italy studying the mountains of data that have been written about the artist. Michelangelo's four hundred and ninety-five letters; records and art-contracts. In Florence, Stone learned to carve marble, and to think and feel as a sculptor at work.

* * *

From 1508-12-SISTINE CHAPEL CEILING-in the Vatican Palace and from 1536-41 Michelangelo worked on THE LAST JUDGEMENT in the Sistine Chapel. Pope Julius had commissioned Michelangelo to carve some marbles for his ornate tomb, but had been convinced by friends that the tomb would hasten his death. "His Holiness now wanted Michelangelo to paint the vault of the Sistine Chapel, the ugliest, most clumsy, ill-conceived and God-forsaken piece of architecture in all Italy." "The motive for the commission now became crushingly clear to him. It was not to put magnificent paintings on the ceiling that would complement the earlier frescoes, but rather to mask the structural supports which made the harsh transition from the top third of the wall into the barrel vault. His Apostles were not to be created for themselves but rather to capture the gaze of the people on the floor so their attention would be diverted from the ungainly architectural divisions. As an artist he had become not merely a decorator but an obliterator of other men's clumsiness."

One of Michelangelo's greatest sculptures was the DAVID-1501-04 now in the Accedemia in Florence. Carved from a seventeen foot column of marble, "Now the column cried out to him, giving itself wholly. His tools tore into its flesh with terrifying penetration, searching for elbows and thighs and chest and groin and kneecap. The white crystals that had laid dormant for half a century yielded lovingly to his every touch, from the sublest nuance to the driving "Go!" in which his hammer and chisel swept upward from the ankle through the knee and thigh without stopping, the routine count of seven for work followed by four of rest, abandoned as he felt within himself the strength of a hundred men."

After years of love and toil the DAVID is at last installed at the foot of the palace steps facing the open piazza. "A crowd was standing below the DAVID in silence. Fluttering from the statue were pieces of paper stuck to the marble during the night..." "He came to the DAVID, climbed up on the base, began taking off the papers, reading them one by one. By the end of the third, his eyes began to mist: for they were messages of love and acceptance:

You have given us back our self-respect.
We are proud to be Florentines.
How magnificant is man!
Never can they tell me man is vile; he is the proudest creature on earth.
You have made a thing of beauty. Bravo!
His eye caught a familiar paper, of a kind he had held in his hands before. He reached for it and read:
Everything my father hoped to accomplish for Florence is expressed in your David.
Contessina Ridolfi de' Medici"

Irving Stone has written a monumental and lasting work. He has captured the spirit and the beauty of the Italian Renaissance, but more importantly he has captured the spirit of the genius of Michelangelo. The frustrations, and the agony of creating beauty so deep within the artist, his love which three women knew but none of whom he ever married. THE AGONY AND THE ECTASY is a thoroughly fascinating and exciting book, almost impossible to put aside for life's daily necessary, but mundane considerations required of one. It is a book filled with the violent colors of living—the shadows and brilliance of sunshine.

Talent Show for Van Nuys Women

"Comin' Round the Mountain" is the title of the program to be presented by club talent for the Garden Section of Van Nuys Woman's Club's "Chicken In The Basket Luncheon" on Wednesday, June 7, at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

According to Mrs. Henry W. Stratton, section chairman, the fun day entertainment will be headed by Mrs. William O. Wuest.

Featured in the "Comin' Round the Mountain" talent show will be fictitious Ma Solosky," just arriving from the city. Her arrival is followed by various dramatic and pantomime skits.

Community singing with Mrs. Wuest as song leader will feature various modifications of the lyrics. Piano accompaniment will be provided by Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey and Mrs. Eugene Cotter.

The white elephant table will be chairmaned by Mrs. Daniel Fleming and Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp.

Flower specimens will be judged by Mrs. Florence Bradley and Mrs. Charles E. Lane.

The chicken luncheon will be served by Mmes. William W. Lloyd, J. A. Schumacher, Lawrence O'Connor, Harold C. Kreutzinger, C. W. Lennoz and Miss Ella Baxter. Members and guests will bring their own service.

Reservations are being taken by Mrs. William Vasey at STate 4-2274 or Mrs. Stratton at STate 4-0314.

Luncheon Tribute to Club President

A silver and crystal luncheon will be held today at 12 noon in the home of Mrs. Harvey N. Leuckel, 15230 Cohasset St., to honor Mrs. James L. Neel, outgoing president of Van Nuys Woman's Club.

MRS. JAMES NEEL
Says Farewells

Prior to the luncheon executive board members will convene at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. Neel for a short business meeting.

Mrs. Neel will be specially cited for her recently compiled Van Nuys historical material which won the club an award at the recent Sierra-Cahuenga District convention.

The luncheon table will have pink and white decor enhanced by silver tapers and centered with a huge doll cake.

The hostess has arranged nosegay corsages as place settings.

Aside from Mrs. Neel and Mrs. Leuckel other board members attending are Mmes. Lewis M. Reed, Paul T. Murray, Robert L. Ellis, George Weaver, Eugene Cotter, James T. Dresser, Norman Kramer, Fred D. Smith, Richard Roe, Anthony Panza, J. Howard Wilson and Miss Dorothy Livingston.

A farewell gift will also be presented to Mrs. Murray who is moving to Santa Barbara.

Mrs. Murray has held various offices on the executive board for six years and was also active in many of the club's philanthropies.

Mr. and Mrs. Leuckel are planning to fly soon to Scottsdale, Ariz., for a June vacation. They will stay at Camel Back Inn. Their plans include a side tour on the Apache Trail to Roosevelt Lake and visits to friends in Phoenix during their stay.

Young Valley Artists Show Work at Van Nuys Clubhouse

Van Nuys Woman's Club art chairman Mrs. Frank Vitale, has chosen a group of young Valley artists to exhibit paintings for the month of June at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

According to Mrs. Vitale, the exhibitors are from the North Valley Art Association, founded by Jack Lawrence, a 16-year-old Monroe High School student.

Jack is now preparing works for his one man art exhibit at the clubhouse early next December.

The young artist is the originator of Philbert, a cartoon which appears in "The News" on Friday's Teen Talk page.

Other young artists featured in the art exhibit are Ronald Pusich, a 19-year-old artist who paints still life both in water color and oil and Thomas Badillo.

Tom was born in Glendale and lived three years in Puerto Rico, prior to his Valley residence. He is a youthful 18-year-old painter who specializes in figure drawing. He also does portraits along with other works in water color and oils.

MAGIC BOULEVARDS

Signals All Red Along Van Nuys

(This is the third in a series of eight articles covering the magic boulevards over which the mainstreams of Los Angeles area life travel.)

By ED ADDEO
Citizen-News Staff Writer

Van Nuys Boulevard goes from one extreme to the other.

It begins at Valley Vista Blvd., that scenic road meandering through the expensive hills in the southern part of the Valley, and ends 11.5 miles later as a bumpy dirt road in Pacoima. But between these extremes stretches, a boulevard that daily beckons Valleyites to come and do everything from play softball to feed Santa's reindeer.

Citizen-News EXCLUSIVE

Let's drive from Valley Vista northward.

Be warned though, that we'll drive very slowly, for we could drive this stretch for years, and probably never be able to figure out at what speed the signal lights are set. We could try creeping away from a signal at about two r .les per hour, but the light'll be red at the next street.

We could also try giving ourselves a whiplash when the light turns green, but that's tough on the brakes at the next street—the light'll still be red. (Please, city planners. Don't write any letters to t[he] editor unless you've tried it yourselves).

Van Nuys Boulevard, from Valley Vista to Ventura boulevards, is lined with tall evergreens, and has beautiful homes on either side of the street. This scenery is short-lived, however, because suddenly we're crossing Ventura, and the trees and houses are gone.

We now see a multi-story office building being constructed on the left, and the rather small Sherman Oaks-Van Nuys War Memorial Park on the right. It's interesting to notice the men working on the building jumping from girder to girder like monkeys, and across the street, kids jumping from bench to bench—you guessed it—also like monkeys.

MANY CAR LOTS

A few more red lights and we notice that the place is crawling with used car lots. There is an old couple in one, looking suspiciously at a '51 Chevvie, and a high school kid in another, sitting behind the wheel of a '54 Ford — with pipes, natch—and a man with a worried look reaching for his wallet.

There are many restaurants on Van Nuys Boulevard. Nothing plush, just various types of places where the weary shopper or used car seeker can rest his feet and wake up his stomach. There's an ultra-modern cafeteria and an old-time diner. And of course there's the drive-in where, it seems, every high school kid in the world goes—not to eat, just to see if any of his buddies are there. I don't know what they do then.

On into the more crowded area, between about Oxnard and Vanowen streets, and we see a couple theaters, many furniture stores, what seems like thousands of people going in and out of car doors, swinging doors, revolving doors, glass doors, wooden doors and bamboo doors. A sign says that they use bubble bath in the car-wash they'll give you for mere pennies.

Stopped for another red light, we get a chance to just gaze around the intersection. A woman sits on a bench, alone except for several large sacks set along the length of it, and a small crowd stands behind her, sternly eyeing the results of her shopping spree. A few lunch hour friends chat between cars at another drive-in.

The light changes, and a horn honks anonymously behind us.

We drive on through the northern edge of Van Nuys, and we see a large automobile plant on the right, a stately milk company building on the left, and then a large red heart tells us we're entering Panorama City, "The Heart of the Valley."

Crossing Roscoe Blvd., we can't help but remark about the compact little shopping center, punctuated by the huge department store towering on the left.

We pass a bowling alley a few blocks later, and from here on it's more or less monotonous.

We follow the curve to the right, and continue through another shopping district into Pacoima. A few miles of this, past small frozen custard, taco and pizza stands, and traffic lets up. We pass the clean-looking Fire Station 98, and pretty soon we come to Foothill Blvd., and we guess this is the end of the road.

Naturally, we're stopped for the red light, so we glance at the street sign on the far corner. It says, "Van Nuys Blvd."

We cross it, and drive slowly along a dirt road, trying to avoid the ruts. We notice a beautiful array of carnation fields on the left, a few houses on the right.

We find it's really the end when we come to Gladstone St., and we decide to go back and maybe do a little shopping. Maybe even pick up a second car. So we turn around and start.

Guess what?

The light's red at Foothill.

Installation Luncheon

Van Nuys Club Rites

"A Garden of Harmony in Music" is the theme chosen by Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey, past president and installing officer, for the Van Nuys Woman's Club luncheon rites next Wednesday at 12 noon in the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Mrs. James L. Neel will present her presidential adieu prior to the ceremony.

Mrs. Rainey will be assisted by Mrs. Charles E. Lane during the ceremony using replicas of musical instruments.

A "surprise orchestra" will provide music during the ceremony.

Special Recognition

Another highlight of the day is special recognition to a group of women's editors for services rendered. Receiving this recognition are Ethel Taylor, The News and Green Sheet; Addie Banks, Valley Times Today, and Pat Phillips, Citizen-News.

Also getting plaudits are Mrs. Eugene Cotter, clubhouse restoration, and Mrs. Paul T. Murray, membership chairman, responsible for the club's boost of 42 new members on its roster.

MRS. LEWIS REED
Takes Over Reins

Table decor will feature the musical theme with fresh garden flowers.

Elected officers to be seated are Mmes. Lewis M. Reed, president; Norman Kramer, first vice president; Robert L. Ellis, second vice president; Harvey N. Leuckel, recording secretary; George Weaver, corresponding secretary; James T. Dresser, treasurer, and Miss Dorothy Livingston, financial secretary.

Seat Chairmen

Chairmen also to be seated are Mmes. A. H. Bierkamp, program; Fred D. Smith, ways and means; Martin Fritzen, section curator; Daniel Fleming, hospitality; E. J. Turner, rentals, and Edward Armstrong, press.

The afternoon will be concluded when Mrs. Neel presents her gavel to Mrs. Reed. Then the latter will announce her appointed garden section chairmen who will be installed at the group's July meeting.

In addition to her long time membership in the woman's club Mrs. Reed has been active in other groups including hospital guild and Chapter AN of the P.E.O. of which she is past president.

Wanderlust Infiltrates Ranks of Recessed Valley Clubwomen

Vacation time is here again for Van Nuys Woman's Club members and their families.

Folks plan many things for their summer interest. Many travel to other locales, some stay home enjoying nice sunny days and starting long awaited projects, like remodeling their homes.

In the latter category the James T. Dressers of Van Nuys will be taking out a few walls for the new addition to their Peach Ave. home.

According to Mrs. Dresser, a larger living room and kitchen area will be accomplished at the completion of this project. Mrs. Dresser is the newly installed club treasurer.

Lakeside Hideaway

No remodeling for the Lewis M. Reeds of North Hollywood, though. They plan to relax at their summer cottage at Lake Arrowhead. Mrs. Reed is the new club president.

Vacation for the James L. Neels and sons Murdoch and Robert, will be a junket to San Francisco starting Sunday. They plan to headquarter at the Chancellor Hotel. Their stops include Santa Cruz, Monterey, Carmel and Sequoia National Park.

Former Valley residents the Paul T. Murrays will motor down from Santa Barbara to keep an eye on the Neels' Hart St. home while they're away . . . reason being no "Scotty" should ever be put in a kennel when its owners are on vacation (especially when its former owners were the Murrays).

Vice president Mrs. Robert L. Ellis, her hubby and their two youngsters Kevin and Windy, plan to leave their Sherman Oaks residence the last week in June for a Connecticut vacation.

Tour the U.S.A.

Mrs. Ellis says they will take a month, go by camper, stop here and there and really enjoy the U.S.

Last year the Ellises toured Europe and visited Phillis' relatives in her former homeland England.

vacation. Mrs. Smith is ways and means chairman.

It's all the way to Anchorage, Alaska, for the Norman Kramers of Sherman Oaks. Their month of July motor trip will include stops in all major cities as well as a visit to the 49th state. Mrs. Kramer is first vice president.

Hawaii-Bound

The Hawaiian Islands are destination of the Paul Carlsteds. They will leave International Airport by jet this month.

They will stay at the Princess Kaiulani Hotel during their visitation to the isles of Kauai, Maui and Oahu. Mrs. Carlsted also is active in Southern California Garden Club and San Fernando Valley Republican Women's Club.

Arizona bound are Miss Dorothy Livingston and sister, Mrs. Mabel Hammaker. They will enplane for Tucson later this month. They plan to stay at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Baker, the latter former residents of Van Nuys.

Another twosome flying to Arizona are the Harvey N. Leuckels of Cohasset St. They will pilot their Bonanza to Scottsdale, in late July for a two-week stay at Camelback Inn.

WINDS PLAGUED PIONEER

Early Settler Looks Back on Van Nuys

By ALICE MORSE

VAN NUYS—"You wept and swept—and made the best of it!" So spoke Mrs. Nan Bailey in recalling the days so long ago when, as one of the Valley's first ladies, she managed somehow to cope with the hot, fierce winds which swept across the barren area, leaving their dirt and dust "so thick you couldn't even see the design on the rug!"

And when the rains took over "it was water up to the third step of the front porch."

"The Santa Ana winds were the worst, though, she recalled, "with the tumbleweeds, fruit crates and clouds of dirt sailing by the windows, sometimes for three straight days running!"

Friendships Remembered

And with the twinkle that only the 87-year-olds can muster, she added, "Those things certainly were in a big hurry to get somewhere."

But Nan Bailey today looks out on her tidy green lawn, edged with flowers and trees at the little home on Victory Blvd. and remembers more of the better than the bitter of those early, early days and recalls the deep friendships formed, the gay get-togethers of the neighbors, the cheery greeting of the ice man, the fish man and the always smiling Chinese "vegetable man."

She wonders, too, if the dusty winds and the sopping rains were so bad, after all—considering everything.

Owned Hardware Store

"We were a closely knit little group of pioneers," she said, "and everyone was kind and friends were loyal and lasting."

Neighbors in those days are remembered as the Lincoln Whitsons who had a realty business, the Arthur Streeters, hardware; William Andrews, hardware; Harry Bevis, realty, and the Del Bevises, realty, and others.

Nan's husband was the first to arrive, opening his plumbing shop in 1910 at 14519 Victory Blvd., in Van Nuys, with the big sign reading, "J. A. Bailey, Plumbing, Heating, Sheet Metal Works. Distributor of Ward Floor Furnaces. Telephone: Van Nuys 36."

Mrs. Bailey followed in 1912 from their former home in Huntington Park. They lived in the Van Nuys Hotel—"in those days hot and full of flies"—until the family home was built at the corner of Van Nuys and Victory Blvds.

"In those days this area had a succession of names," she recalled.

Given Permanent Name

"First it was Bonnie Brae and Sherman Way, then Seventh and Sherman Way, then Leesdale and Van Nuys Blvd."

She said that after World War I, the corner finally got a permanent name—its present one: Van Nuys Blvd. and Victory Blvd. The Bailey home was the first of five built in the new development.

"The first time I ever saw the Valley was in 1896 when I drove out with a friend in a horse and buggy all the way from Los Angeles," she recalled.

"I remember there were just three paved streets in Los Angeles in those days," Mrs. Bailey added. "These were Broadway, Spring and Main." She told how "we used to take the mule car from the station to San Pedro St. and Seventh."

Contributed to Growth

"Next came the cable car which usually got stuck half way up Seventh to Westlake Park, whereupon we'd have to get out and walk!"

Settling finally in the big, sprawling Valley, the Baileys left no stone unturned to do their part in the founding of the present city.

Mr. Bailey, the principal organizer of the local Masonic Lodge, served for two years as its worshipful master, following his charter membership in Huntington Park Lodge 450, in which he was the first master.

Wrote Thank-You Poems

In 1915 the local lodge appointed Mrs. Bailey, past matron of the Rising Light chapter in Huntington Park, to organize a chapter of the Eastern Star in Van Nuys.

She now is its chapter mother and in addition to long years of faithful service to the organization, also has contributed her talent as a writer in the penning of poems to each worthy matron from 1915 to 1960.

"They're just little expressions of gratitude for their service and friendship."

Activities in the Van Nuys Woman's Club also were a part of Nan's life in those early days, particularly in 1926 when she was made its press chairman.

Mr. Bailey's many good works came to an end some years later when he died suddenly in 1930.

Daughter Dorothy has given her share of time and work, also, to the community, opening her "Friendly Road Lending Library" in 1938 at the family home. (A spot now occupied by the Sight and Sound firm on Victory.)

Found Own Amusement

"We bought the corner of Van Nuys and Victory for $1200," Nan recalled, "and sold to Union Oil in 1918 for $19,000. She prefers not to remember that two years later the same corner sold for $50,000.

"It was here," she added, "hat our old cat, 'Tucka' used to lie in wait for the gophers under the porch and listen to the coyotes howl at night!"

Tucka, unfortunately, used up his many lives chasing the pigs and the turkeys raised by the Baileys and now is replaced by affectionate, purring old "Tommy." aged 8.

And of all the "old timers" Tommy is probably the only one not invited to an occasion which proved a most happy one for the pioneers of the San Fernando Valley.

This was the telephone company's party held to mark its 50th anniversary of the opening of service here, and to which early subscribers were guests of honor.

Nan Bailey was there, just as the Bailey name (No. 36) was there in that first telephone directory, sandwiched in between the American Beet and Sugar Co. and the W. Cary Sheep Ranch—with the Hammond Lumber Co. coming along on another page.

Wants To Be "Counted"

Mrs. Bailey feels she is "in a way, still sandwiched in," what with her present home at 14025 Victory Blvd. set right in the middle of the fast growing community of Van Nuys, surrounded by houses, business establishments, traffic—"and almost too much hustle and bustle!"

"But I'll take it any day from the winds, the floods, the coyotes and the flies of this barren Valley as I first knew it," she said, adding, "if this is progress, count me a booster!"

"We bought the corner of Van Nuys and Victory for $1200," Nan recalled, "and sold to Union Oil in 1918 for $19,000. She prefers not to remember that two years later the same corner sold for $50,000.

"It was here," she added, "hat our old cat, 'Tucka' used to lie in wait for the gophers under the porch and listen to the coyotes howl at night!"

Tucka, unfortunately, used up his many lives chasing the pigs and the turkeys raised by the Baileys and now is replaced by affectionate, purring old "Tommy." aged 8.

And of all the "old timers" Tommy is probably the only one not invited to an occasion which proved a most happy one for the pioneers of the San Fernando Valley.

This was the telephone company's party held to mark its 50th anniversary of the opening of service here, and to which early subscribers were guests of honor.

Nan Bailey was there, just as the Bailey name (No. 36) was there in that first telephone directory, sandwiched in between the American Beet and Sugar Co. and the W. Cary Sheep Ranch—with the Hammond Lumber Co. coming along on another page.

Wants To Be "Counted"

Mrs. Bailey feels she is "in a way, still sandwiched in," what with her present home at 14025 Victory Blvd. set right in the middle of the fast growing community of Van Nuys, surrounded by houses, business establishments, traffic—"and almost too much hustle and bustle!"

"But I'll take it any day from the winds, the floods, the coyotes and the flies of this barren Valley as I first knew it," she said, adding, "if this is progress, count me a booster!"

Bewitching Styles Parade at Party

Stepping into fall with color and style themes Van Nuys Woman's Club' "Bewitching Fashion Show and Luncheon" is calendared for next Tuesday at 12 Noon in the Sportsmen's Lodge.

The stylecade will be presented by Helen Anderson of Van Nuys. Mrs. Anderson will narrate the show and models will be selected from the club's member roster. They include Mmes. Herbert P. Bonesteel, Jack Q. Emmerich, Lloyd G. Rainey, Milton Morley, Franklin Buerck, George Weaver, William O. Wuest and K. Ross Smith.

Luncheon tables will carry a Halloween motif.

Door prizes, table favors and decorations are being arranged under the chairmanship of Mrs. Fred D. Smith, assisted by Mmes. Horace Way, Franklin Buerck, J. Howard Wilson, Anthony Panza, Robert L. Ellis, Bruce Ewalt, Richard R. Roe, Norman Kramer, Lloyd G. Rainey, George O. Chapman, John T. Bradshaw and Harold E. Shillock.

Reservations are being handled by Mrs. Smith at STate 0-2328 and Mrs. Norman Kramer, STate 4-4457.

Funds raised from this event support the club's nursing scholarship, student scholarship, and district scholarship, as well as two English awards, which are presented annually to outstanding senior English students attending Van Nuys High School.

Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, club president, announces many other events are planned for the 1961-62 season. The club's fast approaching half century birthday will be celebrated by members in the spring. Van Nuys Woman's Club is only a few months younger than the vast community of Van Nuys itself.

National Headquarters of Federated Woman's Clubs in Washington, D.C., will observe the club's 50 years of community service with a plaque, presented during its golden year.

CRESCENT MOON AND HALLOWEEN owl set motif for witchery at Van Nuys Woman's Club annual fall fashion gala scheduled next Tuesday afternoon in Sportsmen's Lodge. Mrs. Lewis Reed, president, left, arranges decor preparatory to party while Mmes. Fred D. Smith, chairman, and George M. Family Night for Clubwomen

"Family Night" at the Van Nuys Woman's Club this Wednesday will feature as guest speaker the beautiful Russian star of stage and screen, Kyra Petrovskaya, once the toast of Russia and now the toast of America's lecture platforms.

Her talk following dinner will include dramatic facts of the triumphs and tragedies of life in the shadowy world behind the Iron Curtain.

Daughter of Prince

Because she was the daughter of Prince Vassily Obolensky, Kyra faced execution by a Red firing squad when she was less than a year old, but was rescued with her mother by her father's former orderly, and traveled across Russia in a cattle car to safety. She did not learn of her aristocratic origin until she was 20 years old.

Having been trained at Leningrad's Institute of Theatrical Arts, she followed a career with the Drama Theater until World War II took her to the front lines as a hospital worker. Twice wounded, by war's end, she was eager to return to the stage.

Only through intervention of Vassily Stalin, with whom she became friendly after giving three command performances at the Kremlin, Kyra was able to marry an American diplomat she had come to love.

Known on Television

Kyra has been seen often on television with many famous personalities. Club members and their escorts will see her in person when she speaks on the subject, "Don't Sell America Short."

Christerssons Travel

Continent Is Gay

By DONNA SCHEIBE
Women's Staff Writer

Europe bound vacationers no longer need carry food supplements and toilet essentials in their luggage, for Continental austerity is over, according to Jonnie Christersson, who, with her husband John, has just returned from their annual fall overseas junket.

The Christerssons, owners of Van Nuys Davis Travel Agency, left International Airport Oct. 17 taking the SAS polar route over the top to Copenhagen and a brief tour of the city of Hans Christian Anderson and Hamlet's Castle.

If, however, austerity has departed, anxiety has taken its place, at least in France and Germany.

Berlin by Bus

Traveling directly to Berlin, they reserved seats for the following day's single bus trip from West to East Berlin, a venture they had determined to make when their journey was only in its preliminary stages.

West Berlin presented a picture of sparkling gaiety, hotels and niteries ablaze with light. Beautiful women, dressed in the haute couture of Europe's finest fashion houses were seen not only in the good restaurants and boutiques of the boulevards but the average working girl out in the crisp October sun of the noon hour reflected the general prosperity of West German business and industry.

The one flaw in the fashion picture is still the European shoe which remains the sorry article it always was. Jonnie Christersson's black silk evening shoes with jet bead toes were an attraction wherever she wore them.

Paris is still queen of the fashion world, though the shortness of French skirts, sometimes three inches above the knees, is startling.

Fall showings leaned heavily to the floor length skirt in all types of evening wear, many of them reminiscent of the "slinky" thirties.

Venice is fast becoming a city of tourists and old people. Motor launches, introduced in the last 25 years have wrought havoc with the pilings under the beautiful lace work buildings lining the canals and city fathers are weilding a strong campaign to outlaw motor boats entirely and use only the gliding gondolas which eliminate heavy water erosion.

A Fair Medium

Young people are moving to the mainland and entering industry there, though Venice catered to more than 2,500,000 visitors in the tourist season just completed. Multiply that by an average of $50 per tourist, a fair minimum, and the income is substantial.

Vienna, of all the cities in the seven countries on the Christerssons' 1961 visit, is the most magnificent. It is the memorable point for both these seasconed voyagers.

The food is exceptional, the music superlative. There are not enough adjectives to describe the "city of dreams."

London and Edinburgh, too, have left behind the era of recovery and have entered a period of prosperity and development unparalled in the last half century.

Christerssons Travel

Continent Is Gay

By DONNA SCHEIBE
Women's Staff Writer

Europe bound vacationers no longer need carry food supplements and toilet essentials in their luggage, for Continental austerity is over, according to Jonnie Christersson, who, with her husband John, has just returned from their annual fall overseas junket.

The Christerssons, owners of Van Nuys Davis Travel Agency, left International Airport Oct. 17 taking the SAS polar route over the top to Copenhagen and a brief tour of the city of Hans Christian Anderson and Hamlet's Castle.

The one flaw in the fashion picture is still the European shoe which remains the sorry article it always was. Jonnie Christersson's black silk evening shoes with jet bead toes were an attraction wherever she wore them.

"One Suitcase" Travelers

The Christerssons are "one suitcase" travelers and Jonnie dresses her black suit down for day and up for evening with just such accessories as these Neiman-Marcus slippers. Whispers of "Look at those shoes," followed her from Berlin to Venice.

East Berlin, following the slow slalom of the tour bus in and out of the three foot high concrete pre-blockade to the wall, is so sharp a contrast to the western sector, that Jonnie describes it as bleak.

Checkpoint Charlie

The wall itself, with its rows of memorial wreaths to those gallant freedom seekers who failed in their jump from windows or roofs aiming for a passing gravel truck or a friend briefed to catch them in whatever contrivance, on the security of free soil, is mute testimony of the gravity of the Berlin situation.

Imparting an even sterner air is the Russian guide who boards the bus at Checkpoint Charlie, the one open intersection station between the Friederichstrasse and Stalinallee. (The 22nd Soviet Congress having put out a disclaimer on Premier K's late predecessor the boulevard may now bear another name).

The Soviet guide, complete with armed aide having taken over from the Western tour guide, the inspection of visas and passports begins. The one Dutch, three American and 35 Japanese couples were subjected to a severe scrutiny and some questioning. Following this the bus crosses the intersection and takes aboard a thoroughly indoctrinated, attractive young woman guide.

On the return trip to the checkpoint, having seen only what was intended to be seen, visitors are carefully identified as the same who entered and the bus returns to the area of self-determination and freedom which is so pronounced it is felt as a current in the air. It is, Jonnie reports, an experience every American should know.

Travel Anxieties

Travel anxieties in France are the result of 24 hour strikes in transportation and service industries and Algerian nationals conducting nuisance raids and bombings in the wee small hours plus a general lack of concern for tourist welfare.

Paris is still queen of the fashion world, though the shortness of French skirts, sometimes three inches above the knees, is startling.

Fall showings leaned heavily to the floor length skirt in all types of evening wear, many of them reminiscent of the "slinky" thirties.

Venice is fast becoming a city of tourists and old people. Limousines and Tea

Grosevenor House, the Christerssons' London headquarters, was the scene nightly of full dress, top hatted "dos" to which the cream of London society turned out in multitudes. Bentley and Rolls Royce limousines lined the curbs at tea time and tea has returned to something more than a limp sconce with margarine.

Home again, her French perfume drunk by an inquisitive grandchild, but with bright memories, if not the fragrance, of Europe, with her still, Jonnie is outlining tours for the upcoming spring and summer vacation months and reliving Vienna days nights with every itinerary she plans.

Van Nuys Club Is Presenting Valley Artists

Mrs. Wendell Reid, art chairman of Van Nuys Woman's Club, is presenting a show by two young artists for the month of December.

The first is Patricia Dennison, a student at James Monroe High. At the present time she is on tour in Hawaii studying and painting. Her ambition is to be a dress designer and commercial artist. She decided to enter the field of art professionally when she was in her second year at Monroe. Pat whose home is in Sepulveda, is 17.

The second artist is Charles Nitti of Mission Hills. He is 16 and is also a student at Monroe High. His art training began in Junior High. After winning a summer scholarship to Chouinard Art School, Charles won many art awards in junior and senior high.

At the present time he is doing art work professionally. This Christmas he is decorating windows and shops for local merchants. He also is an accomplished mural designer and painter.

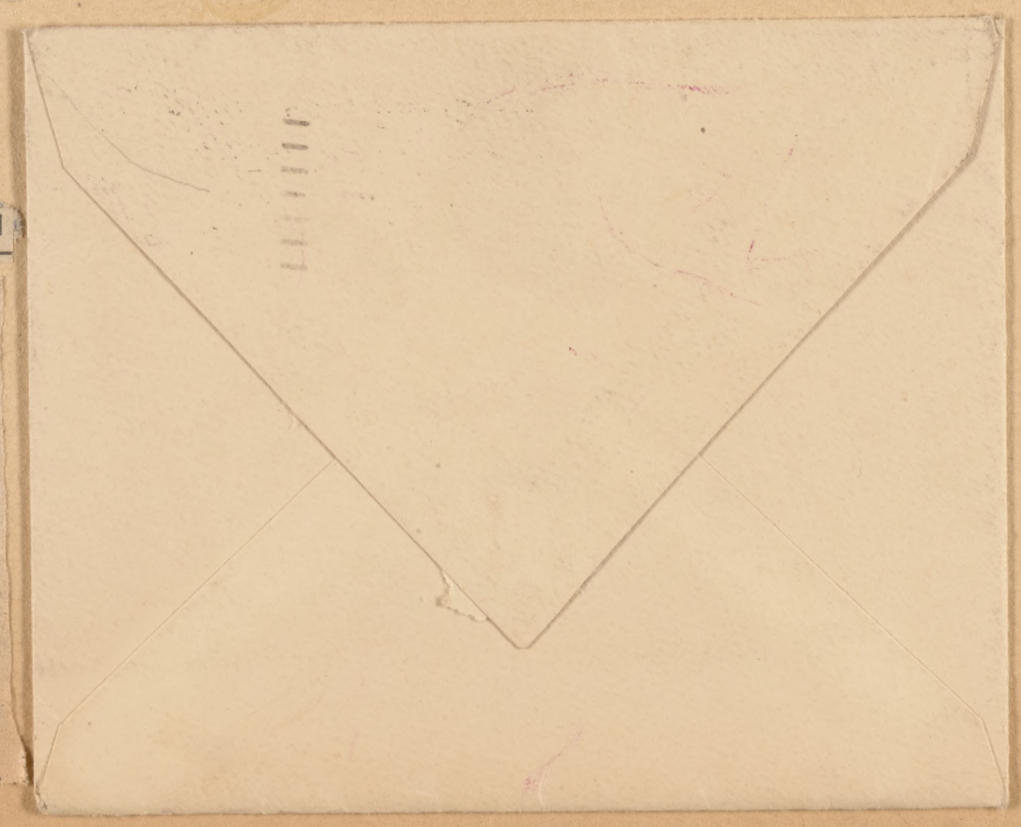
Garden Group Holds Party

Santa Claus is coming to town with a "Merry Christmas" party at the garden section meeting of Van Nuys Woman's Club Wednesday at 11 a.m., 14836 Sylvan St.

There will be a gift exchange, a live Santa Claus and Christmas carols, led by Margaret Wuest and Gladys Rainey.

Mrs. Guy H. Rader, luncheon chairman, is in charge.



WAY BACK WHEN — This was scene person would have seen in 1926 when standing on Erwin St., west of Van Nuys Blvd., and looking north. Cars on lot belonged to Van Nuys Auto Wrecking Co. (now called Van Nuys Auto Parts Co.) owned by H. H. Pirkl. Valley man has been in business there since 1925, will retire now that property has been sold to city for use as parking lot. In background, on Sylvan St., are offices now used by The News. Only few buildings were here when Pirkl first arrived.

Long Business Career of H. H. Pirkl Draws to Close

By DICK TYLER

On Thursday of this week an auctioneer's gavel will descend and officially end H. H. Pirkl's 36-year career in the auto parts busines. Pirkl, known to everyone as "Pirk," became associated with Van Nuys Auto Parts Co. at 14529 Erwin St., Van Nuys, in August 1925.

"I remember it was Friday the 13th," he said, "but I didn't consider it unlucky then and I sure don't now."

In partnership with him at that time was E. S. Waddel, but in 1946 Pirkl took over full ownership.

Time for Vacation

The auctioneer's sale on Thursday morning is being held because the parts company's property has been purchased by the city for an off-street parking lot.

"I'll hate to see the place go after all these years," he said, "but my wife Mary and I haven't had a vacation in 10 years, so I guess it's time we took one."

Wisconsin-born Pirkl came to California and the Valley on the advice of a friend of his uncle.

"He told me, 'there's more opportunity for a young man there than anyplace else in the world' and I believe he was right," Pirkl said.

"The first tme I saw the Valley I thought, 'It looks good to me,'" he said.

Not Much Here

Pirkl came to the Valley in 1922, working as a carpenter and doing cement work for Pacific Ready-Cut Homes.

"When I came here there wasn't much of anything here except open fields. It was a long distance between trees," he said.

"There were times when the wind would blow so hard across those fields that we couldn't work for a couple of days at a time.

"When I first went into business here about the only other buildings around were the old Sutton Drug Store, the Security Bank, Baker Ford Agency and the R. R. Edwards Paint Store," he said.

Tell of Early Days

"My mother had been here about a year before I came," he said, "and I lived with her on her chicken ranch at 7249 Van Nuys Blvd."

Reminiscing about the early days he said, "The first car I had here was a Model T. It used to take just over an hour to get into Los Angeles.

VACATION AHEAD—Valley businessman H. H. Pirkl makes plans for "long overdue" vacation. Owner of Van Nuys Auto Parts Co. since 1925, Pirkl will be "out of business" this week, since city has bought store property for parking lot.

"In those days when we went over Cahuenga Pass we sometimes had to back up to let somebody pass if we met on sharp curves," he said.

"I've always enjoyed living here," Pirkl said. "There are nice people here and everything's always moving ahead."

A civic-minded individual, Pirkl was a long-time Chamber of Commerce member, an Elk, Eagle, Redman and member of the Knights of Columbus.

Valley "Good Place"

For the past 31 years Pirkl has lived at 14636 Archwood St. He and his wife have two sons, Stanley and Dwight.

"This was a good place to raise children," he said. "Our boys knew just about everyone around. They always liked W. P. Whitsett. He'd give them oranges and squash.

"He always told them they could have them whenever they wanted."

After he clears up all the loose ends dealing with his business, he and his wife will be leaving on a six-month vacation throughout the United States.

Closer Knit Then

"After I come back I hope to get back in business in a small way," he said.

Thinking back to his first year in business, Pirkl sighed and said, "The Valley was closer knit then because there were fewer people.

"If anyone asked me I'd have to say that I'd like to see Van Nuys the same as it was in 1925."

Balzer Family

Two Couples Mark Their Anniversaries

A reception today and a solemn anniversary mass yesterday in St. Elisabeth's Church of Van Nuys are highlights of a double celebration marking the 50th wedding milestone of Mr. and Mrs. George J. Balzer and the 25th date of their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. West. Both families are of Van Nuys.

A nephew of the Balzers the Rev. Raymond Balzer came west from Ft. Wayne, Ind., to officiate at yesterday's rites. He was assisted by the Rev. Patrick O'Dwyer, local parish pastor.

Six Hour Fete

Today's reception in an elaborate setting of gold and silver denoting the two anniversaries, is taking place from 2 to 8 p.m. in Knights of Columbus Hall on Van Nuys Blvd.

The Balzers have two sons living locally—Charles who now helps operates the family-owned Homeway Laundry in Van Nuys and George who has been a script writer for Jack Benny for 19 years.

Other children are Mrs. West of Van Nuys, William L. Federer of Arcadia, Mrs. Richard Dixon of Fresno and Mrs. Howard Dye of Van Nuys. All are present for the occasion along with many of the 14 grandchildren.

The Balzers were married in their home town of Erie, Pa., in 1911 and moved to California in 1920 to raise the six children.

Move to Valley

In 1926 the Balzers came to Canoga Park and in 1929 opened the pioneer laundry which they moved to Van Nuys in 1933. Mr. Balzer retired in 1958.

The Wests, both graduates of Canoga Park High School, were married in 1936 on her parents' silver wedding date. They lived in Reseda and later moved to Van Nuys.

Their only son, Bro. Norman, C.S.C., of the Congregation of the Holy Cross, is teaching at St. Francis High School in Mountain View, Cal.

Out-of-town guests have been arriving all week by air, rail and automobile. Some will stay on for a visit, others returning after the week end events.

Among these are Fred Balzer, Beaver Falls, Pa., Sister Georgiana, Lyndhurst, N.J., Sister Alice, Jersey City, N.J., the Rev. Raymond Balzer, Fort Wayne, Ind.

Also Mrs. Gertrude Pfeiffer and Mrs. Christine Johnston, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ben Lapinski, and sons, New Brighton, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Joe Karle, Erie, Pa.; Mrs. Mamie Schneider, Cleveland, Ohio.; Mrs. Nellie Newman, Sharon, Pa.

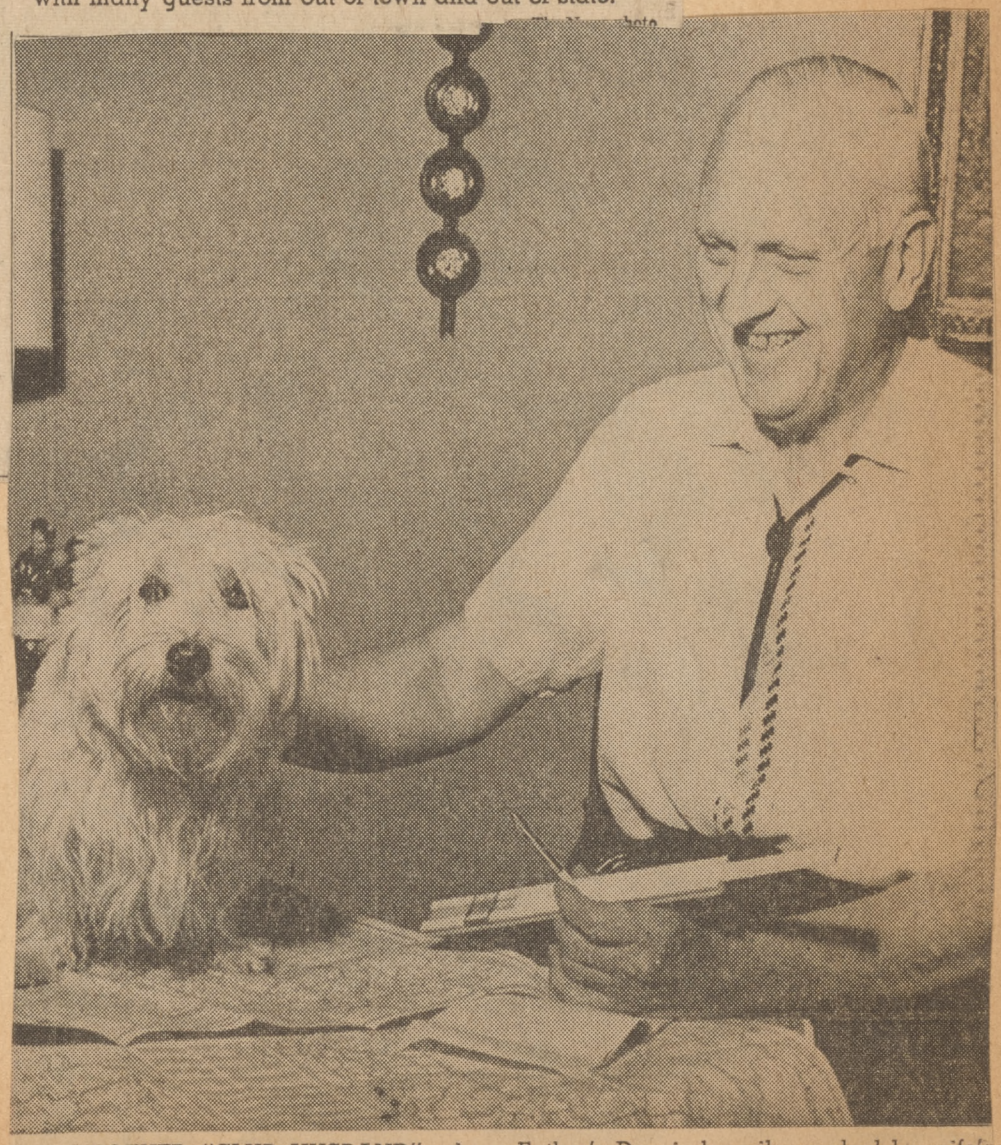
Many Out-of-Towners

Messrs. and Mmes. Joe Balzer, New Brighton, Pa.; Virgil Walbert, Reno, Nev.; Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Balzer, Hampton Roads, Va., and Mrs. Wilbur Kessler, Erie, Pa.

Mrs. Mary Engle and Mrs. Margaret Pagani, Beaver Falls, Pa.; Messrs. and Mmes. Carl Balzer and family, Casa Grande, Ariz.; Ora Ruark, Lockport, Ill., and William Dyer and family and Mrs. Ida Moise, Niles, Cal.

Mrs. Josephine Dyer, San Leandro; Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Chappell, Lafayette, Cal.; Mrs. Charles Hultberg, Oakland.

CELEBRATING SIMULTANEOUS wedding milestones this week end are two Van Nuys families Mr. and Mrs. George J. Balzer, wed 50 years, and their son-in-law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. Norman E. West, married on same date 25 years ago. Reception today, solemn anniversary mass yesterday, mark occasion with many guests from out of town and out of state.



ANOTHER "CLUB HUSBAND" whose Father's Day is happily marked by wife's relinquishment of club gavel is James L. Neel. With help of West Highland terrier Spunky he maps Father's Day week-long jaunt with family to Northern California. Mrs. Neel headed Van Nuys Woman's Club for two year presidential term, retired this week.

Clubwomen

State President Valley Visitor

The handwriting is on the wall . . . and the time has come when a woman's club is no longer primarily a social and cultural organization. In today's war-plagued world women must be prepared to face the critical national issues of the hour, Mrs. Earl J. Hazelton of Orland, Cal., told a capacity Van Nuys Woman's Club audience on Wednesday.

The somber and challenging message by the state president of California Federation of Women's Clubs, on an unscheduled visit here, changed considerably the light hearted vein of the event originally scheduled to salute members' birthdays and pay farewell to a departing past president Mrs. George Baker, moving to Tucson.

"40 Cents Worth"

In addition Mrs. Hazelton told the clubwomen what they can expect to get for their "federation 40 cents" embraced by the annual dues of membership, and reminded them that the strength of organization (72,000 in the state and a million in the country) is felt with great impact from Sacramento to Washington.

When you affiliate with a local woman's club you automatically became a member of both the California and General Federations, she declared.

Tear-Spattered Tribute

Also in the federation entourage was Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood of Burbank, president of Sierra-Cahuenga District CFWC. Both she and Mrs. James L. Neel, Van Nuys club president, made the trek yesterday to Antelope Valley along with Mrs. Hazelton for the District Council session.

The tribute to departing Mrs. Baker which brought a tear-dampened accolade was given by Mrs. Neel, Mrs. Lloyd G. Rainey, a past president; Mrs. Charles Lane who made the beautiful corsages and Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp whose original poem was a tribute to Mrs. Baker.

Mrs. Paul Murray read the birthday tribute to all members spotlighting the oldest woman present—Mrs. William Waud who is 87. She received an orchid corsage.

WOMEN'S SECTION HONORED

Wins National Award

Nationwide recognition has come to the women's section of "The News" with the announcement of winners in the second annual J. C. Penney Co.-University of Missouri Awards competition for best women's interest pages.

The News' "San Fernando Valley Living" section this year has placed second in its division, according to Paul F. Myhre, competition director at the university where the awards banquet is upcoming shortly.

Flies to University

Miss Ethel Taylor, women's editor, will fly to Columbia, Mo., to accept a $500 cash award along with 12 other winners chosen from among several hundred entries throughout the country and including Hawaii.

The Van Nuys and Valley News (and Green Sheet) is the first West Coast publication to claim an award in this new and highly competitive national contest designed to recognize the talents of newspaper women who edit the nation's finest women's pages.

"We believe these awards winners have set a high target of excellence," declared Mr. Myhre.

MISS ETHEL TAYLOR
"The News" Women's Editor

A major aim of the contest is to break down the traditional editorial barriers which have narrowed women's pages in the past to monotonously routine recordings of social and club news.

Prizes of $1000, $500 and $250 are given in each of four classifications. Judges making final selections were noted New York News-Chicago Tribune columnist Dorothy Roe; Lee Ettelson, editor San Francisco Examiner; Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director of University of Missouri School of Home Economics.

Nearly $10,000 in Awards

Also judging were Arthur E. Strang, president of Newspaper Association Managers, Inc., Urbana, Ill., and G. Thomas Durry, former editor of East St. Louis (Ill.) Journal and a visiting professor of journalism at Missouri University.

The grant, established last summer by the J.C. Penney Co. to honor James Cash Penney, its founder and long time friend of the university, totals nearly $10,000 divided between winning women's editors and one fashion writer.

This year's fashion winner is Miss Jean Cameron of the Chicago (Ill.) American.

FRONT PAGES FROM TWO of prize-winning entries which earned national award for The News' women's section, "San Fernando Valley Living," are reproduced above. Contest entries were limited to October publication dates, with nearly $10,000 cash prizes going to winners in each of four classifications. Social hour and refreshments at 7:30 p.m. preceding the program will be hostessed by Mmes. Carl Mannheimer, David Zaring and Donald Ball.

The Petes, of 5454 Valley Blvd., in Los Angeles, operate a cactus garden at that address and spend many weeks of the year treking to the wilds in search of new specimens.

Their display is particularly beauiful at this time of year when desert succulents are blossoming.

The couple has collected plants for Chicago and San Francisco World's Fairs and Henry Ford's Highways of the World. They shared memorable and often dangerous experiences traveling throughout South and Central American jungles photographing the natives and the country.

Van Nuys Club Displays New Art Variations Show

Oil and water color paintings, dating from yesteryear's school of art to modern day trends are being featured at "Art Variations Exhibits," now on display in Van Nuys Woman's Club house, 14836 Sylvan St.

The exhibit of paintings by artists Hugo Peterson, Robert Lang and Joyce Pike may be viewed on club days or by special appointment with the Van Nuys Woman's Club's art chairman Mrs. D. Wendell Reid at STate 4-6041.

Hugo Peterson describes himself as a painter of the "Old School, Vintage 1920," specializing in both oils and water colors. His paintings received much attention during exhibits with Vendome Gallery, Rockefeller Center and Hall of Art in New York City. A Valley resident, Mr. Peterson lives at 222 Harding Ave., San Fernando.

Robert Lang's paintings depict the rugged ranch life with which he is so familar. The one-time rodeo rider, turned painter, formerly lived in South Dakota. Mr. Lang now lives in Sylmar where he continues to pursue the world of art, using mostly oils for his colorful canvasses.

Joyce Pike has received Valleywide recognition for her subtle water colors and oils. She is a resident of San Fernando and a member of San Fernando Valley Art Club.

Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, club president, advises that the art section will set aside the month of June as "Club Art Month." All paintings, ceramics, etc., displayed during that month will be works produced by club members.

The District gives an award to the most outstanding club for its accomplishments in the promotion of art. The award given, especially recognizes the encouragement extended to young persons who have artistic talent, and is based on art section accomplishments from April 1961 to April 1962.

"Musical Valentines"

Four Artists Appear For Van Nuys Club

Van Nuys Woman's Club, will feature Wednesday's meeting with a special Valentine program following a 12 noon luncheon at the clubhouse, 14836 Sylvan St.

Titled "Musical Valentines," the program will be presented by four artists who were sponsored by the club last spring in the local talent show. They will be introduced by Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp.

Striving for a career in the musical world, these artists have won acclaim in concerts throughout the Valley, appearing at various civic organizations and church work.

Four Artists Billed

First to appear on the program will be Beatrice Anthony, pianist, who began her career by winning a city-wide contest in the city of New York. Since coming to Los Angeles seven years ago she has made many concert appearances and recordings. She also maintains a busy teaching schedule.

Bill Plantenberg, tenor, has appeared at the Hollywood Comedy Club, Motion Picture Country Home and various concerts. He is soloist at the First Methodist Church, Van Nuys.

Verla Legg, soprano, has appeared with the San Francisco Civic Opera and in countless programs throughout the Valley. She also is a soloist at the Van Nuys Methodist Church.

Jeanne Brown, dramatic soprano, has selected songs from "Madam Butterfly" for her "spot" on the program. Her qualifications include a scholarship from the San Fernando Symphony Orchestra and membership for five years in the Morman Choir of Southern California. She is a pupil of Frederick Davis, and has appeared on radio and television.

Luncheon Hostesses

Mrs. Dale Teachnor, luncheon chairman, will be assisted by Mrs. V. D. Slocum, cochairman. On the committee are Mmes. Alvin Hotz, George Cole and Max J. Kaufman.

The Valentine motif will be carried out by Mrs. Helen Slocum, chairman, and Mmes. Orton B. Welton and James K. Davis.

Luncheon will be preceded by a meeting of the Bible section. Mrs. W. T. Voss, chairman, will present the Rev. Oliver Werner of the Methodist Church in Sherman Oaks as guest speaker. Mrs. William Wuest will be soloist.

Mrs. Martin Fritzen and Mrs. George O. Weaver will have charge of decorations.

CFWC Execs Convene

Freeways, motion pictures, driver instruction and legislation, claimed the attention of Federated clubwomen in executive sessions at the Biltmore hotel in Los Angeles this week.

In a motion that was a follow-up on the recent Governor's conference on safety, the Executive Board of California Federation of Women's Clubs proposed three recommendations to the State Board of Education.

Raise Driver Standard

They asked that the state central coordinating committee on credential revision assure adequate preservice teacher training opportunities in the field of safety and driver instruction; raise the minimum requirements to teach driver education and driver training; and increase the minimum time requirements for both driver education and driver training to more nearly meet the nationally recommended standards.

The board protested the recent decision of the Motion Picture Association of America to drop the Motion Picture Production Code restraint on dealing with the subject of sex perversion in movies, as dangerous and detrimental to youth, and as it weakens our world influence.

Conservation Aims

Further action included a commendation to Walt Disney for his American heritage films, urging that he continue to produce documentary films on the lives of our American patriots and important events in the history of our nation.

An investigation into the serious problem of freeway encroachment in California will be the number one project of the conservation chairman, with the districts and clubwomen cooperating in gathering documented data.

Four new clubs were accepted into membership. These are May Valley Woman's Club of El Sobrante, in Mt. Diablo District; West Garden Grove Woman's Club in Orange District; Montebello Japanese Woman's Club, and the San Gabriel Valley District Board Alumnae club, both in San Gabriel Valley District.

Claude and Mable Fox, Van Nuys residents for many years, will exhibit the results of their brushwork in oils during the month of March at the Van Nuys Woman's Club house, 14836 Sylvan St.

Both are members of the San Fernando Valley Art Club and have exhibited in a number of shows with that group, according to Mrs. D. Wendell Reid, Art Section chairman.

Mrs. Fox, a member of the Van Nuys Woman's Club, has been a student of Sam Hyde Harris, Grace Harvey, Arla Franklin and Jean Keutrick.

Formerly an art supervisor in Washington state elementary schools, her paintings have been widely acclaimed by art enthusiasts there and in California.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fox admit that their favorite medium is oils. Examples of their art in landscapes, seascapes, flowers and still life may be viewed all month at the clubhouse.

Mrs. Fox also will be featured as speaker at the Tuesday Morning Seminar to be hostessed March 6 at 10:30 a.m. by Mrs. W. P. Popenoe at her home, 15154 Clark St.

Rhodoea, if the sages ask thee why
Thy charm is wasted on the earth and sky;
Tell them, dear, if eyes were made for seeing,
Then Beauty is its own excuse for being.
Why thou were there, O rival of the rose,
I never tho't to ask, I never knew;
But, in my simple ignorance supposed
The self-same Power that brought me there, brought you."

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

What is so rare as a day in June?
Then, if ever came perfect days;
Then Heaven tries the earth, if it be in tune,
And over it gently Her warm ear lays.
Whether we look, or whether we listen,
We hear life murmur, or see it glisten;
Every clod feels a stir of might;
An instinct within it that reaches and towers;
And groping blindly for the light,
Springs to a soul in grass and flowers.

- James Russell Lowell -

Dear Members:

This is the last president's message I shall write. But even as one door closes, another is opening; so, with the end of one term of office, a new Board is ready to assume responsibility. I know that you will give our new president and her officers the same cooperation and warm friendship you have given me. PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Club Members:

This September is an unusually bad polio month. Statistics show the number of new cases in Los Angeles County at near epidemic proportions. Let's all protect our families and loved ones by urging them to take advantage of the low cost accelerated immunization program offered by our local health department. We are very fortunate that such shots exist to aid us in the war against this crippling disease.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Club Members:

Our new club year is about to start - this our "Golden Year."

"Give me the grace to see the good
In those who differ, for they have stood
In places I have never been.
Heard other voices, viewed other scenes,
Give me the strength to admit a wrong,
That I may gain stature, be gently strong." --Patricia Taft.

Sincerely,
Edna Reed.

A special "Thank You" to everyone who has worked so hard on preparing the coming year's work.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Club Members:
My prayer for this Thanksgiving -

"May peace fall like a blanket
Upon this tired world;
May it smother the fires of greed and hate,
And cause war flags to be furled,
May it link all waring countries
Into a chain of love
And renew these weary nations
With strength from God above."

Sincerely,

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Club Members:

"May the joys of His most wondrous love
Be showered upon from above.
Peace enter your doorway
Joy sit beside your fireplace
Cheer bless your Christmas Days.
Health and courage,
Hope and strength
Be yours through all
The New Year's length."

Sincerely,
Edna N. Reed

The club wishes to extend to Mrs. Walker Rumsey their deepest sympathy upon the loss of her daughter.

I wish to thank all the members who supported the Ways and Means Chairman, Mrs. Fred Smith, and her committee at the lovely Fashion Show. It was a delightful affair. Special thanks to our own models, and Mrs. Eugene Cotter's music was an added delight. All who so generously contributed to our door prizes are thanked by the committee. To Evelyn and all concerned, thank you.

Edna N. Reed

"A Merry Christmas Party"

President's Message

Dear Club Members,

"Have you had a kindness shown?
Pass it on!
T'was not meant for thee alone,
Pass it on!
Let it travel down the years,
Let it wipe another's tears,
Till in heaven the deed appears--
Pass it on!"

President's Message

Dear Club Members:

"A thankful heart is not only the greatest virtue,
but the parent of all other virtues." - Cicero.

I am most thankful to Mrs. Robert Ellis, her committee and last year's new members for the lovely Birthday Luncheon. To Mrs. Horace Way, Decorations, and last, but not least, to Mrs. Biercamp for bringing us such a fine program, thank you.

Sincerely yours,
Edna N. Reed

The members of the Van Nuys Woman's Club extend deepest sympathy to Mrs. Lial C. Jordon, upon the passing of her husband.

The Garden Section of the Van Nuys Woman's Club will meet in the clubhouse February 7th at 11:00 a.m. with Joe Littlefield, the guest speaker. After lunch, for which each member is asked to bring her own service and sandwich, the following hostesses will serve desert and coffee: Mrs. W.B. Welton, Mrs. Edward Armstrong, Mrs. William Barrett, Mrs. A. C. Greaves, Mrs James R. Davis, Mrs. R. H. Zastro and Mrs. Lawrence O'Conner.
A social hour follows at 1:30 p.m., with Mrs. Charles Cecil in charge.
Our Guest speaker, Joe Littlefield, will show slides of "Caribbean Plants and Flowers." The speaker has helped thousands of folk master finer points of good gardening through his former radio and television gardening shows. He now writes gardening columns for Southland community newspapers, and lectures to over 240 garden-minded groups and nurseries yearly. He'll also help the members and visitors with gardening or landscaping problems.

Please remember the Ways and means Card Party, on January 31st. Bring your own service, but luncheon will be served for $1.00 per person. The following will be on the committee: Mmes. Andrew L. Hamilton, Lawrence J. O'conner, Marie Nehls, Maude Harden, Charles Lane, John A. Osborn, A. H. Biercamp, Carolyn Durfee, Guy Rader, Porter A. Marshall, Charles Herman, C. H. Cecil, Fred M. President's Message

Dear Club Members,

This April is the Golden Anniversary of our club. We will honor our Charter Members, Past Presidents, and Federation Officers at this celebration, April 11, 1962.

"We should so live and labor in our time
That what came to us as seed
May go to the next generation as blossom,
And what came to us as blossom
May go to them as fruit.
This is what we mean by progress." Henry Ward Beecher

Sincerely,
Edna N. Reed

We extend our sincere sympathy to Mrs. William Wuest and Mrs. J. Howard Wilson upon the loss of their dear ones.

Congratulations to our Program Chairman, Martha Biercamp, on the publication of her poem in the Easter issue of the Church of Religious Science. It is the poem that won for her a Federation Award.

We are very proud of our local artists and we wish to congratulate our winners in our club competition, Mrs. Claude Fox and Mrs. Ferdinand Mendenhall.

ARTIST OF THE MONTH: Chounard Art Institute

Wednesday, April 4, Garden Section, 11:00 A.M. Clubhouse.
Program -- "Cactus Pete"

A big Thank You to the members who contributed so generously to the bake sale and made it a huge success. The Garden Section is real proud of all the wonderful cooks who prepared the sumptuous delicacies, which were so delightful to sell.

The "Cactus Pete" program will consist of over 300 colored slides, selected from the many trips into out-of-the-way places; many where white men have never been. Outstanding are "Desert to Jungle," which tells the story of cactus evolution, including the tropical jungles of Mexico and Central America, and "Sunny California."

Garden Clubs are invited to attend the annual Orchid Cactus Show from April 15, to June 15th.(May is best) There is a large Patio, with plenty of picnic tables, which you may use, undisturbed, for a full day. Reservations should be made well in advance, since there is quite a demand for this service. Bring your own picnic lunch... free cold drinks are furnished for groups of twenty or more.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Club Members:

Our "Summer Fun Fashion Luncheon" was a great success, and everyone connected with the affair appreciate your loyal support.

"What is this life if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare,
A poor life this if, full of care,
We have no time to stand and stare."

W. H. Davies

May some of your summer have a little of this "leisure".

Sincerely,
Edna N. Reed

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Dear Club Members:

"Keep Smiling" ---- It is ever true that Sun comes after rain,
And we have often proved the fact that Joy comes after Pain.
It's when the Light is breaking through the clouds which made us Sad
Our hearts rejoice with Peace and Love and once again we're Glad. Anon

Sincerely,
Phyllis Ellis

Knight Life —

Notes from NOTRE DAME HIGH SCHOOL

By MIKE WARD

I hate to keep sounding like a Chamber of Commerce for the forensics club, but due to the overwhelming success of the squad in interscholastic debate and speech competition, this writer feels compelled to report on the latest accomplishments of ND's most potent club.

MIKE

Knight novice debaters won the sweepstakes trophy in the Southern California Debate League Tournament at Monroe High School last Saturday. Garnering gold medals were Kenneth Miles, Vincent Mancuso, Charles Espana and Paul Hoff.

Recognized for Judging

Superiority winners were Richard Lewellyn, Paul Lombardi, Michael Lavery, Ryan Herz, Pat Murray, Robert Douchett, Dan Benton and William Ameche.

Senior Chris Dysart was presented with an award for superior judging.

Out of more than 100 schools entered in the annual University of Redlands tournament on March 23 and 24, Notre Dame took third place. Bob Williamson won first place in impromptu while confederate Jim Fitzgerald placed second in extemporaneous.

Both qualified for the state tournament to be held in Santa Barbara on the last Saturday of this month, April 28.

Tomorrow the gum-beaters will vie in the National Forensics League district tourney at UCLA in six individual events.

The following Saturday, on same campus, they will attempt to annex the district debate championship for the third consecutive year.

Will Represent School

Senior Don Bottoms competed in the third level of the Lions Club oratorical contest on Tuesday at Mint Can-

were printed at the fantastic price of 10 cents apiece.

Editors Mike Ward and Ron Matonak plan on 500 copies this year and a 30-page magazine, tripling its length and increasing circulation 40 per cent.

Sponsor of the literary endeavor is William Stedman, taking over for last year's director Gary Dukoska who is now faculty advisor for "The Knight," school paper.

N.D. CHAMPION track teams are going full speed in an effort to keep positions as league leaders in all three divisions for the third consecutive year.

Having defeated Serra and Cathedral, their two most powerful opponents, Knight thinclads slashed Mount Carmel last Friday by a score of 82-21, and hopes of another league crown are growing wider.

At Santa Barbara Relays held last Saturday, the Bee cindermen tied for first place with Fontana High School, and the Knights were awarded a Bee championship trophy on the flip of a coin.

Varsity and Cees emerged eighth and 10th respectively in the beach town's track and field joust.

RANKED AS ONE of the finest in the nation, the varsity swim team has already splashed to five victories, drowning Burroughs, Santa Monica, Loyola, Glendale and Reseda.

Squad is spearheaded by seniors Lee Danielson and Dick Yeakel, juniors Moe Learner, Terry Asher and John Guth and sophomores Guy Welles and Dennis Deagen.

Only one meet has been dropped, and that to powerful Taft High School.

TRAINING in survival faced by Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry in wilds of Nevada.

Survival in Wilds Faced by Sergeant

Biting cold, snow, hunger and a tough mock enemy await Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry of the 146th Air Transport Wing when he arrives at Stead Air Force Base in the Nevada wild country for there weeks of survival training.

The 25-year-old sergeant, who lives at 9032 Rathburn Ave., Northridge, must escape detection by "aggressor" forces, miles from "friendly" lines. He'll live off the land, and if captured, try to resist brainwashing.

All this will be going on just a few miles from the bright lights of Reno.

Henry already is well trained in physical survival. The emphasis this time is on mental survival — learning to resist interrogation, humiliation and brainwashing.

When he returns to the Van Nuys Air Base he'll take the post of survival training supervisor for the 146th's air crews.

Serves on Merrick

PACOIMA — Volker W. Straub, fireman USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Straub of 13183 Tonopah St., is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Merrick, a unit which took part in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's Exercise Tulungan, sponsored jointly by the Republic of the Philippines and the United States, from March 2 through April 2.

VAN NUYS WOMAN'S CLUB

At Half Century Milestone

RECALLS EARLY DAYS

Mrs. Carl Barkla, whose hobby now is making beautiful quilts, served as Van Nuys Woman's Club's fourth president (1918-1920) and will be oldest living president at Wednesday's Golden Jubilee celebration. She'll attend in wheelchair. Mrs. Barkla recently celebrated golden anniversary of her own when Van Nuys Chapter 338, Order of the Eastern Star, presented her with 50-year membership pin. The News photo

By DELLA ARMSTRONG and KAY ROE

It will be like a family reunion, and there will be laughter and moist eyes as old-timers sit down at long luncheon tables in the Van Nuys Woman's Club, 14836 Sylvan St., next Wednesday to celebrate the organization's Fiftieth Birthday.

The club's president, Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, will accept a plaque from Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood, president of Sierra-Cahuenga District, bestowed by the National Federation of Women's Clubs, Washington, D. C. headquarters, in honor of the club's Golden Anniversary.

Represents Five Decades

Decor for the day will be constructed by Mmes. Charles E. Lane, William Lloyd, Mabel Hammaker and Harvey N. Leuckel.

Displayed on the stage will be a large golden wheel representing the five decades.

The golden spoke will be presented by Mrs. George O. Chapman, club parliamentarian and a past president, and Mrs. Reed will complete the 50 year period by adding the last golden spoke to the wheel.

The head table will be marked by gold and white tapers in ornate candelabra flanked with two white-frosted birthday cakes decorated with yellow rosebuds.

After the past presidents light the candles and cut the cake, members of the executive board will circulate among the tables with trays of cake.

The club was started when a group calling itself the Mission Study Class, decided to disband and organize a woman's club, 14 months after the founding of the township of Van Nuys.

A charter was secured on April 3, 1912, with 32 names attached.

Although many of the club's present members recall yesteryear's' trials and tribulations of this civic and community minded women's club, only one is recorded as being a charter member.

She is Mrs. G. W. Dickey, still of Van Nuys, and will be honored along with the past presidents.

Mrs. Reed also will introduce one of the club's early presidents, Mrs. Carl Barkla whose term was 1918-1920. Mrs. Barkla recalls that when she came to the Valley it was only a barley field.

Still Active Today

Still active today are other past-presidents who have also turned the pages of club history that they themselves have written with their civic and community activities.

They are Mmes. B. R. Holloway, Belle Bever, Mrs. H. E. Campbell, (Portia Young), now of Belmont, Northern Cal.; James Wibray, H. S. Brown and Garnett Zarn Tingle.

The last decade group consists of Mmes. Ross Rook, Paul Bogendorfer, Lloyd G. Rainey, Raymond W. Post, George O. Chapman, Howell C. McDaniel, J. Howard Wilson, George L. Baker and the junior past president, Mrs. James L. Neel, who now heads the club's legislation section.

The group's charter president was Mrs. Lucy Trotter Mead, (deceased) and she served two terms (1912-14). They continued to

THEY'RE OLD—AND PROUD OF IT!

Two cakes will be cut and golden spokes placed in a giant anniversary wheel as Van Nuys Woman's Club, oldest in the Valley, celebrates its half century milestone at a luncheon next Wednesday in the Sylvan St. clubrooms. National Federation will send a gift plaque to commemorate occasion. Mrs. G. Wallace Dickey, center, only living charter member, will be a guest of honor. Mrs. Lewis M. Valley Hadassah

Headdress Ball

Highlighting Hadassah social activities for the spring will be the Valley Headdress Ball sponsored by Tovah, Elana, and Henrieta Szold-Zafon groups.

Scheduled for Saturday evening, May 26, at Doric Mission Inn in Mission Hills, the event is the first floral headdress ball to be held in the Valley by these groups, and will have as its theme, "Flowers Around the World."

The exotic headdresses are to be designed and contributed by Valley florists.

Mrs. Bernard Berg, chairman, has announced that models and the countries to be represented in flowers, will be selected at a Champagne get-acquainted party for participating florists and model applicants selected from Hadassah groups.

The party is to be held in the Encino home of Mrs. George Mintzer, president of Valley Hadassah, on Monday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Serving with Mrs. Berg on her committee are Mmes. J. B. Archer, George Gershon, Lou Jacobs, Michael Gurman, and Lowell Hertzberg.

Dancing will be to the music of the Startones.

Proceeds from the party will go toward the purchase of equipment and supplies to complete the Mother and Child Pavilion of the nonsectarian Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center Hospital in Israel.

This center, characterized by Dr. Jonas Salk as one of the finest institutions of its kind was opened in the Judean Hills on the western outskirts of Jerusalem last June.

It is now the focal point of Hadassah's overall medical program, which includes community and public health work, dental hygiene, and anti-trachoma services.

District Aide Will Install at Zonta Club

Jea Mae Lane, lieutenant governor of District Nine of Zonta International, will officiate as installing officer for newly elected officers of San Fernando Valley Zonta Club at a 7 p.m. dinner meeting Monday at the Porter Hotel, San Fernando.

The installation ceremony is set for 8 o'clock.

Nelle Powell, outgoing president, announces the following officers have been elected for the coming year: Marge Lloyd, president; Marguerite Moran, vice president; Lorraine Beach, secretary; Mary Doe, assisting secretary, and Kathleen Clemens, treasurer.

Directors will be Dr. Elizabeth Gist Dozier, Miriam Hubbell, Irene Petty, Edna Allenbaugh and Martha Rowe.

First business meeting for the new year will be held at the home of Peg Riddle, 524 Griswold Ave., San Fernando, April 23, at 7 p.m. when the standing committee will be ratified.

N. Hollywood Sets Easter Presentation

"The Chalice of Antioch," an Easter program by Richard Aiseniminger, will be presented to North Hollywood Woman's Club today at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, 5629 Vineland Ave.

The business meeting and election of officers, conducted by Mrs. Delmer C. Evans, will precede the program.

Hostesses greeting members and guests will be Mmes. Harold V. Flood and Edward C. Harrison.

Mrs. Gladys Sanford will have the hobby table this month and Mmes. Joe M. Dawson and James A. Presley will be in charge of decorations.

Artist of the month is Mrs. Amy Walton, a retired school teacher and secretary of the Valley Art Club.

INAUGURAL BALL TOMORROW FOR ELKS LODGE 2028

An inaugural ball for new officers of Van Nuys Elks Lodge 2028 will be held tomorrow evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the Elks Temple at 14440 Friar St.

Elks, their wives and guests will assemble at 6:30 p.m. for cocktails prefacing the evening of dancing.

Exalted ruler Dan Davis and his corps of officers will be official greeters and hosts at the party, according to the purple and white invitations issued by the lodge.

MANY YEARS SET TO MUSIC

El Camino NDGW Takes Trek

Members of El Camino Real Parlor 324, Native Daughters of the Golden West, are planning on having four tables at the fifth annual bruncheon of Southern Counties Children's Foundation to be held in Beverly-Hilton Hotel's International Room on Sunday.

Planning to attend with Mrs. Mark Harrington, president, are Mmes. Averil Barton, J. Daniel Brown, James Fitzsimmons, Harold Haselbusch, Harry Helm, Charles Huenergardt and Cullen Johnson.

Also Mmes. John Kubler, Don McGovern, Lee Miller, Edward Pinhey, Raymond Stevenson, Aloise Toneck, John Vandermate, Joseph Vetter and James Waits.

Also the Misses Charlene Faulstich, Wilda O'Hanlon, Elizabeth Kelley and Elizabeth Connors.

Parlor members have invited relatives and friends to accompany them to this annual social event.

VACATIONERS HOME

Hosting a seafood dinner at Clif Herd's Red Snapper on "restaurant row" recently were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Blake of Van Nuys.

WHERE THE CLUB WAS BORN

This frame house with its shade trees, still standing at 14627 Erwin St., and former home of Mrs. Lucy Trotter Smead, was first meeting place of Van Nuys Woman's Club in 1912. Other homes also were used for early gatherings until Sylvan St. quarters were erected in 1916. Postcards with architect's drawing of building were sold to defray expense.

Reseda Woman's Club

MIRIAM FETHEROLF

What sounds simpler than buying a dozen eggs? To make the wisest purchase, you should keep a few facts in mind. And the most important of these facts is this: Quality and size are in no way related to each other.

High quality eggs come in all sizes just as low quality eggs come in all sizes. Learn grade names and the quality they represent. Learn sizes; then make size comparisons to get the most for your money.

The carton tells the story. The letters AA and A describe the quality of the egg in the box.

Quality Test Is Easy

When an egg of AA quality is removed from the shell, the white is very thick and stands high; the yolk is firm and high and is well centered in the egg. An A quality egg has a white which is reasonably thick and stands fairly high; the yolk is firm, high and well-centered.

How is this grading done? Trained, competent personnel do the egg grading in the plants. First the grader considers shape, texture and condition of the shell. An egg unusual in shape, or one with rough, thin, cracked or dirty shell cannot be put in top grades regardless of interior quality.

Experts Grade Eggs

After judging the outside of the egg, the grader examines its interior quality. This he does before a candling light. First he notes the size of the air space, usually at large end of egg. The air cell is smaller in high quality eggs than in those of lower quality.

Next he observes the condition of the yolk and white. He notes the size, shape and position of the yolk. He studies the shadow it casts before the candling light in darkened room. A new-laid egg of high quality has a well-centered yolk. In this judging, the grader judges the condition of the white, because amount of thick white affects movement of yolk. A large proportion of thick white is one measure of high quality. Egg graders operate with amazing speed and accuracy.

Pass Judgment on Size

Grading for size consists of sorting the eggs according to standard weight classes. Most plants now use mechanical scales for sorting. Most of our markets have four sizes: Extra Large, Large, Medium and Small, and each of these sizes refers to a specified minimum weight per dozen in ounces.

For example, when a carton specifies the eggs are Large, the eggs must weigh at least 24 ounces per dozen. Sometimes a carton of eggs may include some eggs that meet the weight specifications for the next larger size. This is permissible because the MINIMUM weight for the dozen has not only been met but has been exceeded. Eggs are not machine made so they vary slightly.

Cool, Clean, Not Too Dry

It is as important to maintain quality as it is to know how to purchase it. This is done by keeping them cool, clean and not too dry and this condition is necessary from ranch to your table.

Buy eggs from dealer who keeps them under refrigeration. Follow suit and do likewise—large end up. Remove from the refrigerator only the number needed at one time and your fresh eggs will remain fresh much longer.

YOUNGSTERS LOVE CAPES

Easter party dresses take to capes, as in this cotton batiste by Claire Brooke. In peach, the cape is eyelet ruffled, comes off to show the sleeveless dress, its long torso frosted with eyelet, collared in white.

Slates Swim Class Series

With an eye to summer fun with safety, San Fernando Valley YWCA is offering a "Learn to Swim" program for children 7 to 12 years of age during Easter vacation.

Starting the first Saturday of vacation, classes will continue Monday through Thursday of Easter week at the Rita Curtis School in Van Nuys.

Basic fundamentals of swimming with particular stress on water safety, will be taught in 45-minute lessons, followed by 15 minutes of practice time.

Cost of this "Learn to Swim" program is nominal.

Advance registrations are necessary. Information may be obtained by calling the YWCA office at ST 1-5520.

Slick, Brisk, Chic New Entity

U.S.A.'s Non-Woman

In recent years, a breed of female who is neither a woman-hater nor a man-emasculator has invaded New York City. This "Manhattan Enigma" is known as a non-woman.

The reasons for her existence and the dominant factors in her creation are explored in April Cosmopolitan.

"Today's non-woman is the product of a century of evolution and revolution in which all American females have achieved economic, social and sexual freedom," writer Phyllis Battelle is quoted as saying.

Product of War

"The trend toward slickness, chicness, briskness was further advanced by World War II, which pushed women out of the home and into jobs. Like the men who couldn't be kept 'down on the farm, now that they've seen Paree,' American women were loath to give up making a salary in exchange for making a stew."

Commenting on the non-woman's gravitation to New York, Miss Battelle says: "New York City is impressed with the clever people and the ambitious people.

"If they are greedy and ruthless in the bargain, New York accepts them and understands; one has to be a little greedy to make his way there, and ruthlessness is so commonplace that it is casually accepted by the meek and admired by the fellow rude.

"New York offers privacy for the neurotic and sudden fame for the egotistical and riches for the ambitious—so it is in New York that most eager, driving personalities find their treadmill.

Growing Power

"The non-woman of today is a physical fact, a modern phenomenon to be reckoned with.

"Unless the mores of American society change radically in coming decades, their ranks will grow in number and in power.

"They are Intelligent. Often beautiful or elegant. In their immense self-interest, they can be treacherous. They do not necessarily carry the intent to destroy those men and women who surround them, but destruction often seems to follow in their paths."

Music Group to Practice

San Fernando Valley Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional women's music fraternity, will meet on Monday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Robert Dillaway, president, 20557 Wells Drive, Woodland Hills.

The agenda will include a report by the nominating committee and subsequent election of new officers.

Chorus practice of modern songs will be led by Mrs. R. R. Franck.

Presentation of the public musicale is slated for May.

meet at the different homes. One of the early accomplishments of the club was the establishment of a branch library in a local grammar school on Gilmore St., where various members served as librarians.

After a short time the city discovered that there was sufficient interest taken by the community in the library to warrant a paid librarian.

The Van Nuys Woman's Club being the first to organize in the San Fernando Valley and the incentive for many other clubs to form throughout the area, joined the Federation of Women's Clubs in July 1912, and in October 1916, was incorporated.

During the term of Sarah (Mrs. Fred) Kellogg, (deceased), who later was elected to the State Assembly, and through the generosity of Mrs. Ida Bailey, the club's first treasurer, a lot on Sylvan St. was given to the clubwomen.

They then secured the lot adjacent, and again with the financial help of Mrs. Bailey they built the present home for club activities.

The building's facade remains almost the same, although much remodeling of the interior, by removing a door, adding a stage, drapes and rails, modernizing the kitchen and turning a sun patio, now enclosed, into a delightful solarium, has changed the interior considerably.

Shows Steady Growth

The club has made a steady growth, bringing its membership up to 250, and adding sections from time to time.

During the time of Mrs. Elizabeth Houghton (deceased) 1914-1916, a music section was organized. The post of curator was later taken over by Garnett Zarn with Charles Tingle as the director. Garnett, a past president, (1944-46), recalls how the early era section formed a choral group, made appearances throughout the state, as well as locally, winning a total of five silver cups, now on display in the clubhouse trophy case.

The literature section delved deep in the literary realm by presenting speakers and studying art.

Club finances were low and some of the early lecturers appearing on club programs accepted chickens from the group, as payment for their services durthis era.

At present programs are in charge of Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp with the literature section headed by Mrs. Verne Patten and the art section supervised by Mrs. D. Wendell Reid.

These chairmen continue to bring the club programs of this nature, minus the chickens in payment for their speakers.

"Do Good" Projects

The garden section made an enviable name for itself by donating wild flower seeds to the city of Van Nuys, to blanket the vacant lots. Also in the early years the garden group donated to the California Federation of Women's Clubs to restore the redwoods and preserve those left.

(In the Federation's redwood plot the club owns one tree, named for club member Elsie Holloway).

Today's garden section chairman, Mrs. Andrew Hamilton, concentrates on flora and fauna programs, as well as the Redwood Conservation and the Remdes for Pines CFWC programs.

"Songs of Fifty Years Ago," sung by Betty Jean Bruce, mezzo contralto, will be an added program attraction on Wednesday.

Before coming to Los Angeles Mrs. Bruce appeared in radio in Minneapolis, and in concert in Texas, Seattle, Minneapolis and on various concert tours.

She recently has appeared with the Burbank and Huntington Park Symphonies under the direction of Dr. Constantin Bakaleinikoff and is a member of the 140-voice Roger Wagner Chorale.

She is presently studying with Alice Mock and is appearing weekly in the Comedy Theatre of Van Nuys in the musical version of "The Drunkard."

The program which follows the luncheon will be presented by Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, chairman.

Mrs. Ben Berman to Serve Jewish Centers Associates

Mrs. Ben Berman will be installed as president of the Jewish Centers Associates, succeeding Mrs. Harry Malin, at a luncheon at Tall o' the Cock on Monday.

The Associates are a group of women who devote themselves to raising funds for the Jewish Centers Association, 5870 W. Olympic Blvd. These funds are specifically earmarked for camperships to day and country camps, for nursery school scholarships, and for senior citizen programs conducted by the JCA unit.

These are Bay Cities Jewish Community Center, 2601 Santa Monica Blvd., Santa Monica; Hollywood Los Feliz Jewish Community Center, 1110 Bates Ave., Los Angeles; Valley Cities Jewish Community Center, 13164 Burbank Blvd., Van Nuys; Westside Jewish Community Center, 5870 W. Olympic Blvd.; Extension Programs, and Camp JCA at Barton Flats.

To be installed with Mrs. Berman are honorary president, Mrs. Eugene Stern; vice presidents Mmes. Jack Coren, Joel Fabrick, Joseph Lessin and Bernard Levin; Mrs. Gertrude Poser, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel H. Sherman, membership secretary; Mrs. Z. Phillip Cooper, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Marlowe, recording secretary.

Mrs. Harry Malin will act as advisor, along with past presidents, Mrs. Max W. Bay and Mrs. Saul Epstein.

Bethel 110 to Practice

North Hollywood, Bethel 110, International Order of Job's Daughters, will meet Saturday at 10 a.m. in Masonic Temple, 5122 Tujunga Ave.

Glenna Angel, honored queen, will preside.

A special practice for the ceremony of majority will be held at 9 a.m. preceding the meeting.

During the business session plans will be completed for a dime-a-dip dinner and square dance sponsored by the Mothers' Club.

Caller for the dance will be Chuck Sheeley. Chairmen for the event are Margaret Eggleston and Diane Straight.

THEY WERE FIVE-TIME WINNERS

San Fernando Valley DAR Will Hear Disaster Survival Aide

Vera Thompson, nurse consultant for the disaster nursing branch of Los Angeles County Health Department, will outline a plan for individual and family survival before members of San Fernando Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, next Saturday afternoon, April 14, at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Adolph Semrow, 14085 Terra Bella St., Pacoima.

Cohosting will be Mmes. Della Tarbell, Louis Plumb, and Ann von Poederoyen.

Mrs. Harry Waite, a chapter member well trained in civil defense activities and public nursing, will introduce the speaker and add to the discussion.

In addition to the natural catastrophes, Miss Thompson will discuss man-made disasters, which in this Southern California area can become more serious in their consequences because of the increased concentration of men and industries.

"Knowledge is a key to survival" will be the theme the speaker will stress as she concludes her talk on defense and protection against biological, chemical, and thermonuclear hazards.

The May 12 meeting of the group will be held in the home of Mrs. Howard Hill in Encino when Mrs. John Earle Stewart will discuss the history of Los Encinos State Monument.

Names of officers elected to serve the California State Society, Daughters of the American Revolution, have been released following the 54th state conference convention at the Statler Hilton Hotel.

Mrs. Frank R. Mettlach of San Diego has been chosen president for the 1962-63 term, with Mrs. Harvey B. Lyon, Lafayette, as vice regent.

More who will serve are Mmes. James Chester Cram, Tierra Alta Chapter, Los Angeles, chaplain; Ralph R. Campbell, Oakland, assistant chaplain; Richard J. Friend, Santa Monica, recording secretary; Donald Spicer, Coronado, corresponding secretary, and John Gilchrist, Peyton Randolph Chapter, Universal City, organizing secretary.

Also Mmes. Arthur F. Strehlow, Oakland, assistant recording secretary; Roy Lawrence Haglund, Riverside, treasurer; James Derrell Smith, Fontana, registrar; Thomas Francis Meagher, Millbrae, historian, and Louise M. Rankin, Palo Alto, librarian.

Delphian Unit to Evaluate Fourth Estate

Chi Delta Epsilon chapter, Delphian Society, will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the Campo de Cahuenga, 3919 Lankershim Blvd.

Mrs. Don Weed, as moderator, will lead the discussion on "The Fourth Estate," to evaluate our free press and its responsibilities.

Questions for discussion will include "Does a newspaper mold public opinion, or does public opinion determine the pattern of a newspaper?" "Do newspapers cater too much to the tastes and habits of the reader?" "Is this good or bad?"

More questions will be should a publisher or editor have the final word as to whether propaganda should be printed or whether news should be suppressed?" "From what source should newspapers secure additional income to meet the increased costs of world coverage?"

Also "Do you think freedom of the press is becoming an outmoded cliche?"

Topic leaders are Mmes. Rollen Mack, Edward T. Wells, Roy C. Bennett, Bert L. Murman and William Wentworth.

Presbyterian Retreat Will Open Tonight

Pacific Palisades Conference Grounds at 15601 Sunset Blvd., will be the locale for the annual retreat of the Women's Association of Panorama Presbyterian Church beginning tonight through Sunday noon.

Mrs. Harold Linstrot, coordinator, announces that "God's People in God's World," from the book of the same name by Arthur McKay, will be the theme of the week end.

Discussion groups will be led by the Mmes. Lee Blankenbiler, Howard Bridges, Kenneth Collins, Edward Goller, Charles Jester Jr., Del Newman, Sam Rush and Carl Summe.

In addition, Mrs. Helen Beurskens is serving as resource chairman, and Mrs. Edwin Grawoig as pianist.

Also in attendance will be the Mmes. Arnold Burghardt, Carl Bergersen, Garnet Clancy, James Copelin, Louis Falb, Allan Lindstrom, Ray Price and Walter Rilling.

Highlights of the program will be a question and answer period, discussion of the book "Life Together" and a worship service conducted by Mrs. Howard Bridges, president.

At Desert Spa

Among Southlanders currently sunning themselves at the Arizona Manor in Phoenix are Dr. and Mrs. Milton Maxwell of Los Angeles, who are meeting Mrs. Maxwell's sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. James MacArthur of Rye, N.Y., for a week's holiday together.

Bon Voyage to Mrs. Rothenberg

A "going away party" for Mrs. Lillian Rothenberg of North Hollywood was given at Phil Ahn's Moongate restaurant by her friends and coworkers of the RCA Service Co., Van Nuys.

The gathering included Chris Davis of Van Nuys; Helen Templin, Canoga Park; Sarah Yanello, Van Nuys; Ethel A. Solomon, North Hollywood; Maxine Vreeland, Granada Hills and Betty Brinkmeyer, Van Nuys.

Also Natasha Barstoff of Panorama City; Mary Bowerman, Reseda; Linda Kirshner, Sepulveda; Barbara Locke, Canoga Park; Rose Kechyian, Sepulveda, and Irma Shipley of Sherman Oaks.

Is Your Child Safe?

GARAGE PERIL IS ATTRACTIVE

"Your car is safe in the garage, but is your child?," this community's parents were asked today by Dr. Albert H. Domm, a leading child safety spokesman.

Dr. Domm, advising parents to conduct a periodic spring safety checkup of home, neighborhoods and children's habits, stressed the importance of a safe garage.

He pointed out that the typical garage is not only used for storing automobiles, but also as a storage room, work shop and play room.

Fills Many Functions

Here's Dr. Domm's garage safety check list:

Place paint products and thinners, insecticides, solvents and other poisonous substances in securely locked cabinets. No poisonous substance should be left in soft drink or milk bottles or any container which might suggest something pleasant to a child.

Sharp instruments such as knives, chisels, ice picks, planes, nails, glass and other common work bench tools and materials should be stored safely out of reach of children. Don't overlook the possibility of a child climbing to a high shelf. Store garden tools such as mowers, rakes, hoes, spades and pruning shears in special locked racks.

Never leave an unguarded tool plugged in. Padlock electric switches or make power tools inoperative to ordinary switch control.

Chests or trunks are suffocation hazards. Lock them so that children cannot climb into them. Remove the doors from ice boxes or refrigerators.

Look Before Backing

When arranging items for storage, make sure that a child's tug or the weight of a young body cannot bring down an avalanche in the garage.

Also, never leave the hood or trunk of a car open when you are away from the garage. Always know exactly where your children or their playmates are before backing out.

"If all these precautions prove to be too great a task, for your child's safety, padlock the garage doors when you cannot be there to provide protection," the child safety spokesman urged.

Lemay School Teachers to Be Honored

West Valley Area of the Association for Childhood Education will honor Lemay St. Elementary School teachers with tea on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the school building at 17520 Vanowen St., Van Nuys.

The business session will be conducted by Alice Hood, president.

Mrs. Martha Gurtzius, program chairman, has invited Dr. Donald J. Kincaid to speak on "Tomorrow's Education Today."

Dr. Kincaid received his education at UCLA and his doctorate from USC. He has been superviser of guidance and counseling since 1952 and has been a teacher in both elementary and secondary schools. He served with the U.S. Air Force before going into counseling.

The meeting is open to the public.

GATEWAY to GLAMOUR

By ELEANOR KIRKBY

UP JOCELYN RYAN WAY (Valley Plaza) you'll hear things that make for glamour like this: "When you you cream your face, rub the excess cream thoroughly into your hands instead of letting the cleansing tissues get all of it. Making this a habit will keep your hands soft and lovely."

OR: "When your eyes are tired, or smog bothers them, spend a relaxed 15 minutes in the beauty angle position of several pillows under your hips with your feet up, and cotton saturated with witchhazel on your eye lids."

HUNDREDS OF BEAUTY TIPS like these may be gleaned from J. R. Staff Supervisor, lovely-to-look-at Lee Foster, who not only instructs and supervises, but also looks into opportunities for modeling so that J.R. North Hollywood models may not only be SEEN AND HEARD, but PAID.

LIKE the shows Anna Rousseau and Blanche Schwartz did for LUCA FASHIONS of Van Nuys at Glen-Air Country Club, Sportsmen's Lodge, and in Burbank; or jobs at this year's Boat Show at the Pan Pacific . . . or the recent VCC Convention at the Biltmore for which O. S. Tyson & Co. wrote quite unsolicited from New York, but with very definite specifications, as to the models needed for the profitable four-day job.

A letter just received from the company highly commended the two girls selected—Sandy Marakas and Jan Barthel—and promised to ask for Jocelyn Ryan models again. Things like this make model job-finding FUN (and gratifying) for Lee.

And all this is why J. R. girls can be seen fashion modeling in such restaurants as Wolf Gang Puck, Ricky's Valley Inn, Carriage House . . . with Jobs in Beverly Hills employing J. R. models on different occasions for fashion showings at the Star-on-the-Roof of the Beverly Hilton.

FRIDAY MORNING CLUB

Writer to Speak

At today's 10:30 a.m. meeting of the Friday Morning Club, in the clubhouse at 940 S. Figueroa St., Marquis W. Childs will give a lecture titled "Washington Calling."

The political columnist is one of the more experienced and able members of the Washington press corps.

During his 35 years as a newsman, Mr. Childs has established a reputation as a specialist in covering the complex, often confusing, news developments in national and international affairs.

This ability comes to the fore in his syndicated column "Washington Calling," giving clear, concise reports and evaluating the underlying significance of important political, government, and diplomatic and economic events.

Mr. Childs, a frequent panelist on "Meet the Press," is also the author of many books. Among his best sellers will be found, "Eisenhower: Captive Hero," "The Ragged Edge" and "This is Democracy" and many others.

Washington is both his working headquarters and his home since he first became a Washington correspondent in 1934.

Following the luncheon Mr. Childs will answer questions.

So You Want to Write!

By LOUISE HATHAWAY

"Dear Louise Hathaway:

"I would like to know if there is a book that I may get to help me in the composition and layout of a story. In other words, I sometimes put the cart in front of the horse. This can become embarrassing as well as being tough on the the horse."

This, in part, is from a delightful letter I received from a gentleman who expressed his interest and seriousness in wanting to write. His letter also showed that he had a definite flair for words, but what impressed me most of all was that he was willing to learn about technique.

The questions he asked included the various aspects of punctuation, spelling, writing form, whether manuscripts could be penciled (No, no, no, always typewritten — and professional typists are available) and where other professional help could be obtained.

I was also pleased that he did not stress where to send his manuscripts this early in the game. So, obviously, my correspondent does not always put the cart before the horse.

First understand what you are doing, then worry about submitting your work. Unpolished manuscripts only bounce back with rejections.

Recommended books are plentiful on library shelves. Thumbing through pages will soon assure you of the right choice. Newsstands have excellent magazines. But perhaps you should take the shortest cut to proper literary instruction along with college and high school courses by studying the textbooks selected by the schools.

You don't need to spend a lot of money learning to write, but you can't get out of spending a lot of time.

Your questions concerning writing will be answered personally by mail. Just address them to Louise Hathaway, c/o The News Women's Section, P.O. Box 310, Van Nuys. Enclose a self addressed envelope for your reply.

Rexall Drug Hosting Foreign Students on Company Tours

President Bowles Finds Young Guests Keenly Interested; Sees Goodwill Value in Policy

At the present time there is a lot of talk by groups, organizations and companies about the need for better relations between this nation and foreign countries. But, few people outside the government are doing anything about it.

One exception is Rexall Drug Co. and the men and women who work there. The people at Rexall Drug Co., spearheaded by company president John Bowles, have a full-scale program underway.

One of the things they do is hold regularly scheduled tours of the firm's Los Angeles headquarters for foreign students. On these tours, students from every section of the world have a chance to take a close look at Rexall's facilities and see for themselves the American "free enterprise system" at work.

Take Complete Tour

Bowles says: "We want these students to see at first hand how we do things. The important thing we try to let them know is that we're not bragging about our American system, although we're mighty proud of it; we're sharing with them our way of doing things."

Students who visit the facilities are given as complete a tour as possible. They visit the research laboratories, advertising and merchandising departments—even the mail room.

The only part they don't see are the company's manufacturing facilities—not because Rexall doesn't want to show them—but because they are located in other cities.

Gain Direct Answers

The tour ends with a tea in a company lounge where the students have a chance to chat informally with key company executives.

Bowles, who personally meets and greets every student on the tour, says this last part is vital: "This is where students get a real opportunity to loosen up and be themselves. It's one thing to show foreign students our facilities—but it's a completely different thing to have them meet and talk with key people in the company.

"At these informal teas, the students can ask direct questions—and we give them direct answers. We want them to know we are people just the same as they are and that we're eager to share our ideas with them."

Sincere in Desires

"One of the things that impresses the students most," Bowles points out, "is that we have no business axe to grind with them. In most of the countries where these students are from we have no outlets at all. We are not an export company.

"These students are interested because they know we're sincere in our desires to better communications between their countries and ours."

"THE PLEASURE IS OURS" says John Bowles (upper right center), president of Rexall Drug Company, shaking hands with smiling blonde member of contingent of foreign students from USC and UCLA, as he greets them for tour of Rexall headquarters in Los Angeles. "We find our young foreign guests very much interested in the complex yet orderly operations of a firm of this type and size," Bowles states, "and are happy to contribute to this policy of greater understanding and goodwill."

Chain Crash on Freeway Injures Five

Five persons were injured in the mixup of a like number of vehicles, one driven by a policeman, on the outbound Hollywood Freeway east of Vineland Ave. undercrossing, police reported.

Treated for minor injuries on Wednesday were Arlene Harriet Kweitko 19, of Los Angeles; Frances Louis Fowler 37, of 14402 Miranda St., Van Nuys; Mary R. Fletcher 42, of 4947 Greenbush Ave., Sherman Oaks, and Barbara Kosloff 20, of 6526 Jamieson Ave., Reseda, both passengers in the Fowler car; and Don Bloom 35, of 9520 Delco Ave., Chatsworth, who was riding in the small car of William King Driggs Jr. 28, of 5525 Keokuk Ave., Woodland Hills, who was not injured.

Miss Kweitko was treated for a skinned knee, Mrs. Fowler for abrasions of the knees and arm, Mrs. Fletcher for a pain in the chest, an injured ankle, injured leg and nose and a cut forehead; Miss Kosloff for lower back pains and possible fractured nose. Bloom refused treatment for a leg injury.

Police said Miss Kweitko's car first struck the Fowler vehicle as they were all outbound on the freeway.

It in turn struck the car driven by Driggs which was forced into the car of Leo Martin Heim 67, of 19935 Parthenia St., Northridge.

It then was shoved into the small auto driven by Officer Richard Melville Holbrook 25, of the Newton St. Police Division.

POULSON NAMED TO STATE WATER UNIT BY BROWN

Former Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles today had been appointed to the California Water Commission by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The appointment, which will run to January 1965, requires Senate confirmation.

The post carries compensation of $20 a day in the performance of duties with an annual ceiling of $2000.

Gov. Brown said Poulson "gained an intimate knowledge of California's water needs and problems" as Mayor of Los Angeles, chairman of the successful statewide water bond issue campaign and as a former member of the U.S. House of Representatives' interior committee.

"I am pleased that he has consented to serve on this extremely important body," the Governor added.

Poulson is associated with Haskins & Sells certified public accountants.

Youths Discuss Southland Plants

Native Southern California plants will be discussed at tomorrow's 9:45 to 11:15 a.m. meeting of the Junior Naturalists, which will be held at the municipal nursery, 2650 Commonwealth Ave., in Griffith Park. It was reported by the Los Angeles Audubon Society and the City Recreation and Parks Dept., co-sponsors.

Accreditation Test Planned Next Week at Valley College

VAN NUYS — Los Angeles Valley College will undergo an accreditation test Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The examination, which will be conducted by an eight-man team of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, will investigate all student activities within the school including all community developments promoted by the college.

Students Have Trouble

Schools not accredited are not eligible for inclusion in the Education Directory published by the U.S. Commissioner of Education.

Students transferring from non-accredited schools to accredited colleges have trouble getting their credits accepted and must take some classes over again.

An accrediting association is an institution which exists for mutual encouragement in the improvement of educational programs and broadening of educational opportunity.

The blue book of educational institutions says that accrediting agencies are instruments for the maintenance of high educational standards.

Makes Third Time

The preamble to the constitution of the National Committee of Regional Accrediting Agencies says that accrediting agencies protect society against inadequately prepared professional practitioners.

This makes the third time that Valley College has gone through an accreditation investigation. The first was in 1954, when Valley got a three-year extension of its accreditation. The second was in 1957 with the accreditation being extended for five years.

In the last accrediting investigation which was conducted on Oct. 23 and 24, 1957, the accrediting team praised Valley College for "having accomplished so much in so short a time in such a complex community."

Aspects Strengthened

The accrediting team also recommended that Valley College place greater emphasis upon the study of the economic and sociological life of the area served by the college.

William J. McNells, president of the college, said that all aspects pertaining to this recommendation have been strengthened.

Other recommendations were that the Valley College library be extended to include more reference material for college classes.

Mrs. June Biermann, head librarian, reported that the library has been extended beyond the recommendations given by the accrediting team in 1957.

Seriously Considered

Also recommended was a larger scholarship program for Valley students.

Edwin Macdonald, head of the scholarship program, said that Valley College now maintains the largest scholarship program in the history of the school.

Every recommendation given by the 1957 team has been seriously considered by the people responsible for that particular facet of college life, McNells said.

Some $5,600,000 was alloted for the importation of 2466 foreign-made passenger cars in the Japanese 1961 fiscal year which ended in March.

The Indian Railway and Alco, U.S.A., signed an agreement recently for technical collaboration for the manufacture of diesel locomotives.

Square Dancing Class to Begin

19 Valley Future Farmers to Be Honored at Banquet

Nineteen Future Farmers of America, representing five San Fernando Valley high schools, will be honored at the annual FFA achievement awards banquet sponsored by Security First National Bank, on Monday at 6 p.m. in Rodger Young Auditorium, Los Angeles.

As official winners of the annual farm competition program in the Los Angeles County section, the 19 Valley students will be feted for their outstanding efforts in livestock, crop or horticultural projects.

Winners Announced

This year's winners by school are:

Canoga Park — Bob Jack, Robert B. Elliott, John Cota and Mike Shafer.

North Hollywood — David Kennedy, Michael Short and Edward Svestka.

San Fernando—Bruce Festa, Vincent Canarella, Joseph Burkhardt and Eddie Rutherford.

Taft — Stanley Hurwitz, Mickey Strauss and David Shafer.

Rubies Adorn Clasps

Van Nuys — Charles Siegle, David E. Gray, Keith W. Johnson, Donald S. Lardner and James T. Cameron.

Graded according to the traditional Danish system of judging, the upper half winners will receive gold certificates, while the others will be given silver certificates.

In addition, all of the boys will receive a tie clasp adorned with one or more rubies. Each ruby indicates the number of years the boy has participated in the sectional competition.

John W. Haman, vice president and manager of Security Bank's Van Nuys branch, will be master of ceremonies. Don M. Kruse, assistant vice president of Security and one of the project competition judges, will present the awards.

Civic Leaders Attend

Featured speakers for the evening include: Byron J. McMahon, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Education, State of California; Kenneth Cutler, regional supervisor, Agricultural Education Dept. (who also served as a judge); and Robert Adams, FFA student from Tustin High School.

Also on hand to honor the young farmers will be civic leaders, school officials and other representatives from Security Bank's Valley branches.

Van Nuys Nike Base Sets Missile Battery Dedication

Dedication ceremonies, marking the conversion of the Army's Van Nuys missile battery to handle the improved and more powerful Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. on the base, 15600 Victory Blvd.

Community and civic leaders have been invited to attend the program, which will feature a tour of the area, missile demonstration and crew drill.

Retrain Personnel

Lt. Col. Charles Cole Jr., commander of the Fourth Missile Battalion (Nike-Hercules) 65th Artillery, said Capt. Lary W. Padgett, battery commander, will brief the guests on the base's operation. In addition, an officer from the 47th Artillery Brigade will speak.

Conversion of Battery D from the Ajax to Hercules models began last June with the retraining of personnel. Enlargement and modification of the base's facilities also were required.

The Van Nuys missile battery now is an operational universal site, capable of firing both the Ajax and Hercules.

Weighs Five Tons

Col. Cole said the Nike-Hercules is a second generation missile, which can destroy multiple targets more than 75 miles away and at altitudes ranging from 1000 to 150,000 feet.

The battalion commander said the five-ton missile, which is capable of carrying a nuclear warhead, has the ability to hit a target moving at three times the speed of sound — 2100 miles an hour.

20-WEEK COURSE TO OPEN MONDAY

CANOGA PARK — A class to teach square dancing to Valley residents will start on Monday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of Sutter Junior High School, 7330 Winnetka Ave., Canoga Park; for approximately 20 weeks. It will be held every Monday night.

The class will be conducted by caller-instructor, Don Carter, under the sponsorship of Caper Cutters Square Dance Club. Carter, one of the Valley's well known callers, has had many years of experience in introducing neophytes to the fun of square dancing.

Additional information on the class may be obtained by calling either DIamond 5-3817 or DIamond 8-8261.

'Parents Without Partners' Group Schedules Meeting

San Fernando Valley chapter of the Parents Without Partners organization will hear an address by a Sherman Oaks educator on Monday at 8 p.m. in the Encino Community Center, 4935 Balboa Blvd.

D. A. GOTTSCHALK
Addresses Local Group

Robert Neustadter, chapter president, said that Dean Alfred Gottschalk, of the Los Angeles School of the Hebrew Union College, will speak on the topic, "Parents Without Partners?"

The chapter president added that the local chapter is part of a national non-profit and non-sectarian organization designed for either widowed or divorced men and women who have custody of minor children.

Neustadter said that Parents Without Partners, limited to single parents, was organized to sponsor cultural and educational programs and to promote discussion groups, social events and planned activities for children and teenagers.

OFFICER CAN'T GIVE TICKET, BUT GIRL CAN

Policemen often give tickets but on Tuesday a 14-year-old Van Nuys girl turned the tables and gave a policeman not one but a whole book of tickets—his own.

It started when Sharon Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alexander of 13332 Albers St., was walking home from Millikan Junior High School.

On Chandler Blvd. near Fulton Ave. she spotted something in the bushes, reached in and pulled out a policeman's ticket book, with some of the tickets filled in.

A call to the Police Dept. got the policeman and the ticket book back together, so all errant motorists should watch their driving, the force is back to full strength again.

East Valley View

By FRANCES RUSSELL KAY—POplar 3-4552

RESIDENTS of the extreme east section of the Valley are making Lemoine Blanchard the busiest man in the Los Angeles City Council.

This week he was visited by a Toluca Lake Chamber of Comerce delegation with messages for him to pass on to the State Division of Highways.

Residents of this area want freeway signs designating Toluca Lake offramps. There are none at present.

They also want the highway department to get busy with landscaping plans for the Ventura Freeway now under construction. Some are concerned only with shrubbery. Others, whose property lines are right at the base of the freeway, are worrying more about guard rails.

Blanchard, a North Hollywood resident whose home also is close by the same freeway, has promised to carry the message.

IS THERE a doctor in the East Valley?

Residents planning to call Dr. Kildare or Ben Casey will be all right. Others who want real live doctors better place their calls next week. During the following week there will be a doctor shortage.

A large contingent of North Hollywood physicians and surgeons will be in San Francisco the week of April 15 for the State Medical Convention.

Among North Hollywood doctors who will be there are Dr. Richard French, Dr. Gordon Richardson and Dr. T. Jackson Laughlin. Wives will go, too.

The Richardsons will stop off to visit son Ricky at Menlo College. Dr. and Mrs. French will spend some time with son Dennis at Stanford University.

Dr. and Mrs. Laughlin will see their daughter Gale who is chief medical records librarian at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

Dr. Laughlin is due home this week end from a four-day fishing trip which took him to Mazatlan. Before his departure he checked newest equipment at the Sportsmen's Show. Accompanying him were fishing and hunting cronies Robert Armstrong and Glenn Sewell, also of the East Valley.

* * *

FORMAN AVENUE residents have new neighbors. William T. Barron and his family, formerly of Burbank, have purchased a home at 4555 Forman Ave.

HOME AFTER several days of "just relaxing" in Palm Springs are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gordon of 11131 Hesby St., North Hollywood.

They were guests of former long-time East Valley residents Mary and Henry "Hank" Reynolds who now live year around in Happy Valley in the desert section west of Palm Springs.

Mrs. Gordon is the new president of Toluca Lake Altrusa Club.

They report that another guest at the Reynold's home was Wade Davis, former Toluican and charter member of the Toluca Lake Rotary Club.

HOME AGAIN from a trip which took them a greater distance are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kent of Studio City.

They report a wonderful time in New York City where they saw such "great shows" as "Camelot," "Gift of Time," "Song of Music" and "A Shot in the Dark."

They returned in time to be home during daughter Judy's spring vacation. Judy, who attends USC was one of the models at yesterday's Kappa Kappa Gamma tea and fashion show.

Judy's vacation won't be too much fun. She'll spend some of the time in hospital.

JUST FUN is the only item on the vacation agenda for Julie Herten and Joyce Meehan. They'll take over the Laguna Beach home of Joyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Meehan.

The Meehans, too, returned home this week. This time from a flight to San Francisco and a stay at the Fairmont Hotel where they joined Mrs. Meehan's sister and brother-in-law, the Warren Beebes of Boulder, Colo.

Beebe came west for a meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. Before their return flight south the Meehans spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kirchner of Los Altos.

* * *

SPRING VACATION is a thing of the past for Stanford University students. Last to leave home was Roger Willett, son of the Charles Willetts of Studio City.

Roger is a senior student and after graduation in June is planning to continue studies as a law student.

SPRING VACATION for Steve Kay means a tour with the "Stags," (Claremont Men's-Harvey Mudd) track team. The team departs Sunday on a Northern California jaunt. Meets have been scheduled with Reedly College and San Francisco State University.

Before returning to classes at Claremont Men's College on April 16, Steve will visit at the home of classmate Steve Halgrimson in San Carlos.

JACK LONGSTREET family assembled last night to sing happy birthday to Mrs. John McMahan (Nancy Longstreet) who blew out 23 candles on the cake which her mother-in-law Mrs. McMahan Sr. baked.

Others there, in addition to Nancy's parents, were her small daughter Mary Catherine, her husband Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Nancy and Linda Longstreet.

Nancy's birthday is really today but the Longstreets with a group of East Valley friends plan to attend tonight's performance of "Advise and Consent."

Wedding anniversaries were a celebrated by North Hollywood couples during the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jones returned to Las Vegas where they were married 25 years ago.

Also celebrating their silver event were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lombardi.

DUE HOME next week end are Mr. and Mrs. M. A. "Andy" Vargo who have been on a 53-day Mediterranean cruise on the SS Constitution.

During the cruise Vargo officially extended invitations to the Rotary International Convention which will be in Los Angeles in June.

Vargo will make a full report to Toluca Lake Rotary Club at an early meeting.

TALKING ABOUT "their trip" are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brock Sr. of Forman Avenue. They recently returned from a Caribbean cruise which took them from New York to the Virgin Islands, to Caracas, to the Panama Canal and then back to New York by way of Jamaica.

* * *

ALSO TELLING about their trip are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson of North Hollywood. They flew to Mexico City then on to Puerta Vallarta and Acapulco.

Navy Tests Scheduled This Month

Regular Navy qualifying tests will be given daily at the local Navy recruiting office throughout this month.

Announcement came from chief T. R. Uptegrove, local Navy recruiter. The procedure is in support of unrestricted quotas assigned for April.

Men qualifying through local testing may enlist on Navy School contracts; three, four, and six-year enlistments are continued. Those who do not desire to participate in school programs will be assigned to sail ships of the fleet after nine weeks of indoctrination at San Diego.

Testing is available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Men 17 through 31 years of age are eligible for testing.

For information or appointment contact Uptegrove at 11304 Chandler Blvd. or phone POplar 1-3133.

Possible Fraud in Fallout Shelters Probed by State

Up to 50 cases of possible fraud in fallout shelter construction in Southern California, involving false advertising claims and defective work, are under investigation by state authorities.

The state attorney general's office said a hearing is pending against one contractor and another firm has been fined by the State Contractors License Board for operating without a license.

Investigate Cases

Deputy Atty. Gen. Vincent Thorp said his office has received "a number of complaints" from property owners in recent weeks over misleading advertising and contractors who failed to fulfill their agreements.

All cases are being investigated and many being turned over to the Contractors License Board for possible disciplinary action.

Two are being held for possible criminal prosecution, Thorp said.

He said most cases involve what he called "fly-by-night opeartors" who, he said, advertise their shelters as "bombproof or blastproof."

In one instance, a backyard shelter was flooded with water 16 inches deep during recent rains.

Failed to Finish Job

"If there had been an attack and that shelter was occupied, the people would either have drowned or been killed by radioactivity in the rainwater," Thorp said.

In another case, the deputy attorney general said, a homeowner "literally poured $4000 into a hole in the ground."

The construction firm excavated for a shelter and then never completed the job, he said.

PARENTS INVITED TO ATTEND SCHOOL FOR ONE EVENING

Classes will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Patrick Henry Junior High School next Monday—classes for parents of Patrick Henry students, that is.

The open house program will lead parents through the schedule of classes which their children attend each day.

This will give parents the opportunity to meet the teachers of their children and teachers the chance to explain the curriculum and answer questions about study procedures or school policy.

Adults only are invited to this evening meeting of the PTA. After the last school bell has sounded at 9:30, an informal social time will be enjoyed over cake and coffee.

Notes from NOTRE DAME HIGH SCHOOL

By MIKE WARD

I hate to keep sounding like a Chamber of Commerce for the forensics club, but due to the overwhelming success of the squad in interscholastic debate and speech competition, this writer feels compelled to report on the latest accomplishments of ND's most potent club.

MIKE

Knight novice debaters won the sweepstakes trophy in the Southern California Debate League Tournament at Monroe High School last Saturday. Garnering gold medals were Kenneth Miles, Vincent Mancuso, Charles Espana and Paul Hoff.

Recognized for Judging

Superiority winners were Richard Lewellyn, Paul Lombardi, Michael Lavery, Ryan Herz, Pat Murray, Robert Douchett, Dan Benton and William Ameche.

Senior Chris Dysart was presented with an award for superior judging.

Out of more than 100 schools entered in the annual University of Redlands tournament on March 23 and 24, Notre Dame took third place. Bob Williamson won first place in impromptu while confederate Jim Fitzgerald placed second in extemporaneous.

Both qualified for the state tournament to be held in Santa Barbara on the last Saturday of this month, April 28.

Tomorrow the gum-beaters will vie in the National Forensics League district tourney at UCLA in six individual events.

The following Saturday, on same campus, they will attempt to annex the district debate championship for the third consecutive year.

N.D. CHAMPION track teams are going full speed in an effort to keep positions as league leaders in all three divisions for the third consecutive year.

Having defeated Serra and Cathedral, their two most powerful opponents, Knight thinclads slashed Mount Carmel last Friday by a score of 82-21, and hopes of another league crown are growing wider.

At Santa Barbara Relays held last Saturday, the Bee cindermen tied for first place with Fontana High School, and the Knights were awarded a Bee championship trophy on the flip of a coin.

Varsity and Cees emerged eighth and 10th respectively in the beach town's track and field joust.

TRAINING in survival faced by Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry in wilds of Nevada.

Survival in Wilds Faced by Sergeant

Biting cold, snow, hunger and a tough mock enemy await Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry of the 146th Air Transport Wing when he arrives at Stead Air Force Base in the Nevada wild country for there weeks of survival training.

The 25-year-old sergeant, who lives at 9032 Rathburn Ave., Northridge, must escape detection by "aggressor" forces, miles from "friendly" lines. He'll live off the land, and if captured, try to resist brainwashing.

All this will be going on just a few miles from the bright lights of Reno.

Henry already is well trained in physical survival. The emphasis this time is on mental survival — learning to resist interrogation, humiliation and brainwashing.

When he returns to the Van Nuys Air Base he'll take the post of survival training supervisor for the 146th's air crews.

NOTRE DAME HIGH SCHOOL

By MIKE WARD

I hate to keep sounding like a Chamber of Commerce for the forensics club, but due to the overwhelming success of the squad in interscholastic debate and speech competition, this writer feels compelled to report on the latest accomplishments of ND's most potent club.

MIKE

Knight novice debaters won the sweepstakes trophy in the Southern California Debate League Tournament at Monroe High School last Saturday. Garnering gold medals were Kenneth Miles, Vincent Mancuso, Charles Espana and Paul Hoff.

Recognized for Judging

Superiority winners were Richard Lewellyn, Paul Lombardi, Michael Lavery, Ryan Herz, Pat Murray, Robert Douchett, Dan Benton and William Ameche.

Senior Chris Dysart was presented with an award for superior judging.

Out of more than 100 schools entered in the annual University of Redlands tournament on March 23 and 24, Notre Dame took third place. Bob Williamson won first place in impromptu while confederate Jim Fitzgerald placed second in extemporaneous.

Both qualified for the state tournament to be held in Santa Barbara on the last Saturday of this month, April 28.

Tomorrow the gum-beaters will vie in the National Forensics League district tourney at UCLA in six individual events.

The following Saturday, on same campus, they will attempt to annex the district debate championship for the third consecutive year.

Editors Mike Ward and Ron Matonak plan on 500 copies this year and a 30-page magazine, tripling its length and increasing circulation 40 per cent.

Sponsor of the literary endeavor is William Stedman, taking over for last year's director Gary Dukoska who is now faculty advisor for "The Knight," school paper.

N.D. CHAMPION track teams are going full speed in an effort to keep positions as league leaders in all three divisions for the third consecutive year.

Having defeated Serra and Cathedral, their two most powerful opponents, Knight thinclads slashed Mount Carmel last Friday by a score of 82-21, and hopes of another league crown are growing wider.

At Santa Barbara Relays held last Saturday, the Bee cindermen tied for first place with Fontana High School, and the Knights were awarded a Bee championship trophy on the flip of a coin.

Varsity and Cees emerged eighth and 10th respectively in the beach town's track and field joust.

RANKED AS ONE of the finest in the nation, the varsity swim team has already splashed to five victories, drowning Burroughs, Santa Monica, Loyola, Glendale and Reseda.

Squad is spearheaded by seniors Lee Danielson and Dick Yeakel, juniors Moe Learner, Terry Asher and John Guth and sophomores Guy Welles and Dennis Deagen.

Only one meet has been dropped, and that to powerful Taft High School.

Survival in Wilds Faced by Sergeant

Biting cold, snow, hunger and a tough mock enemy await Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry of the 146th Air Transport Wing when he arrives at Stead Air Force Base in the Nevada wild country for there weeks of survival training.

The 25-year-old sergeant, who lives at 9032 Rathburn Ave., Northridge, must escape detection by "aggressor" forces, miles from "friendly" lines. He'll live off the land, and if captured, try to resist brainwashing.

All this will be going on just a few miles from the bright lights of Reno.

Henry already is well trained in physical survival. The emphasis this time is on mental survival — learning to resist interrogation, humiliation and brainwashing.

When he returns to the Van Nuys Air Base he'll take the post of survival training supervisor for the 146th's air crews.

HIGH HONOR — Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's page editor of The News, has been named first place winner in her class in J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition for best woman's page. Miss Taylor won second place last year.

News' Woman's Editor Wins National Award

University of Missouri Journalism Honor Carries Top Prize of $1000

Directors of the J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards national competition for best woman's pages today had announced that Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's editor of The News, has won first place in her class.

THURSDAY, DECEMBER 27, 1962

Last year's competition brought her a second place and a cash prize of $500.

Miss Taylor this year will receive $1000 and in addition will attend the honors assembly and banquet in Columbia, Mo., at which awards presentations to winners will be made. This is the third year of the competition.

Received Personal Award

One of the nation's top woman editors, Miss Taylor has been honored many times before for her outstanding work.

She received a personal award for "Exceptional Achievement in Journalism" in 1956 from Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism, and holds several state firsts in California Newspaper Publishers Association competitions.

Miss Taylor's entries were three woman's sections published during the month of September 1962, selected as typical of The News' four-times-a-week publications.

Wins Third in Her Class

Entries were judged for quality of coverage of society, clubs and school activities; foods, fashion and household sciences with emphasis on guidance for young homemakers, quality of over-all writing, headlining and illustration for page or pages, originality of local material and typographical display.

Second place in Class IV went to Mrs. Marianne Scott, woman's editor of the Arlington Heights, Ill., Herald, with third place awarded to Mrs. Grace Barbor, woman's editor of the Burlingame, Cal., Advance-Star.

Miss Betty Preston, woman's editor of the Glendale News-Press, won third place in Class I, papers of 25,000 circulation or below.

First place winners on other newspapers are as follows:

Class I — Mrs. Dorothy-Anne Flor, woman's editor, Pompano Beach, Fla., Sun-Sentinel.

Class II—Miss Edee Greene, woman's editor, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., News.

Class III — Miss Nancy Taylor, woman's editor, Miami News.

Miss Graydon Heartsill, fashion editor of the Dallas Times Herald, captured the $1500 fashion-writing award.

Established Through Grant

Judges for 1962 were Dorothy Roe, New York News-Chicago Tribune Syndicate woman's columnist; Basil L. Walters, director of Newspaper Research Associates Inc., Frankfort, Ind., and former executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc.; Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director, School of Home Economics, University of Missouri; Philip H. Willon, vice president and director of creative writing, N. W. Ayer & Sons Inc., Philadelphia, and Glenn E. McNeil, secretary-manager, Tennessee Press Association, Knoxville.

Established in 1960 through a grant from the Penney company, the awards program honors James Cash Penney 87, founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

The competition is designed to encourage development of better woman's pages through better coverage of all these activities in weekly and daily newspapers.

Top Talents Recognized

A major aim is to break down the traditional editorial barriers which have narrowed woman's pages in the past.

Another is to recognize the outstanding talents of the newspaper women and men who edit and write woman's pages.

Director of the program is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on the journalism faculty of the University of Missouri.

BACK IN SWING

Ethel Taylor, women's editor of "The News," will be at her desk Monday on her return from Columbia, Mo., where she flew to accept a $500 cash award as a winner in the second annual J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition.

National in scope, the contest honored 12 other winners and culminated with a three-day awards and workshop program on women's page journalism conducted at the university.

Saluted at Banquet

Activities climaxed with a banquet on Wednesday night which saluted Miss Taylor and other winners capturing top prizes in the national newspaper competition. Award medallions and prize checks were presented by Dean Earl F. English, director of the journalism school.

Preceding the banquet, winners and 20 workshop guests from all parts of the country, participated in two days of clinics and discussions of techniques for improving women's pages and fashion writing.

During their stay in Columbia, the winners also appeared on Esther Griswold's "Of Interest to Women" program over KOMU television station.

They toured the Columbia Missourian, the general circulation daily published at the school; inspected the new $500,000 addition to the journalism facility, and visited exhibits and demonstrations at the school of home economics, as guests of Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director. Dr. Mangel is a permanent judge of the Penney-Missouri competition.

Establishes Grant

The awards were established in 1960 through an annual grant from the Penney company to the University in honor of James Cash Penney 86, a native of Hamilton, Mo., and founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

VAN NUYS WOMAN'S CLUB

At Half Century Milestone

RECALLS EARLY DAYS

Mrs. Carl Barkla, whose hobby now is making beautiful quilts, served as Van Nuys Woman's Club's fourth president (1918-1920) and will be oldest living president at Wednesday's Golden Jubilee celebration. She'll attend in wheelchair. Mrs. Barkla recently celebrated golden anniversary of her own when Van Nuys Chapter 338, Order of the Eastern Star, presented her with 50-year membership pin. By DELLA ARMSTRONG and KAY ROE

It will be like a family reunion, and there will be laughter and moist eyes as old-timers sit down at long luncheon tables in the Van Nuys Woman's Club, 14836 Sylvan St., next Wednesday to celebrate the organization's Fiftieth Birthday.

The club's president, Mrs. Lewis M. Reed, will accept a plaque from Mrs. G. Ray Sherwood, president of Sierra-Cahuenga District, bestowed by the National Federation of Women's Clubs, Washington, D. C. headquarters, in honor of the club's Golden Anniversary.

Represents Five Decades

Decor for the day will be constructed by Mmes. Charles E. Lane, William Lloyd, Mabel Hammaker and Harvey N. Leuckel.

Displayed on the stage will be a large golden wheel representing the five decades.

The golden spoke will be presented by Mrs. George O. Chapman, club parliamentarian and a past president, and Mrs. Reed will complete the 50 year period by adding the last golden spoke to the wheel.

The head table will be marked by gold and white tapers in ornate candelabra flanked with two white-frosted birthday cakes decorated with yellow rosebuds.

After the past presidents light the candles and cut the cake, members of the executive board will circulate among the tables with trays of cake.

The club was started when a group calling itself the Mission Study Class, decided to disband and organize a woman's club, 14 months after the founding of the township of Van Nuys.

A charter was secured on April 3, 1912, with 32 names attached.

Although many of the club's presest members recall yesteryear's' trials and tribulations of this civic and community minded women's club, only one is recorded as being a charter member.

She is Mrs. G. W. Dickey, still of Van Nuys, and will be honored along with the past presidents.

Mrs. Reed also will introduce one of the club's early presidents, Mrs. Carl Barkla whose term was 1918-1920. Mrs. Barkla recalls that when she came to the Valley it was only a barley field.

Still Active Today

Still active today are other past-presidents who have also turned the pages of club history that they themselves have written with their civic and community activities.

They are Mmes. B. R. Holloway, Belle Bever, Mrs. H. E. Campbell, (Portia Young), now of Belmont, Northern Cal.; James Wibray, H. S. Brown and Garnett Zarn Tingle.

The last decade group consists of Mmes. Ross Rook, Paul Bogendorfer, Lloyd G. Rainey, Raymond W. Post, George O. Chapman, Howell C. McDaniel, J. Howard Wilson, George L. Baker and the junior past president, Mrs. James L. Neel, who now heads the club's legislation section.

The group's charter president was Mrs. Lucy Trotter Mead, (deceased) and she served two terms (1912-14). They continued to

Two cakes will be cut and golden spokes placed in a giant anniversary wheel as Van Nuys Woman's Club, oldest in the Valley, celebrates its half century milestone at a luncheon next Wednesday in the Sylvan St. clubrooms. National Federation will send a gift plaque to commemorate occasion. Mrs. G. Wallace Dickey, center, only living charter member, will be a guest of honor. Mrs. Lewis M. Valley Hadassah

Headdress Ball

Highlighting Hadassah social activities for the spring will be the Valley Headdress Ball sponsored by Tovah, Elana, and Henrieta Szold-Zafon groups.

Scheduled for Saturday evening, May 26, at Doric Mission Inn in Mission Hills, the event is the first floral headdress ball to be held in the Valley by these groups, and will have as its theme, "Flowers Around the World."

The exotic headdresses are to be designed and contributed by Valley florists.

Mrs. Bernard Berg, chairman, has announced that models and the countries to be represented in flowers, will be selected at a Champagne get-acquainted party for participating florists and model applicants selected from Hadassah groups.

The party is to be held in the Encino home of Mrs. George Mintzer, president of Valley Hadassah, on Monday evening at 8:30 p.m.

Serving with Mrs. Berg on her committee are Mmes. J. B. Archer, George Gershon, Lou Jacobs, Michael Gurman, and Lowell Hertzberg.

Dancing will be to the music of the Startones.

Proceeds from the party will go toward the purchase of equipment and supplies to complete the Mother and Child Pavilion of the nonsectarian Hadassah-Hebrew University Medical Center Hospital in Israel.

This center, characterized by Dr. Jonas Salk as one of the finest institutions of its kind was opened in the Judean Hills on the western outskirts of Jerusalem last June.

It is now the focal point of Hadassah's overall medical program, which includes community and public health work, dental hygiene, and anti-trachoma services.

District Aide Will Install at Zonta Club

Jea Mae Lane, lieutenant governor of District Nine of Zonta International, will officiate as installing officer for newly elected officers of San Fernando Valley Zonta Club at a 7 p.m. dinner meeting Monday at the Porter Hotel, San Fernando.

The installation ceremony is set for 8 o'clock.

Nelle Powell, outgoing president, announces the following officers have been elected for the coming year: Marge Lloyd, president; Marguerite Moran, vice president; Lorraine Beach, secretary; Mary Doe, assisting secretary, and Kathleen Clemens, treasurer.

Directors will be Dr. Elizabeth Gist Dozier, Miriam Hubbell, Irene Petty, Edna Allenbaugh and Martha Rowe.

First business meeting for the new year will be held at the home of Peg Riddle, 524 Griswold Ave., San Fernando, April 23, at 7 p.m. when the standing committee will be ratified.

N. Hollywood Sets Easter Presentation

"The Chalice of Antioch," an Easter program by Richard Aiseniminger, will be presented to North Hollywood Woman's Club today at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse, 5629 Vineland Ave.

The business meeting and election of officers, conducted by Mrs. Delmer C. Evans, will precede the program.

Hostesses greeting members and guests will be Mmes. Harold V. Flood and Edward C. Harrison.

Mrs. Gladys Sanford will have the hobby table this month and Mmes. Joe M. Dawson and James A. Presley will be in charge of decorations.

Artist of the month is Mrs. Amy Walton, a retired school teacher and secretary of the Valley Art Club.

INAUGURAL BALL TOMORROW FOR ELKS LODGE 2028

An inaugural ball for new officers of Van Nuys Elks Lodge 2028 will be held tomorrow evening beginning at 8:30 o'clock in the Elks Temple at 14440 Friar St.

Elks, their wives and guests will assemble at 6:30 p.m. for cocktails prefacing the evening of dancing.

Exalted ruler Dan Davis and his corps of officers will be official greeters and hosts at the party, according to the purple and white invitations issued by the lodge.

MANY YEARS SET TO MUSIC

El Camino NDGW Takes Trek

Members of El Camino Real Parlor 324, Native Daughters of the Golden West, are planning on having four tables at the fifth annual bruncheon of Southern Counties Children's Foundation to be held in Beverly-Hilton Hotel's International Room on Sunday.

Planning to attend with Mrs. Mark Harrington, president, are Mmes. Averil Barton, J. Daniel Brown, James Fitzsimmons, Harold Haselbusch, Harry Helm, Charles Huenergardt and Cullen Johnson.

Also Mmes. John Kubler, Don McGovern, Lee Miller, Edward Pinhey, Raymond Stevenson, Aloise Toneck, John Vandermate, Joseph Vetter and James Waits.

Also the Misses Charlene Faulstich, Wilda O'Hanlon, Elizabeth Kelley and Elizabeth Connors.

Parlor members have invited relatives and friends to accompany them to this annual social event.

VACATIONERS HOME

Hosting a seafood dinner at Clif Herd's Red Snapper on "restaurant row" recently were Mr. and Mrs. William E. Blake of Van Nuys.

WHERE THE CLUB WAS BORN

This frame house with its shade trees, still standing at 14627 Erwin St., and former home of Mrs. Lucy Trotter Smead, was first meeting place of Van Nuys Woman's Club in 1912. Other homes also were used for early gatherings until Sylvan St. quarters were erected in 1916. Postcards with architect's drawing of building were sold to defray expense.

ORT Bills Speaker for Monday

"Handling of Aggressive Feelings in Children" will be discussed during Monday's 8:30 p.m. meeting of the Granada Hills Chapter of Women's American ORT, at Town Hall, 16916 San Fernando Mission Road.

Margaret Miller, currently with the Los Angeles City Adult Education School, will be guest speaker. Prior to her parent education work, she was an elementary school teacher.

A short business session will be conducted by Mrs. Eugene Spiegel, president.

Mrs. David Seidel, program chairman, announces that an "on time" prize will be awarded and refreshments will be served.

Reservations may be called to EM 3-9466.

Reseda Woman's Club

Plans Country Fair Fund Raiser

An old fashioned country fair is slated for tomorrow from 11 a.m. through the evening, sponsored by Reseda Woman's Club in the clubhouse, 7901 Lindley Ave.

Open to the public with no admission, the fair will provide chance booths of darts, goldfish bowls, bean bags and many others for children and adults to enjoy.

Hot buttered popcorn, hot dogs and oven fresh apple pie will be served all day.

There will be sale items such as Easter baskets, plants, baked goods, jewelry, canned goods, white elephants, handicraft, cake mixes and various sundries.

Mrs. Earl J. Smith and her committee, comprised of Mmes. Howard Cashion, Elwood Collis, Richard Duber, W. H. Hagg, Clyde Johnson, John Kirston, Steven MacNish, D. G. Martyn, Vernon Rautz, Virgil Purdue, Walter H. Smith and Walter A. Smith, are making arrangements for the fair.

GUILD WILL GIVE LINEN FOR KITCHEN

Lydia Service Guild of the Lutheran Church of the Atonement in Woodland Hills, will meet Wednesday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Arlyn Bokelheide, 23648 Oxnard St., with Mrs. Harry Kozlowski assisting.

A linen shower will be held for the purpose of furnishing the kitchen in the new church building which is under construction on Platt Ave.

A program on "Missions" will be presented by the Rev. John Costello who will show slides and speak on his work in this area.

Sisterhood to Produce Gay Musical

Rehearsals have begun for the first West Coast production of "Star Light, Star Bright" a musical comedy in two acts and two planets to be presented May 12 at 8:30 p.m. at Sutter Junior High Auditorium, 7330 Winnetka Ave., by Temple Ramah Sisterhood.

Just for TODAY

MIRIAM FETHEROLF

What sounds simpler than buying a dozen eggs? To make the wisest purchase, you should keep a few facts in mind. And the most important of these facts is this: Quality and size are in no way related to each other.

High quality eggs come in all sizes just as low quality eggs come in all sizes. Learn grade names and the quality they represent. Learn sizes; then make size comparisons to get the most for your money.

The carton tells the story. The letters AA and A describe the quality of the egg in the box.

Quality Test Is Easy

When an egg of AA quality is removed from the shell, the white is very thick and stands high; the yolk is firm and high and is well centered in the egg. An A quality egg has a white which is reasonably thick and stands fairly high; the yolk is firm, high and well-centered.

How is this grading done? Trained, competent personnel do the egg grading in the plants. First the grader considers shape, texture and condition of the shell. An egg unusual in shape, or one with rough, thin, cracked or dirty shell cannot be put in top grades regardless of interior quality.

Experts Grade Eggs

After judging the outside of the egg, the grader examines its interior quality. This he does before a candling light. First he notes the size of the air space, usually at large end of egg. The air cell is smaller in high quality eggs than in those of lower quality.

Next he observes the condition of the yolk and white. He notes the size, shape and position of the yolk. He studies the shadow it casts before the candling light in darkened room. A new-laid egg of high quality has a well-centered yolk. In this judging, the grader judges the condition of the white, because amount of thick white affects movement of yolk. A large proportion of thick white is one measure of high quality. Egg graders operate with amazing speed and accuracy.

Pass Judgment on Size

Grading for size consists of sorting the eggs according to standard weight classes. Most plants now use mechanical scales for sorting. Most of our markets have four sizes: Extra Large, Large, Medium and Small, and each of these sizes refers to a specified minimum weight per dozen in ounces.

For example, when a carton specifies the eggs are Large, the eggs must weigh at least 24 ounces per dozen. Sometimes a carton of eggs may include some eggs that meet the weight specifications for the next larger size. This is permissible because the MINIMUM weight for the dozen has not only been met but has been exceeded. Eggs are not machine made so they vary slightly.

Cool, Clean, Not Too Dry

It is as important to maintain quality as it is to know how to purchase it. This is done by keeping them cool, clean and not too dry and this condition is necessary from ranch to your table.

Buy eggs from dealer who keeps them under refrigeration. Follow suit and do likewise—large end up. Remove from the refrigerator only the number needed at one time and your fresh eggs will remain fresh much longer.

YOUNGSTERS LOVE CAPES

Easter party dresses take to capes, as in this cotton batiste by Claire Brooke. In peach, the cape is eyelet ruffled, comes off to show the sleeveless dress, its long torso frosted with eyelet, collared in white.

Grote-Nowak

Afternoon rites at First Methodist Church of Van Nuys united Mary Louise Nowak and Richard Spenser Grote, who later departed on a wedding trip to Santa Barbara, Carmel and San Francisco.

Daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John P. Nowak of Pittsburgh, Pa., the bride was gowned in a floor length satin dress.

Her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond A. Grote of Van Nuys, was graduated from UCLA where he was affiliated with Phi Beta Kappa. The couple now reside in Los Angeles.

Lynch-Cook

After a wedding trip to Carmel and San Francisco, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Allan Lynch are making their home at 7030 Lennox Ave., Van Nuys, and each has resumed teaching at Valley Schools.

Mrs. Lynch, who before her marriage was Luanne Cook, daughter of Mrs. Stanley Cook and the late Mr. Cook, teaches at Colfax School. Mr. Lynch is an instructor at Mayall School in Northridge.

The bride attended San Fernando High School, Valley College, University of Hawaii, and was graduated from San Fernando Valley State College, where she met her husband.

Mr. Lynch was a student at North Hollywood High School, Valley College, and received his BA degree at San Fernando Valley State College where he was a founder member of Beta Sigma Pi.

Altman-Stockman

At home in Los Angeles following a wedding trip to Las Vegas, Lake Tahoe and San Francisco are recentwed Mr. and Mrs. Neil I. Altman who were united at Verdugo Hills Hebrew Center.

Mrs. Altman is the former Sheila Stockman and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Stockman of North Hollywood. She is a graduate of Van Nuys High School.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Max Altman of Los Angeles is an alumnus of Los Angeles High School and Los Angeles State College.

Slick, Brisk, Chic New Entity

U.S.A.'s Non-Woman

In recent years, a breed of female who is neither a woman-hater nor a man-emasculator has invaded New York City. This "Manhattan Enigma" is known as a non-woman.

The reasons for her existence and the dominant factors in her creation are explored in April Cosmopolitan.

"Today's non-woman is the product of a century of evolution and revolution in which all American females have achieved economic, social and sexual freedom," writer Phyllis Battelle is quoted as saying.

Product of War

"The trend toward slickness, chicness, briskness was further advanced by World War II, which pushed women out of the home and into jobs. Like the men who couldn't be kept 'down on the farm, now that they've seen Paree,' American women were loath to give up making a salary in exchange for making a stew."

Commenting on the non-woman's gravitation to New York, Miss Battelle says: "New York City is impressed with the clever people and the ambitious people.

"If they are greedy and ruthless in the bargain, New York accepts them and understands; one has to be a little greedy to make his way there, and ruthlessness is so commonplace that it is casually accepted by the meek and admired by the fellow rude.

"New York offers privacy for the neurotic and sudden fame for the egotistical and riches for the ambitious—so it is in New York that most eager, driving personalities find their treadmill.

Growing Power

"The non-woman of today is a physical fact, a modern phenomenon to be reckoned with.

"Unless the mores of American society change radically in coming decades, their ranks will grow in number and in power.

"They are intelligent, often beautiful or elegant. In their immense self-interest, they can be treacherous. They do not necessarily carry the intent to destroy those men and women who surround them, but destruction often seems to follow in their paths."

Music Group to Practice

San Fernando Valley Alumnae Chapter of Sigma Alpha Iota, national professional women's music fraternity, will meet on Monday at 8 p.m. in the home of Mrs. Robert Dillaway, president, 20557 Wells Drive, Woodland Hills.

The agenda will include a report by the nominating committee and subsequent election of new officers.

Chorus practice of modern songs will be led by Mrs. R. R. Franck.

Presentation of the public musicale is slated for May.

Mount Sinai Helpers Will Meet Tuesday

Mount Sinai Helpers for Handicapped Children of San Fernando Valley will meet Tuesday evening at 8:30 o'clock in the Viviane Woodard Studios, 14621 Titus St., Panorama City.

Mrs. David Stalk, program chairman, will have charge of activities featuring a cosmetic demonstration.

Mrs. Sheldon Wainer will conduct the business session when fund-raising events under the direction of Mrs. Marshall Melnick, first vice president, will be discussed.

Plans for "Vive La Vegas" night slated for Saturday, April 28, will be completed.

Reports on the mothers day luncheon, fathers night, donor luncheon and ad book will be given by Mmes. Stanley Schneider, Marshall Melnick and William Weinlood.

A nominating commitee will be selected and asked to present its slate of candidates at the May meeting.

Mrs. William Glick will announce plans for the membership drive which will be conducted through the summer months.

Refreshments will be served at the close of the meeting.

VAN NUYS BPW BILLS STYLES

"What's New This Spring," will be the fashion feature when Van Nuys Business and Professional Women's Club members gather at the Pacific Telephone Co. cafeteria, 14709 Vanowen St., on Thursday at 7:30 p.m.

There is no charge and reservations are unnecessary.

meet at the different homes. One of the early accomplishments of the club was the establishment of a branch library in a local grammar school on Gilmore St., where various members served as librarians.

After a short time the city discovered that there was sufficient interest taken by the community in the library to warrant a paid librarian.

First In Valley

The Van Nuys Woman's Club being the first to organize in the San Fernando Valley and the incentive for many other clubs to form throughout the area, joined the Federation of Women's Clubs in July 1912, and in October 1916, was incorporated.

During the term of Sarah (Mrs. Fred) Kellogg, (deceased), who later was elected to the State Assembly, and through the generosity of Mrs. Ida Bailey, the club's first treasurer, a lot on Sylvan St. was given to the clubwomen.

They then secured the lot adjacent, and again with the financial help of Mrs. Bailey they built the present home for club activities.

The building's facade remains almost the same, although much remodeling of the interior, by removing a door, adding a stage, drapes and rails, modernizing the kitchen and turning a sun patio, now enclosed, into a delightful solarium, has changed the interior considerably.

Shows Steady Growth

The club has made a steady growth, bringing its membership up to 250, and adding sections from time to time.

During the time of Mrs. Elizabeth Houghton (deceased) 1914-1916, a music section was organized. The post of curator was later taken over by Garnett Zarn with Charles Tingle as the director. Garnett, a past president, (1944-46), recalls how the early era section formed a choral group, made appearances throughout the state, as well as locally, winning a total of five silver cups, now on display in the clubhouse trophy case.

The literature section delved deep in the literary realm by presenting speakers and studying art.

Club finances were low and some of the early lecturers appearing on club programs accepted chickens from the group, as payment for their services during this era.

At present programs are in charge of Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp with the literature section headed by Mrs. Verne Patten and the art section supervised by Mrs. D. Wendell Reid.

These chairmen continue to bring the club programs of this nature, minus the chickens in payment for their speakers.

"Do Good" Projects

The garden section made an enviable name for itself by donating wild flower seeds to the city of Van Nuys, to blanket the vacant lots. Also in the early years the garden group donated to the California Federation of Women's Clubs to restore the redwoods and preserve those left.

(In the Federation's redwood plot the club owns one tree, named for club member Elsie Holloway).

Today's garden section chairman, Mrs. Andrew Hamilton, concentrates on flora and fauna programs, as well as the Redwood Conservation and the Pennies for Pines CFWC programs.

"Songs of Fifty Years Ago," sung by Betty Jean Bruce, mezzo contralto, will be an added program attraction on Wednesday.

Before coming to Los Angeles Mrs. Bruce appeared in radio in Minneapolis, and in concert in Texas, Seattle, Minneapolis and on various concert tours.

She recently has appeared with the Burbank and Huntington Park Symphonies under the direction of Dr. Constantin Bakaleinkoff and is a member of the 140-voice Roger Wagner Chorale.

She is presently studying with Alice Mock and is appearing weekly in the Comedy Theatre of Van Nuys in the musical version of "The Drunkard."

The program which follows the luncheon will be presented by Mrs. A. H. Bierkamp, chairman.

Mrs. Ben Berman to Serve Jewish Centers Associates

Mrs. Ben Berman will be installed as president of the Jewish Centers Associates, succeeding Mrs. Harry Malin, at a luncheon at Tail o' the Cock on Monday.

The Associates are a group of women who devote themselves to raising funds for the Jewish Centers Association, 5870 W. Olympic Blvd. These funds are specifically earmarked for campersships to day and country camps, for nursery school scholarships, and for senior citizen programs conducted by the JCA unit.

These are Bay Cities Jewish Community Center, 2601 Santa Monica Blvd., Santa Monica; Hollywood Los Feliz Jewish Community Center, 1110 Bates Ave., Los Angeles; Valley Cities Jewish Community Center, 13164 Burbank Blvd., Van Nuys; Westside Jewish Community Center, 5870 W. Olympic Blvd.; Extension Programs, and Camp JCA at Barton Flats.

To be installed with Mrs. Berman are honorary president, Mrs. Eugene Stern; vice presidents Mmes. Jack Coren, Joel Fabrick, Joseph Lessin and Bernard Levin; Mrs. Gertrude Poser, treasurer; Mrs. Samuel H. Sherman, membership secretary; Mrs. Z. Phillip Cooper, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Harold Marlowe, recording secretary.

Mrs. Harry Malin will act as advisor, along with past presidents, Mrs. Max W. Bay and Mrs. Saul Epstein.

Bethel 110 to Practice

North Hollywood, Bethel 110, International Order of Job's Daughters, will meet Saturday at 10 a.m. in Masonic Temple, 5122 Tujunga Ave.

Glenna Angel, honored queen, will preside.

A special practice for the ceremony of majority will be held at 9 a.m. preceding the meeting.

During the business session plans will be completed for a dime-a-dip dinner and square dance sponsored by the Mothers' Club.

Caller for the dance will be Chuck Sheeley. Chairmen for the event are Margaret Eggleston and Diane Straight.

Bon Voyage to Mrs. Rothenberg

A "going away party" for Mrs. Lillian Rothenberg of North Hollywood was given at Phil Ann's Moongate restaurant by her friends and coworkers of the RCA Service Co., Van Nuys.

The gathering included Chris Davis of Van Nuys; Helen Templin, Canoga Park; Sarah Yanello, Van Nuys; Ethel A. Solomon, North Hollywood; Maxine Vreeland, Granada Hills and Betty Brinkmeyer, Van Nuys.

Also Natasha Barstoff of Panorama City; Mary Bowerman, Reseda; Linda Kirshner, Sepulveda; Barbara Locke, Canoga Park; Rose Kechyian, Sepulveda, and Irma Shipley of Sherman Oaks.

San Fernando Valley DAR Will Hear Disaster Survival Aide

Vera Thompson, nurse consultant for the disaster nursing branch of Los Angeles County Health Department, will outline a plan for individual and family survival before members of San Fernando Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, next Saturday afternoon, April 14, at 2 o'clock. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Adolph Semrow, 14085 Terra Bella St., Pacoima.

Cohostesing will be Mmes. Della Tarbell, Louis Plumb, and Ann von Poederoyen.

Mrs. Harry Waite, a chapter member well trained in civil defense activities and public nursing, will introduce the speaker and add to the discussion.

In addition to the natural catastrophes, Miss Thompson will discuss man-made disasters, which in this Southern California area can become more serious in their consequences because of the increased concentration of men and industries.

"Knowledge is a key to survival" will be the theme the speaker will stress as she concludes her talk on defense and protection against biological, chemical, and thermonuclear hazards.

The May 12 meeting of the group will be held in the home of Mrs. Howard Hill in Encino when Mrs. John Earle Stewart will discuss the history of Los Encinos State Monument.

Delphian Unit to Evaluate Fourth Estate

Chi Delta Epsilon chapter, Delphian Society, will be held Monday at 10 a.m. at the Campo de Cahuenga, 3919 Lankershim Blvd.

Mrs. Don Weed, as moderator, will lead the discussion on "The Fourth Estate," to evaluate our free press and its responsibilities.

Questions for discussion will include "Does a newspaper mold public opinion, or does public opinion determine the pattern of a newspaper?" "Do newspapers cater too much to the tastes and habits of the reader?" "Is this good or bad?"

More questions will be "Should a publisher or editor have the final word as to whether propaganda should be printed or whether news should be suppressed?" "From what source should newspapers secure additional income to meet the increased costs of world coverage?"

Also "Do you think freedom of the press is becoming an outmoded cliche?"

Topic leaders are Mmes. Rollen Mack, Edward T. Wells, Roy C. Bennett, Bert L. Murman and William Wentworth.

Presbyterian Retreat Will Open Tonight

Pacific Palisades Conference Grounds at 15601 Sunset Blvd., will be the locale for the annual retreat of the Women's Association of Panorama Presbyterian Church beginning tonight through Sunday noon.

Mrs. Harold Linstrot, coordinator, announces that "God's People in God's World," from the book of the same name by Arthur McKay, will be the theme of the week end.

Discussion groups will be led by the Mmes. Lee Blankenbiller, Howard Bridges, Kenneth Collins, Edward Goller, Charles Jester Jr., Del Newman, Sam Rush and Carl Semmes.

In addition, Mrs. Helen Beurskens is serving as resource chairman, and Mrs. Edwin Grawoig as pianist.

Also in attendance will be the Mmes. Arnold Burghardt, Carl Bergersen, Garnet Clancy, James Copelin, Louis Falb, Allan Lindstrom, Ray Price and Walter Rilling.

Highlights of the program will be a question and answer period, discussion of the book "Life Together" and a worship service conducted by Mrs. Howard Bridges, president.

Is Your Child Safe?

GARAGE PERIL IS ATTRACTIVE

"Your car is safe in the garage, but is your child?," this community's parents were asked today by Dr. Albert H. Domm, a leading child safety spokesman.

Dr. Domm, advising parents to conduct a periodic spring safety checkup of home, neighborhoods and children's habits, stressed the importance of a safe garage.

He pointed out that the typical garage is not only used for storing automobiles, but also as a storage room, work shop and play room.

Fills Many Functions

Here's Dr. Domm's garage safety check list:

Place paint products and thinners, insecticides, solvents and other poisonous substances in securely locked cabinets. No poisonous substance should be left in soft drink or milk bottles or any container which might suggest something pleasant to a child.

Sharp instruments such as knives, chisels, ice picks, planes, nails, glass and other common work bench tools and materials should be stored safely out of reach of children. Don't overlook the possibility of a child climbing to a high shelf. Store garden tools such as mowers, rakes, hoes, spades and pruning shears in special locked racks.

Never leave an unguarded tool plugged in. Padlock electric switches or make power tools inoperative to ordinary switch control.

Chests or trunks are suffocation hazards. Lock them so that children cannot climb into them. Remove the doors from ice boxes or refrigerators.

Look Before Backing

When arranging items for storage, make sure that a child's tug or the weight of a young body cannot bring down an avalanche in the garage.

Also, never leave the hood or trunk of a car open when you are away from the garage. Always know exactly where your children or their playmates are before backing out.

"If all these precautions prove to be too great a task, for your child's safety, padlock the garage doors when you cannot be there to provide protection," the child safety spokesman urged.

Lemay School Teachers to Be Honored

West Valley Area of the Association for Childhood Education will honor Lemay St. Elementary School teachers with tea on Wednesday at 3:30 p.m. in the school building at 17520 Vanowen St., Van Nuys.

The business session will be conducted by Alice Hood, president.

Mrs. Martha Grutzius, program chairman, has invited Dr. Donald J. Kincaid to speak on "Tomorrow's Education Today."

Dr. Kincaid received his education at UCLA and his doctorate from USC. He has been supervisor of guidance and counseling since 1952 and has been a teacher in both elementary and secondary schools. He served with the U.S. Air Force before going into counseling.

The meeting is open to the public.

HIGH HONOR— Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's page editor of The News, has been named first place winner in her class in J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition for best woman's page. Miss Taylor won second place last year.

News' Woman's Editor Wins National Award

University of Missouri Journalism Honor Carries Top Prize of $1000

Directors of the J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards national competition for best woman's pages today had announced that Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's editor of The News, has won first place in her class.

Last year's competition brought her a second place and a cash prize of $500.

Miss Taylor this year will receive $1000 and in addition will attend the honors assembly and banquet in Columbia, Mo., at which awards presentations to winners will be made. This is the third year of the competition.

Received Personal Award

One of the nation's top woman editors, Miss Taylor has been honored many times before for her outstanding work.

She received a personal award for "Exceptional Achievement in Journalism" in 1956 from Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism, and holds several state firsts in California Newspaper Publishers Association competitions.

Miss Taylor's entries were three woman's sections published during the month of September 1962, selected as typical of The News' four-times-a-week publications.

Wins Third in Her Class

Entries were judged for quality of coverage of society, clubs and school activities; foods, fashion and household sciences with emphasis on guidance for young homemakers, quality of over-all writing, headlining and illustration for page or pages, originality of local material and typographical display.

Second place in Class IV went to Mrs. Marianne Scott, woman's editor of the Arlington Heights, Ill., Herald, with third place awarded to Mrs. Grace Barbor, woman's editor of the Burlingame, Cal., Advance-Star.

Miss Betty Preston, woman's editor of the Glendale News-Press, won third place in Class I, papers of 25,000 circulation or below.

First place winners on other newspapers are as follows:

Class I — Mrs. Dorothy-Anne Flor, woman's editor, Pompano Beach, Fla., Sun-Sentinel.

Class II—Miss Edee Greene, woman's editor, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., News.

Class III — Miss Nancy Taylor, woman's editor, Miami News.

Miss Graydon Heartsill, fashion editor of the Dallas Times Herald, captured the $1500 fashion-writing award.

Established Through Grant

Judges for 1962 were Dorothy Roe, New York News-Chicago Tribune Syndicate woman's columnist; Basil L. Walters, director of Newspaper Research Associates Inc., Frankfort, Ind., and former executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc.; Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director, School of Home Economics, University of Missouri; Philip H. Willon, vice president and director of creative writing, N. W. Ayer & Sons Inc., Philadelphia, and Glenn E. McNeil, secretary-manager, Tennessee Press Association, Knoxville.

Established in 1960 through a grant from the Penney company, the awards program honors James Cash Penney 87, founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

The competition is designed to encourage development of better woman's pages through better coverage of all these activities in weekly and daily newspapers.

Top Talents Recognized

A major aim is to break down the traditional editorial barriers which have narrowed woman's pages in the past.

Another is to recognize the outstanding talents of the newspaper women and men who edit and write woman's pages.

Director of the program is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on the journalism faculty of the University of Missouri.

BACK IN SWING

Ethel Taylor, women's editor of "The News," will be at her desk Monday on her return from Columbia, Mo., where she flew to accept a $500 cash award as a winner in the second annual J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition.

National in scope, the contest honored 12 other winners and culminated with a three-day awards and workshop program on women's page journalism conducted at the university.

Saluted at Banquet

Activities climaxed with a banquet on Wednesday night which saluted Miss Taylor and other winners capturing top prizes in the national newspaper competition. Award medallions and prize checks were presented by Dean Earl F. English, director of the journalism school.

Preceding the banquet, winners and 20 workshop guests from all parts of the country, participated in two days of clinics and discussions of techniques for improving women's pages and fashion writing.

During their stay in Columbia, the winners also appeared on Esther Griswold's "Of Interest to Women" program over KOMU television station.

They toured the Columbia Missourian, the general circulation daily published at the school; inspected the new $500,000 addition to the journalism facility, and visited exhibits and demonstrations at the school of home economics, as guests of Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director. Dr. Mangel is a permanent judge of the Penney-Missouri competition.

Establishes Grant

The awards were established in 1960 through an annual grant from the Penney company to the University in honor of James Cash Penney 86, a native of Hamilton, Mo., and founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

Competition director is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on on the university's journalism faculty.

FRIDAY MORNING CLUB

Writer to Speak

At today's 10:30 a.m. meeting of the Friday Morning Club, in the clubhouse at 940 S. Figueroa St., Marquis W. Childs will give a lecture titled "Washington Calling."

The political columnist is one of the more experienced and able members of the Washington press corps.

During his 35 years as a newsman, Mr. Childs has established a reputation as a specialist in covering the complex, often confusing, news developments in national and international affairs.

This ability comes to the fore in his syndicated column "Washington Calling," giving clear, concise reports and evaluating the underlying significance of important political, government, and diplomatic and economic events.

Mr. Childs, a frequent panelist on "Meet the Press," is also the author of many books. Among his best sellers will be found, "Eisenhower: Captive Hero," "The Ragged Edge" and "This is Democracy" and many others.

Washington is both his working headquarters and his home since he first became a Washington correspondent in 1934.

Following the luncheon Mr. Childs will answer questions.

So You Want to Write!

By LOUISE HATHAWAY

"Dear Louise Hathaway:

"I would like to know if there is a book that I may get to help me in the composition and layout of a story. In other words, I sometimes put the title in front of the horse. This can become embarrassing as well as being tough on the horse."

This, in part, is from a delightful letter I received from a gentleman who expressed his interest and seriousness in wanting to write. His letter also showed that he had a definite flair for words, but what impressed me most of all was that he was willing to learn about technique.

The questions he asked included the various aspects of punctuation, spelling, writing form, whether manuscripts could be penciled (No, no, no, always typewritten — and professional typists are available) and where other professional help could be obtained.

I was also pleased that he did not stress where to send his manuscripts this early in the game. So, obviously, my correspondent does not always put the cart before the horse.

First understand what you are doing, then worry about submitting your work. Unpolished manuscripts only bounce back with rejections.

Recommended books are plentiful on library shelves. Thumbing through pages will soon assure you of the right choice. Newsstands have excellent magazines. But perhaps you should take the shortest cut to proper literary instruction along with college and high school courses by studying the textbooks selected by the schools.

You don't need to spend a lot of money learning to write, but you can't get out of spending a lot of time.

Your questions concerning writing will be answered personally by mail. Just address them to Louise Hathaway, c/o The News Women's Section, P.O. Box 310, Van Nuys. Enclose a self addressed envelope for your reply.

Rexall Drug Hosting Foreign Students on Company Tours

President Bowles Finds Young Guests Keenly Interested; Sees Goodwill Value in Policy

At the present time there is a lot of talk by groups, organizations and companies about the need for better relations between this nation and foreign countries. But, few people outside the government are doing anything about it.

One exception is Rexall Drug Co. and the men and women who work there. The people at Rexall Drug Co., spearheaded by company president John Bowles, have a full-scale program underway.

One of the things they do is hold regularly scheduled tours of the firm's Los Angeles headquarters for foreign students. On these tours, students from every section of the world have a chance to take a close look at Rexall's facilities and see for themselves the American "free enterprise system" at work.

Take Complete Tour

Bowles says: "We want these students to see at first hand how we do things. The important thing we try to let them know is that we're not bragging about our American system, although we're mighty proud of it; we're sharing with them our way of doing things."

Students who visit the facilities are given as complete a tour as possible. They visit the research laboratories, advertising and merchandising departments—even the mail room.

The only part they don't see are the company's manufacturing facilities — not because Rexall doesn't want to show them—but because they are located in other cities.

Gain Direct Answers

The tour ends with a tea in a company lounge where the students have a chance to chat informally with key company executives.

Bowles, who personally meets and greets every student on the tour, says this last part is vital: "This is where students get a real opportunity to loosen up and be themselves. It's one thing to show foreign students our facilities—but it's a completely different thing to have them meet and talk with key people in the company.

"At these informal teas, the students can ask direct questions—and we give them direct answers. We want them to know we are people just the same as they are and that we're eager to share our ideas with them."

Sincere in Desires

"One of the things that impresses the students most," Bowles points out, "is that we have no business axe to grind with them. In most of the countries where these students are from we have no outlets at all. We are not an export company.

"These students are interested because they know we're sincere in our desires to better communications between their countries and ours."

"THE PLEASURE IS OURS" says John Bowles (upper right center), president of Rexall Drug Company, shaking hands with smiling blonde member of contingent of foreign students from USC and UCLA, as he greets them for tour of Rexall headquarters in Los Angeles. "We find our young foreign guests very much interested in the complex yet orderly operations of a firm of this type and size," Bowles states, "and are happy to contribute to this policy of greater understanding and goodwill."

Chain Crash on Freeway Injures Five

Five persons were injured in the mixup of a like number of vehicles, one driven by a policeman, on the outbound Hollywood Freeway east of Vineland Ave. undercrossing, police reported.

Treated for minor injuries on Wednesday were Arlene Harriet Kweitko 19, of Los Angeles; Frances Louis Fowler 37, of 14402 Miranda St., Van Nuys; Mary R. Fletcher 42, of 4947 Greenbush Ave., Sherman Oaks, and Barbara Kosloff 20, of 6526 Jamieson Ave., Reseda, both passengers in the Fowler car; and Don Bloom 35, of 9520 Delco Ave., Chatsworth, who was riding in the small car of William King Driggs Jr. 28, of 5525 Keokuk Ave., Woodland Hills, who was not injured.

Miss Kweitko was treated for a skinned knee, Mrs. Fowler for abrasions of the knees and arm, Mrs. Fletcher for a pain in the chest, an injured ankle, injured leg and nose and a cut forehead; Miss Kosloff for lower back pains and possible fractured nose. Bloom refused treatment for a leg injury.

Police said Miss Kweitko's car first struck the Fowler vehicle as they were all outbound on the freeway.

It in turn struck the car driven by Driggs which was forced into the car of Leo Martin Heim 67, of 19035 Parthenia St., Northridge.

It then was shoved into the small auto driven by Officer Richard Melville Holbrook 25, of the Newton St. Police Division.

POULSON NAMED TO STATE WATER UNIT BY BROWN

Former Mayor Norris Poulson of Los Angeles today had been appointed to the California Water Commission by Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

The appointment, which will run to January 1965, requires Senate confirmation.

The post carries compensation of $20 a day in the performance of duties with an annual ceiling of $2000.

Gov. Brown said Poulson "gained an intimate knowledge of California's water needs and problems" as Mayor of Los Angeles, chairman of the successful statewide water bond issue campaign and as a former member of the U.S. House of Representatives' interior committee.

"I am pleased that he has consented to serve on this extremely important body," the Governor added.

Poulson is associated with Haskins & Sells certified public accountants.

Accreditation Test Planned Next Week at Valley College

VAN NUYS — Los Angeles Valley College will undergo an accreditation test Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The examination, which will be conducted by an eight-man team of the Western Association of Schools and Colleges, will investigate all student activities within the school including all community developments promoted by the college.

Students Have Trouble

Schools not accredited are not eligible for inclusion in the Education Directory published by the U.S. Commissioner of Education.

Students transferring from non-accredited schools to accredited colleges have trouble getting their credits accepted and must take some classes over again.

An accrediting association is an institution which exists for mutual encouragement in the improvement of educational programs and broadening of educational opportunity.

The blue book of educational institutions says that accrediting agencies are instruments for the maintenance of high educational standards.

Makes Third Time

The preamble to the constitution of the National Committee of Regional Accrediting Agencies says that accrediting agencies protect society against inadequately prepared professional practitioners.

This makes the third time that Valley College has gone through an accreditation investigation. The first was in 1954, when Valley got a three-year extension of its accreditation. The second was in 1957 with the accreditation being extended for five years.

In the last accrediting investigation which was conducted on Oct. 23 and 24, 1957, the accrediting team praised Valley College for "having accomplished so much in so short a time in such a complex community."

Aspects Strengthened

The accrediting team also recommended that Valley College place greater emphasis upon the study of the economic and sociological life of the area served by the college.

William J. McNelis, president of the college, said that all aspects pertaining to this recommendation have been strengthened.

Other recommendations were that the Valley College library be extended to include more reference material for college classes.

Mrs. June Biermann, head librarian, reported that the library has been extended beyond the recommendations given by the accrediting team in 1957.

Seriously Considered

Also recommended was a larger scholarship program for Valley students.

Edwin Macdonald, head of the scholarship program, said that Valley College now maintains the largest scholarship program in the history of the school.

Every recommendation given by the 1957 team has been seriously considered by the people responsible for that particular facet of college life, McNelis said.

19 Valley Future Farmers to Be Honored at Banquet

Nineteen Future Farmers of America, representing five San Fernando Valley high schools, will be honored at the annual FFA achievement awards banquet sponsored by Security First National Bank, on Monday at 6 p.m. in Rodger Young Auditorium, Los Angeles.

As official winners of the annual farm competition program in the Los Angeles County section, the 19 Valley students will be feted for their outstanding efforts in livestock, crop or horticultural projects.

Winners Announced

This year's winners by school are:

Canoga Park — Bob Jack, Robert B. Elliott, John Cota and Mike Shafer.

North Hollywood — David Kennedy, Michael Short and Edward Svestka.

San Fernando—Bruce Festa, Vincent Canarella, Joseph Burkhardt and Eddie Rutherford.

Taft — Stanley Hurwitz, Mickey Strauss and David Shafer.

Rubies Adorn Clasps

Van Nuys — Charles Siegle, David E. Gray, Keith W. Johnson, Donald S. Lardner and James T. Cameron.

Graded according to the traditional Danish system of judging, the upper half winners will receive gold certificates, while the others will be given silver certificates.

In addition, all of the boys will receive a tie clasp adorned with one or more rubies. Each ruby indicates the number of years the boy has participated in the sectional competition.

John W. Haman, vice president and manager of Security Bank's Van Nuys branch, will be master of ceremonies. Don M. Kruse, assistant vice president of Security and one of the project competition judges, will present the awards.

Civic Leaders Attend

Featured speakers for the evening include: Byron J. McMahon, chief of the Bureau of Agricultural Education, State of California; Kenneth Cutler, regional supervisor, Agricultural Education Dept. (who also served as a judge); and Robert Adams, FFA student from Tustin High School.

Also on hand to honor the young farmers will be civic leaders, school officials and other representatives from Security Bank's Valley branches.

HIGH HONOR— Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's page editor of The News, has been named first place winner in her class in J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition for best woman's page. Miss Taylor won second place last year.

News' Woman's Editor Wins National Award

University of Missouri Journalism Honor Carries Top Prize of $1000

Directors of the J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards national competition for best woman's pages today had announced that Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's editor of The News, has won first place in her class.

Last year's competition brought her a second place and a cash prize of $500.

Miss Taylor this year will receive $1000 and in addition will attend the honors assembly and banquet in Columbia, Mo., at which awards presentations to winners will be made. This is the third year of the competition.

Received Personal Award

One of the nation's top woman editors, Miss Taylor has been honored many times before for her outstanding work.

She received a personal award for "Exceptional Achievement in Journalism" in 1956 from Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism, and holds several state firsts in California Newspaper Publishers Association competitions.

Miss Taylor's entries were three woman's sections published during the month of September 1962, selected as typical of The News' four-times-a-week publications.

Wins Third in Her Class

Entries were judged for quality of coverage of society, clubs and school activities; foods, fashion and household sciences with emphasis on guidance for young homemakers, quality of over-all writing, headlining and illustration for page or pages, originality of local material and typographical display.

Second place in Class IV went to Mrs. Marianne Scott, woman's editor of the Arlington Heights, Ill., Herald, with third place awarded to Mrs. Grace Barbor, woman's editor of the Burlingame, Cal., Advance-Star.

Miss Betty Preston, woman's editor of the Glendale News-Press, won third place in Class I, papers of 25,000 circulation or below.

First place winners on other newspapers are as follows:

Class I — Mrs. Dorothy-Anne Flor, woman's editor, Pompano Beach, Fla., Sun-Sentinel.

Class II—Miss Edee Greene, woman's editor, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., News.

Class III — Miss Nancy Taylor, woman's editor, Miami News.

Miss Graydon Heartsill, fashion editor of the Dallas Times Herald, captured the $1500 fashion-writing award.

Established Through Grant

Judges for 1962 were Dorothy Roe, New York News-Chicago Tribune Syndicate woman's columnist; Basil L. Walters, director of Newspaper Research Associates Inc., Frankfort, Ind., and former executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc.; Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director, School of Home Economics, University of Missouri; Philip H. Willon, vice president and director of creative writing, N. W. Ayer & Sons Inc., Philadelphia, and Glenn E. McNeil, secretary-manager, Tennessee Press Association, Knoxville.

Established in 1960 through a grant from the Penney company, the awards program honors James Cash Penney 87, founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

The competition is designed to encourage development of better woman's pages through better coverage of all these activities in weekly and daily newspapers.

Top Talents Recognized

A major aim is to break down the traditional editorial barriers which have narrowed woman's pages in the past.

Another is to recognize the outstanding talents of the newspaper women and men who edit and write woman's pages.

Director of the program is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on the journalism faculty of the University of Missouri.

BACK IN SWING

Ethel Taylor, women's editor of "The News," will be at her desk Monday on her return from Columbia, Mo., where she flew to accept a $500 cash award as a winner in the second annual J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition.

National in scope, the contest honored 12 other winners and culminated with a three-day awards and workshop program on women's page journalism conducted at the university.

Saluted at Banquet

Activities climaxed with a banquet on Wednesday night which saluted Miss Taylor and other winners capturing top prizes in the national newspaper competition. Award medallions and prize checks were presented by Dean Earl F. English, director of the journalism school.

Preceding the banquet, winners and 20 workshop guests from all parts of the country, participated in two days of clinics and discussions of techniques for improving women's pages and fashion writing.

During their stay in Columbia, the winners also appeared on Esther Griswold's "Of Interest to Women" program over KOMU television station.

They toured the Columbia Missourian, the general circulation daily published at the school; inspected the new $500,000 addition to the journalism facility, and visited exhibits and demonstrations at the school of home economics, as guests of Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director. Dr. Mangel is a permanent judge of the Penney-Missouri competition.

Establishes Grant

The awards were established in 1960 through an annual grant from the Penney company to the University in honor of James Cash Penney 86, a native of Hamilton, Mo., and founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

Competition director is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on on the university's journalism faculty.

OFFICER CAN'T GIVE TICKET, BUT GIRL CAN

Policemen often give tickets but on Tuesday a 14-year-old Van Nuys girl turned the tables and gave a policeman not one but a whole book of tickets—his own.

It started when Sharon Alexander, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Alexander of 13332 Albers St., was walking home from Millikan Junior High School.

On Chandler Blvd. near Fulton Ave. she spotted something in the bushes, reached in and pulled out a policeman's ticket book, with some of the tickets filled in.

A call to the Police Dept. got the policeman and the ticket book back together, so all errant motorists should watch their driving, the force is back to full strength again.

Van Nuys Nike Base Sets Missile Battery Dedication

Dedication ceremonies, marking the conversion of the Army's Van Nuys missile battery to handle the improved and more powerful Nike-Hercules anti-aircraft missile, will be held tomorrow at 2 p.m. on the base, 15900 Victory Blvd.

Community and civic leaders have been invited to attend the program, which will feature a tour of the area, missile demonstration and crew drill.

Retrain Personnel

Lt. Col. Charles Cole Jr., commander of the Fourth Missile Battalion (Nike-Hercules) 65th Artillery, said Capt. Lary W. Padgett, battery commander, will brief the guests on the base's operation. In addition, an officer from the 47th Artillery Brigade will speak.

Conversion of Battery D from the Ajax to Hercules models began last June with the retraining of personnel. Enlargement and modification of the base's facilities also were required.

The Van Nuys missile battery now is an operational universal site, capable of firing both the Ajax and Hercules.

Weighs Five Tons

Col. Cole said the Nike-Hercules is a second generation missile, which can destroy multiple targets more than 75 miles away and at altitudes ranging from 1000 to 150,000 feet.

The battalion commander said the five-ton missile, which is capable of carrying a nuclear warhead, has the ability to hit a target moving at three times the speed of sound — 2100 miles an hour.

20-WEEK COURSE TO OPEN MONDAY

CANOGA PARK — A class to teach square dancing to Valley residents will start on Monday at 8 p.m. in the gymnasium of Sutter Junior High School, 7330 Winnetka Ave., Canoga Park; for approximately 20 weeks. It will be held every Monday night.

The class will be conducted by caller-instructor, Don Carter, under the sponsorship of Caper Cutters Square Dance Club. Carter, one of the Valley's well known callers, has had many years of experience in introducing neophytes to the fun of square dancing.

Additional information on the class may be obtained by calling either Diamond 5-3817 or Diamond 8-8261.

Singing, Activities Will Be Enjoyed by Senior Citizens

GRANADA HILLS — Granada Hills Senior Citizens Club will meet Wednesday at 12:30 p.m. in the Fellowship Hall of the Presbyterian Church, 10400 Zelzah Ave., for an afternoon of cards, community singing and hobbies. Refreshments will be served.

East Valley View

By FRANCES RUSSELL KAY—POplar 3-4552

RESIDENTS of the extreme east section of the Valley are making Lemoine Blanchard the busiest man in the Los Angeles City Council.

This week he was visited by a Toluca Lake Chamber of Comerce delegation with messages for him to pass on to the State Division of Highways.

Residents of this area want freeway signs designating Toluca Lake off-ramps. There are none at present.

They also want the highway department to get busy with landscaping plans for the Ventura Freeway now under construction. Some are concerned only with shrubbery. Others, whose property lines are right at the base of the freeway, are worrying more about guard rails.

Blanchard, a North Holly' wood resident whose home also is close by the same freeway, has promised to carry the message.

IS THERE a doctor in the East Valley?

Residents planning to call Dr. Kildare or Ben Casey will be all right. Others who want real live doctors better place their calls next week. During the following week there will be a doctor shortage.

A large contingent of North Hollywood physicians and surgeons will be in San Francisco the week of April 15 for the State Medical Convention.

Among North Hollywood doctors who will be there are Dr. Richard French, Dr. Gordon Richardson and Dr. T. Jackson Laughlin. Wives will go, too.

The Richardsons will stop off to visit son Ricky at Menlo College. Dr. and Mrs. French will spend some time with son Dennis at Stanford University.

Dr. and Mrs. Laughlin will see their daughter Gail, who is chief medical records librarian at Children's Hospital in San Francisco.

Dr. Laughlin is due home this week end from a four-day fishing trip which took him to Mazatlan. Before his departure he checked newest equipment at the Sportsmen's Show. Accompanying him were fishing and hunting cronies Robert Armstrong and Glenn Sewell, also of the East Valley.

* * *

FORMAN AVENUE residents have new neighbors. William T. Barron and his family, formerly of Burbank, have purchased a home at 4555 Forman Ave.

* * *

HOME AFTER several days of "just relaxing" in Palm Springs are Mr. and Mrs. Morris Gordon of 11139 Hesby St., North Hollywood.

They were guests of former long-time East Valley residents Mary and Henry "Hank" Reynolds who now live year around in Happy Valley in the desert section west of Palm Springs.

Mrs. Gordon is the new president of Toluca Lake Altrusa Club.

They report that another guest at the Reynold's home was Wade Davis, former Tolucan and charter member of the Toluca Lake Rotary Club.

HOME AGAIN from a trip which took them a greater distance are Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kent of Studio City. They report a wonderful time in New York City where they saw such "great shows" as "Camelot," "Gift of Time," "Song of Musle" and "A Shot in the Dark."

They returned in time to be home during daughter Judy's spring vacation. Judy, who attends USC was one of the models at yesterday's Kappa Kappa Gamma tea and fashion show.

Judy's vacation won't be too much fun. She'll spend some of the time in hospital.

JUST FUN is the only item on the vacation agenda for Julie Herten and Joyce Meehan, They'll take over the Laguna Beach home of Joyce's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John F. Meehan.

* * *

The Meehans, too, returned home this week. This time from a flight to San Francisco and a stay at the Fairmont Hotel where they joined Mrs. Meehan's sister and brother-in-law, the Warren Beebes of Boulder, Colo.

Beebe came west for a meeting of the American Association of Petroleum Geologists. Before their return flight south the Meehans spent a few days with Mr. and Mrs. A. A. Kirchner of Los Altos.

* * *

SPRING VACATION is a thing of the past for Stanford University students. Last to leave home was Roger Willett, son of the Charles Willetts of Studio City.

Roger is a senior student and after graduation in June is planning to continue studies as a law student.

SPRING VACATION for Steve Kay means a tour with the "Stags," (Claremont Men's-Harvey Mudd) track team. The team departs Sunday on a Northern California jaunt. Meets have been scheduled with Reedly College and San Francisco State University.

Before returning to classes at Claremont Men's College on April 16, Steve will visit at the home of classmate Steve Halgrimson in San Carlos.

JACK LONGSTREET family assembled last night to sing happy birthday to Mrs. John McMahan (Nancy Longstreet) who blew out 23 candles on the cake which her mother-in-law Mrs. McMahan Sr. baked.

Others there, in addition to Nancy's parents, were her small daughter Mary Catherine, her husband Jack, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Miller, Nancy and Linda Longstreet.

Nancy's birthday is really today but the Longstreets with a group of East Valley friends plan to attend tonight's performance of "Advise and Consent."

Wedding anniversaries were celebrated by North Hollywood couples during the past few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Jones returned to Las Vegas where they were married 25 years ago.

Also celebrating their silver event were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lombardi.

DUE HOME next week end are Mr. and Mrs. M. A. "Andy" Vargo who have been on a 53-day Mediterranean cruise on the SS Constitution.

During the cruise Vargo officially extended invitations to the Rotary International Convention which will be in Los Angeles in June.

Vargo will make a full report to Toluca Lake Rotary Club at an early meeting.

TALKING ABOUT "their trip" are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Brock Sr. of Forman Avenue. They recently returned from a Caribbean cruise which took them from New York to the Virgin Islands, to Caracas, to the Panama Canal and then back to New York by way of Jamaica.

* * *

ALSO TELLING about their trip are Mr. and Mrs. Earl Peterson of North Hollywood. They flew to Mexico City then on to Puerta Vallarta and Acapulco.

Possible Fraud in Fallout Shelters Probed by State

Up to 50 cases of possible fraud in fallout shelter construction in Southern California, involving false advertising claims and defective work, are under investigation by state authorities.

The state attorney general's office said a hearing is pending against one contractor and another firm has been fined by the State Contractors License Board for operating without a license.

Investigate Cases

Deputy Atty. Gen. Vincent Thorp said his office has received "a number of complaints" from property owners in recent weeks over misleading advertising and contractors who failed to fulfill their agreements.

All cases are being investigated and many being turned over to the Contractors License Board for possible disciplinary action.

Two are being held for possible criminal prosecution, Thorp said.

He said most cases involve what he called "fly-by-night opeartors" who, he said, advertise their shelters as "bombproof or blastproof."

In one instance, a backyard shelter was flooded with water 16 inches deep during recent rains.

Failed to Finish Job

"If there had been an attack and that shelter was occupied, the people would either have drowned or been killed by radioactivity in the rainwater," Thorp said.

In another case, the deputy attorney general said, a homeowner "literally poured $4000 into a hole in the ground."

The construction firm excavated for a shelter and then never completed the job, he said.

PARENTS INVITED TO ATTEND SCHOOL FOR ONE EVENING

Classes will begin at 7:30 p.m. at Patrick Henry Junior High School next Monday—classes for parents of Patrick Henry students, that is.

The open house program will lead parents through the schedule of classes which their children attend each day.

This will give parents the opportunity to meet the teachers of their children and teachers the chance to explain the curriculum and answer questions about study procedures or school policy.

Adults only are invited to this evening meeting of the PTA. After the last school bell has sounded at 9:30, an informal social time will be enjoyed over cake and coffee.

Navy Tests Scheduled This Month

Regular Navy qualifying tests will be given daily at the local Navy recruiting office throughout this month.

Announcement came from Chief T. R. Uptegrove, local Navy recruiter. The procedure is in support of unrestricted quotas assigned for April.

Men qualifying through local testing may enlist on Navy School contracts; three, four, and six-year enlistments are continued. Those who do not desire to participate in school programs will be assigned to sail ships of the fleet after nine weeks of indoctrination at San Diego.

Testing is available from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday and 9 a.m. to noon on Saturday.

Men 17 through 31 years of age are eligible for testing.

For information or appointment contact Uptegrove at 11304 Chandler Blvd. or phone POplar 1-3133.

HIGH HONOR— Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's page editor of The News, has been named first place winner in her class in J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition for best woman's page. Miss Taylor won second place last year.

News' Woman's Editor Wins National Award

University of Missouri Journalism Honor Carries Top Prize of $1000

Directors of the J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards national competition for best woman's pages today had announced that Miss Ethel Taylor, woman's editor of The News, has won first place in her class.

Last year's competition brought her a second place and a cash prize of $500.

Miss Taylor this year will receive $1000 and in addition will attend the honors assembly and banquet in Columbia, Mo., at which awards presentations to winners will be made. This is the third year of the competition.

Received Personal Award

One of the nation's top woman editors, Miss Taylor has been honored many times before for her outstanding work.

She received a personal award for "Exceptional Achievement in Journalism" in 1956 from Theta Sigma Phi, national fraternity for women in journalism, and holds several state firsts in California Newspaper Publishers Association competitions.

Miss Taylor's entries were three woman's sections published during the month of September 1962, selected as typical of The News' four-times-a-week publications.

Wins Third in Her Class

Entries were judged for quality of coverage of society, clubs and school activities; foods, fashion and household sciences with emphasis on guidance for young homemakers, quality of over-all writing, headlining and illustration for page or pages, originality of local material and typographical display.

Second place in Class IV went to Mrs. Marianne Scott, woman's editor of the Arlington Heights, Ill., Herald, with third place awarded to Mrs. Grace Barbor, woman's editor of the Burlingame, Cal., Advance-Star.

Miss Betty Preston, woman's editor of the Glendale News-Press, won third place in Class I, papers of 25,000 circulation or below.

First place winners on other newspapers are as follows:

Class I — Mrs. Dorothy-Anne Flor, woman's editor, Pompano Beach, Fla., Sun-Sentinel.

Class II—Miss Edee Greene, woman's editor, Ft. Lauderdale, Fla., News.

Class III — Miss Nancy Taylor, woman's editor, Miami News.

Miss Graydon Heartsill, fashion editor of the Dallas Times Herald, captured the $1500 fashion-writing award.

Established Through Grant

Judges for 1962 were Dorothy Roe, New York News-Chicago Tribune Syndicate woman's columnist; Basil L. Walters, director of Newspaper Research Associates Inc., Frankfort, Ind., and former executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc.; Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director, School of Home Economics, University of Missouri; Philip H. Willon, vice president and director of creative writing, N. W. Ayer & Sons Inc., Philadelphia, and Glenn E. McNeil, secretary-manager, Tennessee Press Association, Knoxville.

Established in 1960 through a grant from the Penney company, the awards program honors James Cash Penney 87, founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

The competition is designed to encourage development of better woman's pages through better coverage of all these activities in weekly and daily newspapers.

Top Talents Recognized

A major aim is to break down the traditional editorial barriers which have narrowed woman's pages in the past.

Another is to recognize the outstanding talents of the newspaper women and men who edit and write woman's pages.

Director of the program is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on the journalism faculty of the University of Missouri.

BACK IN SWING

Ethel Taylor, women's editor of "The News," will be at her desk Monday on her return from Columbia, Mo., where she flew to accept a $500 cash award as a winner in the second annual J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition.

National in scope, the contest honored 12 other winners and culminated with a three-day awards and workshop program on women's page journalism conducted at the university.

Saluted at Banquet

Activities climaxed with a banquet on Wednesday night which saluted Miss Taylor and other winners capturing top prizes in the national newspaper competition. Award medallions and prize checks were presented by Dean Earl F. English, director of the journalism school.

Preceding the banquet, winners and 20 workshop guests from all parts of the country, participated in two days of clinics and discussions of techniques for improving women's pages and fashion writing.

During their stay in Columbia, the winners also appeared on Esther Griswold's "Of Interest to Women" program over KOMU television station.

They toured the Columbia Missourian, the general circulation daily published at the school; inspected the new $500,000 addition to the journalism facility, and visited exhibits and demonstrations at the school of home economics, as guests of Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director. Dr. Mangel is a permanent judge of the Penney-Missouri competition.

Establishes Grant

The awards were established in 1960 through an annual grant from the Penney company to the University in honor of James Cash Penney 86, a native of Hamilton, Mo., and founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

Competition director is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on on the university's journalism faculty.

Knight Life —

Notes from NOTRE DAME HIGH SCHOOL

By MIKE WARD

I hate to keep sounding like a Chamber of Commerce for the forensics club, but due to the overwhelming success of the squad in interscholastic debate and speech competition, this writer feels compelled to report on the latest accomplishments of ND's most potent club.

MIKE

Knight novice debaters won the sweepstakes trophy in the Southern California Debate League Tournament at Monroe High School last Saturday. Garnering gold medals were Kenneth Miles, Vincent Mancuso, Charles Espana and Paul Hoff.

Recognized for Judging

Superiority winners were Richard Lewellyn, Paul Lombardi, Michael Lavery, Ryan Herz, Pat Murray, Robert Douchett, Dan Benton and William Ameche.

Senior Chris Dysart was presented with an award for superior judging.

Out of more than 100 schools entered in the annual University of Redlands tournament on March 23 and 24, Notre Dame took third place. Bob Williamson won first place in impromptu while confederate Jim Fitzgerald placed second in extemporaneous.

Both qualified for the state tournament to be held in Santa Barbara on the last Saturday of this month, April 28.

Tomorrow the gum-beaters will vie in the National Forensics League district tourney at UCLA in six individual events.

The following Saturday, on same campus, they will attempt to annex the district debate championship for the third consecutive year.

Will Represent School

Senior Don Bottoms competed in the third level of the Lions Club oratorical contest on Tuesday at Mint Canyon. Optimist Club contest winners Bob Fitzgerald, Tom Fritch and David Dran participated in the club's oratorical joust on the following day.

Bruce Blau, Greg Rausch and Bob Williamson, seniors, will represent Our Lady's school in the Youth Forum on April 9.

KNIGHT literary magazine, The Quest, is due for publication and distribution within the next two weeks. Brainchild of Mike Casey, who graduated last year, it is in its second year of expanding success.

First issue was a mere 13 pages and only 100 copies were printed at the fantastic price of 10 cents apiece.

Editors Mike Ward and Ron Matonak plan on 500 copies this year and a 30-page magazine, tripling its length and increasing circulation 40 per cent.

Sponsor of the literary endeavor is William Stedman, taking over for last year's director Gary Dukoska who is now faculty advisor for "The Knight," school paper.

N.D. CHAMPION track teams are going full speed in an effort to keep positions as league leaders in all three divisions for the third consecutive year.

Having defeated Serra and Cathedral, their two most powerful opponents, Knight thinclads slashed Mount Carmel last Friday by a score of 82-21, and hopes of another league crown are growing wider.

At Santa Barbara Relays held last Saturday, the Bee cindermen tied for first place with Fontana High School, and the Knights were awarded a Bee championship trophy on the flip of a coin.

Varsity and Cees emerged eighth and 10th respectively in the beach town's track and field joust.

RANKED AS ONE of the finest in the nation, the varsity swim team has already splashed to five victories, drowning Burroughs, Santa Monica, Loyola, Glendale and Reseda.

Squad is spearheaded by seniors Lee Danielson and Dick Yeakel, juniors Moe Learner, Terry Asher and John Guth and sophomores Guy Welles and Dennis Deagen.

Only one meet has been dropped, and that to powerful Taft High School.

BILL THURIN, senior, has been awarded the highest scholarship for incoming freshmen at Saint Edward's University in Austin, Tex. Bill's plans are to major in mathematics and to become a teacher.

The Norwegian Government will withdraw from the International Whaling Convention.

POWER CHANGE

U.S. farmers own 8,000,000 motor vehicles and 4,000,000 horses and mules compared with 5,600,000 motor vehicles and 11,000,000 horses and mules 15 years ago.

TRAINING in survival faced by Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry in wilds of Nevada.

Survival in Wilds Faced by Sergeant

Biting cold, snow, hunger and a tough mock enemy await Staff Sgt. Robert P. Henry of the 146th Air Transport Wing when he arrives at Stead Air Force Base in the Nevada wild country for there weeks of survival training.

The 25-year-old sergeant, who lives at 9032 Rathburn Ave., Northridge, must escape detection by "aggressor" forces, miles from "friendly" lines. He'll live off the land, and if captured, try to resist brainwashing.

All this will be going on just a few miles from the bright lights of Reno.

Henry already is well trained in physical survival. The emphasis this time is on mental survival — learning to resist interrogation, humiliation and brainwashing.

When he returns to the Van Nuys Air Base he'll take the post of survival training supervisor for the 146th's air crews.

Serves on Merrick

PACOIMA — Volker W. Straub, fireman USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Straub of 13183 Tonopah St., is serving aboard the attack cargo ship USS Merrick, a unit which took part in the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization's Exercise Tulungan, sponsored jointly by the Republic of the Philippines and the United States, from March 2 through April 2.

URUGUAY TAXES UP

Taxes on petroleum products, real estate and trucks have been increased in Uruguay.

Gymkhana Will Be Held by Gra-Navajos in West Valley

Gra-Navajos of the West Valley, a teenage group of boys and girls interested in horsemanship, will begin their monthly gymkhanas Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Roy Paul arena at 11019 Zelzah Ave., Granada Hills, weather permitting. Location is at the rear of the church.

Events will include barrel race, Flag race, Figure 8 and pole bending. The public is welcome.

Ribbons will be awarded to first four places and points are given for entries.

At the end of the season a trophy is awarded for high points in each event and for highest points in all events. This is a three-foot perpetual trophy known as the Roy Heffner Trophy in honor of a long time resident of the Valley and originator of the Gra-Navajos. Heffner now is semi retired in Simi Valley.

The trophy was won last year by Sharon Paul 13. Awards are given at the annual Christmas party.

Must Own, Love Horses

This year will be the ninth annual trip for the Gra-Navajos to ride in the Santa Barbara Fiesta parade, Aug. 16. This consists of three days along the El Camino Real trail and two days in Santa Barbara, all under the supervision of big chief leaders Marshall Fletcher and Roy Paul and other parents. Between now and then they will be in various local city parades.

The Gra-Navajos are limited to about 20 members, due to their activities. To be eligible, a prospective member must be a resident of the West Valley, 13 to 18 years of age, and own and love horses.

New "big chief" president is John Colclazer 16.

Assisting the chief are little chief Marty Legant 15, scribe Marilyn Manning 16, story teller Sue Colclazer 15, wampum bearer Sharon Paul 13 and Neil Call, sergeant-at-arms.

Other members of the group are Sandy Fletcher, Gary Fletcher, Dolly Woelke, Butch Vera, Jack Prior, Charles Mallar, Linda Oliver, Debbie Halter, Charlotte Wilson, Pam McChesney and Bill Fortier.

May Telephone Chairman

Gra-Navajos is sponsored by merchants of Granada Hills and North Valley Horsemen's Association (adults) who are represented by president Don Phillips, Fletcher, as leader, and Paul, also a leader, who have arranged the first overnight of the season to be held April 14-17 at the Danielson Ranch, about 60 miles southwest of the Valley.

For information regarding the Gra-Navajos call M. A. Manning, publicity chairman, after 7:30 p.m. at DIckens 5-3555.

ARGENTINE BUYS BUSES

Forty double deck Aefer buses that Argentina is buying from Italy will cost about $34,000 each.

NO PLACE TO STOP

There is now no resting place for visitors to Portadown, Northern Ireland. The Imperial hotel went out of business recently after 100 years.

Established Through Grant

Judges for 1962 were Dorothy Roe, New York News-Chicago Tribune Syndicate woman's columnist; Basil L. Walters, director of Newspaper Research Associates Inc., Frankfort, Ind., and former executive editor of the Knight Newspapers Inc.; Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director, School of Home Economics, University of Missouri; Philip H. Willon, vice president and director of creative writing, N. W. Ayer & Sons Inc., Philadelphia, and Glenn E. McNeil, secretary-manager, Tennessee Press Association, Knoxville.

Established in 1960 through a grant from the Penney company, the awards program honors James Cash Penney 87, founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

The competition is designed to encourage development of better woman's pages through better coverage of all these activities in weekly and daily newspapers.

Top Talents Recognized

A major aim is to break down the traditional editorial barriers which have narrowed woman's pages in the past.

Another is to recognize the outstanding talents of the newspaper women and men who edit and write woman's pages.

Director of the program is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on the journalism faculty of the University of Missouri.

BACK IN SWING

Ethel Taylor, women's editor of "The News," will be at her desk Monday on her return from Columbia, Mo., where she flew to accept a $500 cash award as a winner in the second annual J. C. Penney-University of Missouri Journalism Awards competition.

National in scope, the contest honored 12 other winners and culminated with a three-day awards and workshop program on women's page journalism conducted at the university.

Saluted at Banquet

Activities climaxed with a banquet on Wednesday night which saluted Miss Taylor and other winners capturing top prizes in the national newspaper competition. Award medallions and prize checks were presented by Dean Earl F. English, director of the journalism school.

Preceding the banquet, winners and 20 workshop guests from all parts of the country, participated in two days of clinics and discussions of techniques for improving women's pages and fashion writing.

During their stay in Columbia, the winners also appeared on Esther Griswold's "Of Interest to Women" program over KOMU television station.

They toured the Columbia Missourian, the general circulation daily published at the school; inspected the new $500,000 addition to the journalism facility, and visited exhibits and demonstrations at the school of home economics, as guests of Dr. Margaret W. Mangel, director. Dr. Mangel is a permanent judge of the Penney-Missouri competition.

Establishes Grant

The awards were established in 1960 through an annual grant from the Penney company to the University in honor of James Cash Penney 86, a native of Hamilton, Mo., and founder of the 1700-unit department store chain.

Competition director is Paul L. Myhre, lecturer on on the university's journalism faculty.

Hales-Catterlin Exchange Vows

A reception for 300 guests at the Saturday Club in Vacaville followed the recent wedding of Nancy Catterlin of Suisun, formerly of Van Nuys, and Richard Thomas Hales.

Nancy is the daughter of Mrs. Merle W. Catterlin and the late Dr. Catterlin, pioneer San Fernando Valley residents.

The newlyweds will reside in Vacaville where he is on the staff of the Willis Jepson School.

Nancy wore a traditional gown of hand clipped Chantilly lace with a jeweled Sabrina neckline, long pointed sleeves and a scalloped chapel train. A lace and pearl headdress held her tiered veil of imported French illusion. She carried orchids, bride's roses and bouvardia.

Her attendants included Mary Lahey, Mary Hales Crane, Joden and Jane Catterlin. In the bridegroom's party were Jerome Nunes, James R. Farrell, Terry A.

Albert Coopers Hail 50th Date

Californians for 50 years and Valley residents since 1925, Mr. and Mrs. Albert G. Cooper of 6658 Murietta Ave., Van Nuys, have reached the half century milestone of their marriage with the happy prospect of many more to come.

Their two sons, Walter and Dean, with their families, and a close friend, Mrs. Pearl Leduc of Alhambra, celebrated the occasion with a small dinner party at Smoke House in Encino when a decorated wedding cake was piece de resistance of the occasion.

The Coopers' original ranch home was located on Saugus Ave., a dirt road which was later to become Sepulveda Blvd., a major cross Valley artery.

Walter attended Van Nuys Elementary and High Schools and his younger brother Dean was born in San Fernando Hospital — the closest facility to Van Nuys in those early years.

The Coopers now have added four grandchildren to the family album.

In their 38 years in the Valley the celebrants have witnessed the transition of bean fields, walnut orchards and chicken ranches into the present thriving communities.

Mr. Cooper has retired after many years with 20th Century Fox Studios and in San Fernando Valley home building.

Walter is with the Lockheed Missile Van Nuys plant as a tool design engineer and Dean is with National Guard at Van Nuys Air Field base.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT CARL LARSON
They Have Seen Valley and Los Angeles Grow

At Golden Milestone

Pioneers Saw Valley Grow

A couple whose half century of married life is a chronology that reads much like the history of Los Angeles and the San Fernando Valley, were felicitated by over 100 family members and friends on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carl Larson who knew many of the Valley communities by their original names, such as Lankershim (North Hollywood) and Mission Acres (Sepulveda), where they lived for years, greeted the large gathering of well wishers and cut a tall colonnade cake in the Goodland Ave. home of their son-in-law and daughter, Col. and Mrs. Albert Edward Burr Jr. Col. Burr is a staff member at Harvard School.

A son, Col. Robert Thomas Larson, who cohosted the anniversary party, flew in from Ft. Clayton, Canal Zone, where he is director of research and development.

Assisting at the party were the Burrs' daughter Beth and daughter-in-law Mrs. Robert Burr; also Mrs. Larson's two sisters, Mrs. W. W. Spear of Ucaipa, Mrs. John Rameriz of Covina, and Mr. Larson's sisters Mrs. Lillian Hilderman of Keeler and Mrs. Fred Mackhardt of Long Beach.

The celebrants have nine living grandchildren — Albert Burr III, who is en route to Korea for an Army stint; Robert Larson Burr, Elizabeth Burr, John Bradley Burr, Robert Thomas Larson Jr., Yvonne, John Robert, Jenelle and Thomas Petit Larson.

The Larsons were married in Los Angeles by the late Bishop Locke of the Methodist Episcopal Church. They both came from Minnesota where each was a school teacher. Mr. Larson worked with pioneer William Mulholland in construction of the aqueduct which brought water to Los Angeles from the Owens Valley. He retired from the Dept. of Water and Power 10 years ago after 45 years of service.

Mr. Larson was active in the early Chamber of Commerce which was instrumental in the change of Mission Acres to Sepulveda, thus perpetuating the name of one of the Early California land grant holders.

Mrs. Larson was twice president of Sepulveda PTA, holds an honorary life membership in that organization, is a two-time president of Sepulveda Woman's Club and active in Old Treasures Club.

Both she and Mr. Larson are active in Encino Community Church. They reside in Granada Hills.

50-Year Residents Are Honored

Gold-embossed invitations have been issued for the half-century wedding celebration of a couple who have spent 50 years together in San Fernando Valley — Mr. and Mrs. John Louis Plummer of San Fernando.

They will be honored today from 2 to 5 o'clock by Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Bernbrock Blanke, Mr. and Mrs. John Churchill Plummer and Mr. and Mrs. Marksbury Gilmour Raney at their son's residence in San Marino.

The celebrants, whose Christmas message reaffirmed their life-long motto of faith, hope and love, established a home here following their Los Angeles marriage and Coronado honeymoon in 1913, and have spent their 50 years together in the San Fernando Valley.

When streets were named, theirs was called Plummer St. They engaged in farming and developed a beautiful 40 acre walnut grove.

Later they subdivided some of their land and Mr. Plummer took up educational work, teaching agriculture, which has been his hobby and chief interest, in Los Angeles city high schools for many years.

They also have been active in Valley development, heading many civic and fraternal bodies.

Mr. Plummer is a fifth generation Californian and his father was prominent in the development of the Wilshire District. His uncle was Hollywood's beloved Eugene Plummer, whose home is now Plummer Park.

Mr. Plummer's ancestors have been illustrious in the history of California while Mrs. Plummer traces her ancestry back to Colonial days. She is a past regent of San Fernando Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution and is now serving as regent of Beverly Hills Chapter, Daughters of American Colonists.

Their family includes a son, two daughters and eight grandchildren.

John, with his wife and two daughters, lives in San Marino. Mary Lou, with her husband Mark Raney, have a daughter Mollie, a junior in Swarthmore (Pa.) College, and three sons in Bakersfield.

Kathryn, with her husband, Oliver B. Blanke, and two sons, live in Brentwood. A third daughter, Betty, died in 1935.

Employe Gets Send-Off

A job well done was polished off with a suitable holiday flourish as Van Nuys Post Office employes pulled themselves out of post-Christmas cleanup operations long enough to give retiring staff member Melba J. Walker a rousing send-off.

Mrs. Walker, a 19-year employe and for the past five years head of personnel, sentimentally cut a large cake and wiped away a happy tear as she opened the parting gift—a beautiful iridescent sequin evening jacket.

All this was accompanied by appropriate remarks from Postmaster Kay Bogendorfer who has known Mrs. Walker for most of her many years' residence in the Valley.

Prior to government employment, she was secretary to Raymond S. Swaim, principal of Sherman Oaks School.

Mrs. Walker is a past president of Van Nuys Unit 193, American Legion Auxiliary, and is still a member of that organization. She is active in the Eastern Star and First Methodist Church of Van Nuys.

At one time she served as secretary of the Association for Retarded Children, and as a charter member was instrumental in establishing the New Horizon School for Retarded Children.

She served as corresponding secretary of the Van Nuys Woman's Club from 1927 to 1932.

Mrs. Walker has a son, Charles W. Walker, living in Canoga Park, and a daughter, Elizabeth.

Mrs. Walker resides at 14650 Benefit St., Sherman Oaks.

VAN NUYS—The Salvation Army's Men's Social Service Center here marked its fifth year of service in the San Fernando Valley at the annual advisory committee dinner held at the men's residence, 6034 Vesper Ave.

Brigadier and Mrs. Winfred Roswall, officers in charge, hosted the event which was attended by the community and business leaders who serve on the committee, special guests and Salvation Army personnel.

Tells of Rehabilitation

Judge Parks Stillwell, presiding judge of the Superior Court in San Fernando, who was unanimously reelected committee chairman for his fifth consecutive term, conducted the program.

Mrs. James L. Neel, past president and legislation chairman of the Van Nuys Woman's Club, reelected vice chairman by unanimous vote, also commenced her fifth consecutive term that evening.

The main address was given by Brigadier Roswall, who told of the center's rehabilitation program for socially handicapped men.

A surprise speaker who offered tangible proof of the success of the Salvation Army's work in the field of human rehabilitation was a man who had graduated from the program.

Other Guests Listed

Special guests included Capt. and Mrs. Frank Brown, Van Nuys Corps officers, and Carl A. Gottschalk, immediate past chairman of the Van Nuys Corps advisory board, and Mrs. Gottschalk, and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Gelson.

Others in attendance were Messrs. and Mmes. Daniel J. Bloomberg, George J. Dalton, Charles Janess, Nelson LaValley, Ferdinand Mendenhall, William C. Neighbors and Harold Schrock; Dr. and Mrs. U. William Riedel and Myrla Smith.

Music for the evening was provided by the Tabernacle Corps Brass Sextet, accompanied by Capt. Robert Tobin, corps officer.

BY KATHY GABLER

From as far as Arizona, Iowa and Minnesota came relatives to honor Edwin H. Slocum, former Van Nuys certified public accountant, on his seventieth birthday over the week end.

Sixty-four members of the "Slocum Clan" assembled at the hillside home of his niece Mrs. Don Van Atta and her husband in Woodland Hills, to participate in the surprise celebration for the long-time Van Nuys resident.

Assorted delectable desserts, coffee and fruit punch were served buffet style in the holiday-decorated Van Atta home from 2 to 5 p.m.

Album Is Gift

Highlight of the afternoon was the presentation, to "Uncle Ed" of a family album, compiled by Mrs. Doris Slocum Gould, and containing snapshots of 173 of his relatives.

These were arranged in a leather-bound book with the family crest on the cover.

The previous evening Mr. Slocum was honored by his sisters, brothers and in-laws at a surprise dinner in the Van Nuys home of his daughter, Mrs. Mary S. Beggs.

A special gift from his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Slocum, was a "This is Your Life" album featuring photos of him from infancy.

Out-of-Staters

Another surprise came in the form of a telephone call from Mrs. Vera Walburn of Panama, only one of his six living sisters and brothers not present.

Special guests at both events were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Slocum, brother and sister-in-law of the honored guest, who came to the Southland from Minneapolis especially for the family reunion.

Also from out-of-state were Mrs. Gladys Shirley of Perry, Iowa, and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Slocum III with children Lynda, Robley and Keith of Casa Grande, Ariz.

Also attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Byrd of Altadena, Mrs. O. C. Hile of Arcadia, Mr. and Mrs. Burton McLaughlin, Karen, Todd and Brenda of Buena Park; Mr. and Mrs. Milton Gould, Diane and Chuck of Downey; Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Byrd, Shirley, Patty and Debbie of Eagle Rock; Mrs. Sharon Gambetty, Mark and Jason of La Mirada.

Others were Mr. and Mrs. Carl King, Mmes. Josephine Olliver and Bernice Slocum of La Puente; Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gabler, Marilyn, Kathy, Shari and Freddie of Northridge; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Slocum, Jerry, and Scott of Pacoima; Mrs. Mary S. Beggs, Mike, Margery, Janice, Joanne and Patty.

NEW OFFICE SITE—This is southwest corner of Kester Ave. and Vanowen St. in Van Nuys where new $409,920, two-story office of Dept. of Motor Vehicles will be constructed to replace present facility in North Hollywood. Property has been purchased by state for $300,000. Historic, two-stor farm house on property, believed built around 191 or 1911, will disappear. State has bought about 2½ acres of four-acre property. In purchase is 400 front feet on Vanowen St. and 250 feet on Kester Ave.

what he described as a "major headquarters operation."

Originally budgeted for $369,000, rising costs and expanded plans for the facility have prompted presenting the new $409,920 figure to the Legislature, Ball said.

As a major headquarters operation, Ball said, the Van Nuys office will oversee operations for the entire San Fernando and Antelope Valleys and Ventura County.

Vanowen St. and Kester Ave. now are only two lanes wide. It is anticipated that Vanowen St. will be widened to four lanes in the future, but this widening is not expected until after the office is opened.

"Will Enhance Area"

Present plans call for parking entrances on both streets.

"This will be a modern, beautiful building which will enhance the area," said Edward Stitz, DMV district manager.

Negotiation for the property has been under way for some time, said Louis Blozen, manager of the North Hollywood office of DMV at 6455 Coldwater Canyon Ave.

When agreement could not be reached between the state and the owners, preparation was made for condemnations, but the matter was settled before it was taken to court.

Stipulated to Judgment

Negotiations were carried out by Dep. Atty. Gen. Don Kircher and Atty. Jess High of Van Nuys, who represented the owners.

High said the owners of the property stipulated to judgment in condemnation.

The property, which at one time consisted of 20 acres and was used for farming, has been in the Reed family for over 40 years. Reed and Mrs. Slosson inherited their share from their mother.

Appears Run Down

The old, two-story house, once a beautiful farmhouse with giant palm trees and other lush growth in the front and a large barn in the back, was built by George Jess.

Now, going under the address of 6743 Kester Ave., the house appears to be run down. The fences are falling and untamed growth is everywhere.

The house is occupied by a caretaker who lives there alone.

Negotiations have been under way for nearly four years on different properties as the state sought to find new quarters for the North Hollywood office.

Opened in 1950

One location, on Whitsett Ave., north of Sherman Way, was considered a good bet, but agreement could not be reached.

The North Hollywood office was opened Dec. 1, 1950.

Other offices of the Dept. of Motor Vehicles in this area are located at 6817 Winnetka Ave., Canoga Park; 1161 N. Maclay St., San Fernando and 1335 W. Glenoaks Blvd., Glendale.

Charles Tingle

Sunday, April 28, 1963—

Speaks to DAR

Drawing from a background of 50 years participation in the national world of music, Charles Tingle, retired instrumental instructor in the Los Angeles city high school system, will address members of the San Fernando Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on the subject, "American Music," Saturday afternoon, May 11, at 1 o'clock.

The program will be given in the home of Mrs. H. D. Schwabauer, 4201 Benedict Canyon Drive, Sherman Oaks.

The speaker has covered the gamut of performances from choir boy, bandsman in the U.S. Navy, and choral director to actor and singer in the Aborn Opera Company.

He will discuss highlights of his career as well as the character building influence of music on American youth.

Mr. Tingle completed his long and varied musical career as band instructor in the San Fernando High School and as leader of community musical groups, instrumental and choral.

Plans will be made for the June 8 annual picnic in the patio-garden of Mrs. Ralph Koch's home in Pacoima.

Serving on the committee will be members of the exective board: Mmes. Howell McDaniel, regent; Edward Kelly, vice regent; Hardiman Fowler, chaplain; Harry Waite, recording secretary, and Miss Virginia T. Porter, corresponding secretary.

Others are Mmes. George Eggleston, treasurer; Irene Kennedy, registrar; Hugo von Poederoyen, historian; Henry Harrison, librarian and W. Ross Bryant, parliamentarian.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM T. VOSS
They Arrive at Half Century Milestone

William T. Vosses to Observe Golden Date

By KAY ROE

Scores of friends and relatives, present and absent, will be extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Voss of 14960 Hamlin St., on Wednesday, when the couple celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

According to the couple's only daughter Mrs. H. B. Danker of Long Beach, the Vosses will repeat their marriage vows with Dr. Walter H. Staves officiating in the sanctuary of the Church of the Chimes, 14115 Magnolia Blvd., prior to the 8 p.m. reception in Hamilton House.

The ceremony will be repeated the same date that first vows were exchanged at Garland, Neb., in 1912—June 20. The difference will be that Mrs. Voss will substitute a white orchid corsage for the bridal bouquet.

Many of the couple's relatives from Riverside and Long Beach, as well as Lincoln and Omaha, Neb., will be present to share the four-tier white and gold decorated anniversary cake.

Albums of photographs will be displayed to tell the happy story which began in Nebraska prior to their retirement in California in 1949.

Mrs. Voss is active in the Van Nuys Woman's Club, Women's Auxiliary of BPOE as well as the Church of the Chimes and other civic and community affairs.

Van Nuys Presbyterian in 50th Birthday Celebration Meet

Members of the Van Nuys First Presbyterian Church, 14703 Friar St., are gathering items of historical interest in anticipation of their Golden Anniversary on Saturday, April 7, and have found inspirational reading in the church's record books of 50 years ago.

Two of the original 12 charter members, Mrs. G. W. Dickey and Harry F. Leslie, find nostalgic memories in viewing the original 1912 cornerstone and two of the white glazed bricks salvaged when the Colonial type old church building, the first in Van Nuys, was torn down several years ago.

Leslie reread this week the minutes of the first session meetings, which as Clerk of Session he recorded 50 years ago.

Mrs. Dickey, whose husband was also one of the original three elders of the church, still remains an active member of the now 750-member congregation.

She recalls the delicious chicken pie dinners at 35 cents per person which the Ladies Aid Society, now known as the Women's Association, held in order to raise funds to build the first church building.

The anniversary celebration will be highlighted by a banquet on Saturday evening, April 7, which Mrs. Dickey and Leslie will attend along with 400 other guests.

Included on the program, emceed by Skip Beery, will be soloists Mary Bemis and Lola Guerra, a barbershop quartet.

An original song, "Golden Year," written especially for the event by Frank Brown, a member, will be introduced.

Continuing the festivities, there will be a church-wide luncheon on Sunday, April 8, following the worship services.

James Allardice is the chairman of the anniversary events.

The Social Hall at the church will also be dedicated as Nalbach Hall in honor of Rev. Thomas I. Nalbach, pastor for 20 years who left last July to start a new church in Fallbrook.

Pictures of all the past ministers through the years are being gathered and framed to be on display, and the youth of the church are conducting a hobby display of vintage cars.

NEW OFFICE SITE—This is southwest corner of Kester Ave. and Vanowen St. in Van Nuys where new $409,920, two-story office of Dept. of Motor Vehicles will be constructed to replace present facility in North Hollywood. Property has been purchased by state for $300,000. Historic, two-story farm house on property, believed built around 1910 or 1911, will disappear. State has bought about 2½ acres of four-acre property. In purchase is 400 front feet on Vanowen St. and 250 feet on Kester Ave.

Purchase Van Nuys Land for Motor Vehicle Offices

what he described as a "major headquarters operation."

Originally budgeted for $369,000, rising costs and expanded plans for the facility have prompted presenting the new $409,920 figure to the Legislature, Ball said.

As a major headquarters operation, Ball said, the Van Nuys office will oversee operations for the entire San Fernando and Antelope Valleys and Ventura County.

Vanowen St. and Kester Ave. now are only two lanes wide. It is anticipated that Vanowen St. will be widened to four lanes in the future, but this widening is not expected until after the office is opened.

"Will Enhance Area"

Present plans call for parking entrances on both streets.

"This will be a modern, beautiful building which will enhance the area," said Edward Stitz, DMV district manager.

Negotiation for the property has been under way for some time, said Louis Blozen, manager of the North Hollywood office of DMV at 6455 Coldwater Canyon Ave.

When agreement could not be reached between the state and the owners, preparation was made for condemnations, but the matter was settled before it was taken to court.

Stipulated to Judgment

Negotiations were carried out by Dep. Atty. Gen. Don Kircher and Atty. Jess High of Van Nuys, who represented the owners.

High said the owners of the property stipulated to judgment in condemnation.

The property, which at one time consisted of 20 acres and was used for farming, has been in the Reed family for over 40 years. Reed and Mrs. Slosson inherited their share from their mother.

Appears Run Down

The old, two-story house, once a beautiful farmhouse with giant palm trees and other lush growth in the front and a large barn in the back, was built by George Jess.

Now, going under the address of 6743 Kester Ave., the house appears to be run down. The fences are falling and untamed growth is everywhere.

The house is occupied by a caretaker who lives there alone.

Negotiations have been under way for nearly four years on different properties as the state sought to find new quarters for the North Hollywood office.

Opened in 1950

One location, on Whitsett Ave., north of Sherman Way, was considered a good bet, but agreement could not be reached.

The North Hollywood office was opened Dec. 1, 1950.

Other offices of the Dept. of Motor Vehicles in this area are located at 6817 Winnetka Ave., Canoga Park; 1161 N. Maclay St., San Fernando and 1335 W. Glenoaks Blvd., Glendale.

Charles Tingle Speaks to DAR

Sunday, April 28, 1963—

Drawing from a background of 50 years participation in the national world of music, Charles Tingle, retired instrumental instructor in the Los Angeles city high school system, will address members of the San Fernando Valley Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution, on the subject, "American Music," Saturday afternoon, May 11, at 1 o'clock.

The program will be given in the home of Mrs. H. D. Schwabauer, 4201 Benedict Canyon Drive, Sherman Oaks.

The speaker has covered the gamut of performances from choir boy, bandsman in the U.S. Navy, and choral director to actor and singer in the Aborn Opera Company.

He will discuss highlights of his career as well as the character building influence of music on American youth.

Mr. Tingle completed his long and varied musical career as band instructor in the San Fernando High School and as leader of community musical groups, instrumental and choral.

Plans will be made for the June 8 annual picnic in the patio-garden of Mrs. Ralph Koch's home in Pacoima.

Serving on the committee will be members of the exective board: Mmes. Howell McDaniel, regent; Edward Kelly, vice regent; Hardiman Fowler, chaplain; Harry Waite, recording secretary, and Miss Virginia T. Porter, corresponding secretary.

Others are Mmes. George Eggleston, treasurer; Irene Kennedy, registrar; Hugo von Poederoyen, historian; Henry Harrison, librarian and W. Ross Bryant, parliamentarian.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM T. VOSS
They Arrive at Half Century Milestone

William T. Vosses to Observe Golden Date

By KAY ROE

Scores of friends and relatives, present and absent, will be extending congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. William T. Voss of 14960 Hamlin St., on Wednesday, when the couple celebrate their golden wedding anniversary.

According to the couple's only daughter Mrs. H. B. Danker of Long Beach, the Vosses will repeat their marriage vows with Dr. Walter H. Staves officiating in the sanctuary of the Church of the Chimes, 14115 Magnolia Blvd., prior to the 8 p.m. reception in Hamilton House.

The ceremony will be repeated the same date that first vows were exchanged at Garland, Neb., in 1912—June 20. The difference will be that Mrs. Voss will substitute a white orchid corsage for the bridal bouquet.

Many of the couple's relatives from Riverside and Long Beach, as well as Lincoln and Omaha, Neb., will be present to share the four-tier white and gold decorated anniversary cake.

Albums of photographs will be displayed to tell the happy story which began in Nebraska prior to their retirement in California in 1949.

Mrs. Voss is active in the Van Nuys Woman's Club, Women's Auxiliary of BPOE as well as the Church of the Chimes and other civic and community affairs.

Services Set for Pioneer 'Sam' Woody

Sunday, February 3, 1963

One of San Fernando Valley's pioneer businessmen and fraternal leaders passed Friday night with the sudden death of Samuel J. "Sam" Woody 69, who had been a hardware merchant in Van Nuys for nearly a third of a century.

Mr. Woody's many local interests and affiliations included Van Nuys Lodge 450, F & AM, which he had served as worshipful master, and Van Nuys Post 193, American Legion, which as a World War I veteran he had served as commander.

He is survived by his widow Mrs. Dorothy Elizabeth Woody at the family home, 15448 Greenleaf St., Sherman Oaks, and by two sons, David B. and James R. Woody.

Also surviving are two sisters, Irene Peterson of San Bernardino and Dorothy Hatfiled of Paradise; three nephews, Fred C. Woody of Los Angeles, Martin B. Blakemore of Santa Cruz, and Jack Blakemore of Anacapa; also a niece Pauline Right of Los Angeles.

Masonic services will be conducted Wednesday, Feb. 6 at 2 p.m. in Praiswater Funeral Home chapel at 5849 Van Nuys Blvd., Van Nuys. Committal will follow at Forest Lawn Memorial Park, Glendale.

WALTER MENDENHALL OF 'NEWS' TAKEN BY DEATH

Last Rites Planned Here Tomorrow for 'Dean of Valley Newspaper Publishers'

Last rites will be conducted tomorrow for Walter Mendenhall, co-owner and copublisher of The News, who passed away Tuesday morning at the age of 74. The services will be held at 10 a.m. in Praiswater Funeral Home chapel, 5849 Van Nuys Blvd., followed by private committal in the family plot at Oakwood Memorial Park, in Chatsworth.

The Rev. R. Lee Pryor of Pomona, formerly pastor of Central Christian Church of Van Nuys, will serve as officiant, joined by the Rev. James W. Pierson, co-minister of Central Christian where Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall have held membership.

Served as Master

Rites of the Masonic Order also will be administered by Van Nuys Lodge 450, F&AM, with Dr. Paul Stretch, past worshipful master, as principal officiant.

Member of Van Nuys Lodge, the deceased had entered the Order as a young man, serving as worshipful master of Burlington (Mo.) Lodge 442 for three terms.

Known affectionately as "the dean of San Fernando Valley publishers," Mr. Mendenhall had been a publisher in his own right for 55 years, taking over his first paper, the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post, at the age of 19.

He came to Van Nuys in 1920 and entered into The News with the newspaper's founder, the late Frank M. Keffer, and had been co-owner and copublisher since that time, for 41 consecutive years.

Combined Many Careers

Mr. Mendenhall was born Oct. 6, 1886, in Macon County, Mo., the son of the Rev. John D. and Lucyndia Mendenhall. Surviving are his widow Blanche of the family home, 14306 Valerio St., Van Nuys, and sons Ferdinand of Van Nuys and John Dale Mendenhall of Pasadena. Also, his sister Olah Mendenhall Wilson of Los Angeles.

Pallbearers at tomorrow's services will be Stanley N. Petit, Harry R. Bevis, George O. Chapman, Maurice W. Markham, Horace Webb and Paul A. Wynne.

One of the pioneer developers of the Valley, Mr. Mendenhall combined this career — almost a life work in itself for many but essentially a sideline for him — with his newspaper work, banking, civic service with the city of Los Angeles and countless Valley organizations, and during his long career were citations presented by the California Legislature, Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, City Council of Los Angeles and the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, "for 40 years' distinguished service" to the latter organization.

Included in Who's Who

Mr. Mendenhall each year presented the Walter Mendenhall Man of the Year Award to the Van Nuys man judged to have contributed the most to his community. The award always is made at the annual dinner of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, and is perpetual.

His biography is included in the following publications: Who's Who on the Pacific Coast, Who's Who in the State of California and Who's Who in Los Angeles County.

Until his final illness, Mr. Mendenhall wrote his "News-Graphs" column regularly for Page One of this newspaper—an unpretentious, homey column of personal comment on the affairs of his nation and his community—which was popular and widely quoted and which always was spiced with a political note or a quiet joke.

Headed GOP District

Mr. Mendenhall was founder-member of the Van Nuys Kiwanis Club in 1922, club president in 1925 and lieutenant governor of then Division Three in 1934. A 32nd Degree Mason and Shriner since 1913, he was president of the first Valley Shrine Club in 1922; was founder-member of Van Nuys chapter, Order of DeMolay, and one of the founders of the Valley chapter of the American Red Cross.

A life-long Republican, Mr. Mendenhall served as president of the 42nd Assembly District Republican Club in 1924 and for six years was a member of the Republican State Central Committee.

After his initial experience as publisher of the Burlington Junction Post, he was co-publisher of the Marceline (Mo.) Mirror and Maryville (Mo.) Daily Republican.

Regretted Less Activity

In one of his last "News-Graphs" columns, Mr. Mendenhall expressed his appreciation for honors accorded him by the Legislature, Supervisors, City Council, California Newspaper Publishers Association and Van Nuys Kiwanis Club and closed by writing "... We consider ourself fortunate for having been regarded as serviceable to these excellent groups of men, and extremely regret that failing health has curtailed the service we have formerly been able to render."

Mr. Mendenhall had earlier requested that, on his passing, in lieu of flowers at services, offerings be sent to the Boy Scouts of America or the YMCA.

duties as a Legion of Honor member and official of Van Nuys Kiwanis Club and Kiwanis International.

He was a director of Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce for 29 years.

Was 37-Year Member

At the time of his death, Mr. Mendenhall was chairman of the board, Van Nuys Publishing Co., Inc., and of Mendenhall Properties Inc., was a member of the advisory board, Van Nuys office, Security First National Bank; a member of Van Nuys Lodge 450, F & AM; Van Nuys Lodge, BPO Elks; the St. Joseph, Mo., Consistory of the Scottish Rite, and Al Malaikah Temple of the Shrine, Los Angeles; Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, and the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

He also was a 37-year member of the Auto Club of Southern California and the San Fernando Valley Executives' Dinner Club.

He had served four years on the Los Angeles City Planning Commission and was its president in 1938; had served as secretary of the Provident Building and Loan Association and secretary of Van Nuys Land and Development Co.; and was a member of the executive board, West Van Nuys Syndicate, a firm which was the original subdivider and developer of 600 small farm homes in the West Central Valley.

Rites Held for Gypsy Queen; Once Resided in Van Nuys

Gypsies from as far away as New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania were in Los Angeles yesterday to attend the funeral of gypsy queen Lola Adams.

Some 250 gypsies attended the rites yesterday for their 64-year-old queen who was buried in Calvary Cemetery wearing her jewelry. Money also had been placed in her bronze coffin.

Food Taken to Chapel

Queen Lola, wife of gypsy king George Adams, died on her birthday last Saturday of a heart ailment. The gypsies began gathering in Los Angeles shortly after her death was reported.

Officials of the Allen Reed Mortuary reported mourners brought piles of the queen's favorite food to the chapel, along with cases of whiskey and beer.

For many years the gypsy couple had directed their many followers from a home on the northeast corner of Chandler Blvd. and Hazeltine Ave. in Van Nuys.

Held Many Meetings

The home was sold two years ago and it was torn down to be replaced by a housing tract. The gypsy king refused to disclose the sale price, but it was believed to have been in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Before moving from the Valley to his last home in downtown Los Angeles, Adams had held many meetings with gypsies from all over the world at the Van Nuys property.

Rites for Mrs. Anna Barkla to Be Held Here Tomorrow

VAN NUYS— Services will be held tomorrow afternoon at 1 o'clock in Pierce Brothers Mortuary, 6153 Van Nuys Blvd., for Mrs. Anna T. Barkla of 14322 Haynes St. who died Sunday at a Los Angeles hospital.

Interment will be in Oakwood Memorial Park, W. Lassen St. in Chatsworth.

There will be Christian Science readings and Van Nuys Chapter 338, Order of the Eastern Star, will conduct services.

One Nephew Survives

Survivors are four nieces and one nephew. Nieces are Mmes. Madeline Skinner of Oakland, Elsie Bowman, Long Beach; Etta Troth, Turlock, and Cora Cagnacci, Santa Paula.

The nephew is Frank Fagan, also of Turlock.

Mrs. Barkla, who was 89 years old, was born in California and moved to the Valley in 1911, the year Van Nuys was founded. Her husband Carl was a rancher. He died in 1947.

Active in all phases of women's activities, Mrs. Barkla was the oldest living past president of Van Nuys Woman's Club and attended its recent golden jubilee. She was its fourth president.

She was a charter member of Van Nuys Chapter 338, Order of the Eastern Star, and for 23 years served as its secretary. She held the order's 50-year pin.

Other affiliations are the PEO in which he held membership in Van Nuys Chapter AN.

Mrs. Barkla had been in a wheelchair for the last few years as result of a mishap in which her hip was broken.

Although limited, she still continued her many activities and her hobby of creating exquisitely designed quilts.

Mrs. Alice Nordvold Dies; First to Settle in Van Nuys

Funeral services for Mrs. Alice Nordvold, pioneer Valley resident and daughter of the first postmaster of Van Nuys, will be held tomorrow at 1 p.m. in Praiswater Funeral Home, 5849 Van Nuys Blvd., Van Nuys.

MRS. ALICE NORDVOLD
Funeral Set Tomorrow

Officiating will be the Rev. Ben A. Jennings, pastor of the Missionary Church of Van Nuys.

Burial will be at Forest Lawn in Glendale.

Mrs. Nordvold, wife of A. E. Nordvold, came to Van Nuys with her husband and parents in 1911, the year the town was founded.

The two families were the first to settle in Van Nuys after the auction sale of lots that year.

Her father J. B. Langum was appointed the first postmaster of the new community.

Her husband established Van Nuys Furniture and Undertaking Co. with her father and they operated the business until about 1924 when Mr. Langum died.

Nordvold then organized Van Nuys Music Co. and erected the Nordvold Bldg. on Van Nuys Blvd.

Survivors Listed

Mr. and Mrs. Nordvold were married in Minnesota in 1909. Their son Donald, now a teacher in Arcadia, was the second child born in Van Nuys.

In addition to her husband and son, Mrs. Nordvold is survived by two grandchildren.

After settling in Van Nuys, Mr. and Mrs. Nordvold helped organize the First Presbyterian Church. Later they began attending the Missionary Church of Van Nuys.

The couple lived in Van Nuys for 42 years and then, following Mr. Nordvold's retirement eight years ago, moved to 4426 Sancola Ave., Toluca Lake.

Headed Orchestra

Mrs. Nordvold did much charity work.

Mr. Nordvold was president of the San Fernando Valley Symphony Orchestra and was vice president of Van Nuys Building and Loan Association.

He was a member of the local Kiwanis Club and Chamber of Commerce.

At Thanksgiving time our hearts were saddened when we learned of the passing of one of our beloved members - Isabelle Wand.

If you will pardon a personal reference. I always compared Mrs Wand to a little humming bird. For she was always flitting around doing her share and helping others. But what a privilege it was to have known her, and to have loved her.

A short time later a former club member, Mrs Sample, was called to her Heavenly home.

We wish to extend our sympathy to her sister Mrs Tyler, and may she be comforted with the thought that His will be done.

They are not dead! They have but passed
Beyond the mists that blind us here,
Into the new and larger life
Of that serener sphere.

Rites Held for Gypsy Queen; Once Resided in Van Nuys

Gypsies from as far away as New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania were in Los Angeles yesterday to attend the funeral of gypsy queen Lola Adams.

Some 250 gypsies attended the rites yesterday for their 64-year-old queen who was buried in Calvary Cemetery wearing her jewelry. Money also had been placed in her bronze coffin.

Food Taken to Chapel

Queen Lola, wife of gypsy king George Adams, died on her birthday last Saturday of a heart ailment. The gypsies began gathering in Los Angeles shortly after her death was reported.

Officials of the Allen Reed Mortuary reported mourners brought piles of the queen's favorite food to the chapel, along with cases of whiskey and beer.

For many years the gypsy couple had directed their many followers from a home on the northeast corner of Chandler Blvd. and Hazeltine Ave. in Van Nuys.

Held Many Meetings

The home was sold two years ago and it was torn down to be replaced by a housing tract. The gypsy king refused to disclose the sale price, but it was believed to have been in the neighborhood of $100,000.

Before moving from the Valley to his last home in downtown Los Angeles, Adams had held many meetings with gypsies from all over the world at the Van Nuys property.

Last Rites Planned Here Tomorrow for 'Dean of Valley Newspaper Publishers'

Last rites will be conducted tomorrow for Walter Mendenhall, co-owner and copublisher of The News, who passed away Tuesday morning at the age of 74. The services will be held at 10 a.m. in Praiswater Funeral Home chapel, 5849 Van Nuys Blvd., followed by private committal in the family plot at Oakwood Memorial Park, in Chatsworth.

The Rev. R. Lee Pryor of Pomona, formerly pastor of Central Christian Church of Van Nuys, will serve as officiant, joined by the Rev. James W. Pierson, co-minister of Central Christian where Mr. and Mrs. Mendenhall have held membership.

Served as Master

Rites of the Masonic Order also will be administered by Van Nuys Lodge 450, F&AM, with Dr. Paul Stretch, past worshipful master, as principal officiant.

Member of Van Nuys Lodge, the deceased had entered the Order as a young man, serving as worshipful master of Burlington (Mo.) Lodge 442 for three terms.

Known affectionately as "the dean of San Fernando Valley publishers," Mr. Mendenhall had been a publisher in his own right for 55 years, taking over his first paper, the Burlington Junction (Mo.) Post, at the age of 19.

He came to Van Nuys in 1920 and entered into The News with the newspaper's founder, the late Frank M. Keffer, and had been co-owner and copublisher since that time, for 41 consecutive years.

Combined Many Careers

Mr. Mendenhall was born Oct. 6, 1886, in Macon County, Mo., the son of the Rev. John D. and Lucyndia Mendenhall. Surviving are his widow Blanche of the family home, 14306 Valerio St., Van Nuys, and sons Ferdinand of Van Nuys and John Dale Mendenhall of Pasadena. Also, his sister Olah Mendenhall Wilson of Los Angeles.

Pallbearers at tomorrow's services will be Stanley N. Petit, Harry R. Bevis, George O. Chapman, Maurice W. Markham, Horace Webb and Paul A. Wynne.

One of the pioneer developers of the Valley, Mr. Mendenhall combined this career — almost a life work in itself for many but essentially a sideline for him — with his newspaper work, banking, civic service with the city of Los Angeles and countless Valley organizations, and during his long career were citations presented by the California Legislature, Los Angeles County Board of Supervisors, City Council of Los Angeles and the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, "for 40 years' distinguished service" to the latter organization.

Included in Who's Who

Mr. Mendenhall each year presented the Walter Mendenhall Man of the Year Award to the Van Nuys man judged to have contributed the most to his community. The award always is made at the annual dinner of the Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce, and is perpetual.

His biography is included in the following publications: Who's Who on the Pacific Coast, Who's Who in the State of California and Who's Who in Los Angeles County.

Until his final illness, Mr. Mendenhall wrote his "News-Graphs" column regularly for Page One of this newspaper—an unpretentious, homey column of personal comment on the affairs of his nation and his community—which was popular and widely quoted and which always was spiced with a political note or a quiet joke.

Headed GOP District

Mr. Mendenhall was founder-member of the Van Nuys Kiwanis Club in 1922, club president in 1925 and lieutenant governor of then Division Three in 1934. A 32nd Degree Mason and Shriner since 1913, he was president of the first Valley Shrine Club in 1922; was founder-member of Van Nuys chapter, Order of DeMolay, and one of the founders of the Valley chapter of the American Red Cross.

A life-long Republican, Mr. Mendenhall served as president of the 42nd Assembly District Republican Club in 1924 and for six years was a member of the Republican State Central Committee.

After his initial experience as publisher of the Burlington Junction Post, he was co-publisher of the Marceline (Mo.) Mirror and Maryville (Mo.) Daily Republican.

Regretted Less Activity

In one of his last "News-Graphs" columns, Mr. Mendenhall expressed his appreciation for honors accorded him by the Legislature, Supervisors, City Council, California Newspaper Publishers Association and Van Nuys Kiwanis Club and closed by writing "... We consider ourself fortunate for having been regarded as serviceable to these excellent groups of men, and extremely regret that failing health has curtailed the service we have formerly been able to render."

Mr. Mendenhall had earlier requested that, on his passing, in lieu of flowers at services, offerings be sent to the Boy Scouts of America or the YMCA.

duties as a Legion of Honor member and official of Van Nuys Kiwanis Club and Kiwanis International.

He was a director of Van Nuys Chamber of Commerce for 29 years.

Was 37-Year Member

At the time of his death, Mr. Mendenhall was chairman of the board, Van Nuys Publishing Co., Inc., and of Mendenhall Properties Inc., was a member of the advisory board, Van Nuys office, Security First National Bank; a member of Van Nuys Lodge 450, F & AM; Van Nuys Lodge, BPO Elks; the St. Joseph, Mo., Consistory of the Scottish Rite, and Al Malaikah Temple of the Shrine, Los Angeles; Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society, and the California Newspaper Publishers Association.

He also was a 37-year member of the Auto Club of Southern California and the San Fernando Valley Executives' Dinner Club.

He had served four years on the Los Angeles City Planning Commission and was its president in 1938; had served as secretary of the Provident Building and Loan Association and secretary of Van Nuys Land and Development Co.; and was a member of the executive board, West Van Nuys Syndicate, a firm which was the original subdivider and developer of 600 small farm homes in the West Central Valley.

Our hearts were saddened at Thanksgiving time, when we learned of the passing of one of our beloved members, Mrs. Isabelle Wand.

She truly was a dedicated member, not only participating at the regular club meetings, but in the section meeting as well.

I always compared her to a little humming bird, flitting around doing her share and helping others.

How we will miss her, but we are thankful that it was our great privilege to have known and loved her.

Then a short time later, God in his infinite wisdom called a former member, Mrs. Sample to her Heavenly Home.

We extend our sympathy to her sister, Mrs. Tyler, and ask that God give her strength and courage in knowing that 'His will be done.'

They are not dead, they have but passed
Beyond the mists that blind us here.
Into the newer and larger life
Of that serener sphere.

March 1, 1962
2-A—East Valley

SHERMAN OAKS — Services are scheduled this morning at 11 o'clock at Praiswater Funeral Home, 5849 Van Nuys Blvd., for J. Howard Wilson of 13355 Mulholland Drive, who died Sunday at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Wilson died of a sudden heart seizure following extreme exertion in fighting mud slides after the recent rains.

He had suffered an attack of pneumonia two weeks before and the two nights and two days of digging and trying to remove mud in an effort to save his home is reported to have been a contributing factor in his death.

Survivors are his widow Toni and his only other living relative, a cousin Mrs. Louie Ewing of Santa Fe, N.M.

During the war Mr. Wilson worked for five years at Lockheed in an effort to contribute what he could, even though he was over age for active duty in the armed services.

He was born in Chicago and worked in advertising sales on many of that city's newspapers before moving to the Valley 20 years ago. He later spent 16 years with Sunset Magazine.

His widow Toni Wilson is prominent in Valley Republican and social circles and was president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club for the term 1957-58.

She also has been active in all phases of Van Nuys life, working consistently in service, philanthropic, and community projects and serving as president for the last two years of Prospectors Guild of Valley Presbyterian Hospital.

George J. Balzer, Business and Civic Pioneer, Passes

Last rites will be conducted tonight and tomorrow morning for George J. Balzer of an Nuys, businessman and resident of San Fernando alley for over a third of a century, who succumbed t sudden illness Thursday at 11 p.m. in the family home, 14769 Sylvan St.

Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. in St. Elisabeth Catholic Church, 6628 Cedros Ave., Van Nuys, with Msgr. Patrick F. O'Dwyer as officiant. Monsignor O'Dwyer, pastor of the church, has long been a personal friend of the Balzer family.

Reared in Pennsylvania

Requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a.m. by the Rev. Raymond Balzer, nephew of the deceased, who comes from his church post in Huntington, Ind., for the services. Committal will follow in San Fernando Mission Cemetery, 11161 Stranwood Ave., San Fernando.

Named by the family as pall bearers are Mr. Balzer's two sons and four sons-in-law. They are George and Charles Balzer, Howard Dye, Norman West, Richard Dixon and William Federer.

Born on Nov. 18, 1890 in Erie, Pa., George Balzer was reared and schooled in that city, entering the sheet metal business as a young man.

He was married to Miss Bessie Sullivan of Erie in 1911, and in 1920 the family moved to Los Angeles, thereafter coming to Canoga Park (then Owensmouth) to reside in 1926.

Active in Retirement

Mr. Balzer established Homeway Laundry in West Valley in 1929, moving this business to Van Nuys in 1933 where it has been operating continuously for three decades. Associated in Homeway are his son-in-law and daughter, Norman and Kathryn West, and son Charles Balzer.

Several years ago, George Balzer retired from active participation in the business which has since been conducted by the Wests and Charles Balzer. Since that time, the deceased had devoted himself to management of properties he holds, and to associated interests.

A parishioner of St. Elisabeth, he also holds membership in Van Nuys Lodge 2028, BPO Elks, and formerly was affiliated with Kiwanis Club of Van Nuys.

Survivors Are Named

In addition to Mrs. Balzer of the home address, surviving are daughters Kathryn West and Betty Jean Dye of Van Nuys, Marion Federer of Arcadia and Helen Dixon of Fresno; sons George M. and Charles Balzer, both of Van Nuys, and 14 grandchildren.

GEORGE J. BALZER
Resident Since 1926

Also surviving are his sisters, Izola Kessler of Erie, and Sister Georgiana, Lyndhurst, N.J., and a brother Fred Balzer of Beaver Falls, Pa.

Praiswater Funeral Home in Van Nuys is directing arrangements.

BALZER, George J., age 71, of 14769 Sylvan St., Van Nuys, passed away June 14, 1962. Survived by his wife, Bessie; sons, George M., and Charles J. San Fernando Valley Town Named After Settlers Who Arrived Following Civil War

J. Benton Van Nuys, 79, a descendant of one of Southern California's most prominent families, died early Sunday at his home in Pasadena.

The town of Van Nuys is named after his family.

Mr. Van Nuys was born at 7th and Spring Sts., where the Van Nuys Building now stands. He attended Spring Street School and the Belmont Military Academy in Palo Alto.

His family's ranch in San Fernando Valley, developed shortly after the Civil War, was one of the largest in Southern California. Close to ranching all his life, he had extensive farming interests in Mexico, the San Joaquin Valley and for many years was a director of the Tejon Ranch Co.

Banks Director

He was a leader in the development of Lake Arrowhead and was associated with its progress for more than two decades.

His father, I. N. Van Nuys, was one of the founders of the Farmers & Merchants National Bank, and he was a director of the bank for many years.

When the bank was merged with the Security First National Bank Mr. Van Nuys became a member of the executive committee of Security First National, a position he held until his death.

He was a trustee of the Hollenbeck Home for the Aged for 35 years and was chairman of the home's board of directors. He also was a founder of the Stock Exchange Club and served as a director and honorary director.

He was a member of the California Club, the Valley Hunt Club and the Valley Club of Montecito. For many years he was a director of the Merchants & Manufacturers Assn. of Los Angeles.

J. Howard Wilson Services Arranged for This Morning

March 1, 1962
2-A—East Valley

SHERMAN OAKS — Services are scheduled this morning at 11 o'clock at Praiswater Funeral Home, 5849 Van Nuys Blvd., for J. Howard Wilson of 13355 Mulholland Drive, who died Sunday at St. John's Hospital in Santa Monica. He was 59 years old.

Mr. Wilson died of a sudden heart seizure following extreme exertion in fighting mud slides after the recent rains.

He had suffered an attack of pneumonia two weeks before and the two nights and two days of digging and trying to remove mud in an effort to save his home is reported to have been a contributing factor in his death.

Survivors are his widow Toni and his only other living relative, a cousin Mrs. Louie Ewing of Santa Fe, N.M.

During the war Mr. Wilson worked for five years at Lockheed in an effort to contribute what he could, even though he was over age for active duty in the armed services.

He was born in Chicago and worked in advertising sales on many of that city's newspapers before moving to the Valley 20 years ago. He later spent 16 years with Sunset Magazine.

His widow Toni Wilson is prominent in Valley Republican and social circles and was president of the Van Nuys Woman's Club for the term 1957-58.

She also has been active in all phases of Van Nuys life, working consistently in service, philanthropic, and community projects and serving as president for the last two years of Prospectors Guild of Valley Presbyterian Hospital.

George J. Balzer, Business and Civic Pioneer, Passes

Last rites will be conducted tonight and tomorrow morning for George J. Balzer of Van Nuys, businessman and resident of San Fernando Valley for over a third of a century, who succumbed to a sudden illness Thursday at 11 p.m. in the family home, 14769 Sylvan St.

Rosary will be recited today at 8 p.m. in St. Elisabeth Catholic Church, 6628 Cedros Ave., Van Nuys, with Msgr. Patrick F. O'Dwyer as officiant. Monsignor O'Dwyer, pastor of the church, has long been a personal friend of the Balzer family.

Reared in Pennsylvania

Requiem mass will be celebrated tomorrow at 10 a.m. by the Rev. Raymond Balzer, nephew of the deceased, who comes from his church post in Huntington, Ind., for the services. Committal will follow in San Fernando Mission Cemetery, 11161 Stranwood Ave., San Fernando.

Named by the family as pall bearers are Mr. Balzer's two sons and four sons-in-law. They are George and Charles Balzer, Howard Dye, Norman West, Richard Dixon and William Federer.

Born on Nov. 18, 1890 in Erie, Pa., George Balzer was reared and schooled in that city, entering the sheet metal business as a young man.

He was married to Miss Bessie Sullivan of Erie in 1911, and in 1920 the family moved to Los Angeles, thereafter coming to Canoga Park (then Owensmouth) to reside in 1926.

Active in Retirement

Mr. Balzer established Homeway Laundry in West Valley in 1929, moving this business to Van Nuys in 1933 where it has been operating continuously for three decades. Associated in Homeway are his son-in-law and daughter, Norman and Kathryn West, and son Charles Balzer.

Several years ago, George Balzer retired from active participation in the business which has since been conducted by the Wests and Charles Balzer. Since that time, the deceased had devoted himself to management of properties he holds, and to associated interests.

A parishioner of St. Elisabeth, he also holds membership in Van Nuys Lodge 2028, BPO Elks, and formerly was affiliated with Kiwanis Club of Van Nuys.

Survivors Are Named

In addition to Mrs. Balzer of the home address, surviving are daughters Kathryn West and Betty Jean Dye of Van Nuys, Marion Federer of Arcadia and Helen Dixon of Fresno; sons George M. and Charles Balzer, both of Van Nuys, and 14 grandchildren.

Also surviving are his sisters, Izola Kessler of Erie, and Sister Georgiana, Lyndhurst, N.J., and a brother Fred Balzer of Beaver Falls, Pa.

Death Takes Charles Bevis of Van Nuys

Funeral services for pioneer Valley realtor Charles A. Bevis will be held on Saturday at 2 p.m. in the First Methodist of Van Nuys, Erwin St. and Tyrone Ave.

Mr. Bevis, who died yesterday at Valley Presbyterian

Hospital, resided at 14241 Gilmore St., Van Nuys. He was 84 years old.

Retired in 1953

Officiating at the services will be the Rev. Claude Smith and the Rev. Franklin Greene. Inurnment will follow at Oakwood Memorial Park, Chatsworth.

Mr. Bevis, who began his real estate career in 1913, retired eight years ago in 1953.

Surviving are his wife Ada Lemay, son Albert L. of Patterson, Cal., daughters Mrs. Margaret Richter of Whittier and Mrs. Emma Evans of Altadena, seven grandchildren, five nephews and two nieces.

Mr. Bevis was born on a farm near Olney, Ill., on Nov. 4, 1876. He graduated from high school in Newton, Ill., attended McKendry College at Lebonan and after several years of teaching became superintendent of schools in Newton.

On Aug. 6, 1902 he married Ada Lemay whom he had known since childhood and in 1908 went into partnership with his father-in-law, Mr. G. A. Lemay, in selling farm machinery.

Arrived in Van Nuys

In February 1913 Mr. Lemay, who was visiting California bought 24 lots between Gilmore and Hamlin Sts. in Van Nuys, arranged for two houses to be built on Gilmore Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Lemay and Mr. and Mrs. Bevis and their two children arrived in Van Nuys to make their home on Sept. 7, 1913.

The Bevis Realty Co., then known as Lemay & Bevis, was established later that year. Mr. Bevis continued active in the firm until his retirement 10 years ago.

Mr. Bevis early assumed many civic and church responsibilities. He was a member of the school board which founded Van Nuys High School prior to the annexation of the area to Los Angeles and it was this board which employed the first principal, Nathan Smith.

Organized Troop

He was one of the men who was instrumental in securing the land on which the school is now located.

In 1914 he became a member of the official board of the First Methodist Church and served as a member of this board for many years. He became Sunday School superintendent in 1916.

He helped organize the first Boy Scout Troop, No. 1, in the Valley which was sponsored by the First Methodist Church.

He was active in organizing the first local Real Estate Board and the Chamber of Commerce of which he was president in 1926.

In the 1920's when he was dealing extensively in Valley farm land, he was a director of both the Walnut Growers and the Bean Growers Associations, organizations in which he kept his membership until his death.

Settled in Area

He became a director when the Bank of Van Nuys was organized which later became a part of the Security First National Bank.

As the San Fernando Valley became more suburban and less agricultural, the Lemay and Bevis Realty Co. began dealing in land near Tracy and in Stanislaus County and in 1928 as members of a corporation purchased a tract of land near Tracy and in Patterson, Cal.

Many of the pioneer ranching families from the San Fernando Valley have settled in this area and are continuing ranching there.

Although during the last 10 years Mr. Bevis has retired from active business he has never lost interest in the development of the San Fernando Valley, on the agricultural problems of the state nor in national or world affairs.

He has continued to read extensively especially in the field of pioneer history and to take an active interest in athletic events.

Walter Crippen

VAN NUYS — Masonic services for Walter Crippen of 14633 Gilmore St., Van Nuys, will be held today at 1 p.m. in Praiswater Funeral Home, 5849 Van Nuys Blvd.

Interment will follow at Forest Lawn Hollywood Hills Memorial Park, 6300 Forest Lawn Drive, Hollywood.

The pioneer Van Nuys resident died Monday at the age of 72 following a lingering illness.

The Crippens moved to the Valley in 1914. Mr. Crippen owned a gasoline station till his retirement two years ago. His activities included charter membership in Van Nuys American Legion Post 193 and member of Van Nuys Lodge 450, F&AM.

The couple celebrated their master of Van Nuys Lodge 450, F&AM, as officiant, assisted by fellow officers. Interment will be private.

Active in Two Wars

Native of Estherville, Iowa, Dr. Post attended the University of Iowa, and in 1923 came with his wife Ingrid to Van Nuys where he opened his practice of dentistry and the couple established residence here which has continued through these past 38 years.

His contributions in the field of dentistry were many, including assisting several young men in following the profession.

A veteran of World War I, he again volunteered his services at outbreak of the second World War and as a prominent yachtsman was assigned to organizing and placing into service Company C of the U.S. Coast Guard Reserve in the San Fernando Valley, including procuring enlisted men to serve on active duty at Los Angeles Harbor.

These men received honorable discharges and citations from the President for their measure of duty, at conclusion of the war.

Helped McKinley Boys

Dr. Post had been a member of Masonic Lodge and of the American Legion for 40 years, and was a 25-year Legion of Honor member of Van Nuys Kiwanis Club which he had served as president and as chairman of its sports committee.

In this latter capacity, he organized the first California-Nevada-Hawaii District bowling tournament. Comprised of bowling teams from Kiwanis clubs throughout this huge district, this tourney is conducted each spring in the Valley by the Van Nuys Club and attracts teams from far reaches of the area to compete for the many prizes and awards.

From the time McKinley Home for Boys was established on Riverside Drive, Dr. Post gave free dental service to the boys at the Home for two years, and then to any of the lads who came to his office. McKinley Home is a major project of the Kiwanis Club of Los Angeles, joined by clubs in the Valley.

Wins Were Numerous

Life member of Long Beach Yacht Club and past commodore of Hollywod Yacht Club, the dentist's enthusiasm in the sports world stemmed from his ability as an athlete and in his wide spread of competitive sports Dr. Post held many championships and received trophies in golf, bowling, trap shooting, baseball, and yacht racing and fishing.

Dr. Post practiced here from 1923 until 1956, when he retired due to illness.

His widow Ingrid, past president of Van Nuys Woman's Club and long active in civic and cultural circles, is joined by Dr. Post's brother, Dr. Clair Post of Mitchell, S.D., and by his mother Mrs. Louise Post, as survivors.
